Black Point Widow's Body Found After Blaze In Home

VIEW FATAL FIRE—Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley and Chief George J. Cavallero of Novato Fire Department inspect charred ruins of home in which Mrs. Margaret Shea was burned to death at Black Point last night, seeking clue to cause of the blaze.

2 Other Houses Damaged

Mrs. Margaret Shea, 65, died in a fire that destroyed her frame home at 45 Manzanita Avenue, Black Point, at 9:30 p.m. yesterday.

Firemen found her body slumped across the bed in what had been her bedroom at the rear of the house.

Novato Fire Chief George J. Cavallero estimated the loss at $15,000 for the house itself and $4,000 for its contents.

The blaze burned the house to the ground, burned a hole in the roof of Mrs. Bess Parker's home at 55 Manzanita Avenue, and scorched paint at 39 Manzanita Avenue home of Mr. and Mrs. John Crowley.

FIREMAN HURT

Mrs. Parker's home was ignited by overhead electrical wires which melted due to the main fire, Cavallero said.

Fireman John Church, 33, suffered second and third degree burns on his left hand while putting out the fire from the falling wires. He was taken to Novato General Hospital, where he fas reported in good condition today.

Cavallero said he had not yet determined the cause of the fire. Neighbors who reported the blaze said it began in the bedroom. The entire house was in flames when firemen arrived.

Witnesses said the house "went up like a matchbox."

LUCKILY, NO WIND

Aware of low water pressure in Black Point, Cavallero sent the department's tank trucks along with the firefighting equipment. Had there been a high wind, he said, the blaze could easily have spread to all houses on top of the hill on Manzanita Drive.

Mrs. Shea was a native of Ireland, according to Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley.

She was a registered nurse and at one time operated a store and gas station at Black Point. A widow, she lived alone.

The coroner's office said there may also be other survivors, but their names were not known today.

YOUTHFUL FIRE FIGHTERS—These and many other local youths faced flames and smoke for several hours yesterday in efforts to contain a raging grass fire which, whipped by powerful winds, blackened 150 acres in Sleepy Hollow and San Rafael. Firemen reported that the youths, though often helpful, got in their way and had to led from the area. Fire, first reported at 3:40 p.m. yesterday, was still smoldering today.

Smog Change Scuttled By Revelation

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate Transportation Committee today drastically revised an administration - backed auto smog bill after a lawmaker said Gov. Brown's son-in-law represented a firm sponsoring the legislation.

The committee's action came at a special re-hearing called by Sen. Vernon Sturgeon, R-Paso Robles, who said he learned of the bill's background only the night before.

Sturgeon said he carried the bill at the request of Gov. Brown, who was acting on the request of the American Machine and Foundry Co. of Los Angeles.

Sturgeon said Joseph I. Kelly, the husband of Brown's daughter Cynthia, is legal representative for AMF.

The measure would have clarified the auto smog measure passed earlier this year by deleting a provision requiring that two smog control devices be approved by the state before they can be required on used cars.

Kenneth Ross, lobbyist for AMF, told the committee the

Union Discrimination Charged By Church

St. Andrew Presbyterian Church of Marin City yesterday asked the U.S. Justice Department to take legal action against building trades unions for racial discrimination on the church's new building.

The telegram to Washington asked for quick action under the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

"The church has tried to implement the non-discrimination clause in the construction contract, but the discriminatory nature of several key labor unions have made this impossible," said the telegram signed by the minister, Rev. Don Schilling, and by Rev. Wesley C. Baker of the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael.

The church is now under construction in Marin City. The congregation has been meeting for several years in the Marin City lounge.

"Of approximately 4,000 Bay Area plumbers, there are no Negro journeymen," the telegram went on. "The Electrical Workers local and other unions are little better. We urge the Justice Department to initiate

Pickets Pelted With Eggs, Fresh Fruit At Newspaper

Five pickets were pelted with fresh fruit and eggs last night in front of the Marin Guide office on Caledonia Street, Sausalito, in aftermath to a bomb-throwing about 20 hours earlier.

Jittery employees called the Sausalito Fire Department in fear of another bombing.

The pickets, patrolling for the International Typographical Union and Mailers Union, were pelted about 8:40 p.m. They were splattered but unharmed, police said.

Sausalito police nabbed two juveniles, said Chief Kenneth H. Huck, but were unable to establish whether they had thrown the groceries.

Car tampering and a fist fight at the Tamalpais Valley building where the Marin Guide and its companion publications were prepared for distribution Tuesday night were also disclosed today, as picketing continued there and at the Sausalito office.

The bomb was thrown early yesterday into a mailing room at 200 Shoreline Highway, Tamalpais Valley, where Johnson had moved his operations temporarily.

The bomb, identified today by sheriff's inspector Bowen Bridges as "almost certainly a military-type, colored smoke grenade," started a fire causing $4,000 damage to the office and contents. No one was injured.

Harry H. Johnson, publisher, made a citizen's arrest of Douglas Ajdee Smith, 45, of San Jose, Mailers Union president. He was charged with trespassing and was to be arraigned today in Marin Municipal Court.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said today no further charge had been filed against Smith but investigation was continuing.

Bridges said the grenade, about the size of a beer can,

Ross Council Joins Flood Control Pact

The Town of Ross opened the gate last night for participation by upstream Ross Valley cities in maintenance of the Corte Madera Creek flood control project.

The Ross Town Council voted 4-0 in favor of a joint powers agreement with the Marin County Flood Control District which would commit its town to paying its share of the maintenance up to a maximum of five cents on the tax rate. Councilman William P. McAndrews was absent.

A scattering of applause from the 10 Ross residents in the audience greeted the vote. (See also stories on page 8.)

"I'm very proud of the Town of Ross," said County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, the man responsible for splitting the flood control project into two phases to remove upstream cities' objections to a concrete channel.

San Anselmo and Fairfax must yet join the agreement to unfreeze two and a quarter million dollars of federal money for the Army Corps of Engineers to build the flood channel. Corte Madera and Larkspur have agreed to join a flood control zone, committing them more fully, since the project will be constructed through the twin cities, ending at the Ross town line.

The Ross action, moved by Councilman Jordan L. Martinelli Jr., included a proviso that an acceptable joint powers agreement be presented. County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney did

Wind-Whipped Fire Perils Sleepy Hollow, Terra Linda

Driving winds estimated at more than 45 miles per hour spread flames over 150 acres of grazing land in Sleepy Hollow and northwestern San Rafael yesterday and nearly engulfed one home.

The grass and brush fire was believed caused by two elementary school boys who were seen running from the scene when the blaze was first reported, said Richard E. McLaren, assistant San Anselmo fire chief.

"The wind was terrible. It made the fire extremely hard to catch," said McLaren. "The wind kept changing, forcing us to fight the fire from all directions. Often it would throw hot embers 200 yards ahead of the fire, starting new ones."

The fire was first reported at 3:40 p.m. It burned within 10 feet of eight homes on Van Tassel Court in Sleepy Hollow.

"We put four units on that side of the fire immediately to protect the homes," said McLaren.

No damage resulted from the fire beyond the charring of the huge expanse of hillsides with many trees seriously injured by the flames and smoke, he reported.

Dozens of youths fought the blaze with old rugs, shirts, home garden tools and burlap bags, but firemen found them a nuisance as well as a help. Sheriff's deputies were frequently called on to get the youngsters out of the way, said McLaren.

Smoke from the fire made it difficult to breathe in the area and many youths, coughing violently, had to be led to fresh air.

Fire was fought by six units with 16 men from San Anselmo Fire Department, four units and 13 men from the San Rafael Fire Department, and five units and a bulldozed from the Marin County Fire Department.

Fairfax Hunts For Firebug; Three Calls In 15 Minutes

Fairfax police today were investigating three grass fires believed deliberately set within 15 minutes last night.

A possible link between the three fires and a series of deliberately set fires west of Fairfax earlier this month is being pursued, said Fire Chief Charles M. Thornton.

The first fire was reported at 11:15 p.m. yesterday. The fire, which burned 100 square feet of grass, was behind the Jolly Market in the 2100 block of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

"We thought it had been set as soon as we got there," said Capt. Robert Cortelyou of the Fairfax Fire Department.

"There just wasn't any way that a person could have started it accidentally. No one should have been back there at all."

While firemen were fighting the first blaze, flames were reported at Scenic and Holly Roads. This fire, at the roadside, was in heavy brush. It burned another 100 square feet before firemen stopped it.

Only minutes after the second fire was reported, word came from Fairfax police who were patrolling the area in search of the incendiarist that a third fire was going, high on Scenic Road near Redwood Road. This also burned about 100 square feet.

"That one was in a really bad spot. If we hadn't reached that right away we could have really had some trouble. I'm certain that all three were set, maybe by someone who was driving around, tossing out match boxes with a lit cigarette inside," said Captain Cortelyou.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Admirals Quit; Huff Rumored

NEW YORK (AP) — The chief and deputy chief of the Navy's Bureau of Ships have submitted their resignations.

The Navy said last night in Washington that the two rear admirals—William A. Brockett, 51, and Charles A. Curtze, 54 —had requested immediate retirement for personal reasons.

Brockett

No action has been taken yet on the requests by Brockett, chief of the Bureau of Ships; and Curtze, his assistant. Both men, now assigned to the Pentagon, assumed their present posts in April 1963.

The Bureau of Ships is one of the most powerful divisions of the Navy. It is responsible for shipbuilding and ship maintenance, with an annual budget of $2 billion.

Curtze

The New York Times said that from close associates of the two officers it was learned that the resignations, in effect, constituted a protest against the present management of the Pentagon by the office of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Castro Changes Exodus Rules

KEY WEST, Fla. (UPI)—The Cuban government announced today the hazardous small boat exodus to freedom across the choppy Florida Straits will end tonight at midnight.

The announcement apparently paved the way for an orderly airlift of Cubans dissatisfied with Fidel Castro's Communist regime.

The planes would land in Florida and most of the refugees would be resettled in other areas of the United States.

The official government announcement from Havana said that the refugee flow would be halted at midnight, but added that all boats docked at the embarkation ports of Camarioca and Vardero would be allowed to leave with their human cargo.

Havana Radio announced last night that there were "about 200 boats" anchored at the small north coastal Cuban villages waiting to leave.

Pakistanis Killed

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Six Pakistani soldiers were killed in two encounters with Indian troops in the Lahore and Kashmir sectors within the past 24 hours, the Defense Ministry said today.

Crash Landing

GILROY (AP) — A light plane with engine trouble made a nose-damaging landing yesterday on a road near San Luis Reservoir. The pilot, George Eckenroth, 56, of Fresno was not injured. He was on a flight from Fresno to Watsonville in his Cessna 150.

TV Star Divorced

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Kathy Kersh, 23, has been granted a default divorce decree against Vince Edwards, television's Dr. Ben Casey, after testifying that he told her he was not interested in marriage.

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—At least 100 persons have been killed and thousands left homeless by cyclonic storms and torrential rains lashing central Burma during the past two days, official reports said today.

Gas Main Blast Cause Checked

PALM DESERT (AP) — Officials are investigating the cause of a gas main explosion that injured seven men in downtown Palm Desert.

The explosion, three hours after the main was ruptured by a ditch-digging machine yesterday, injured six Southern California Gas Co. employees from Indio and Albert Scott, volunteer fire chief for the Palm Desert State Division of Forestry fire station.

Flames burned for about two hours before the flow of gas was shut off in the main, about 50 feet from business buildings.

Pope Pronounces Sweeping Decrees Of Vatican Council

Anti-Semitism's End, Curia's Overhaul Officially Declared

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI and the bishops of the Vatican Ecumenical Council proclaimed five decrees today. They included promises of a drastic overhaul of the government of the Roman Catholic Church and a new and friendlier approach to Jews and other non-Christians.

By almost unanimous votes the council gave final approval to the decrees, which brought to 10 the total number issued since the council first met in 1962. Six more remain to be enacted.

Pope Paul told the council assembled in St. Peter's that the decrees raised no question of changing the basic nature of the Church or reducing it to the level of secular culture.

"The question is rather to render the Church more capable of developing its mission of good in the renewed conditions of human society," the Pope said. "The Church is thinking, the Church is speaking, the Church is growing, the Church is building itself up."

He said the decrees created new obligations for Catholics and added that he hoped the consequences "would be salutary for souls and for the life of the Church of tomorrow."

The Pope said he hoped non-Catholic Christians would "wish to contemplate" the new decrees as a manifestation of his Church's "renovated faith."

He said he hoped for similar contemplation from non-Christians, especially Jews, whom he described as people "certainly not of reprobation or distrust, but of respect, love and hope."

By their action in the public council meeting, the Pope and his bishops wrote a new chapter in the 2,000-year chronicle of their Church. They moved to modernize the structure of church government that has grown up since the Inquisition.

The decrees were proclaimed on the seventh anniversary of the election of Pope John XXIII, who brought the council into being. And the Pope and the bishops promulgated as many council decrees as were approved in the first three sessions of the assembly that John convened.

One decree, titled "On The Relation of The Church to Non-Christian Religions," declares that the Jewish people as a whole "cannot be charged" with the crucifixion of Christ. Ordering a new course in Catholic relations with other non-Christians, it alludes to the Christian-Moslem wars of the Crusades and "urges all to forget the past."

The longest decree, a 10,000-word document titled "Concerning The Pastoral Office of Bishops in The Church," endorses a synod or senate of bishops to advise the Pope and urges a reorganization of the predominantly conservative Vatican Curia — the central administration of the Church — to make it more representative of the entire Church.

A third decree, "On Christian Education," suggests that parochial schools be included in any subsidies given to education by the state. It also goes into general principles of education, proposing among other things that children be given a "positive and prudent" sex education.

The other two decrees deal with the modernization of priestly training in seminaries and of life in religious orders.

Wtih their promulgation the decrees were made public for the first time since the council started work on them. However, most of the essentials had become known during the lengthy council sessions of debate and voting.

The decree's guidelines for reform of the Vatican Curia had been awaited with particular interest.

As expected, the decree calls for a more international representation in the Curia, which has been largely Italian. But it had a surprise, saying that diocesan bishops — those living outside Rome — should also "be chosen as members" of Curia departments.

Phone Rates Probe Blasted By Industry

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission has ordered an investigation of telephone rates — an action blasted by the board chairman of AT&T as totally unwarranted and unnecessary.

The investigation, announced yesterday by the FCC, will cover almost all the services offered by the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

The regulatory agency said one of its objectives is to see if it should prescribe maximum charges to the public.

AT&T Board Chairman Frederick R. Kappel fired back in a statement issued in New York: "The action taken today by the FCC is totally unwarranted and unnecessary, and in the final analysis the telephone-using public will be the loser."

The commission ordered the investigation — it said it will set a date later for hearings in Washington — after studying an AT&T report on costs and earnings.

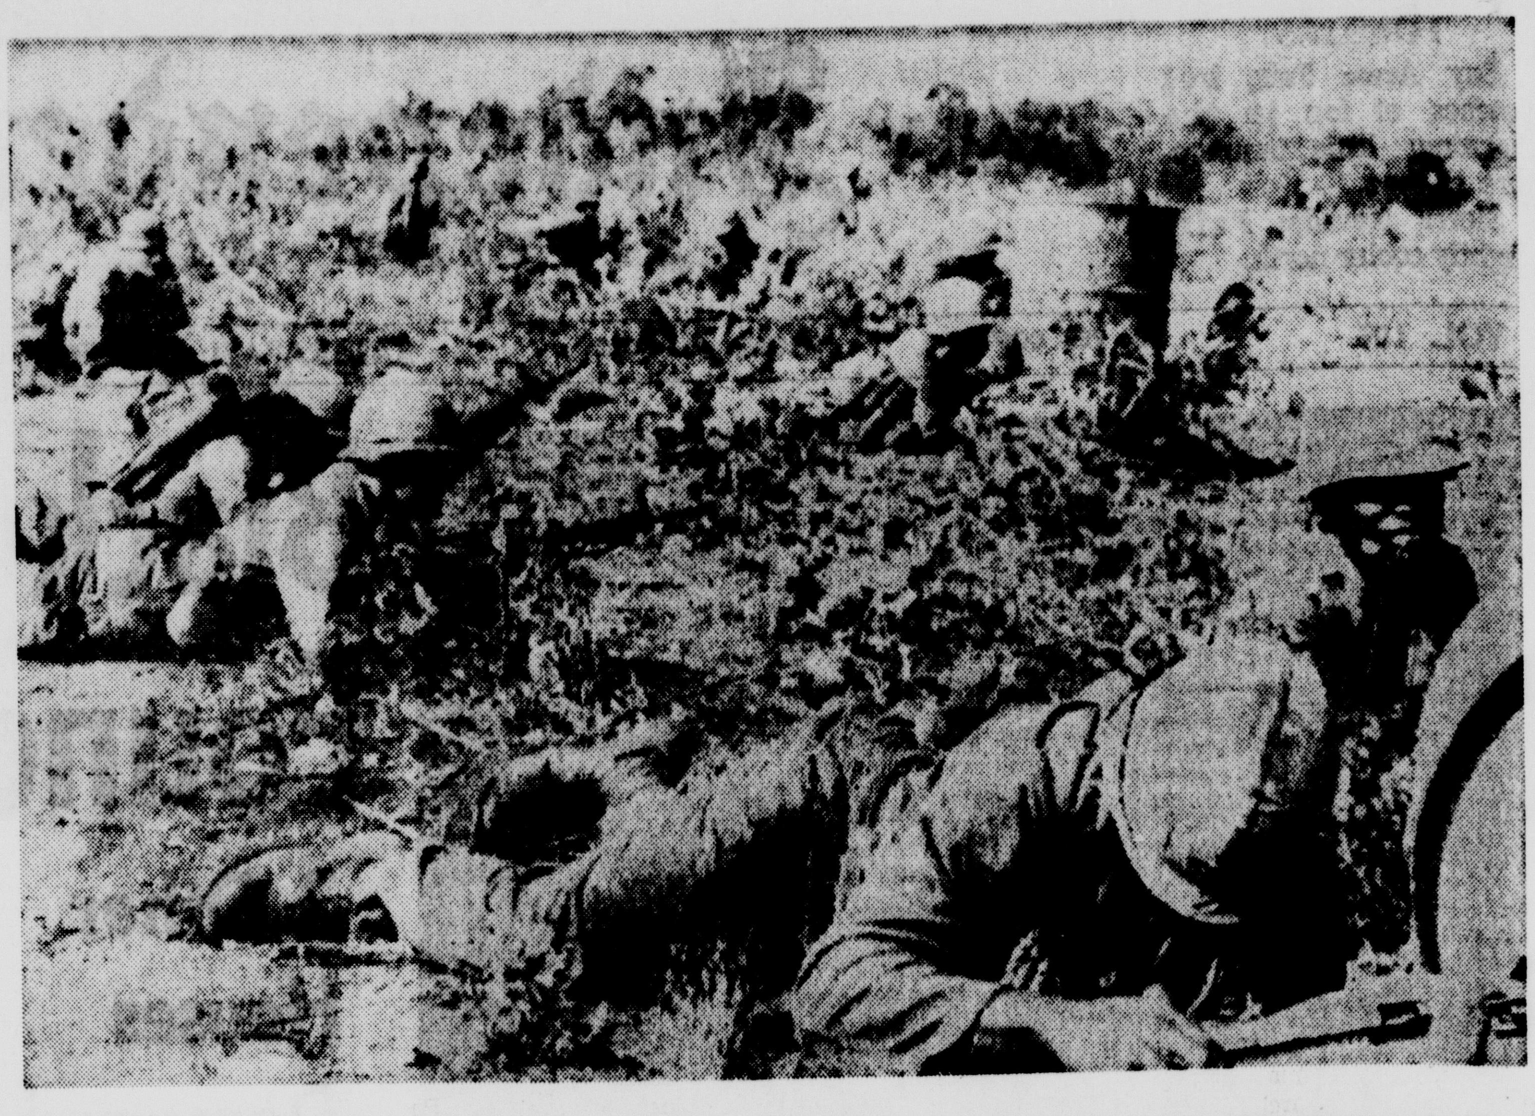
Among other things the investigation will determine, the FCC said, is if Bell System's charges are just and reasonable under the Communications Act.

Terror Laid To Indonesian Reds

JAKARTA (UPI) — Communist terrorists have killed nearly 200 persons in central and eastern Java since the abortive Oct. 1 coup, the Indonesian Army said today.

A "state of war" was proclaimed in a wide area of Java and curfews were imposed on two of the islands biggest cities —Semarang and Surakarta.

A communique released by the army information center charged Communist terrorists with mounting armed attacks on innocent civilians and carrying out a reign of murder, arson, kidnaping and robbery.



TROOPS UNDER FIRE — Men of the "Flying Horsemen" 1st Cavalry hug the ground today in a denuded field outside the beleaguered South Vietnamese fortified village of Plei Me, in an advance designed to clear out the Viet Cong guerrillas and North Vietnamese who have held the post under siege for more than a week. The airlifted troops cracked the Reds' attack yesterday, and are busy mopping up. (UPI Radiophoto)

Demo Blasts N.Y. Mayor Foe's Tactics

NEW YORK (UPI) — Democrat Abraham D. Beame, faced by the greatest Republican challenge since Fiorello LaGuardia became mayor of this Democratic stronghold, charged today that his opponent, Rep. John V. Lindsay, has resorted to gutter politics.

"My Republican opponent has managed to drag himself from the penthouses of Park Avenue right into the gutter," Beame said as the campaign entered the final stages for Tuesday's election.

He said every time someone shows up Lindsay "for his total ignorance, he covers up by a personal attack."

Lindsay, who represents Manhattan's "silk stocking" district in Congress has been leading Beame in one newspaper poll—the Daily News — some time and today the poll reported him widening his lead. Beame was ahead in another newspaper — The Herald Tribune — but, again, Lindsay was closing.

Beame's latest cause of concern was the fact that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey came to town Tuesday night to give his support — but without word of endorsement from President Johnson. The White House has not explained Johnson's silence.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today orbited another unmanned satellite in its Cosmos space exploration series, the Soviet news agency Tass reported. Tass said the satellite, Cosmos 94, carries scientific instruments for the space exploration program announced in March, 1962.

Viet Suicide Squads Damage U.S. Planes

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (UPI)—U. S. Marine patrols moved out today in pursuit of Viet Cong units who did an estimated $10 million damage to U. S. planes in simultaneous suicide attacks on two American installations.

The Communists, who destroyed or damaged 47 U. S. aircraft in the midnight attacks, were stopped before reaching their primary target, the main airbase at Da Nang, it was disclosed.

Maj. Gen. Lewis Walt, commander of U. S. Marine forces in Viet Nam, said at a news conference the guerrillas were spotted and chased by alert leatherneck units and heavy artillery before reaching the center of the Da Nang complex.

It also was disclosed today that more than 600 Viet Cong were known dead in three other campaigns.

A spokesman said 382 rebels were confirmed killed in the past 16 days by Vietnamese troops guarding the rice harvest in Phu Yen province, 230 miles northeast of Saigon.

Thirty-seven Viet Cong were killed Wednesday by American paratroopers of the 101st Airborne Division in "sniper valley," 270 miles northeast of the rapital.

Bodies of at least 201 guerrillas were found around the Plei Me U. S. Special Forces outpost in the central highlands, where an eight day siege was broken this week.

The Communist commando teams succeeded today in assaults at the Marble Mountain air facility east of Da Nang, 385 miles northeast of Saigon, and the Chu Lai air strip roughly 50 miles south of the main base.

They wrecked planes costing $2.5 million each and helicopters ranging in price from $200,000 to $250,000 apiece.

"This was a suicide attack," Walt told the news conference.

At Marble Mountain, authorities counted the burned out hulks of 18 destroyed HU-1B turbojet and H-34 helicopters. Twenty-two other H-34 and H-37s were found damaged.

At Chu Lai, a jet base, two A4 Skyhawk bombers were destroyed and five others damaged.

Walt said a squad of 12 Marines ambushed a Viet Cong uni estimated at 100 men about two miles south of the main base at Da Nang. Although vastly outnumbered, the Marines killed 15 of the surprised Viet Cong with bayonets and forced the others to withdraw. The squad had "light" casualties, a U. S. spokesman said.

LBJ Getting Set To Greet Top Visitors

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, though still leading the quiet life o a convalescent, has begun earnest talks about possible American visits by foreign leaders during the next couple of months.

Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk conferred Wednesday about the scheduling of visits by foreign dignitaries, either at the LBJ Ranch near here or in Washington.

Johnson aides, while speaking about visits, mentioned only one — the plan for a trip to the United States by West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard. There has been speculation Erhard might come in November.

Joseph Laitin, assistant press secretary, said he did not know whether the Johnson-Rusk discussion also embraced the forthcoming visit of Britain's Princess Margaret or possible trips to this country by President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan and Premier Lal Bahadur Shastri of India.

Although Princess Margaret and her husband, Lord Snowden, are scheduled to be entertained at the White House on Nov. 17, there has been some talk that Johnson might meet with the royal couple at the ranch instead.

The work "whisky" came into common usage in the 13th century.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Admirals Quit; Huff Rumored

NEW YORK (AP) — The chief and deputy chief of the Navy's Bureau of Ships have submitted their resignations.

The Navy said last night in Washington that the two rear admirals—William A. Brockett, 51, and Charles A. Curtze, 54 —had requested immediate retirement for personal reasons.

Brockett

No action has been taken yet on the requests by Brockett, chief of the Bureau of Ships; and Curtze, his assistant. Both men, now assigned to the Pentagon, assumed their present posts in April 1963.

The Bureau of Ships is one of the most powerful divisions of the Navy. It is responsible for shipbuilding and ship maintenance, with an annual budget of $2 billion.

Curtze

The New York Times said that from close associates of the two officers it was learned that the resignations, in effect, constituted a protest against the present management of the Pentagon by the office of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Castro Changes Exodus Rules

KEY WEST, Fla. (UPI)—The Cuban government announced today the hazardous small boat exodus to freedom across the choppy Florida Straits will end tonight at midnight.

The planes would land in Florida and most of the refugees would be resettled in other areas of the United States.

The official government announcement from Havana said that the refugee flow would be halted at midnight, but added that all boats docked at the embarkation ports of Camarioca and Vardero would be allowed to leave with their human cargo.

Havana Radio announced last night that there were "about 200 boats" anchored at the small north coastal Cuban villages waiting to leave.

Pakistanis Killed

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Six Pakistani soldiers were killed in two encounters with Indian troops in the Lahore and Kashmir sectors within the past 24 hours, the Defense Ministry said today.

Suburban Women Told Home Life Best, But Has Shortcomings

One hundred twenty-five suburban women and a dozen of their husbands gathered at the Marin County Civic Center last night to hear what suburban life is like and what it should be.

They heard that a woman should be happy in her home, a "whole person" with a nonspecialized education, or that she should have interests or a job outside the home.

It was the second of a series of forums on "Home in Suburbia —Pandora's Box?" this one entitled "The B.A. in the Kitchen."

Rev. George Hedley, professor emeritus at Mills College, put forth his opinion that women should feel fulfilled in the home.

"Where did this notion arise about the function in the kitchen being less important than the function in the office?" Hedley asked.

"The business of education is to create a total person," Hedley said. He said he did not approve of wives working unless there was "extreme economic necessity."

But he was enthusiastic about wives' efforts to study art, politics, religion and other subjects while remaining housewives.

The other discussion leader, Mrs. Walter Daley of Millbrae, who writes a column for the San Francisco Chronicle, said the layout of suburban communities contributed to the isolation and boredom of wives and mothers.

She said she favored each suburban area having a recreation center for adults and children, where the adults could work on projects or just talk.

She noted that women often are isolated from adult conversation and become only "yellow cabs," trying to get the family from school to library, and to the shop and food stores which are too widely separated.

Other watchwords for the evening were enrich, togetherness, whole person, fulfillment, better person, satisfactory role, significant.

One woman in the audience suggested that women should, by law, give time in the form of service to less privileged children, school or welfare-type work needing them.

Another woman said she had her hands full with her household and said she resented being referred to as "just a housewife." She won the loudest applause of the evening.

The discussion was moderated by Jack Danielson, psychologist for the Dixie School District.

The next program will be Nov. 3, "Marriage on the Rocks." The discussions are sponsored by the Young Women's Christian Assn.; Marin Assn. for Mental Health; Family Service League; and Planned Parenthood, Inc.

Wilson Busy In Rhodesian Talks

SALISBURY, Thodesia (UPI) —British Prime Minister Harold Wilson held another round of talks with prominent Rhodesians oday in search of some way to stave off a unilateral declaration of independence by the white-ruled African colony.

Wilson met first with the Rhodesian Council of African Chiefs, a group which supports the government of Prime Minister Ian Smith.

Wilson had appointments later ith the Christian Council and the Constitutional Council. The Christian group represents most Rhodesian churches. The Constitutional Council is a watchdog committee of leading Rhodesians set up to advise on the legality of legislation affecting citizens' rights.

He was specifically charged with taking the station wagon of Mrs. Robert W. Davidson, 316 Ross Drive, Tamalpais Valley.

Moving Day Set For Fire Alarm

If a fire alarm is sounded in Corte Madera Monday, the town's volunteer firemen will be called, not by the familiar fire horn, but by the air raid warning siren, Fire Chief Frank L. Nelson has announced.

Gamewell Corp., manufacturers of the air compression fire horn, will be moving the horn from Town Hall to the new Public Safety Building.

Nelson said the horn will be out of service all day Monday, beginning at 8 a.m.

Special Meeting On Building Chief

A special meeting of the Fairfax City Council to "take action on the future status of the building inspection function," has been called for 5:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Fairfax Women's Club.

Suburban Women Told Home Life Best, But Has Shortcomings

One hundred twenty-five suburban women and a dozen of their husbands gathered at the Marin County Civic Center last night to hear what suburban life is like and what it should be.

They heard that a woman should be happy in her home, a "whole person" with a nonspecialized education, or that she should have interests or a job outside the home.

It was the second of a series of forums on "Home in Suburbia—Pandora's Box?" this one entitled "The B.A. in the Kitchen."

Rev. George Hedley, professor emeritus at Mills College, put forth his opinion that women should feel fulfilled in the home.

"Where did this notion arise about the function in the kitchen being less important than the function in the office?" Hedley asked.

"The business of education is to create a total person," Hedley said. He said he did not approve of wives working unless there was "extreme economic necessity."

But he was enthusiastic about wives' efforts to study art, politics, religion and other subjects while remaining housewives.

The other discussion leader, Mrs. Walter Daley of Millbrae, who writes a column for the San Francisco Chronicle, said the layout of suburban communities contributed to the isolation and boredom of wives and mothers.

She said she favored each suburban area having a recreation center for adults and children, where the adults could work on projects or just talk.

She noted that women often are isolated from adult conversation and become only "yellow cabs," trying to get the family from school to library, and to the shop and food stores which are too widely separated.

Other watchwords for the evening were enrich, togetherness, whole person, fulfillment, better person, satisfactory role, significant.

One woman in the audience suggested that women should, by law, give time in the form of service to less privileged children, school or welfare-type work needing them.

Another woman said she had her hands full with her household and said she resented being referred to as "just a housewife." She won the loudest applause of the evening.

The discussion was moderated by Jack Danielson, psychologist for the Dixie School District.

The next program will be Nov. 3, "Marriage on the Rocks." The discussions are sponsored by the Young Women's Christian Assn.; Marin Assn. for Mental Health; Family Service League; and Planned Parenthood, Inc.

Wilson Busy In Rhodesian Talks

SALISBURY, Thodesia (UPI)—British Prime Minister Harold Wilson held another round of talks with prominent Rhodesians oday in search of some way to stave off a unilateral declaration of independence by the white-ruled African colony.

Wilson met first with the Rhodesian Council of African Chiefs, a group which supports the government of Prime Minister Ian Smith.

Wilson had appointments later ith the Christian Council and the Constitutional Council. The Christian group represents most Rhodesian churches. The Constitutional Council is a watchdog committee of leading Rhodesians set up to advise on the legality of legislation affecting citizens' rights.

Chamber To Meet

The Marin County Chamber of Commerce will meet at noon tomorrow at the Dock restaurant, Aiburon, to discuss revision of bylaws.

'Joy Riding' Brings Sentence

William Rex Neale Jr., 19, aboard the Ranger moored at Hunters Point in San Francisco, was sentenced to 10 days in Marin County jail yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on his guilty plea to an amended complaint charging joy riding.

Ne ale originally was charged with felony car theft in an alleged spree of taking three vehicles last Thursday night.

He was specifically charged with taking the station wagon of Mrs. Robert W. Davidson, 316 Ross Drive, Tamalpais Valley.

Moving Day Set For Fire Alarm

If a fire alarm is sounded in Corte Madera Monday, the town's volunteer firemen will be called, not by the familiar fire horn, but by the air raid warning siren, Fire Chief Frank L. Nelson has announced.

Gamewell Corp., manufacturers of the air compression fire horn, will be moving the horn from Town Hall to the new Public Safety Building.

Nelson said the horn will be out of service all day Monday, beginning at 8 a m.

Special Meeting On Building Chief

A special meeting of the Fairfax City Council to "take action on the future status of the building inspection function," has been called for 5:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Fairfax Women's Club.

The post of building inspector will become vacant when Rolfe M. Ockenden leaves. Ockendon recently announced his resignation effective in mid-November.

Arctic Atom Shot Due As Russ Ships Snoop

AMCHITKA ISLAND, Alaska (UPI)—Project Long Shot, delayed 24 hours by a fierce Aleutian storm, was expected to be detonated on schedule today at the bottom of a 2,300-foot hole on this barren, "L-shaped" island.

The blast was delayed twice yesterday then finally postponed just 20 minutes before the shot was to have gone off.

Purpose of the blast is to determine the difference between underground nuclear tests and natural earthquakes. It will be recorded at 211 seismic stations around the world.

The 80-kiloton nuclear device was scheduled to be detonated at 11 a.m. Alaska Standard Time (2 p.m. PDT), unless the Arctic Willawaw which raged through the Aleutians for two days should kick up again.

About three dozen Russian fishing vessels and two whale factory ships were reported working in the area yesterday, but it was not known if they were equiped with sensitive devices to monitor the blast.

Quake-conscience Alaska has been assured the blast, packing about four times the energy of either the Hiroshima or Nagasaki bombs which brought World War II to a close, will produce only slight surface motion.

Klan Probers Listen While The Fifth Keeps Flowing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Committee on un-American Activities today found the Grand Dragon of the Ku Klux Klan in South Carolina just as reluctant to answer questions as his colleagues from North Carolina and Virginia.

Robert E. Scoggin, 43, Spartanburg, S.C., told the committee his name and acknowledged that he had been subpoenaed to appear. Thereafter, he invoked the Fifth Amendment's protection against possible self-incrimination and refused to give testimony.

It was the same pattern followed by every top official of the United Klans of America, Inc. called by the committee since the inquiry began.

Scoggin, a lean, nattily dressed man, was identified as a plumbling and electrical contractor born in Polks County. N.C.

He as called to testify after the committee received information about a South Carolina "underground" team of Klansmen trained in the use of weapons and explosives.

Donald T. Appell, chief investigator for the committee said the secret group was believed to consist of less than 20 Klansmen. It was not know whether it has carried out any raids, Appell said.

Williams invoked the Fifth Amendment to each question he was asked. Committee Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., later said he had instructed Appell to pursue the matter further.

Rules To Be Set In Poverty War

Members of Marin's war on poverty advisory committee agreed last night that a set of by-laws must be drawn up before effective action can be taken.

Named to the by-laws committee were Mrs. Verna Bynum, Florence Scott, Arthur Brown and Walter Bremond, the county's community relations director.

Thomas Cutler, field representative for the office of economic opportunity in San Francisco, told the Marin group that priorities for programs must be established and the committee must be able to say "no" to some programs when funds are limited.

not have a draft ready last night, but outlined what would be contained. He said he had discussed it with Town Atty. Robert W. Elliott and there were no legal problems.

The Ross council met in special session on the flood control matter, Mayor Frederick S. Allen saying he called the meeting because "I don't want to see the Town of Ross lose this money for the other towns."

More important than that, said City Engineer Philip B. Lygren, would be loss of what appears the only chance "to perform projects that would begin to do anything about flood control in the Ross Valley." He said there are "staggering obstacles to doing flood control by local taxation."

The joint powers agreement, as outlined by Maloney, will commit the upstream towns to pay their pro-rate cost of maintenance of the downstream project, based on assessed valuation, up to a maximum of a five-cent tax rate.

As to the second phase of the Army Corps of Engineers' proposed project — which brought outcries from Ross, San Anselmo and Fairfax residents at the idea of a concrete ditch through their towns—"you would be in the same position vis a vis the second part as you are right now," said Maloney. In other words, it would not be included in the project.

Cost of maintaining the downstream project is expected to add only 1.7 cents to the tax rate, said County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost.

County areas in the project will be included in the flood control zone. Kettenhofen said he hoped to work out a way for Sleepy Hollow to participate at the same rate as the upstream cities.

The joint powers agreement was brought up as a "last hope" after city opposition threatened to scuttle the project. Maloney said it would meet the requirements of the Corps of Engineers for local guarantee of the maintenance.

LBJ Reveals Double Gemini Flight Scheme

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson announced today the United States will try to put two spaceships into orbit at the same time, probably in January, so they can attempt to rendezvous and fly in formation.

Since each craft would have a two-man crew, this would put four American astronauts into space simultaneously.

The purpose of the dual flights would be to make up some of the time lost last week when failure of an Atlas-Agena rocket forced postponement of the Gemini 6 flight.

If all goes well, the two American spaceships would fly in formation as close to each other as possible—"a matter of feet," according to press secretary Bill D. Moyers.

The Soviet Union in 1963 put two manned spaceships into orbit simultaneously but, according to American estimates, they were separated by at least three miles.

PAPER

may have started the fire from spewing embers but is not a flame-bearing device.

Two employees reported yesterday to sheriff's deputies that their automobiles were tampered with late Tuesday night or early yesterday while they worked to help get out the papers at the Shoreline Highway building.

Mrs. Elliot Snyder of 120 Bulkley Avenue, Sausalito, said that at 1 a.m. yesterday, when she finished folding papers, she found her car's gasoline line and vacuum line had been removed.

Mary Haggett of 70 Rancho Road, Mill Valley, told deputies that air was let out of two tires on her Volkswagen.

Yesterday morning there was an explosion in a Marin Guide pickup truck when driver John Edward McElroy of Gate Five, Sausalito, started it in Lytton Square, Mill Valley. A garage mechanic on investigation told police the truck had been "hot wired."

Peter F. Stickney, 24, of 7 Perry Walk, San Rafael, and Willis A. McConnell of 612 Galerita Way, Santa Venetia, told sheriff's deputies that while they were picketing Tuesday before the Shoreline office, a Marin Guide truck narrowly missed hitting them.

Stickney said the driver leaped out and yanked a camera off Stickney's neck, breaking the strap. They scuffled, then the driver went into the building.

The Marin Guide has five companion publications which are distributed in various parts of the county. There are the Pelican to Tiburon and Bolinas; Ross Valley Times, Ross Valley; Sausalito News, Sausalito; Mill Valley News, Mill Valley, and Guide-Times, Corte Madera and Larkspur.

George P. Scott, head of the Building Trades Council of Marin County, discounted the charges:

"Our records show that minority races, including the colored, are given the same opportunity to apply for unions. We've had quite a few applicants but they couldn't pass the test," Scott said.

"That's the crux of the problem," said J. Merton Muzzy, director of finance for the Northern California Presbytery, in San Francisco, who is responsible for enforcing the contract.

"That's why they can't vote in the south, too," he said. "They can't pass the test. We believe the tests are used in a very discriminatory way."

"We welcome the charges," declared Scott, "because all the locals have been told by the internationals that they must comply with the law." He said no violations had been called to the attention of the council.

As to whether there are Negroes in the plumbers and electrical workers unions, Scott said it would be a violation of the law to keep records by race.

Muzzi said the contractor for St. Andrews Church, Charles J. Hendrickson of San Rafael, "has tried valiantly to assist us" but has been stymied by the unions.

"The union representatives generally haven't bothered to show up at the meetings we have tried to have," Muzzi charged.

Under the Civil Rights Act, the problem must first be turned over to the State Fair Employment Practices Commission for investigation and then, if the charges are true, for negotiations to end the discrimination. If that fails, the federal government can take over with a similar procedure.

The U.S. attorney general, however, can file a suit in federal court immediately if he feels the case is serious enough to merit such action.

Firm Is Low Bidder For College Work

Watkin and Sibbald Associates, Inc., of San Anselmo yesterday submitted the lowest of six bids to build outdoor physical education facilities at Sonoma State College, Rohnert Park.

The firm's bid was $229,563, according to the state Office of Architecture and Construction. The work will be the second phase of a project and will involve a football field, running track and sprinkler system.

Planners Hold Informal Talks

Because they lacked a quorum, Corte Madera Park and Recreation commissioners could not hold a legal meeting last night, instead, those present held some informal discussions.

Three members discussed and informally approved landscaping plans for the remodeled town hall. They asked the town's public works department for an estimate of the cost of canvas windbreaks for the town park tennis courts.

They also informally approved plans to string Christmas tree lighting on the town hall and the new public safety building and to install a railing for steps at Menke Park near the post office.

measure would have given the company "a practical monopoly" in the production of smog control devices for used cars.

The committee approved amendments to the measure that would re-instate the two-device requirement.

Ross told the committee, requested by Sturgeon to re-consider the bill, that there is a section remaining in the law that still requires two devices.

He said AMF was unwilling to continue production of its device unless this requirement were completely eliminated. He said the firm was afraid it might be open to lawsuits unless the law was clarified.

Ross also told the committee that if the two-device requirement were lifted, American Machine and Foundry "would have a practical monopoly" on producing smog control devices for used cars.

That's because only one other firm has been engaged in producing such devices, Ross said, and it recently withdrew from competition.

It is estimated the monopoly could mean $400 million to $650 million in business for AMF.

Stanford Safe Jurors Out

The jury in the Sally Stanford burglary trial went into its second day of deliberation today in San Francisco.

The seven-man, five-woman jury went to a hotel early today after deliberating 14 hours, starting at 10:20 a.m. yesterday.

At that time, jury foreman Warren F. Foley told Superior Court Judge Harry J. Neubarth the jurors were "pretty tired; we've been working hard."

Foley declined to answer when Judge Neubarth asked how the jury stood in any vote it might have taken thus far.

Earlier, when the jurors went to dinner, Foley said they stood "nothing to nothing."

Five men are accused of trying to burglarize the red brick mansion of Mrs. Marsha Owen (Sally Stanford), Sausalito restaurant owner and one-time San Francisco madam, last April 6.

Two defendants, Salvatore Polani, 44, and Patrick Buckman, 27, are San Francisco police officers. The others—Winston Major, 51, Wesley Gant, 56, and Louis Romero, 28 — all have prison records.

Major and Gant are safecrackers, while Romero is a three-time loser. He has been convicted for burglary, robbery and narcotics.

Arctic Atom Shot Due As Russ Ships Snoop

AMCHITKA ISLAND, Alaska (UPI)—Project Long Shot, delayed 24 hours by a fierce Aleutian storm, was expected to be detonated on schedule today at the bottom of a 2,300-foot hole on this barren, "L-shaped" island.

The blast was delayed twice yesterday then finally postponed just 20 minutes before the shot was to have gone off.

Purpose of the blast is to determine the difference between underground nuclear tests and natural earthquakes. It will be recorded at 211 seismic stations around the world.

The 80-kiloton nuclear device was scheduled to be detonated at 11 a.m. Alaska Standard Time (2 p.m. PDT), unless the Arctic Willawaw which raged through the Aleutians for two days should kick up again.

About three dozen Russian fishing vessels and two whale factory ships were reported working in the area yesterday, but it was not known if they were equiped with sensitive devices to monitor the blast.

Quake-conscience Alaska has been assured the blast, packing about four times the energy of either the Hiroshima or Nagasaki bombs which brought World War II to a close, will produce only slight surface motion.

Klan Probers Listen While The Fifth Keeps Flowing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Committee on un-American Activities today found the Grand Dragon of the Ku Klux Klan in South Carolina just as reluctant to answer questions as his colleagues from North Carolina and Virginia.

Robert E. Scoggin, 43, Spartanburg, S.C., told the committee his name and acknowledged that he had been subpoenaed to appear. Thereafter, he invoked the Fifth Amendment's protection against possible self-incrimination and refused to give testimony.

It was the same pattern followed by every top official of the United Klans of America, Inc. called by the committee since the inquiry began.

Scoggin, a lean, nattily dressed man, was identified as a plumbling and electrical contractor born in Polks County, N.C.

He as called to testify after the committee received information about a South Carolina "underground" team of Klansmen trained in the use of weapons and explosives.

Donald T. Appell, chief investigator for the committee said the secret group was believed to consist of less than 20 Klansmen. It was not know whether it has carried out any raids, Appell said.

Williams invoked the Fifth Amendment to each question he was asked. Committee Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., later said he had instructed Appell to pursue the matter further.

Rules To Be Set In Poverty War

Members of Marin's war on poverty advisory committee agreed last night that a set of by-laws must be drawn up before effective action can be taken.

Named to the by-laws committee were Mrs. Verna Bynum, Florence Scott, Arthur Brown and Walter Bremond, the county's community relations director.

Thomas Cutler, field representative for the office of economic opportunity in San Francisco, told the Marin group that priorities for programs must be established and the committee must be able to say "no" to some programs when funds are limited.

not have a draft ready last night, but outlined what would be contained. He said he had discussed it with Town Atty. Robert W. Elliott and there were no legal problems.

The Ross council met in special session on the flood control matter, Mayor Frederick S. Allen saying he called the meeting because "I don't want to see the Town of Ross lose this money for the other towns."

More important than that, said City Engineer Philip B. Lygren, would be loss of what appears the only chance "to perform projects that would begin to do anything about flood control in the Ross Valley." He said there are "staggering obstacles to doing flood control by local taxation."

The joint powers agreement, as outlined by Maloney, will commit the upstream towns to pay their pro-rate cost of maintenance of the downstream project, based on assessed valuation, up to a maximum of a five-cent tax rate.

As to the second phase of the Army Corps of Engineers' proposed project — which brought outcries from Ross, San Anselmo and Fairfax residents at the idea of a concrete ditch through their towns—"you would be in the same position vis a vis the second part as you are right now," said Maloney. In other words, it would not be included in the project.

Cost of maintaining the downstream project is expected to add only 1.7 cents to the tax rate, said County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost.

County areas in the project will be included in the flood control zone. Kettenhofen said he hoped to work out a way for Sleepy Hollow to participate at the same rate as the upstream cities.

The joint powers agreement was brought up as a "last hope" after city opposition threatened to scuttle the project. Maloney said it would meet the requirements of the Corps of Engineers for local guarantee of the maintenance.

LBJ Reveals Double Gemini Flight Scheme

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson announced today the United States will try to put two spaceships into orbit at the same time, probably in January, so they can attempt to rendezvous and fly in formation.

Since each craft would have a two-man crew, this would put four American astronauts into space simultaneously.

The purpose of the dual flights would be to make up some of the time lost last week when failure of an Atlas-Agena rocket forced postponement of the Gemini 6 flight.

If all goes well, the two American spaceships would fly in formation as close to each other as possible—"a matter of feet," according to press secretary Bill D. Moyers.

The Soviet Union in 1963 put two manned spaceships into orbit simultaneously but, according to American estimates, they were separated by at least three miles.

may have started the fire from spewing embers but is not a flame-bearing device.

Two employees reported yesterday to sheriff's deputies that their automobiles were tampered with late Tuesday night or early yesterday while they worked to help get out the papers at the Shoreline Highway building.

Mrs. Elliot Snyder of 120 Bulkley Avenue, Sausalito, said that at 1 a.m. yesterday, when she finished folding papers, she found her car's gasoline line and vacuum line had been removed.

Mary Haggett of 70 Rancho Road, Mill Valley, told deputies that air was let out of two tires on her Volkswagen.

Yesterday morning there was an explosion in a Marin Guide pickup truck when driver John Edward McElroy of Gate Five, Sausalito, started it in Lytton Square, Mill Valley. A garage mechanic on investigation told police the truck had been "hot wired."

Peter F. Stickney, 24, of 7 Perry Walk, San Rafael, and Willis A. McConnell of 612 Galerita Way, Santa Venetia, told sheriff's deputies that while they were picketing Tuesday before the Shoreline office, a Marin Guide truck narrowly missed hitting them.

Stickney said the driver leaped out and yanked a camera off Stickney's neck, breaking the strap. They scuffled, then the driver went into the building.

The Marin Guide has five companion publications which are distributed in various parts of the county. There are the Pelican to Tiburon and Bolinas; Ross Valley Times, Ross Valley; Sausalito News, Sausalito; Mill Valley News, Mill Valley, and Guide-Times, Corte Madera and Larkspur.

Planners Hold Informal Talks

Because they lacked a quorum, Corte Madera Park and Recreation commissioners could not hold a legal meeting last night, instead, those present held some informal discussions.

Three members discussed and informally approved landscaping plans for the remodeled town hall. They asked the town's public works department for an estimate of the cost of canvas windbreaks for the town park tennis courts.

They also informally approved plans to string Christmas tree lighting on the town hall and the new public safety building and to install a railing for steps at Menke Park near the post office.

George P. Scott, head of the Building Trades Council of Marin County, discounted the charges:

"Our records show that minority races, including the colored, are given the same opportunity to apply for unions. We've had quite a few applicants but they couldn't pass the test," Scott said.

"That's the crux of the problem," said J. Merton Muzzy, director of finance for the Northern California Presbytery, in San Francisco, who is responsible for enforcing the contract.

"That's why they can't vote in the south, too," he said. "They can't pass the test. We believe the tests are used in a very discriminatory way."

"We welcome the charges," declared Scott, "because all the locals have been told by the internationals that they must comply with the law." He said no violations had been called to the attention of the council.

As to whether there are Negroes in the plumbers and electrical workers unions, Scott said it would be a violation of the law to keep records by race.

Muzzi said the contractor for St. Andrews Church, Charles J. Hendrickson of San Rafael, "has tried valiantly to assist us" but has been stymied by the unions.

"The union representatives generally haven't bothered to show up at the meetings we have tried to have," Muzzi charged.

Under the Civil Rights Act, the problem must first be turned over to the State Fair Employment Practices Commission for investigation and then, if the charges are true, for negotiations to end the discrimination. If that fails, the federal government can take over with a similar procedure.

The U.S. attorney general, however, can file a suit in federal court immediately if he feels the case is serious enough to merit such action.

Firm Is Low Bidder For College Work

Watkin and Sibbald Associates, Inc., of San Anselmo yesterday submitted the lowest of six bids to build outdoor physical education facilities at Sonoma State College, Rohnert Park.

The firm's bid was $229,563, according to the state Office of Architecture and Construction. The work will be the second phase of a project and will involve a football field, running track and sprinkler system.

measure would have given the company "a practical monopoly" in the production of smog control devices for used cars.

The committee approved amendments to the measure that would re-instate the two-device requirement.

Ross told the committee, requested by Sturgeon to re-consider the bill, that there is a section remaining in the law that still requires two devices.

He said AMF was unwilling to continue production of its device unless this requirement were completely eliminated. He said the firm was afraid it might be open to lawsuits unless the law was clarified.

Ross also told the committee that if the two-device requirement were lifted, American Machine and Foundry "would have a practical monopoly" on producing smog control devices for used cars.

That's because only one other firm has been engaged in producing such devices, Ross said, and it recently withdrew from competition.

It is estimated the monopoly could mean $400 million to $650 million in business for AMF.

Stanford Safe Jurors Out

The jury in the Sally Stanford burglary trial went into its second day of deliberation today in San Francisco.

The seven-man, five-woman jury went to a hotel early today after deliberating 14 hours, starting at 10:20 a.m. yesterday.

At that time, jury foreman Warren F. Foley told Superior Court Judge Harry J. Neubarth the jurors were "pretty tired; we've been working hard."

Foley declined to answer when Judge Neubarth asked how the jury stood in any vote it might have taken thus far.

Earlier, when the jurors went to dinner, Foley said they stood "nothing to nothing."

Five men are accused of trying to burglarize the red brick mansion of Mrs. Marsha Owen (Sally Stanford), Sausalito restaurant owner and one-time San Francisco madam, last April 6.

Two defendants, Salvatore Polani, 44, and Patrick Buckman, 27, are San Francisco police officers. The others—Winston Major, 51, Wesley Gant, 56, and Louis Romero, 28 — all have prison records.

Major and Gant are safecrackers, while Romero is a three-time loser. He has been convicted for burglary, robbery and narcotics.

Sausalito Police Raid Alleged Call Girl Nest

Sausalito police halted an alleged high-priced call girl operation yesterday when they arrested two women in a daylight raid on a plush bayview apartment at 77 Bulkley Avenue.

Donna Lee Donaleche, 24, of San Francisco, a shapely blonde who gave her occupation as unemployed cocktail waitress, was charged with soliciting or engaging in prostitution and conspiracy to commit prostitution.

Barbara Ellen Benson, 40, of 77 Bulkley Avenue, Apt. 19, was charged with procuring a female for prostitution, keeping or residing in a house of prostitution, and conspiracy.

Sausalito police had the apartment under investigation for about two or three months after receiving a tip, Lt. Ted Zink reported.

They moved in yesterday after an undercoverman, Sgt. Perry J. Haley of Novato police, posing as a business representative of a Chicago firm, made the necessary arrangements.

Haley entered the apartment at about 1:40 p.m. and "about a half hour to 45 minutes later, Miss Donaleche arrived, Zink said.

After Hale yand Miss Donaleche entered the bedroom, Haley signaled Zin and Sgt. John Higgins of Sausalito police, who were in the next apartment. They forced the front door open and entered.

Prices for girls ranged from $100 upward and "the madam gets half" Zink said.

Zink said from 15 to 20 girls from throughout the Bay Area have been seen coming and going at the apartment while it was under investigation. "One month we watched every day," he said.

He described Mrs. Benson's apartment as a modern two-bedroom apartment with a view of the bay. He said Mrs. Benson rented the apartment two years ago.

Mrs. Benson was released under $2,750 bail and Miss Donaleche, under $1,650 bail. Both are scheduled to appear for arraignment in Marin Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Sausalito Police Raid Alleged Call Girl Nest

Sausalito police halted an alleged high-priced call girl operation yesterday when they arrested two women in a daylight raid on a plush bayview apartment at 77 Bulkley Avenue.

Donna Lee Donaleche, 24, of San Francisco, a shapely blonde who gave her occupation as unemployed cocktail waitress, was charged with soliciting or engaging in prostitution and conspiracy to commit prostitution.

Barbara Ellen Benson, 40, of 77 Bulkley Avenue, Apt. 19, was charged with procuring a female for prostitution, keeping or residing in a house of prostitution, and conspiracy.

Sausalito police had the apartment under investigation for about two or three months after receiving a tip, Lt. Ted Zink reported.

They moved in yesterday after an undercoverman, Sgt. Perry J. Haley of Novato police, posing as a business representative of a Chicago firm, made the necessary arrangements.

Haley entered the apartment at about 1:40 p.m. and "about a half hour to 45 minutes later, Miss Donaleche arrived, Zink said.

After Hale yand Miss Donaleche entered the bedroom, Haley signaled Zin and Sgt. John Higgins of Sausalito police, who were in the next apartment. They forced the front door open and entered.

Prices for girls ranged from $100 upward and "the madam gets half" Zink said.

Zink said from 15 to 20 girls from throughout the Bay Area have been seen coming and going at the apartment while it was under investigation. "One month we watched every day," he said.

He described Mrs. Benson's apartment as a modern two-bedroom apartment with a view of the bay. He said Mrs. Benson rented the apartment two years ago.

Mrs. Benson was released under $2,750 bail and Miss Donaleche, under $1,650 bail. Both are scheduled to appear for arraignment in Marin Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

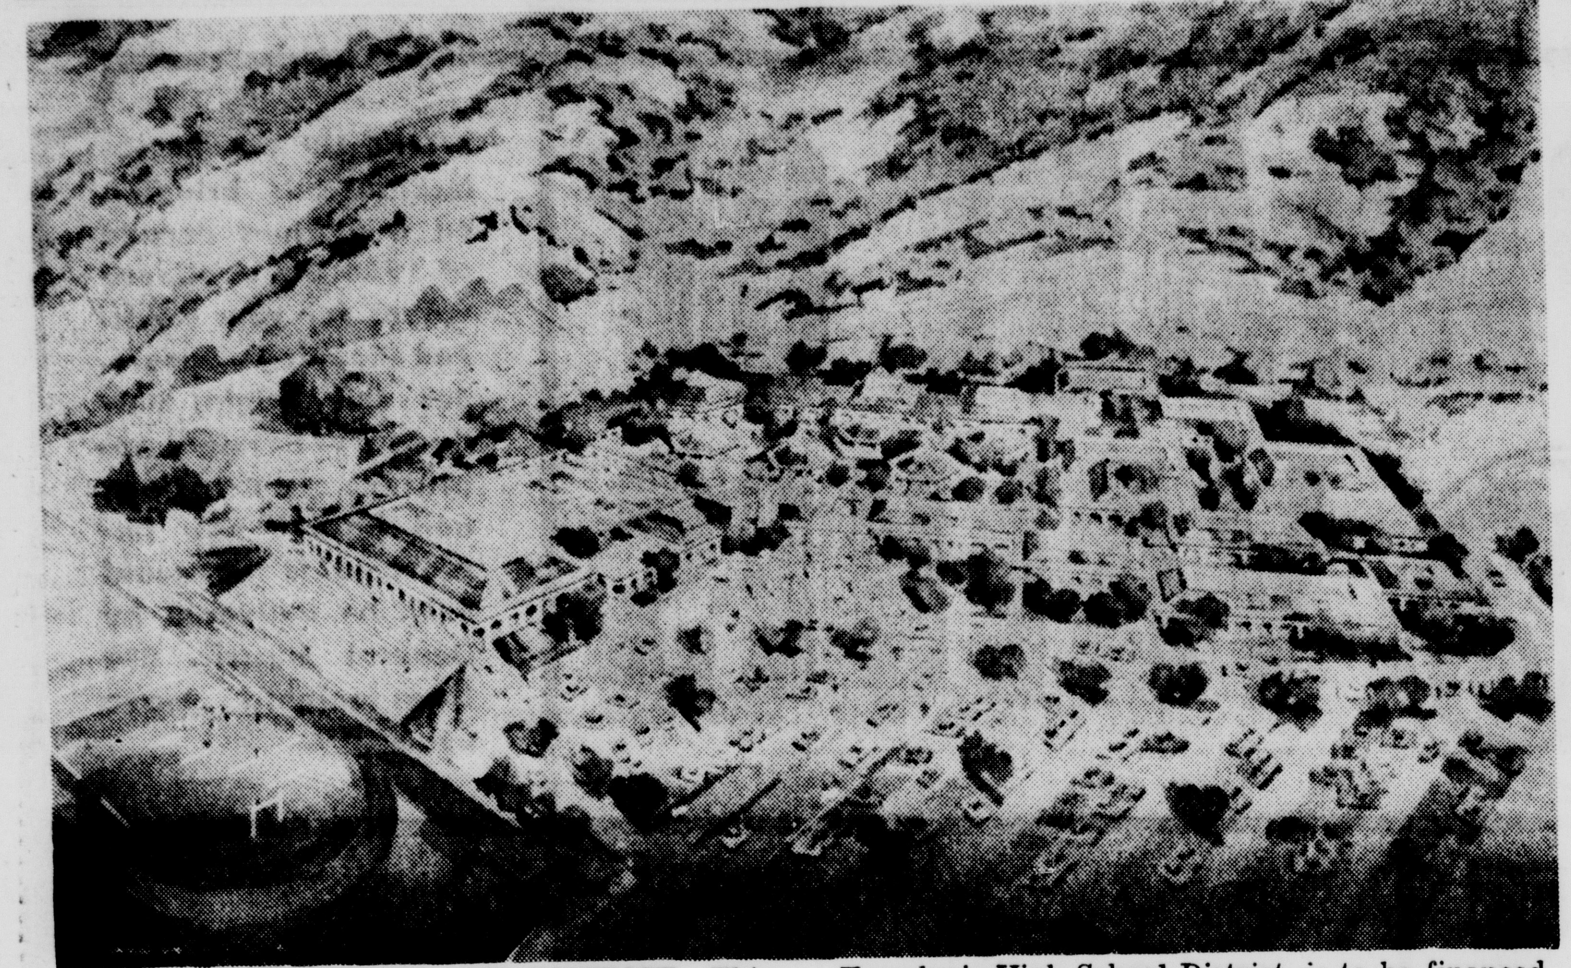
THIRD & C, SAN RAFAEL



FOURTH HIGH SCHOOL FOR DISTRICT—This is architect Ralph B. Priestley's conception of how San Geronimo Valley High School will look when completed. Initial phase of the school, fourth for Tamalpais High School District, is to be financed from proceeds of bond issue that will be before voters Nov. 16—provided the issue receives the necessary two-thirds favorable vote.

TAMALPAIS DISTRICT

Bond Passage To Mean New San Geronimo High

(Third of Four Articles)

But voter approval on Nov. 16 of the Tamalpais High School District bond issue will mean that by September, 1967, some 600 to 700 students will move into a new school on the site, just north of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at the foot of White's Hill in the San Geronimo Valley.

They will come from Fairfax, Nicasio and from the valley itself, thereby relieving the strain on Drake High School facilities, and from Stinson Beach and Bolinas.

What they will find is an artfully scaled down version of architect Ralph Priestley's original valley high school—a version that is nonetheless not only a "complete" school, but one that even has certain advantages over the original.

The first design approved by the trustees had been geared to the district's ambitious master plan, a plan carrying a price tag of $13,000,000. Included was a valley high school that would accommodate 1,500.

When pending unification moves made such a long-range plan impractical, trustees turned to an alternative design for the valley facility.

The revised blueprints did four things:

1. They broke up the large academic building which had been the center of the original plan and introduced a number of smaller units, some of which could be built now, some later.
2. They provided for a full program of courses from the outset.
3. They retained from the original 1,500-student complex those items most costly to build piecemeal: the physical education plant, a theater, administrative space.
4. They emphasized a first-stage school that still looked like a completed school, a lesson in the aesthetics of stairstep construction learned at Redwood.

As it worked out, the change in plans brought a bonus. The smaller buildings will be more economical per square foot than the original plan's large academic central structure. In addition, variations in levels, roof design and materials possible with the multibuilding approach mean a more imaginative, pleasing layout.

Space in the school's first stage will be broken up into some two dozen classrooms, another 10 labs and workshops, two teaching and nine practice rooms for the music department, a library, and various rooms for communications and audio-visual programs.

The physical education plant will include boys' and girls' gymnasiums, a diving pool and a racing pool, a football field and track, plus volleyball, basketball, tennis and handball courts.

A cost breakdown of the $3,050,000 estimate shows $425,000 earmarked for rough and finished site development, $128,000 for utilities, $2,262,000 in building costs, and $235,000 for equipment.

Sheltering hills, watching cows and untouched shade trees are unappraised in value. They, too, are a bonus.

Man 'Critical' After Cliff Fall

Aubrey Olson, son-in-law of Marin County Undersheriff Eugene L. Meyer, still unconscious and in critical condition from a 250-foot fall Saturday, was transferred yesterday from Marshall Hospital in Placerville to Sutter Memorial Hospital, Sacramento.

X-rays there revealed that in addition to a skull fracture, Olson also had all but two of his ribs broken in the fall down a cliff on a fishing excursion. One of the broken ribs punctured a lung.

Olson formerly was a postman in Tiburon, leaving the job three months ago.

Monk Testifies Actor Shot Wife

INDIO (AP)—Despite strenuous objections by the defense, a Buddhist monk has testified in Superior Court that former actor Tom Neal told him he had shot his estranged wife Gail Neal.

The monk, Robert Balzer, who owns a restaurant at Idyllwild, was a reluctant witness. Before testifying he asked the judge if Neal's statements to him shouldn't be considered confidential in view of the fact that he, Balzer, is a monk. But the court directed him to testify.

Balzer, called as a prosecution witness, testified that Neal came to him last April 1 and told him his wife was dead. The witness added that Neal said to him: "'I shot her. She was napping."

Doctors Told Not To Judge Morality Of Sexual Acts

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—There is no such thing as a "good" or "bad" sex act in nature, according to Dr. E.M. Marsh, of Mill Valley, a gynecologist from San Francisco.

In a speech yesterday at the 17th annual meeting of the California Academy of General Practice at the Statler - Hilton Hotel, Marsh said there are several valid ways of looking at sex, including those of the lawyer, scientist, theologian and sociologist.

Marsh advised doctors to use the scientific and biological view that no sexual activity is "unnatural" if they desire to do their patients the most good.

"The theologian makes a moral judgment based on the traditional Judeo-Christian code of behavior," Marsh said.

"The sociologist asks what's best for the greatest number, and the lawyer asks what's legal. The physician should make no judgment apart from that that has to do with the physical and mental health of his paitent," he added.

For doctors to be able to do this, he said, they should be unable to be shocked and upset emotionally by the confidences of their patients. Unfortunately, however, few doctors are this well insulated, he said.

"Doctors are as poorly educated about sex and as much in the dark as other people," Marsh said. "Still, they are the ones most often asked for advice about it.

"They can help their patients if they look at sexual matters from the biologist's point of view and not from the theologian's, lawyer's or sociologist's."

Woman Bruised In Car Crash

A Corte Madera woman suffered a bruised right elbow at 10 p.m. yesterday in a truck-auto collision on Highway 101, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said a car driven by Sam Gazzano, 62, of 332 Willow Avenue, Corte Madera, began to stall halfway up the Alto Hill and was hit from behind by a truck-trailer driven by Daniel Motta, 42, of Gilroy.

Gazzano's wife, Maria, 59, was treated at Marin General Hospital. Gazzano and Motto were unhurt.

Driver Is Injured In Car Collision

Eva I. Goetschius, 58, of 55 Canal Street, San Rafael, was injured at 4:30 p.m. yesterday when her car was struck in the rear by another on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Greenbrae, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Miss Goetschius, eastbound, was stopped for a red light at La Cuesta Drive when her car was hit by one driven by Frederico R. Borrego, 60, of 294 Scenic Road, Fairfax, the patrol said. Miss Goetschius complained of neck pains and was to see her own doctor.

Woman Is Given Oxygen, Then Goes To Hospital

Betty Louise Baxter of Mill Valley was treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday, then transferred to Napa State Hospital after what she said was a suicide attempt at her home at 14 Gomez Way, Apt. 2. The hospital reported her in "good condition."

Police were called to Miss Baxter's Tam Terrace apartment by the apartment manager at 4:15 p.m. On arrival they found her sitting in he car in the carport, smoking a cigarette.

The car had been backed into the parking stall and a garden hose had been taped to the exhaust pipe with masking tape and the other end inserted into the car window. She told police she intended to commit suicide.

Modern technology has made great strides in oil recovery techniques over the past few decades. Nowadays, as much as 85 per cent of oil in underground rock formations is recoverable, whereas in earlier years only 20 per cent was recoverable.

Civic Affairs Group Backs Study Of Deck

Marin Council for Civic Affairs directors last night endorsed study of a second deck on the Golden Gate Bridge and —with some reservations—the Marincello master plan.

The vote on the latter was split 6-4.

The bridge deck resolution carries a provision that two other concurrent studies should be undertaken: bridge approach widening, and the possible addition of rapid transit on the bridge.

The Marincello resolution approves the principle of a planned community, variety of housing types, cluster housing and the 3.5-units-per-acre density limitation. However, it asks county supervisors to require more detailed planning before any work begins.

Voting for the Marincello resolution were Robert McCreadie, N. Robert Heyer, Milen Dempster, Mrs. Ida Geary, Edward J. Neumeier and Mrs. Jerry Warenback. Opposing were Mrs. Aline McClain, Mrs. Muriel Apenzeller, Mary Henry and Mrs. Ezilda Lucheta. Chairman Naphtali H. Knox and Mrs. Margaret Azevedo abstained.

The council has 25 directors, but only 12 were present.

Woman Suffers Cuts, Bruises In Crash

Ernestine M. Sultan, 43, of San Francisco suffered a bruised and cut left leg at 11:50 a.m. yesterday in an auto crash on Highway 101 near Sausalito, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Miss Sultan was northbound 150 feet north of the Bridgeway on-ramp at about 60 miles per hour when she braked to avoid hitting a car stopped in front of her and crashed into the center divider. She was to see her own physician.

Dixie Board Turns Down City Charter

Trustees of Dixie School District last night unanimously agreed that a unified Dixie-San Rafael School District should operate under the general state law governing school districts and not under the San Rafael city charter.

The present San Rafael high and elementary districts are under city charter provisions at variance in some details from general state school district laws.

Trustees did not reach a decision on whether the board for the proposed district should have five or seven members.

The recommendation against the charter will go to the Marin County Committee on School District Organization.

Both school boards will meet for further discussion of unification at Miller Creek School next Thursday evening.

Dixie School District trustees last night also:

1. Agreed that shorter school days during parent conference periods should continue, despite complaints from some parents of children in lower grades.

2. Agreed that eighth grade classes are too large to continue joint graduation programs. There will be two programs next June, at Vallecito and Miller Creek schools.

3. Rejected the recommendation of Supt. Dennie B. Willis that he be permitted to employ sons and daughters of district employees.

4. Asked Willis to prepare a program showing how $11,370 could be used by the district in educating children from impoverished families. The money is available under new public law 89-10.

5. Hired Mrs. Loretta Lawson at $5,000 a year to teach a combination third and fourth grade class in Lucas Valley School.

Driver Is Injured In Car Collision

Eva I. Goetschius, 58, of 55 Canal Street, San Rafael, was injured at 4:30 p.m. yesterday when her car was struck in the rear by another on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Greenbrae, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Miss Goetschius, eastbound, was stopped for a red light at La Cuesta Drive when her car was hit by one driven by Frederico R. Borrego, 60, of 294 Scenic Road, Fairfax, the patrol said. Miss Goetschius complained of neck pains and was to see her own doctor.

Woman Is Given Oxygen, Then Goes To Hospital

Betty Louise Baxter of Mill Valley was treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday, then transferred to Napa State Hospital after what she said was a suicide attempt at her home at 14 Gomez Way, Apt. 2. The hospital reported her in "good condition."

Police were called to Miss Baxter's Tam Terrace apartment by the apartment manager at 4:15 p.m. On arrival they found her sitting in he car in the carport, smoking a cigarette.

The car had been backed into the parking stall and a garden hose had been taped to the exhaust pipe with masking tape and the other end inserted into the car window. She told police she intended to commit suicide.

Modern technology has made great strides in oil recovery techniques over the past few decades. Nowadays, as much as 85 per cent of oil in underground rock formations is recoverable, whereas in earlier years only 20 per cent was recoverable.

Civic Affairs Group Backs Study Of Deck

Marin Council for Civic Affairs directors last night endorsed study of a second deck on the Golden Gate Bridge and —with some reservations—the Marincello master plan.

The vote on the latter was split 6-4.

The bridge deck resolution carries a provision that two other concurrent studies should be undertaken: bridge approach widening, and the possible addition of rapid transit on the bridge.

The Marincello resolution approves the principle of a planned community, variety of housing types, cluster housing and the 3.5-units-per-acre density limitation. However, it asks county supervisors to require more detailed planning before any work begins.

Voting for the Marincello resolution were Robert McCreadie, N. Robert Heyer, Milen Dempster, Mrs. Ida Geary, Edward J. Neumeier and Mrs. Jerry Warenback. Opposing were Mrs. Aline McClain, Mrs. Muriel Apenzeller, Mary Henry and Mrs. Ezilda Lucheta. Chairman Naphtali H. Knox and Mrs. Margaret Azevedo abstained.

The council has 25 directors, but only 12 were present.

Woman Suffers Cuts, Bruises In Crash

Ernestine M. Sultan, 43, of San Francisco suffered a bruised and cut left leg at 11:50 a.m. yesterday in an auto crash on Highway 101 near Sausalito, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Miss Sultan was northbound 150 feet north of the Bridgeway on-ramp at about 60 miles per hour when she braked to avoid hitting a car stopped in front of her and crashed into the center divider. She was to see her own physician.

Dixie Board Turns Down City Charter

Trustees of Dixie School District last night unanimously agreed that a unified Dixie-San Rafael School District should operate under the general state law governing school districts and not under the San Rafael city charter.

The present San Rafael high and elementary districts are under city charter provisions at variance in some details from general state school district laws.

Trustees did not reach a decision on whether the board for the proposed district should have five or seven members.

The recommendation against the charter will go to the Marin County Committee on School District Organization.

Both school boards will meet for further discussion of unification at Miller Creek School next Thursday evening.

Dixie School District trustees last night also:

1. Agreed that shorter school days during parent conference periods should continue, despite complaints from some parents of children in lower grades.

2. Agreed that eighth grade classes are too large to continue joint graduation programs. There will be two programs next June, at Vallecito and Miller Creek schools.

3. Rejected the recommendation of Supt. Dennie B. Willis that he be permitted to employ sons and daughters of district employees.

4. Asked Willis to prepare a program showing how $11,370 could be used by the district in educating children from impoverished families. The money is available under new public law 89-10.

5. Hired Mrs. Loretta Lawson at $5,000 a year to teach a combination third and fourth grade class in Lucas Valley School.

Fairfax Flood Control Draft In Works

Th City of Fairfax is working on a joint powers agreement with the Marin County Flood Control District to provide its share of maintenanec of the downstream Corte Madera Creek flood control project, City Administrator David J. Sumbardo said today.

The joint powers agreement is to be presented to the San Anselmo City Council at its Nov. 9 meeting.

Fairfax councilmen indicated willingness to enter into such an agreement during discussion at their latest meeting, Sumbardo said, with the provisio that the maximum tax rate would be five cents per $100 assessed valuation.

The council directed Sumbardo to work out the agreement with County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, the city administrator said today.

San Anselmo councilmen expressed interest in the joint powers agreement but put off discussion until Nov. 9 to find out what the agreement would contain.

All three of the upstream cities must enter into an agreement to assure maintenance of the flood control project, according to Maloney.

Camp Fire Girls Given Chance To Grow, Find Many Friends

By KIM TUCKER

The watchword of the Camp Fire Girls is "Wohelo." This word is coined from the first two letters of the words work, health, and love. It is around this watchword that all programs of Camp Fire Girls revolve.

In Marin more than 2,700 girls from ages seven through high school participate in Camp Fire Girls programs.

When a young girl becomes a Blue Bird, she enters an exciting world of fun and friendships. The Blue Bird program stimulates creative play built around family and community life. During the past year Marin Blue Birds took trips to Audubon Canyon Ranch in Bolinas and to Stanford and Palo Alto.

When a girl reaches the age of 12 she may belong to Junior Hi Camp Fire Girls. This group enjoys cookouts and overnight get-togethers, courses in flower arrangements, sewing and other homemaking projects, and teaching games to children. During this past year Marin Junior Hi Camp Fire Girls enjoyed the facilities of Forest Farms Camp at Forest Knolls for their cookout and camping experiences.

The Camp Fire Girls program centers around seven divisions, called the seven crafts. They are home, creative arts, outdoors, frontiers of physical science, business, sports and games, and citizenship.

A girl electing to devote her Camp Fire fun to those activities concerning Homemaking would receive experiences in cooking, meal planning, entertaining guests, table setting, marketing and menus, and caring for children.

If her key interests are in the outdoors, she would participate in hiking, camping, outdoor cooking and nature lore.

In creative arts, the Camp Fire Girl has an opportunity to express her creative talents and perhaps find a few she didn't know she had. She can learn to work with wood block design, weave, write songs or plays, help plan costumes for a play, pageant or fashion show, or draw and paint.

The frontiers craft opens new vistas in learning for the Camp Fire Girl who is curious to learn about things that are a part of her everyday life. This may include a tour of an airport, broadcasting station, newspaper, or other community industry or activity. She may learn how to wire a doll's house for light, and endless other fascinating and interesting fields.

If a girl elects to learn about business, she may serve as a cashier at Camp Fire Girls sales and activities, plan a budget for a vacation trip, help in the Camp Fire Girls office, and read books on vocations and careers.

Sports and games always provide action, fun, skill and friendly competition for the Camp Fire Girl. They participate in all forms of sports including swimming, boating, canoeing, archery, and volleyball.

In citizenship craft, the Camp Fire Girl learns how to get along with others, and is made aware of the laws of her country and community. She participates in exhibits and pageants showing Camp Fire activities, plans programs depicting the history and customs of all nations, and cares for children while mothers attend PTA and other community meetings.

For their efforts in Camp Fire activities, the girls receive awards in the form of honor bears which lead to the four ranks: trail seeker, wood gatherer, fire maker, and torch bearer.

When a girl reaches the age of 14 she is eligible to join the Horizon Club. The objectives for this group are designed to mold women from girls, and offer numerous opportunities for them to participate in community services and events. Horizon Club members visit local and state government facilities, volunteer as hospital aides, help in libraries, nursery schools or younger Camp Fire Girls groups. Here in Marin they also help in the Camp Fire Girl office performing various clerical duties.

Whatever a girl's interest might be, she can find group enjoyment and broadening of her knowledge and talents through Camp Fire Girls programs, supported by the United Bay Area Crusade, of which it is a member agency.

Superintendent Of Mails Named

Norris G. Martin has been promoted to the new position of superintendent of mails at the Belvedere-Tiburon Post Office, postmaster Theodore J. Lehmann has announced.

Martin, a native of Oregon, has been in the postal service on the Tiburon Peninsula since 1963 when he retired from the Army. He and his wife and three sons reside at 75 Harriet Way, Tiburon.

Flood Control Unit Called A Necessity

Urgent need for co-operation of all Ross Valley cities in the proposed Corte Madera Creek flood control project was emphasized by four speakers today on Radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board."

A dramatic history of flooding in the Corte Madera Creek basin was described by George P. Reilly, chief of the engineering dision of Army Engineers' district office in San Francisco.

"On six occasions in the past 23 years, flood damages in excess of $50,000 have hit the basin," he said. "Twice the damages have approached $300,000. And because of rapid development in the area, the frequency of flooding and the extent of flood damages will grow greater if protective measures are not provided."

Average annual total of flood damage in the valley over the next half century is estimated at $400,000, said Reilly.

He emphasized that all flood control study and planning was done on the request of local people. Work on the project will begin in the spring, if maintenance is guaranteed by the county and cities, he said.

County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, champion of the flood control project, described difficulties in activating a project which depends on several city and county governing bodies.

"The mayors and councils of all cities involved have been very loyal to their local interests," said Kettenhofen.

"It would be a tremendous step forward for the county if we could make use of the federal funds available to us for this project. The county would lose greatly if the project were selfishly turned down by one city." said Larkspur Mayor Neil R. Brixon.

"Though the city of Larkspur does not stand to gain as much as other cities along the creek, we didn't want to have it on our conscience that the entire project was lost."

Future development at the College of Marin is threatened if the flood control project is rejected, asserted Dr. James W. Duke, director of planning and research for the college.

"To date, more than four million dollars has been expended or committed on the Kentfield campus toward accomplishment of our district plan of development. All of these funds have been expended with the same assumption in mind that adequate flood protection would be provided in the future," he said.

The program, conducted by Kitty Oppenheimer, will be rebroadcast from a recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

African-Asian Meeting Opens

ALGIERS (AP)—Delegations from more than 30 countries assembled in Algiers today for the opening of the African-Asian foreign ministers conference.

The conference will decide whether to go ahead with the African-Asian summit meeting scheduled Nov. 5, despite a boycott threat by Red China and its friends.

An expected majority for seating a Russian delegation was one of the reasons for the Chinese boycott threat.

Dr. Paul A. Steinman is president of the Marin County Society for Crippled Children and Adults and Peggy Russo is executive director.

Driver Injured After Car Rolls

Lorin Arthur Kleist, 38, complained of an injured right shoulder after his car rolled off China Camp Road and into San Pablo Bay at 9 p.m. Tuesday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Kleist said he had just left the China Camp store and was driving up the hill when his brakes failed.

Kleist, of 716 E Street, San Rafael, spent the night at China Camp and reported the accident yesterday. He was under observation at San Rafael General Hospital today.

For their efforts in Camp Fire activities, the girls receive awards in the form of honor bears which lead to the four ranks: trail seeker, wood gatherer, fire maker, and torch bearer.

When a girl reaches the age of 14 she is eligible to join the Horizon Club. The objectives for this group are designed to mold women from girls, and offer numerous opportunities for them to participate in community services and events. Horizon Club members visit local and state government facilities, volunteer as hospital aides, help in libraries, nursery schools or younger Camp Fire Girls groups. Here in Marin they also help in the Camp Fire Girl office performing various clerical duties.

Whatever a girl's interest might be, she can find group enjoyment and broadening of her knowledge and talents through Camp Fire Girls programs, supported by the United Bay Area Crusade, of which it is a member agency.

Superintendent Of Mails Named

Norris G. Martin has been promoted to the new position of superintendent of mails at the Belvedere-Tiburon Post Office, postmaster Theodore J. Lehmann has announced.

Martin, a native of Oregon, has been in the postal service on the Tiburon Peninsula since 1963 when he retired from the Army. He and his wife and three sons reside at 75 Harriet Way, Tiburon.

Flood Control Unit Called A Necessity

Urgent need for co-operation of all Ross Valley cities in the proposed Corte Madera Creek flood control project was emphasized by four speakers today on Radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board."

A dramatic history of flooding in the Corte Madera Creek basin was described by George P. Reilly, chief of the engineering dision of Army Engineers' district office in San Francisco.

"On six occasions in the past 23 years, flood damages in excess of $50,000 have hit the basin," he said. "Twice the damages have approached $300,000. And because of rapid development in the area, the frequency of flooding and the extent of flood damages will grow greater if protective measures are not provided."

Average annual total of flood damage in the valley over the next half century is estimated at $400,000, said Reilly.

He emphasized that all flood control study and planning was done on the request of local people. Work on the project will begin in the spring, if maintenance is guaranteed by the county and cities, he said.

County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, champion of the flood control project, described difficulties in activating a project which depends on several city and county governing bodies.

"The mayors and councils of all cities involved have been very loyal to their local interests," said Kettenhofen.

"It would be a tremendous step forward for the county if we could make use of the federal funds available to us for this project. The county would lose greatly if the project were selfishly turned down by one city," said Larkspur Mayor Neil R. Brixon.

"Though the city of Larkspur does not stand to gain as much as other cities along the creek, we didn't want to have it on our conscience that the entire project was lost."

Future development at the College of Marin is threatened if the flood control project is rejected, asserted Dr. James W. Duke, director of planning and research for the college.

"To date, more than four million dollars has been expended or committed on the Kentfield campus toward accomplishment of our district plan of development. All of these funds have been expended with the same assumption in mind that adequate flood protection would be provided in the future," he said.

The program, conducted by Kitty Oppenheimer, will be rebroadcast from a recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

African-Asian Meeting Opens

ALGIERS (AP)—Delegations from more than 30 countries assembled in Algiers today for the opening of the African-Asian foreign ministers conference.

The conference will decide whether to go ahead with the African-Asian summit meeting scheduled Nov. 5, despite a boycott threat by Red China and its friends.

An expected majority for seating a Russian delegation was one of the reasons for the Chinese boycott threat.

Dr. Paul A. Steinman is president of the Marin County Society for Crippled Children and Adults and Peggy Russo is executive director.

Driver Injured After Car Rolls

Lorın Arthur Kleist, 38, complained of an injured right shoulder after his car rolled off China Camp Road and into San Pablo Bay at 9 p.m. Tuesday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Kleist said he had just left the China Camp store and was driving up the hill when his brakes failed.

Kleist, of 716 E Street, San Rafael, spent the night at China Camp and reported the accident yesterday. He was under observation at San Rafael General Hospital today.

Rocket Gun Comes Under State Laws

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A new gun that fires tiny self-propelled rockets was placed under state firearm controls today by Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch.

Lynch said the gun, called the "gyro jet rocket," fires little missiles which resemble .45 caliber bullets and which burn solid rocket fuel propellant.

The weapon, Lynch said, is manufactured and sold by a Northern California firm and is basically a rocket launcher.

On the basis of court rulings, Lynch said, the gun falls under the state's firearm regulations. In a letter to its manufacturer, he said that the gun is classified as a concealable weapon and subject to California's registration laws.

Goldstein Still Critical

Publicist Peter L. Goldstein, 31, of 26 Carlson Court, San Anselmo, remained unconscious and in critical condition in the intensive care unit of Marin General Hospital today, where he has been since an auto accident on the Waldo Grade Oct. 19. (Goldstein had moved from 65 Alder Avenue, previously reported as his address.)

Growths In Children Found In A-Test Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is investigating the meaning of preliminary evidence of unexplained wart-like formations in thyroid glands of young people in two towns within 500 miles of the Nevada nuclear test site.

Main objective of the probe, commsisioned by the U.S. Public Health Service, is to determine whether there is any link between this preliminary evidence of thyroid abnormalities and the nuclear fallout from past tests in the atmosphere in the Nevada site.

A report issued yesterday by the agency said recent preliminary physical examinations of 2,000 youngsters in St. George, Utah—which holds the nation's record for exposure to radioactive fallout from Nevada atmospheric tests—had disclosed tentative evidence that 70 of them had thyroid nodules, or small lumps. The town is about 200 miles from the test site.

And there was similar evidence in 25 of 1,400 youngsters examined at Safford, Ariz., a community generally considered to be about average for the country from the standpoint of radiation exposure from the tests. Safford is several hundred miles farther away from the test area.

Surgeon Gen. William Stewart cautioned, in a statement accompanying the report, that it's not yet possible to assess the medical significance of the findings.

For example, he explained, such nodules of the thyroid—if proved to exist—could be associated with a number of thyroid conditions, ranging from non-toxic goiter to malignant or benign, non-cancerous tumors.

Also, he said, such nodules can arise from natural causes, and are distinguished from radiation of any type.

Harvester Need Down In Valley

FRESNO (AP) — Employment of hired farm workers in the dropped to an estimated 83,000 this week, compared with 88,000 last week.

W. N. Weaver, state farm labor field supervisor, says the decline is normal as crop harvests are completed.

Workers are needed in Madera, Tulare and Kings counties for olives and grapes. The shortage is not serious.

GOP Women Open Convention

FRESNO (AP) — The state convention of the California Federation of Republican Women opened today with 1,100 delegates from 360 clubs.

Mrs. Logan Goodnight of Long Beach, president, said "there have been a lot of changes in California politics, especially Republican politics, but I think the federation has remained a strong constructive force.

"At this particular time in statewide politics, both parties are having a great deal of difficulty resolving the differences within their parties, but internal bickering can't help anyone."

Educators Say Anti-Draft Factions A Tiny Minority

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Viet Nam protest movements on U.S. college campuses involve only a small hard core of dissenters, top officials of 85 colleges and universities told The Associated Press today.

Put into perspective, members of the protest organizations — anti- Viet Nam and antidraft — represent only a minute fraction of the total number of students on each campus.

In some cases the number is fewer than 25 among enrollments of 12,000 and more.

An Associated Pres poll of college officials from coast to coast showed a large number of schools having no organized dissent at all to U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

And the antidraft movement involves even fewer students.

"The rank and file of American college students are pretty conservative," said Dr. Hurst R. Anderson, president of American University in Washington, D.C.

"Some like to shock their conservative parents by going home and saying things like 'I've turned Socialist'," he said. "They are sincere about it, but maybe the sincerity is pretty thin."

Noting that 500 students among the 7,500 at Texas Western College at El Paso paraded in support of U.S. policy, the president, Dr. Joseph Ray, said: "We think our students show that good citizenship is not new to a college campus. Their responsible voices can be heard above the bawling of a few social dissents."

Marin County has been named as having one of the world's six best climates.

PRO-JOHNSON RALLY—Students at University of Pittsburgh wave posters belittling draft opponets and anti-Viet Nam policy factions that have demonstrated elsewhere across the nation. Educators at most colleges and universities say anti-administration factions are small percentage of total student bodies. (UPI Telephoto)

Educators Say Anti-Draft Factions A Tiny Minority

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Viet Nam protest movements on U.S. college campuses involve only a small hard core of dissenters, top officials of 85 colleges and universities told The Associated Press today.

Put into perspective, members of the protest organizations — anti- Viet Nam and antidraft — represent only a minute fraction of the total number of students on each campus.

In some cases the number is fewer than 25 among enrollments of 12,000 and more.

An Associated Pres poll of college officials from coast to coast showed a large number of schools having no organized dissent at all to U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

And the antidraft movement involves even fewer students.

"The rank and file of American college students are pretty conservative," said Dr. Hurst R. Anderson, president of American University in Washington, D.C.

"Some like to shock their conservative parents by going home and saying things like 'I've turned Socialist'," he said. "They are sincere about it, but maybe the sincerity is pretty thin."

Noting that 500 students among the 7,500 at Texas Western College at El Paso paraded in support of U.S. policy, the president, Dr. Joseph Ray, said: "We think our students show that good citizenship is not new to a college campus. Their responsible voices can be heard above the bawling of a few social dissents."

Marin County has been named as having one of the world's six best climates.

Rec, Parks Commissioner Supports Priority System

Lothar Salin of San Rafael, only member of the county parks and recreation commission who dissented from its vote asking immediate application for state funds for Stafford Lake Park, said today he regarded county supervisors' turndown of the proposal as a mandate to the commission.

"We've got to get down to work and develop priorities," he declared.

Salin, on the short end of a 5-1 vote when the commission recommended the application, had urged that applications be held up until a full priority list on park needs can be drawn up.

Commissioner Elizabeth Banning Davies resigned in anger after the board's action Tuesday. Acting director Walter Horchler asked that he be relieved of the temporary assignment. He will return to his job in the planning department at the end of next week.

Chairman Gibbs H. Lawson of the parks and recreation commission said today, he believes that the supervisors would have come to the same conclusion as the commission "if they had all the advantage of the study we had done. I always thought it was our job to sift the wheat from the chaff, but apparently that is not what is wanted."

Lawson said he would know Monday if his doctor will order him to resign from the commission. He has a serious heart condition.

Commissioner Melton Ferris said today that the commission must take greater pains in making the board aware of what work and study has been done. "This is our responsibility," Ferris said. He has concluded that supervisors did not have all the information needed Tuesday.

Commissioners Adele J. Alpers and Aline McClain could not be reached for comment. Commissioner Peter Gottheiner was absent from the commission meeting when the vote on Stafford Lake was taken.

Suspect In Ex-Marinite's Slaying Is Due In Court

Wilbur D. Lovill, 34, of Los Angeles was ordered yesterday to appear in Los Angeles Superior Court on Nov. 9 for setting of trial date in the alleged murder of former San Rafael resident Tim Riley, 19.

Riley, whose family moved to Alameda a year ago, was slain Oct. 17 while two police officers were nearby in response to a report of a neighborhood shooting. The officers said they found .22-caliber shells at an apartment house and were searching for a weapon when more shots rang out.

Next, they said, Riley staggered out of an apartment and collapsed in front of them. He died hours later.

Lovell, the apartment house manager, was charged with murder. He made no statement at yesterday's hearing.

Police said they found him standing in a hallway with a .30-caliber rifle after they saw Riley fall. The shooting apparently followed a landlord-tenant dispute.

Lawyers' Fees Request Denied

YUBA CITY (AP)—The Sutter County Board of Supervisors turned down a request yesterday to pay fees to lawyers retained by employees of the County Welfare Dept.

The department is currently being investigated by the grand jury. A group of welfare workers had asked the $500 retainer be paid by the county to protect their legal rights.

The grand jury study began last weekend and has continued in closed-door meetings. The jury is scheduled to meet again to decide whether to continue the investigation.

Critical Condition

Abigail Rowland, 75, of 5495 Redwood Highway, Novato, was still in critical condition today at Marin General Hospital where she was admitted Saturday after choking on a piece of meat at Marin Joe's Restaurant, Corte Madera.

Hospital Patient Hanged In Accident

PORTERVILLE (AP) — A Shafter boy—who was a patient at Porterville State Hospital — accidentally hanged himself. The Tulare County coroner's office reports Elvin Gifford, 16, climbed on top of a cabinet in a dayroom at the hospital Wednesday. In getting down, his nightgown hooked on a hinge and he fell. The gown tangled around his neck and he suffocated.

Children Get Ready For Halloween

Marin will virtually turn into a pumpkin this weekend in celebration of Halloween.

Children of varying sizes will roam the streets wearing scary masks and weird costumes and visiting neighbors in search of treats.

Halloween, the eve of All Hallows Day, officially falls on Sunday (Oct. 31), but residents should be ready for visits from the ghosts and goblins Saturday as well.

Aside from their costumes, you can recognize them by their slogan, "trick or treat."

The American custom of "trick or treat" possibly springs from Ireland, where peasants go from house to house on Halloween, collecting money, butter, breadcakes, cheese and eggs for a feast.

In Europe, Halloween is also known as Nutcrack Night and Snapapple Night.

Scotland is a great stronghold of Halloween legend. Scottish children were the first to carve jack o'lanterns, but they used large turnips instead of pumpkins.

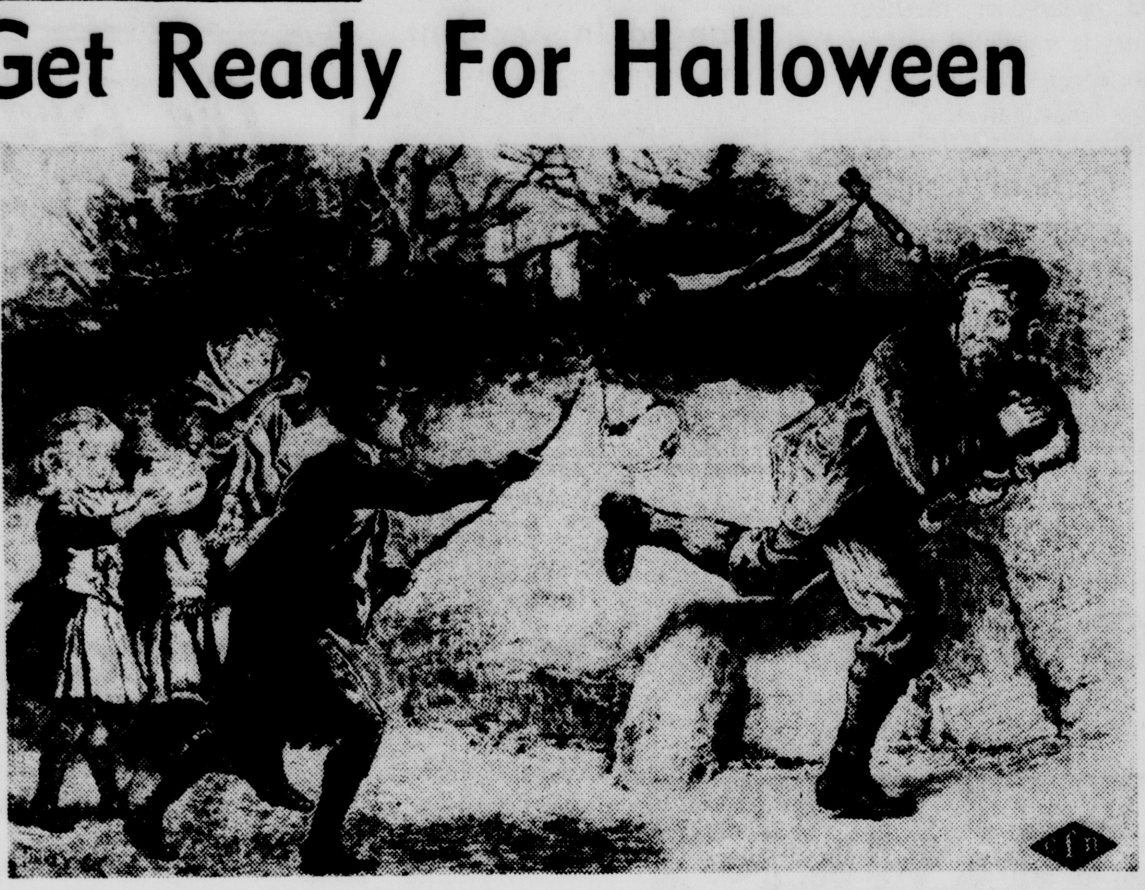
The Scots once believed that women who had sold their souls to the devil changed into witches on Halloween and flew up their chimneys on broomsticks attended by black cats.

The witches, black cats, ghosts and pumpkin jack o'lanterns which have become a part of the Halloween tradition in the United States will prevail in Marin, along with the more modern horror masks.

There also is a Halloween custom for adults: That of a special meal for Halloween, which originated in Ireland and Scotland.

The main dish of Colcannon, made up of mashed potatoes and turnips with chopped onions, is placed in a deep bowl, and hidden in it is a gold ring.

According to custom, the one who gets the portion containing the ring is certain to be married within a year. If he is already married, the ring simply means good luck.



TURNIP JACK O'LANTERNS—An ancient Halloween custom, the carrying of jack o'lanterns, started in Scotland, when children carved turnips to create lanterns and waved them, as shown, to the consternation of the bagpipe player.

Children's Dancing Classes In Novato

Dance classes under sponsorship of the Novato branch of the Pacific Dance Guild will start this week at the San Marin Recreation Center, according to Mrs. Harry Magill, president.

Mrs. Hannah Nunn of the Dick Ford dance studio of Mill Valley will be teacher. Classes will start at 2:15 p.m., Friday with a pre-school dance class. Kindergartens will go from 3 to 3:45 p.m., and first and second grades after 3:45 p.m.

Medicare Talk Set

Dr. Carl E. Anderson, chairman of the California Medical Assn. council, will speak on the effect of Medicare on the individual physician when the Marin County Medical Society meets next Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Meadow Club above Fairfax.

Too Much Rain, Too Little Water

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The city of Beirut, which depends on rainfall for its drinking water, ran dry last weekend — because it rained too hard.

Officials said pounding thunderstorms that hit Lebano Saturday night drove tons of mud and debris down a river toward the city pumping station, choking some of the pipes.

Mill Valley Planners Back Dias Ranch Cluster Idea

Mill Valley planning commissioners concluded at a Tuesday night meeting the proposed Dias Ranch community development on Throckmorton Ridge is "imaginative and desirable" in concept.

Commissioners recommended to the county planning commission that the county staff review the 1955 community master plan relative to densities, and sanitary facilities, since more requests for such large developments may be upcoming.

The commission also recommended that a school site be considered in the area, that pedestrian and riding trails be kept open to the public, and that narrow roads to serve the area's interior be considered. It suggested that open areas have proper legal protection to insure preservation.

The commission recommended to city council that the concept of a roadway system presented by William S. Allen for a planned unit development in Blithedale Canyon be approved. Ingress and egress one-way roads would meet in a "Y" in the proposed park area and become a two-way road system serving the 10 lower lots.

Mrs. Paul Beerlings of 36 Marguerite Avenue presented a petition bearing 56 signatures asking that the proposed road from West Blithedale Avenue not be approved but that access be from Manzanita Place.

Air Force Film Set

An Air Force film entitled "Crossover," will be shown to the San Rafael Rotary Club at 12:15 p.m. Monday at Dominie's Harbor Restaurant. The film is about the Air Force flying team, the Thunderbirds, who are scheduled to appear in Marin skies on Veterans Day, Nov. 11.

Tennis Clubs Can't Tie Up The Courts

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission ruled last night that one tennis court at Albert Park should be left open for the public when tennis clubs are using the courts.

The ruling came after Joseph D. Rodota, director of parks and recreation, reported he had received some complaints about the courts "being tied up by organized groups."

Commissioners agreed that both organized groups and individual players are entitled to use the facilities, but that all four courts shouldn't be alloted to the groups.

Rodota said the organized groups will use the courts from 9 a.m. to noon, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, during the winter.

There are no reservations for groups during the summer when the recreation program is under way, he said.

"I'd never vote to tie up all the courts," said Commissioner Charles L. Tacchi.

A small contingent of women tennis players representing the Marin Women's Tennis Club and Marinwood Tennis Club contended they would relinquish the courts to individuals under the public tennis court rules.

This would mean the individuals would have to wait a set or two. Commissioners would not agree to this arrangement.

Commissioners viewed a preliminary plan for a five-acre neighborhood park at the end of De LeGuerra Road, which included a tennis court, intermediate, tot and multi-purpose play areas, a picnic area along a creek, a turf area and hiking trails.

After viewing the plan they decided to have a special meeting on it at 8 p.m. Nov. 17 at Santa Margarita School, so residents can comment on the proposed layout.

The San Rafael Parks, Rec Commission Also:

1. At the request of Mayor C. Paul Bettini, changed the commission's regular meeting date from the last Wednesday of each month to the first Wednesday, starting Dec. 1, to avoid conflict with the meeting date of the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen. The conflict prevents councilmen from attending commission sessions.
2. Requested Rodota to arrange a joint meeting with the city council sometime before the end of the year to discuss possible new methods of financing acquisition of park land.
3. Received a report from Rodota that vandalism at parks and playgrounds has been reduced since his report of Sept. 30 that it was increasing.
4. Agreed to study priorities for development with a view toward determining when the commission could push for boat launching facilities or an acquatic park.

Mother Leaves, Baby Drowns

BAKERSFIELD (AP)—A four-month-old baby boy, Jack Kuntz, drowned yesterday in the family bathtub of his home near Bakersfield.

Officials said the boy's mother, Sharon Kuntz, left the baby in the bathtub briefly and when she returned, he was unconscious.

Firemen worked over the baby for 45 minutes, but failed to revive him.

Brazil Is Calm After Leader Grabs Power

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Brazil was reported calm today and most political leaders were silent after President Humberto Castello Branco dealt himself dictatorial powers.

Some 200 students demonstrated briefly in Rio de Janeiro, but no other unrest was reported after Castello Branco issued the sweeping new law yesterday.

The decree overriding parts of the constitution came after an all-night debate in which Congress balked at approving the administration's proposed constitutional amendment increasing the scope of federal intervention in Brazil's 22 states.

The decree included these provisions:

The abolition of all existing political parties;

Presidential power to declare a state of siege for up to 180 days;

Federal power to intervene in the states;

Presidential power to oust federal and local legislators and authority to suspend political rights of any citizen for 10 years.

New Quarters Recommended For San Rafael Recreation

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission last night recommended temporary quarters for the city recreation center which is about to be ousted from its present location for a new supermarket.

Commissioners recommended that the former Pacific Gas and Electric Co. office building at Second and Brooks Streets be used as a temporary center. Its recommendation will be presented at the city council meeting Monday.

The present center at the American Legion Hall, 37 Union Street, must be vacated by Nov. 19. Arden-Mayfair Inc. of Los Angeles has purchased the property for a supermarket.

The firm has offered to give the building to the city at no cost if the city will pay the cost of moving it. However, cost of moving the structure to city-owned property at Fourth and Union Streets has been estimated at $45,000.

Rodota said that even if the building were moved, the recreation programs conducted at the center, including the senior citizen program, would be disrupted for several months.

The former PG&E building has 15,000 square feet of floor space including meeting rooms, office space, a large hall and rest rooms, he said. "It only needs a kitchen," said Rodota.

Rodota said he believed the building is owned by "a group of doctors." The possibility of renting the building on a month-to-month basis appears promising, he said.

Rodota suggested that commissioners in their long-range planning consider construction of a recreation center at Albert Field to serve the "general San Rafael area."

An additional building of the same size eventually will be needed in the Terra Linda area, possibly at the proposed Freitas Park to serve the Terra Linda-Lucas Valley portions of the city, he said.

Lights Out Savings May Cut Tax Bill

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Nelson Perry says he plans to save $365 a month by turning off half of his hallway lights—468 of them.

Perry is federal buildings manager here. The lights line the corridors of the U.S. Courthouse.

New Quarters Recommended For San Rafael Recreation

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission last night recommended temporary quarters for the city recreation center which is about to be ousted from its present location for a new supermarket.

Commissioners recommended that the former Pacific Gas and Electric Co. office building at Second and Brooks Streets be used as a temporary center. Its recommendation will be presented at the city council meeting Monday.

The present center at the American Legion Hall, 37 Union Street, must be vacated by Nov. 19. Arden-Mayfair Inc. of Los Angeles has purchased the property for a supermarket.

The firm has offered to give the building to the city at no cost if the city will pay the cost of moving it. However, cost of moving the structure to city-owned property at Fourth and Union Streets has been estimated at $45,000.

Rodota said that even if the building were moved, the recreation programs conducted at the center, including the senior citizen program, would be disrupted for several months.

The former PG&E building has 15,000 square feet of floor space including meeting rooms, office space, a large hall and rest rooms, he said. "It only needs a kitchen," said Rodota.

Rodota said he believed the building is owned by "a group of doctors." The possibility of renting the building on a month-to-month basis appears promising, he said.

Rodota suggested that commissioners in their long-range planning consider construction of a recreation center at Albert Field to serve the "general San Rafael area."

An additional building of the same size eventually will be needed in the Terra Linda area, possibly at the proposed Freitas Park to serve the Terra Linda-Lucas Valley portions of the city, he said.

Lights Out Savings May Cut Tax Bill

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Nelson Perry says he plans to save $365 a month by turning off half of his hallway lights—468 of them.

Perry is federal buildings manager here. The lights line the corridors of the U.S. Courthouse.

SOME OF the art objects the Leonard Downings of Mill Valley brought home after living in East Pakistan five years are displayed by Ruth Downing. Seated on a Persian rug, she is wearing a hand loomed and hand made native costume from Swat and holds the sword which Queen Victoria presented to the Maharajah of Burdwan. Tiger Hunts And Safari Shared By Mill Valleyans In Dacca

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Some of the kind of exciting events one usually reads about only in books by professional travelers, in the National Geographic or stories of movie stars like Shirley MacLaine actually happened to the Leonard Downings.

They and their children, David, 12, and Patsy, 10, recently returned to Mill Valley after living in Dacca, East Pakistan, since September, 1960.

These experiences included tiger hunts for Leonard—a safari in the Himalayas for the whole family, highlighted by staying at a Maharajah's elephant training camp — and for Ruth, being the only Western woman on the Moslem campus of Dacca University, where she was studying for a master's degree in Islamic History and Culture.

SHE WAS ALSO an assistant administrator for the Peace Corps, whose first office in East Pakistan during its inception was in her home.

The family went to East Pakistan when Mr. Downing was sent there by the International Engineering Co. of San Francisco to work as a consulting engineer on the master plan for the East Pakistan Water and Power Development Authority.

STILL IN the midst of unpacking household items and art objects, Ruth Downing relaxed briefly over a cup of Darjeeling tea to tell some of her experiences in this part of the world where violence has erupted between East Pakistan and India over Kashmir.

"This is really not a new problem," she maintained. "Border fights have been going on constantly for years so that one gets used to them.

"We happen to be very sympathetic toward Pakistan because we feel Kashmir should be able to decide which country it wants to join. At the time of the partition, each of the princely states was given the opportunity to join either Pakistan or India, but Kashmir has never had this opportunity.

"THE MOST rewarding part of our five-year stay was becoming an integral part of another culture," she said. "Leonard became quite proficient in speaking Bengali, and the children and I learned enough to get along. Patsy attended a British school and David went to a Dacca American school. They had no difficulty this fall in going on into their respective fifth and sixth grades at Alto School.

"East Pakistan has an area about the size of Oregon with a population of 1,000 each square mile; yet we walked nearly everywhere on our trips because there are practically no roads. We must have walked hundreds of miles on all of our trips.

"Some of these trips were very exciting.

"LEONARD ENJOYED hunting the Royal Bengal tiger on three safaris, two of them into the very dense marshy jungle on the Bay of Bengal, "The Saunderbans." The jungle is so dense there that there are not many people, only temporary camps made by the wood cutters.

"We went with him on the safari into the north of India into Assam on the border between Bhutan and India in the foothills of the Himalayas.

"A mile from our forest bungalow the Maharajah of Gauripur (Assam, India) had his elephant training camp where he had 28 captured elephants and was training them.

"We were able to watch all the steps in this fascinating work and even went with the Maharajah into Bhutan on an elephant keddah or roundup.

"In the area in which the Maharajah hunted were natural salt licks, where the wild animals came, so that we were able to see many of them. In the evening the 14 hunters (mahouts) sat on tree platforms (machans) to wait for a herd of elephants. When this happened, they would drive them into a previously constructed stockade.

"THE CHILDREN and I spent three days and nights in this remote camp enjoying nature walks conducted by the Maharajah. When the men had any leisure time, they made bamboo baskets and mats for sale. They made all of our eating utensils of bamboo.

"Another very interesting experience for me," she went on," was a walking trek into the Chittagong Hill tract, oddly enough, a place I had always wanted to visit. We spent six days going from village to village in this beautiful primitive area, eating and sleeping in the bamboo homes on stilts of these people who have a very primitive culture that hasn't changed in 1,000 years.

"I was the first Western woman in this area. We were able to go everywhere because the chief or Rajah of Banderban, the capital of the area, was a friend—a highly educated and cultured man.

"At one village dancing girls and a band were brought out. The band consisted of about 40 musicians, each with a different-sized instrument made from bamboo poles and gourds. The result was simply beautiful and sounded like a pipe organ. They

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD Edward Chapman of Ignacio welcomed a new son on Tuesday at Novato General Hospital. The little boy will be named John Edward Chapman. He has a five year old sister, Sherrie, and is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Chapman, of San Rafael and the great-grandson of Edward Chapman of San Francisco and the late Mrs. Chapman.

THREE BELVEDERE BOYS, Bill Anixter, Gurdon Leete, and Ted Herrman, supplied the entertainment at a dinner for the Orthopedically Handicapped children of Marindale School last Saturday at the Terra Linda High School. Billed as "The Aces" Bill and Gurdon are partners in a magic act and Ted a puppetteer. Over 100 attended the dinner party which was the first social event in two years for the school.

ADMIRING ARRANGEMENT

By DAVID NYDICK
(UPI) Education Specialist

Children with unusually high academic ability often need special attention in order to fully develop their talents. Although much recent attention has been directed toward the disadvantaged students, it is always important to provide proper programs for children with all levels of ability and background.

Gifted children may present some difficult problems. Since they learn very quickly and are extremely curious, they might become bored or restless. At home, they may be spoiled and hard to understand. In school, teachers may find that they are becoming careless and developing undesirable behavior.

SCHOOLS HAVE developed a variety of programs for these children. The approach ranges from advancing the child's grade level skipping to arranging special classes either full or part time. Sometimes schools attempt to work with such students in the regular classroom and to challenge them with extra assignments. Regardless of the school's approach, parents should be prepared to supply a home environment which is interesting and encouraging. Careful attention should be given to the child's social development.

It is natural for you, as parents, to take pride in your child's ability and achievements.

Hot Dogs Safest Meat For Picnics

Taking fried chicken and potato salad on a picnic may be an old American tradition but the California Medical Assn. recommends hot dogs instead.

The CMA warns that food poisoning germs of the staphylococcic type may be present in such starchy goodies as cream pies and custards. Eggs, poultry and potato salads, not properly refrigerated, may be infested with salmonella, another germ associated with food poisoning.

The health authorities are quick to point out that the equally traditional hot dog is the safest meat for picnics. Its casing tends to "discourage" bacteria.

played very sophisticated rhythms, and the girls danced to this music. This was one of the most enjoyable and lovely recitals I have ever witnessed."

She continued, "Another trip the whole family took was into a Bengal village of 6,000, the home of a man who was a servant in our home. We were treated like royalty everywhere. The mayor came out to greet us, a holiday was declared for everyone, and there was a council meeting in our honor. It was the queen bit for me," she laughed.

RUTH DOWNING went on to describe some of her experiences as the only Western woman on the Moslem campus of Dacca University.

She holds an AB degree in liberal arts from the University of Washington but had always been interested in archaeology, as her husband was too.

She attended the University for eight months, working toward a master's degree in Islamic History and Culture but did not complete it because she became so involved in the Peace Corps. No one else completed work that year either, she said, because students were striking so much.

"I was the only Western woman on the campus," she said, "which has very few women anyway because so many of them are in Purdah (veiled) and secluded. It is possible for them to enroll at the University, however, and take degrees through a tutorial system and examinations. The few women who are on the campus take no part in campus activities and there are no boy-girl relationships."

Ruth found her association with the Peace Corps very satisfying.

"We became involved with the Peace Corps in its formative period in East Pakistan," she said. "We started out on a volunteer basis and after a short time I found myself on the administrative staff organizing the office and helping volunteers settle into their jobs. The first office was in our home.

"IT WAS a marvelous experience. It was wonderful to see the first group of volunteers—29 of them—eager and so willing to do a job. This group was trained by the Experiment in International Living in Putney, Vermont, and it also administered the project in East Pakistan.

"We arranged for each volunteer to spend his first three weeks in a Pakistani home. What a wonderful introduction it was to the culture and an opportunity for the volunteer to make friends.

"WE FELT that the volunteers and the staff did a remarkable job, and most of our Bengali friends felt the Corps was most effective and helpful to their country. We made many good friends in the village and on higher government levels by our Peace Corps activities."

Gifted Children Need Special Help

By DAVID NYDICK
(UPI) Education Specialist

Children with unusually high academic ability often need special attention in order to fully develop their talents. Although much recent attention has been directed toward the disadvantaged students, it is always important to provide proper programs for children with all levels of ability and background.

Gifted children may present some difficult problems. Since they learn very quickly and are extremely curious, they might become bored or restless. At home, they may be spoiled and hard to understand. In school, teachers may find that they are becoming careless and developing undesirable behavior.

SCHOOLS HAVE developed a variety of programs for these children. The approach ranges from advancing the child's grade level skipping to arranging special classes either full or part time. Sometimes schools attempt to work with such students in the regular classroom and to challenge them with extra assignments. Regardless of the school's approach, parents should be prepared to supply a home environment which is interesting and encouraging. Careful attention should be given to the child's social development.

It is natural for you, as parents, to take pride in your child's ability and achievements.

'Holey Furs' A Fun Idea

Holey furs is designer Jacques Kaplan's idea of fun, fun, fun at a price that may not seem as laughable to husbands paying for them.

Holes the size of port holes turn mink and persian lamb coats and dresses into something that looks like the victim of cannon target practice.

The holes can be filled up with something else. "You can fill the holes with marabou or ostrich and be part bird, part beast," Kaplan says.

A nude body stocking may be worn under them for shock effect, or the see-throughs may be plugged up with other furs, creating a three-dimensional effect.

Survey Reports Laundry Troubles

Can nearly two thousand women be wrong?

No, according to a recently concluded survey sponsored by United States Steel. In hour-long talks with 2,000 homemakers, 95 per cent said they were satisfied with their present washers and dryers, and 53 per cent rated them superior or above average. Sixty per cent, however, confessed they worry about overloading and said they would welcome a device to eliminate guesswork.

The survey, conducted by Market Facts, Inc., sought homemakers' ideas to improve laundry appliances. It produced these suggestions:

An appliance that will both wash and dry clean;

Anything that will reduce ironing, the single most hated chore among homemakers interviewed;

Remote controls in kitchen for appliances located in basement; Built-in unit to store washday aids;

Automatic timer to start washer or dryer at pre-set time.

The ladies, 90 per cent of whom characterized laundering as a breeze, indicated a willingness to pay more for washers and dryers that would last longer, get clothes cleaner. Increased reliability and improved functional design emerged as the features they sought most in laundry appliances.

This year the main attraction will be a spaghetti dinner served at 5 p.m. There will also be pony rides, popcorn, kiddie karnival, balloons and cotton candy.

In charge of the "spooky" affair this year is Mrs. Lee Avilla, ways and means chairman for the Parent-Teacher Assn., assisted by Mrs. Robert Brady.

Mrs. Emery Curtice will run the make-up booth and Mrs. Gene Kelly will be a clown.

Room mothers in charge of the various booths are Mesdames Gary Clay, Edward Ghiorzoe, Michael Michaelson, Glen Tovani, R. F. Stokes, Dale Podshadley, J. E. Frederick, Albert Fong, Robert Ross, Richard Jayne, Keith Nelson, B. E. Trice, O. F. Spurger, C. B. Breaux, C. L. McNulty, C. J. Pope, William Gervang, J. A. Ramirez and L. R. Howard.

'Holey Furs' A Fun Idea

Holey furs is designer Jacques Kaplan's idea of fun, fun, fun at a price that may not seem as laughable to husbands paying for them.

Holes the size of port holes turn mink and persian lamb coats and dresses into something that looks like the victim of cannon target practice.

The holes can be filled up with something else. "You can fill the holes with marabou or ostrich and be part bird, part beast," Kaplan says.

A nude body stocking may be worn under them for shock effect, or the see-throughs may be plugged up with other furs, creating a three-dimensional effect.

Survey Reports Laundry Troubles

Can nearly two thousand women be wrong?

No, according to a recently concluded survey sponsored by United States Steel. In hour-long talks with 2,000 homemakers, 95 per cent said they were satisfied with their present washers and dryers, and 53 per cent rated them superior or above average. Sixty per cent, however, confessed they worry about overloading and said they would welcome a device to eliminate guesswork.

The survey, conducted by Market Facts, Inc., sought homemakers' ideas to improve laundry appliances. It produced these suggestions:

An appliance that will both wash and dry clean;

Anything that will reduce ironing, the single most hated chore among homemakers interviewed;

Remote controls in kitchen for appliances located in basement;

Built-in unit to store washday aids;

Automatic timer to start washer or dryer at pre-set time.

The ladies, 90 per cent of whom characterized laundering as a breeze, indicated a willingness to pay more for washers and dryers that would last longer, get clothes cleaner. Increased reliability and improved functional design emerged as the features they sought most in laundry appliances.

Coin Auto Wash Permit Faces Hub Scrutiny

The San Anselmo Planning Commission, meeting Monday at 8 p.m. in the council chambers, will review the use permit of Western Associates to operate a coin-operated car wash at 508 Red Hill Avenue near the Hub intersection.

The car wash now operates 24 hours a day and the city has received complaints from the owners and tenants of an apartment building at 600 Red Hill Avenue about noise late at night.

During the Oct. 11 meeting of the San Anselmo City Council, Mayor Woodrow V. Capurro and Councilman Arthur W. Smith both said they have been disturbed by the noise.

Use permit for the car wash expires in January.

Gnoss Presses Ahead On Airport At Novato

Marin County Supervisor William A. Gnoss said today he will continue to press for expansion of the county airport at Novato despite plans revealed Tuesday for a private airport on the Burdell Ranch on the Marin-Sonoma line.

Gnoss said he wants assurance there will be a good airport for the county. The private proposal should be investigated further, he declared.

"It could have a bearing on the future expansion of the present airport," he said. But he thinks the private proposal is in too preliminary a stage to draw any conclusions now.

Application for federal money to expand the present airport is currently held up by a lease that gives Harry O. Tollefson exclusive right to facilities there. The county is trying to terminate the lease.

Children made the White House Christmas of 1835 unforgettable. Six young relatives of Andrew Jackson were told by the President that Santa Claus never had visited him when he was a boy. The children insisted that he hang up his stocking on Christmas Eve. The next morning, Jackson's secretary found him in tears over the corncob pipe, tobacco and trinkets the youngsters had stuffed into his stocking.

Thunderbird Air Force Team To Stage Display

The Air Force's famous Thunderbirds will perform at an air show on Nov. 10 to commemorate Veterans Day at Hamilton Air Force Base.

The base will be opened to the public at noon on Nov. 11 for stationary aircraft displays. The Thunderbirds are scheduled to start their performance at 1:30 p.m.

During their 12-year history, the Thunderbirds have performed before more than 60 million people in 45 counties. The team was scheduled to perform at Hamilton two years ago, but the show was canceled when one of the planes crashed on the Hamilton runway.

CRIME REPORT

Burglar's Chance Of Escape Is Better

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON
(Fourth in a Series)

There's little chance of getting away with murder in California, but the burglar or thief has about four chances out of five to escape undetected.

His chances may be even better in Marin.

Statewide, only 27.6 per cent of the actual felony crimes reported were cleared last year, according to a table in the State Bureau of Criminal Statistics' "Crime in California."

However, 83.9 per cent of wilful homicide cases were cleared. At the other end of the scale were grand theft, with only 20.3 per cent cleared; burglary, with only 22.5 per cent, and auto theft, with only 26.6 per cent.

"In most instances," commented the report, "there is no problem in identifying individuals involved in wilful homicide, aggravated assault, or forcible rape because the identity of the offender is usually known. These crimes, therefore, have much higher (clearance) rates than such offenses as burglary and theft where perpetrators are seldom seen."

Statewide, the number of arrests on felony charges last year was 28.4 per cent of the number of felony complaints. (The difference between this and the 27.6 per cent cleared by the arrests arises from acquittals in court, and release after arrest for lack of evidence or other reason.)

In Marin County, however, the number of felony arrests was only 18 per cent of the total of felony crimes reported —350 compared to 1,940.

The chance of the criminal's going undetected apparently improved last year over the year before, as Marin had a 32.5 per cent increase in felony reports but only an 8.6 per cent increase in adult felony arrests.

Of 350 such arrests in the county (314 men and 36 women), the sheriff's office made 103. San Rafael police made 96; Sausalito police, 34; Novato, 32; Mill Valley and San Anselmo, 21 each; Fairfax, 16; Corte Madera and Larkspur, 10 each; Belvedere, seven. Ross police made no felony arrest during the year.

Of the 103 arrested by the sheriff's office, only two were released without any sort of complaint being filed, and felony complaints were filed against 79. Novato police, however, released six of the 32 arrested, and Belvedere police freed three of the seven arrested. San Rafael police released five of 96; Fairfax and Mill Valley each released one.

Of the 155 actually charged with felonies in the county, 86 per cent were convicted. This compared with a statewide conviction rate of 85.4 per cent.

Juries acquitted nine defendants; judges acquitted two in trials without juries. Twelve cases were dismissed by motion of the district attorney after being certified for trial. Of the 141 convicted, 123 pleaded guilty and 18 were found guilty by juries.

Of those convicted, 43.3 per cent got probation (somewhat under the statewide figure of 50.8 per cent); 27.7 per cent were certified to the State Department of Corrections for fixing of sentences by the Adult Authority; 22.7 per cent were given jail sentences (in most cases, on guilty pleas to charges reduced from felonies to misdemeanors). In this last category, Marin's percentage was well above the statewide percentage of 15.8.

A census of county jails was taken by the state on Sept. 24, 1964. It found 52 prisoners in the Marin County Jail that day.

Of these, 34 had been sentenced and were serving out their time, while 18 were awaiting trial or sentencing.

Some of those 18 may have had a long wait. Another statistical table in "Crime in California" shows that the median time elapsing between first plea and final plea or trial in Marin courts last year was 57 days—or 12 days more than the statewide median. Some had to wait as long as 155 days.

The minimum elapsed time in disposition of felony cases in Marin is shown as about 19 days, which is about the same as the average time in neighboring Sonoma County. The maximum of 155 days was exceeded only by San Mateo County, where the maximum ran to 175 days although the median was a little shorter than in Marin.

Educators Blamed For Unrest At Cal

FRESNO (AP) — Chancellor Roger Heyns of the University of California's Berkeley campus says some student unrest is due in part to failings of educators.

"The unrest I have encountered is directly traceable to their dissatisfaction with the education being offered," he told 600 delegates at yesterday's session of the fall conference of the California Junior College Assn.

House Speaker Jesse Unruh has said the legislature may probe the campus partly because it is used as a staging area for anti-Viet Nam War and civil disobedience demonstrations.

Unruh says the university administration must find a way to halt use of the campus as a gathering point for these marches and demonstrations.

Heyns said he agreed with Unruh that the emphasis be placed on university administration action. He predicted the legislature would move in if the university failed to find a solution.

Medicare Delayed By Counties Lobby

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A temporary snag in the Brown administration medicare bill slowed the legislature's adjournment drive today.

Lawmakers, in special session since Sept. 20, said they wanted to go home. But the intricacies of reaching agreement on the medical aid plan threatened to extend the session to tomorrow, Saturday or maybe even later.

The powerful County Supervisors Assn. demanded revisions to give more money to the counties in the broad program of providing free medical care to some 1.1 million Californians.

The Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee took the suggestions under submission.

After Governmental Efficiency, the bill faces a hearing in the Finance Committee and a vote on the Senate floor before it goes to Gov. Brown's desk. The Assembly already has passed it.

To administration pleas for haste in enacting the bill, Sen. J. Eugene McAteer, D - San Francisco, replied yesterday "I don't see there's that urgency."

He said "maybe we'd be better off to lose" the some $6 million in federal medicare funds allocated to California "than do it under the gun'."

At issue is a section of the new medicare law providing help to impoverished people and those on welfare. It does not affect the more well - known section of the act providing health care to people over 65 under social security.

The county supervisors pressed for an amendment that will permit them to keep an increasing amount of federal health funds in the future.

Now, they have to return to the state 90 per cent of the federal medicare funds they receive. Under the amendment, they could eventually keep 75 per cent.

The committee adopted several amendments, all with the approval of the bill's author, Assemblyman Jack T. Casey, D-Bakersfield.

One reduced state contributions to the plan if the federal funds ever are reduced.

Another pledged broadening of the program next year will come only "if necessary" — a concession to Republicans. Previously, the bill flatly promised to expand the plan in 1966.

If the bill becomes law, some 900,000 welfare recipients and 200,000 other poor people would become eligible for a broad range of free medical care, starting next April.

Worker Continues In Poor Condition

Walker, of 3 Boulevard Terrace, Novato, was helping put shingles on a roof at 36 Greenside Way when he and John J. Boque fell 24 feet. Boque, of Santa Rosa, was less seriously hurt.

Grand Jury To Study Vets' Building Funds

Marin County Grand Jury yesterday agreed to investigate several complaints by war veterans that money from a special tax levy is not being directed toward its proper goal—a veterans' memorial building at the Civic Center.

George R. Scott, jury foreman, said County Administrator Alan Bruce will be asked to appear before his panel at its regular Nov. 10 meeting to explain the status of the funds and plans.

The investigation would include a proposal that the memorial building would be combined with a Civic Center auditorium, rather than as an originally planned separate building.

Scott also said the jury's welfare and hospitals committee reported a dissatisfaction with the recent safety approval by the state fire marshal of Larkspur Convalescent Hospital, 234 Hawthorne Avenue.

He said the committee feels the old wooden building is still unsafe, despite having complied with changes ordered by the fire marshal. Scott said he will ask the marshal to discuss the matter.

A planned questioning session by the panel of members or former members of Gallinas Village Community Service District board over charges of board irregularities was continued yesterday until the Nov. 10 session.

Scott said at that time all five current directors will be requested or subpoenaed to appear. He said the delay was because yesterday's meeting was inconvenient for at least one board member, and he wanted to make certain the jury wished to investigate the matter as an entire body.

Teacher Injured In Two-Car Bridge Crash

A teacher at Our Lady of Mount Carmel School, Mill Valley, and a passenger in her car were injured in a two-car crash at the north end of the Golden Gate Bridge at 8 a.m. yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Mrs. Catherine A. Curran, 29, of San Francisco, was driving to work when her car skidded on wet pavement 200 feet south of the end of the bridge and crossed into the southbound lane, hitting a car driven by Motter L. Fuller, 24, of 767 Diablo Avenue, Novato, the patrol said.

Mrs. Curran and her passenger, Barbara Nearly of San Francisco, suffered bruises and were to see their own physicians. Fuller was unhurt.

Smog Brings Asthma In New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—More than 100 persons were treated for asthma attacks in the past 24 hours, Charity Hospital said today.

The heaviest flow of patients came during the late evening when a smoggy haze hung over the city.

Painting Wins Prize

Mrs. Lenore Mitchell of Stetson Avenue, Kentfield, received third prize for her oil painting, "Marin Ranch near Nicasio," in last weekend's Arts and Flower Festival in San Francisco.

Educators Blamed For Unrest At Cal

FRESNO (AP) — Chancellor Roger Heyns of the University of California's Berkeley campus says some student unrest is due in part to failings of educators.

"The unrest I have encountered is directly traceable to their dissatisfaction with the education being offered," he told 600 delegates at yesterday's session of the fall conference of the California Junior College Assn.

House Speaker Jesse Unruh has said the legislature may probe the campus partly because it is used as a staging area for anti-Viet Nam War and civil disobedience demonstrations.

Unruh says the university administration must find a way to halt use of the campus as a gathering point for these marches and demonstrations.

Heyns said he agreed with Unruh that the emphasis be placed on university administration action. He predicted the legislature would move in if the university failed to find a solution.

Whitman Shrine

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) —The State Conservation Department has named the Whitman-Stafford farmhouse at Laurel Springs a shrine to the poet Walt Whitman. The house was built in 1790 and was the temporary home of Whitman 80 years later when he was recovering from a severe illness.

Councilmen, Mayors Vote Deck Delay

The Marin County Council of Mayors and Councilmen last night voted 5-to-2 to ask Golden Gate Bridge District directors to delay action on a second deck for the bridge.

The cities of Belvedere, Corte Madera, Fairfax, Mill Valley and Tiburon voted to send the letter to the bridge directors. San Anselmo and Larkspur voted no.

San Rafael passed its vote. Two Novato councilmen present differed, so Novato also passed. Ross and Sausalito had no councilmen at the meeting.

Mill Valley Mayor Michael Wornum suggested the letter, which urges the directors not to proceed with the second deck plan until completion of an $850,000 study by the Division of Bay Toll Crossings on all proposals to relieve trans-bay traffic.

In the letter, sent to bridge directors today, the mayors and councilmen also urged that emphasis be placed on restudy of the Bridge's ability to carry rapid transit vehicles.

The bridge directors meet tomorrow to vote on the second deck.

County Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, a vocal opponent of the second deck, attended last night's meeting and urged that the letter be sent.

Also at last night's meeting, a revision of the council's by-laws was introduced to clarify the fact that each city has only one vote in the organization.

Flying Priests Back Grape Picker Strike

DELANO (UPI)—Two Catholic priests took to the air yesterday to plead with grape pickers to join a seven-week strike for higher wages and improved working conditions.

"Join the strike," the priests told the workers over a loudspeaker on their light plane. "Respect the picket lines. Don't be a strikebreaker."

Father Keith Kenny of Our Lady of Guadelupe Church in Sacramento and Father Arnold Meagher of the Holy Rosary Church in Woodland flew over the strike area twice. One flight lasted about 90 minutes and the second, near the end of the picking day, lasted only 15 minutes.

With Father Kenny piloting his plane, the priests, accompanied by Ceasar Chavez, head of the striking National Farm Workers Assn., flew over 15 or 20 of the ranches in northern Kern County and southern Tulare County.

They said some of ths grape pickers waved at them as they talked over the loudspeaker but they were unable to tell if any workers left the fields because of the flight.

A Kern County deputy sheriff met the priests when they returned from their first flight. He took their names and questioned them about the flight but took no other action.

Clausen Raps LBJ Stand On Rivers Funds

HEALDSBURG (AP) — Rep. Don Clausen, R., Crescent City, charged today that President Johnson has dealt "the second blow this year to flood recovery efforts in Northern California."

Clausen told a luncheon audience that an intent expressed yesterday by Johnson while signing the rivers and harbors act blocks plans for the $4 million lower Klamath River flood control project, including relocation of the destroyed town of Klamath.

Clausen noted that Johnson openly regarded one section as unconstitutionally restricting the President's powers. This section would permit projects costing less than $10 million to be authorized immediately by a single resolution of the House and Senate public works committees. Previously, these had to be authorized by Congress and held for inclusion in an omnibus public works bill.

Clausen quoted Johnson as saying during the signing that the President will direct the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to ignore the provision and that Johnson would seek its repeal next year.

"I would question the propriety and legality of the President ordering a department of the government to ignore a provision of law," Clausen said.

"It had been my intention to seek authorization of the Klamath River project under this provision."

Clausen said Johnson previously dealt a blow to Northern California flood recovery efforts by vetoing a Pacific Northwest flood relief act as containing language restricting the executive branch.

Soldier Pushes For Transfer To Viet Nam

WORMS, Germany (AP) — U.S. Army Pvt. Robert J. Palmeri today ended a two-day hunger strike aimed at speeding his transfer to Viet Nam.

Palmeri, 22, of Queens, N.Y., ended his fast because he felt it might affect his performance of duty.

"And this was the last thing I wanted to happen," the Army draftee told 7th Army authorities in Heidelberg.

Palmeri put in an official request for transfer to Viet Nam shortly after arriving here a month ago. He is assigned to the 34th Transportation Battalion as a truck driver.

Feeling that the Army paperwork moves too slowly to suit him, the 6-foot, 205-pounder told his squad leader at Tuesday's morning formation that he was going on a hunger strike to speed things up.

Notary Authorized

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan today announced issuance of a notary public commission to Harold L. Williams, c/o B. D. Schulz, Realtor, 402 D Street, San Rafael.

Arrest Of Woman Linked To Riots

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Investigators for the district attorney's office say the arrest of a woman barber and the manner of arresting a drunken driving suspect apparently ignited the wild rioting in South Los Angeles last August.

The investigators, in a report asked by Mayor Samuel W. Yorty, said yesterday, however, that the California Highway Patrol was not guilty of any criminal behavior in making the arrests.

Yorty had asked for an investigation into allegations of misconduct in connection with the arrest of Marquette, Ronald and Mrs. Rena Frye on Aug. 11, the day the rioting erupted.

District Attorney's investigaors reported witnesses told them the arrest of Joyce Ann Gaines, 20, was the real cause of the week-long rioting. They said:

"Miss Gaines at the time of her arrest had on a barber's smock, which caused many of the assembly to assume her to be pregnant. We believe the crowd had already magnified the event of the alleged kicking of Marquette Frye and was angry.

"Following the arrest of Miss Gaines, law enforcement and civilian vehicles passing through this area were stoned.

"It is our conclusion the arrest of Miss Gaines, combined with the alleged kicking incident, triggered the major disturbance that occurred that evening in the area."

Highway Patrol Officer Harry J. Taylor said that after Frye was placed in a patrol car, Frye tried to get out. "I pushed him back into the vehicle and slammed the door," Taylor said, adding that he pushed Frye back in with his knees.

The report said Taylor did not use excessive force on Frye, who had been stopped for drunken driving.

Space Officials Decide Against Gemini Speedup

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The 14-day Gemini 7 flight has been delayed until at least Dec. 8 by a decision not to use the Gemini 6 booster for the launching.

When the Gemini 6 rendezvous flight was postponed Monday because of failure of the Agena target rocket to achieve orbit, space agency officials said they would move ahead to Gemini 7, using the same rocket.

This would have required replacing the Gemini 6 spacecraft with the Gemini 7 capsule. It would have permitted advancing the Gemini 7 flight from its original Dec. 8 date to about Dec. 2 because the Titan 2 had been thoroughly checked on the launch paid.

An analysis of engine capability of the Gemini 6 rocket showed the power of the second stage might be marginal for lifting the heavier Gemini 7 spacecraft into the desired orbit.

So it was decided yesterday to switch rockets, putting the flight back on its original timetable.

Chamber Appoints Committee For Nominations

President Charles J. Francis of the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce yesterday appointed a nominating committee of five to select candidates for new directors for 1966-67. Five directors are to be elected from at least 10 candidates Nov. 24.

The committee is made up of Jerry D. Carver, William A. Hamilton, S. J. Weil, Donald P. Geddes and John Finn III.

Francis also appointed a committee of three, E. M. Mills, Peter Maraccini and Walter Brown, to study the plan of transit operation for Marin County.

The board endorsed the $5,750,000 Tamalpais High School District bond issue to be voted on Nov. 16.

Typographical Error Clouds Coroner Story

There wasn't any testimony at a coroner's inquest Tuesday indicating that a blow from a fist caused the brain clot which resulted in the death of Mrs. Lillian E. Fonk, 52-year-old manager of the Fireside Motel in Manzanita, Oct. 14.

Due to a typographical error the Independent-Journal erroneously reported yesterday there was "no doubt" that the blow was caused by a fist. The sentence should have read "there was doubt."

Arrest Of Woman Linked To Riots

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Investigators for the district attorney's office say the arrest of a woman barber and the manner of arresting a drunken driving suspect apparently ignited the wild rioting in South Los Angeles last August.

The investigators, in a report asked by Mayor Samuel W. Yorty, said yesterday, however, that the California Highway Patrol was not guilty of any criminal behavior in making the arrests.

Yorty had asked for an investigation into allegations of misconduct in connection with the arrest of Marquette, Ronald and Mrs. Rena Frye on Aug. 11, the day the rioting erupted.

District Attorney's investigators reported witnesses told them the arrest of Joyce Ann Gaines, 20, was the real cause of the week-long rioting. They said:

"Miss Gaines at the time of her arrest had on a barber's smock, which caused many of the assembly to assume her to be pregnant. We believe the crowd had already magnified the event of the alleged kicking of Marquette Frye and was angry.

"Following the arrest of Miss Gaines, law enforcement and civilian vehicles passing through this area were stoned.

"It is our conclusion the arrest of Miss Gaines, combined with the alleged kicking incident, triggered the major disturbance that occurred that evening in the area."

Highway Patrol Officer Harry J. Taylor said that after Frye was placed in a patrol car, Frye tried to get out. "I pushed him back into the vehicle and slammed the door," Taylor said, adding that he pushed Frye back in with his knees.

The report said Taylor did not use excessive force on Frye, who had been stopped for drunken driving.

Arrest Of Woman Linked To Riots

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Investigators for the district attorney's office say the arrest of a woman barber and the manner of arresting a drunken driving suspect apparently ignited the wild rioting in South Los Angeles last August.

The investigators, in a report asked by Mayor Samuel W. Yorty, said yesterday, however, that the California Highway Patrol was not guilty of any criminal behavior in making the arrests.

Yorty had asked for an investigation into allegations of misconduct in connection with the arrest of Marquette, Ronald and Mrs. Rena Frye on Aug. 11, the day the rioting erupted.

District Attorney's investigators reported witnesses told them the arrest of Joyce Ann Gaines, 20, was the real cause of the week-long rioting. They said:

"Miss Gaines at the time of her arrest had on a barber's smock, which caused many of the assembly to assume her to be pregnant. We believe the crowd had already magnified the event of the alleged kicking of Marquette Frye and was angry.

"Following the arrest of Miss Gaines, law enforcement and civilian vehicles passing through this area were stoned.

"It is our conclusion the arrest of Miss Gaines, combined with the alleged kicking incident, triggered the major disturbance that occurred that evening in the area."

Highway Patrol Officer Harry J. Taylor said that after Frye was placed in a patrol car, Frye tried to get out. "I pushed him back into the vehicle and slammed the door," Taylor said, adding that he pushed Frye back in with his knees.

The report said Taylor did not use excessive force on Frye, who had been stopped for drunken driving.

Space Officials Decide Against Gemini Speedup

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The 14-day Gemini 7 flight has been delayed until at least Dec. 8 by a decision not to use the Gemini 6 booster for the launching.

When the Gemini 6 rendezvous flight was postponed Monday because of failure of the Agena target rocket to achieve orbit, space agency officials said they would move ahead to Gemini 7, using the same rocket.

This would have required replacing the Gemini 6 spacecraft with the Gemini 7 capsule. It would have permitted advancing the Gemini 7 flight from its original Dec. 8 date to about Dec. 2 because the Titan 2 had been thoroughly checked on the launch paid.

An analysis of engine capability of the Gemini 6 rocket showed the power of the second stage might be marginal for lifting the heavier Gemini 7 spacecraft into the desired orbit.

So it was decided yesterday to switch rockets, putting the flight back on its original timetable.

Chamber Appoints Committee For Nominations

President Charles J. Francis of the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce yesterday appointed a nominating committee of five to select candidates for new directors for 1966-67. Five directors are to be elected from at least 10 candidates Nov. 24.

The committee is made up of Jerry D. Carver, William A. Hamilton, S. J. Weil, Donald P. Geddes and John Finn III.

Francis also appointed a committee of three, E. M. Mills, Peter Maraccini and Walter Brown, to study the plan of transit operation for Marin County.

The board endorsed the $5,750,000 Tamalpais High School District bond issue to be voted on Nov. 16.

Typographical Error Clouds Coroner Story

There wasn't any testimony at a coroner's inquest Tuesday indicating that a blow from a fist caused the brain clot which resulted in the death of Mrs. Lillian E. Fonk, 52-year-old manager of the Fireside Motel in Manzanita, Oct. 14.

Due to a typographical error the Independent-Journal erroneously reported yesterday there was "no doubt" that the blow was caused by a fist. The sentence should have read "there was doubt."

Corte Madera

If you like old-fashioned grace and space and want to ease the burden with rental income, or if you're interested in a well-located, partly developed income piece, here is an unusual property in Corte Madera, which combines a lovely, 50-year-old brown shingle home and lower apartment in a well-landscaped setting with space for four or five more units — convenient to stores and commute in the fast-growing area near the Corte Madera park. The house, built when loft and space, full concrete basements and solid construction were "musts," has had only six cherishing owners, all improvement-minded.

Entry is by gate, garden walk, and full veranda porch. Interior has unique parquet floors, hall-type living-dining room with fireplace, sleeping and kitchen wings on either side, three bedrooms—master size — and two baths. There is a large upstairs open studio and storage space. On the ground floor, besides the separate living quarters, are a tandem two-car garage, and ample work and storage areas. Grounds include a rear parking area, plus a circular used brick patio and children's play-yard. Elms and populars, redwood fencing and hedges set off the property from adjacent multiples — a private world of garden walks, fruit trees and shrubs, potting and tool sheds, and even a dog run. Raze it for pools and progress or leave it as is and love it; this outdoor space fits any approach. Flexible terms to qualified buyer.

DAD'S DREAM

Time we give a thought to Dad
He's wanted a workshop since a lad
A separate room — where he putters and bangs
And where his dearest trophy hangs.
For Mother—here's a kitchen great
3 bedrooms and a den, to state
Only a few of the features here
To stores and school so very near.
Wood paneled rooms thruout the home
Warmth from the fireplace — you'll never roam.

But give her a paintbrush.
You know she can do it
Bring out the buckets and make her stick to it

If you like old-fashioned grace and space and want to ease the burden with rental income, or if you're interested in a well-located, partly developed income piece, here is an unusual property in Corte Madera, which combines a lovely, 50-year-old brown shingle home and lower apartment in a well-landscaped setting with space for four or five more units — convenient to stores and commute in the fast-growing area near the Corte Madera park. The house, built when loft and space, full concrete basements and solid construction were "musts," has had only six cherishing owners, all improvement-minded.

Entry is by gate, garden walk, and full veranda porch. Interior has unique parquet floors, hall-type living-dining room with fireplace, sleeping and kitchen wings on either side, three bedrooms—master size — and two baths. There is a large upstairs open studio and storage space. On the ground floor, besides the separate living quarters, are a tandem two-car garage, and ample work and storage areas. Grounds include a rear parking area, plus a circular used brick patio and children's play-yard. Elms and populars, redwood fencing and hedges set off the property from adjacent multiples — a private world of garden walks, fruit trees and shrubs, potting and tool sheds, and even a dog run. Raze it for pools and progress or leave it as is and love it; this outdoor space fits any approach. Flexible terms to qualified buyer.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Teen-Ager Needs Protections Of Plentiful Food And Sleep

VAN DELLEN

The teen-ager leads an active life but does not have a boundless store of energy. Wise parents recognize these limitations and lay down the law when signs of fatigue appear. This means more rest at the expense of the young person's social activities.

Most high school students have a busy schedule. They carry a heavy academic program and are active in numerous extra-curricular affairs including athletics and band. Homework keeps them occupied at night and some work to supplement the family income. The weekend is open for social activities and rest. Both have their place but, of the two, rest is more essential to health.

THIS IS WHY I believe the teen-ager should be allowed to sleep late on Saturday morning unless there are better reasons why he should get up. A physical examination is in order when the youngster looks pale or complains of fatigue.

He may have a chronic sinus infection, diseased teeth or tonsils, diabetes, or a heart or kidney disorder. Low metabolism slows him down and thyroid tablets will perk him up and improve his grades. Anemia also is a possibility.

The importance of diet in this period of rapid growth cannot be overestimated. Some youngsters add six to 10 inches in height. the demand for food, particularly proteins, is tremendous. Some isa llotted for growth and the remainder for energy and the replacement of worn-out tissues. The young adult needs at least one quart of milk a day, meat, cheese, fish, eggs, vegetables, fruits, and cereals.

THE BEST tonics for the sluggish adolescent are fresh air, sunshine, good food, and rest. The only exception is when psychological factors are responsible.

Some develop an inferiority complex when they do not make good grades or live up to their parents' expectation. The same occurs when they are shunned by friends or jilted in a love affair. Others are unhappy or weighed down with fears of anxiety. A little help at the right time goes a long way to bring them back to normal.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request).

SLOW LOSER

J. S. writes: I have osteoarthritis and am overweight. I've tried dieting but cannot shed more than two or three pounds. Walking is difficult because the pain is mainly in my knee. When watching TV or reading, I'm in the habit of lying down. Could this be the reason for my failure to lose weight?

REPLY

No. The combination of inactivity and not adhering to the diet over a long period is responsible.

TENDENCY REMAINS

T. S. writes: Does allergy ever disappear as suddenly as it appeared?

REPLY

The allergic tendency remains but the manifestations, such sa hives or asthma, often disappear abruptly.

TYPHUS DEFINED

A. C. K. writes: Exactly what is typhus?

REPLY

A disease of filth, with symtoms resembling a super-flu. The organism is transmitted thru an infected louse or rat flea.

REFRIGERATED MILK

O. B. writes: Is it safe to drink milk that has been in the refrigerator fur days?

REPLY

Four-day-old milk should be safe, but it may be sour. The only way to find out is to taste or smell it.

New Officials Get Foreign Policy Tips

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk was to be the lead-off speaker today at a foreign policy briefing for about 800 editors and broadcasters from around the country.

Under rules governing the semi-annual briefing for newsmen, what the speakers say cannot be attributed to them publicly. The briefings end Friday.

FIGHT TUBERCULOSIS and Other Respiratory Diseases

HEADS SEAL CAMPAIGN — Mrs. Charles R. Banfield, named as chairman of the 1965 Christmas Seal campaign in Marin, shows Blue Bird Carole Baty how to prepare the seals for delivery by mail to Marin homes on Nov. 16. This is Mrs. Banfield's 16th year as a volunteer for the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn., the first for 8-year-old Carole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Baty of Lucas Valley and one of many Blue Birds assisting in the mailing.

Ex-Tuberculosis Victim To Lead Christmas Seal Drive

Mrs. Charles R. Banfield of Fairfax has been named 1965 Christmas Seal chairman by Dr. Joseph J. Alderson, president of the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn.

The seals campaign opens Nov. 15 and will continue through December.

"Muriel Banfield has been a volunteer worker for the TB Association for 16 years and is thoroughly familiar with the work financed by Christmas seals," Dr. Alderson said. "In addition, she really knows the importance of the work because she, herself, had tuberculosis."

Her bout with TB began 25 years ago next month. She'd had a stubborn cold, but she didn't slow down. There was her 8-year-old son, Bob, to care for and the duties of her new Parent-Teacher Assn. office. The cough she dismissed with "guess I'm heading for Arizona."

Fortunately, early detection of her disease was forced upon her by a lung hemorrhage that started while she was talking on the telephone.

"Not until I started working for the TB Association did I realize how very lucky I was to have escaped the usual hardships caused by broken families and drained resources," Mrs. Banfield says.

She was separated from her son for a year. Nearly every day he would stand across the street from our house on Mountain View Avenue and wave to me through the window," she recalls.

After the initial bed rest, Muriel went to Ross Hospital weekly for a year for a pneumothorax treatment. "They put a small hole in my back and puffed in air to collapse the infected lung. The idea was the lung would heal sooner if it was allowed to rest. It wasn't too bad," she comments gamely, "but it isn't done any more. Some of the research paid for by Christmas Seals has discovered much better treatment methods."

Another research-discredited treatment undergone by Mrs. Banfield was the "phrenic nerve crush." Through a neck incision, the phrenic nerve was bared and literally crushed with a spoon. The objective: to collapse the lung by temporarily paralyzing the diaphragm.

Mrs. Banfield believes she may have been infected with TB germs eight years before active disease developed. "If only there had been a reliable tuberculin skin test then — and I had gotten one annually, of course—I would have found out I had picked up TB germs and would have paid more attention to my health. You can bet I do now!"

Widow's Estate $2.7 Million

REDWOOD CITY (AP)—The estate of Mrs. Winifred H. Varian, widow of the co-founder of Varian Associates, has been valued at $2,771,961.

He said the estate included $1,613,845 worth of stock in the Palo Alto electronics firm which her husband, Sigurd, helped found.

He was killed in a 1961 plane crash in Mexico.

Bikes Urged To Unclog Traffic

NEW YORK (UPI)—William F. Buckley Jr., the Conservative Party candidate for mayor and editor of National Review, offered an "ultra-reactionary" solution to New York's traffic problems yesterday — bicycles.

"I suppose it is ultra-reactionary to advocate going back to the bike," he said.

BORN IN CHINA

Vittorio Luigi Jovino Misses Old Shanghai

Vittorio Luigi Jovino of 48 Trellis Drive, San Rafael, often recalls his native city, where he grew up and first learned about the shipping industry, still his first love.

But he can no longer return to Shanghai, China. The Communists have come and when they did they wiped out the business he operated. Now Jovino is senior timekeeper for Matson Navigation Co., San Francisco.

His arrival in the United States in 1960 came by a circuitous route after he left China in 1950. He and his wife, Sadie, have lived in Hong Kong, Tokyo, London and Paris. Last month he and his wife were made United States citizens in a ceremony at the U.S. District Court in San Francisco.

Jovino was a member of the third generation of his family to live in China, but the name is best explained by the fact his grandfather was the first ambassador from Naples to the court of Peking.

Jovino's father founded a thriving shipping industry, and had his son educated at Cambridge University in England. The son returned to take charge of the ships after his education was completed.

The Jovinos, although more at home in China than in Italy, have always retained their Italian nationality. This fact helped the family enter the United States under the present quotas and also helped, for a short while, stave off the effects of Chinese communism.

The Communists completed their takeover in 1949, but the Jovinos stayed another year. Then they left for Hong Kong, leaving all that they owned behind them.

"It was hard to start again, but in China they were always having a revolution every four years or so. We have no regrets," Jovino said.

Their eldest son, Anthony, 19, was born in Shanghai. The others, Brian, 15; John, 11, and Chris, 6, were born in Hong Kong.

Anthony is in the First Marine Air Wing at Iwakuni, Japan. "But he may be in Viet Nam by now," Jovino added.

Brian is a student at Terra Linda High School. The two younger boys attend Don Timoteo School, across the street from the Jovino home.

Jovino's wife, Sadie Muriel Jovino, was born in England, but the two met and married in Shanghai. When they came to the United States, Jovino's mother and two sisters were already here. They lived in San Francisco a year before coming to Marin four years ago.

The new citizen said he was eager to become involved in politics. He said he had, for many years, been interested in American politics from afar. Since he has lived in Marin he has attended meetings of political groups as an observer.

"But now I can participate fully," he said. He added that he found an apathy toward politics here that was also the situation in other countries he has known.

Other new citizens from Marin naturalized in September follow:

Fairfax—Jacque Marcel Guiraut, 261 Miranda Avenue.

Mill Valley—Mrs. Helen Heyberger, 23 Sycamore Avenue; Mrs. Kathleen Towey Pabst, 167 West Blithedale Avenue; Mrs. Marianne Stuart-Smith, 213 Meda Lane, and Istvan and Magdola Szabo, husband and wife, 901 Centro Way.

San Anselmo—Alexander Koveleff, 14, and Vladimir Koveleff, 16, sons of Alexander Ivanovitch Kovaleff, 109 San Francisco Boulevard.

San Rafael—Giuseppe Ascierto, 316 Santa Margarita Drive; Mrs. Cheng-tze Mobert, 1232 Irwin Street, Apt. 6; Hendrikus Arnoldus Mulder (name changed to Henry Arnold Muller), 205 Auburn Street, and Walter and Hedwig Francisca Pfandler, husband and wife, 108 Wimbledon Way.

Terra Linda—Stanislaw Henryk Studzinski, 795 Penny Royal Lane.

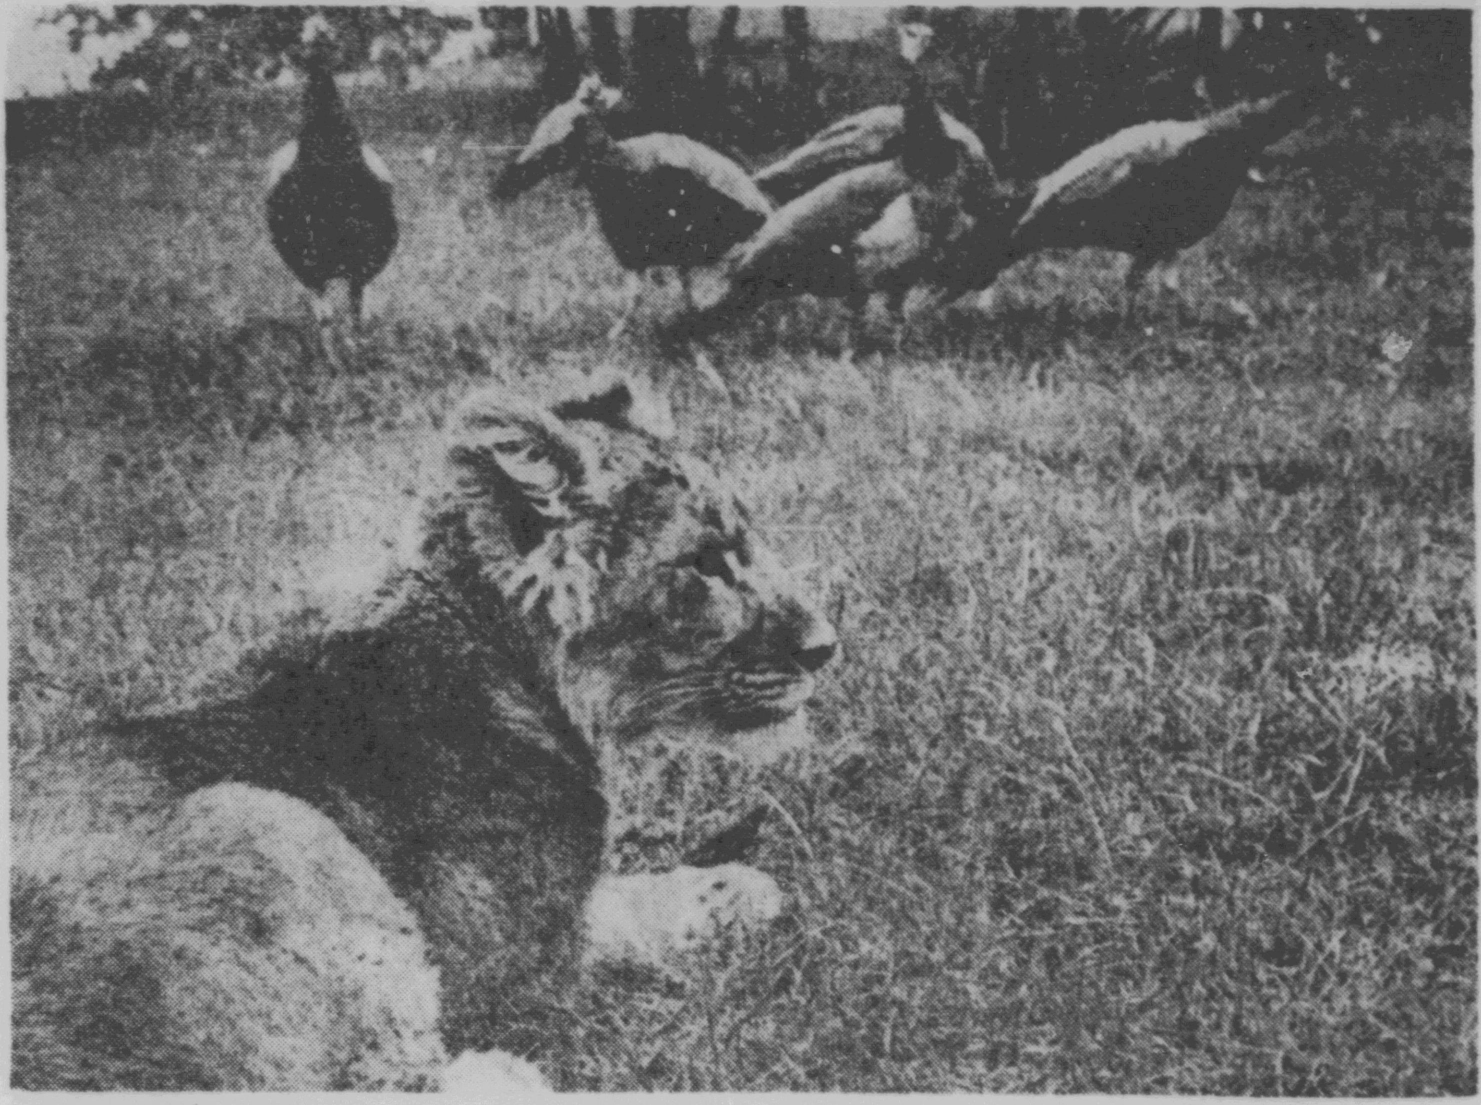
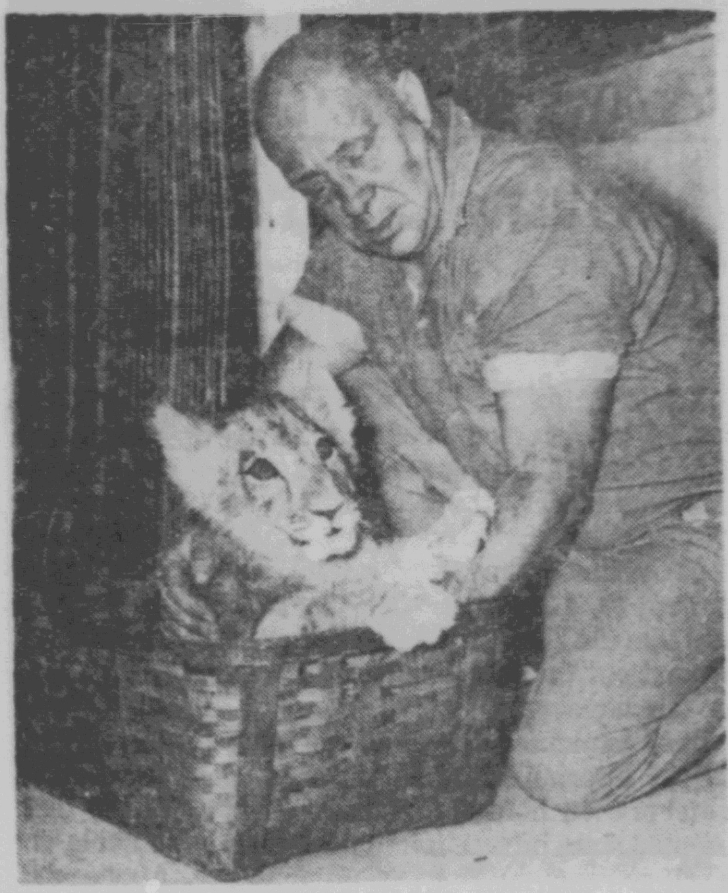
The Wonderful World Of Animals

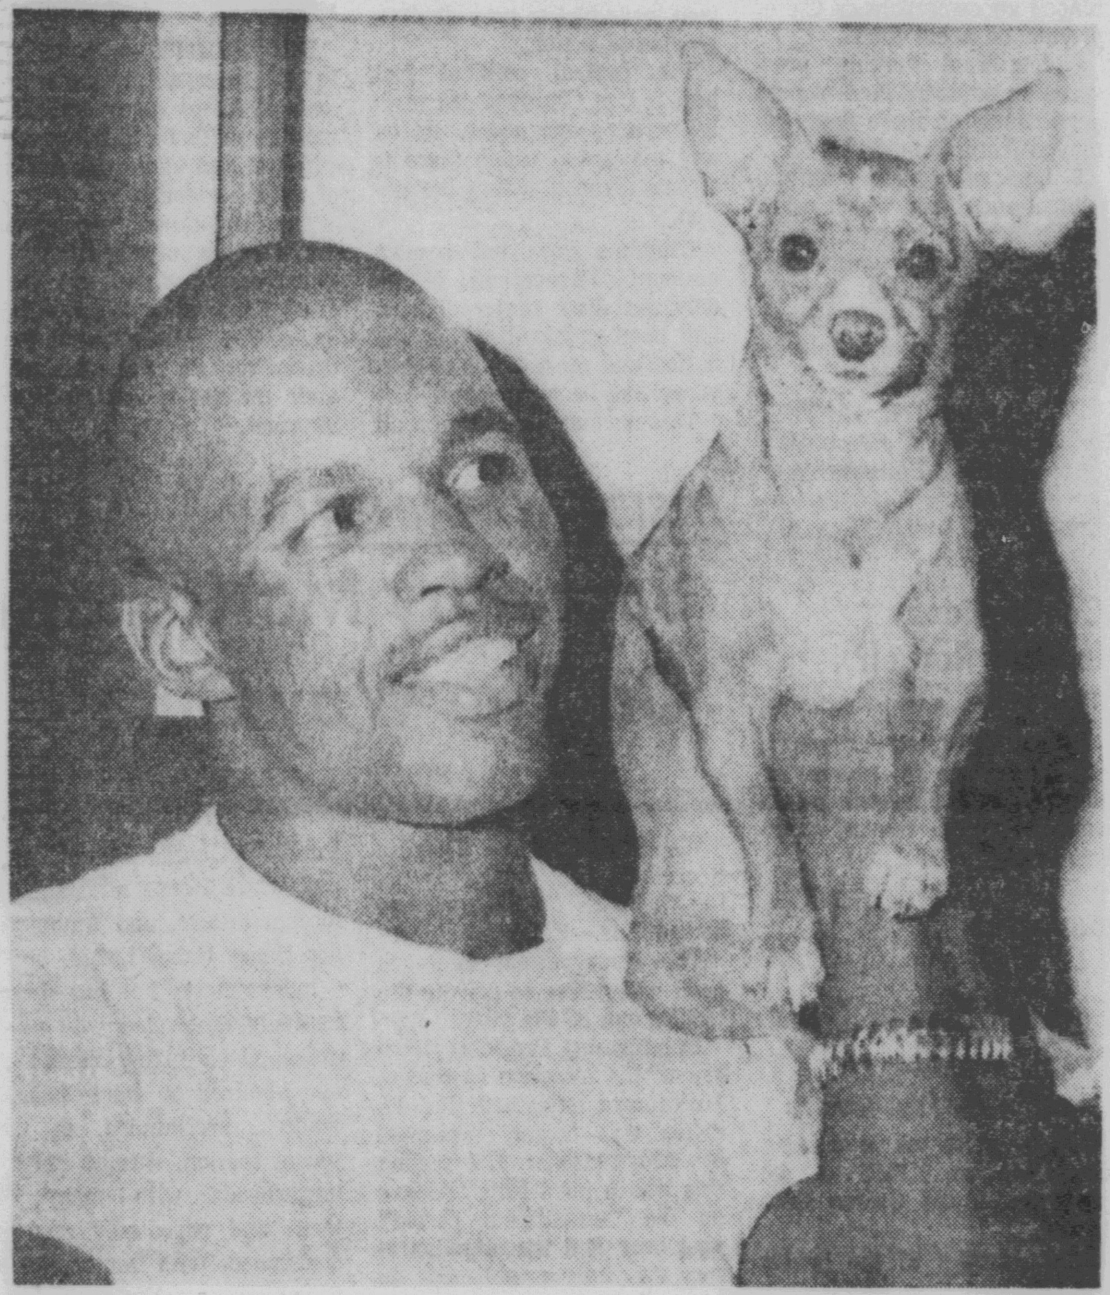
HELLO, UP THERE—Second grade pupils at Saxvik School in Bismark, N.D., have produced a whole menagerie of animals made of cardboard. Included in the make-believe zoo was this glamorous caterpillar, being given the eyeball treatment by Jonathon Stone, son of Rev. and Mrs. Willard Stone of Bismark. (AP Wirephoto)



EASY-GOING CUB—Hercules, a 6-months-old male lion newly purchased by the Evansville, Ind., zoo, is so tame he pays no attention to the flock of peafowl only a few feet away. His calmness is natural; he grew up in the children's zoo in Brookfield, Ill.



BASKET CASE—Howard Sautter, Abington, Pa., service station operator who feuded for months with city fathers over their efforts to banish his pet lion, Leo, had been grieving since last June when Leo died. Then, earlier this month, someone left a 2-month-old cub—literally a foundling—on Sautter's doorstep. The lion-lover vows he'll keep it. (AP Wirephoto)



GRIDDER'S PAL — The Chicago Bears' sensational rookie halfback Gale Sayers holds his Chihuahua, Tiny, like a football and tells the dog all about a recent game in which Sayers led the Bears to a 45 to 37 victory over the Minnesota Vikings in Chicago Oct. 16. (UPI Telephoto)

YOU'RE THE FIRST, SON—A mother proboscis monkey in San Diego Zoo cuddles her son, the first of its species born in captivity. Mother Penelope herself is a native of far-off Borneo, where she came from a tribe of leaf-eating monkeys famed for their big noses. (UPI Telephoto)

MOTHER SETS RECORDS—Holder of the world's crown for hippo motherhood, if not for beauty, is Maren, the 42-year-old star of Copenhagen's zoo. Already boasting a record total of 17 offspring, Maren recently went herself one better with Number 18—a boy, shown nestling alongside her in their watery living room. (AP Wirephoto)

TOGS FOR DOGS—Connie Ceedar, whose specialty is designing cute clothing for dogs, prepares a fitting for Cindy, a part-Collie pup at Chicago's Anti-Cruelty Society headquarters. The designer will have an exclusive benefit showing of her creations at the society's kennels next month. (AP Wirephoto)

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Teen-Ager Needs Protections Of Plentiful Food And Sleep

VAN DELLEN

The teen-ager leads an active life but does not have a boundless store of energy. Wise parents recognize these limitations and lay down the law when signs of fatigue appear. This means more rest at the expense of the young person's social activities.

Most high school students have a busy schedule. They carry a heavy academic program and are active in numerous extra-curricular affairs including athletics and band. Homework keeps them occupied at night and some work to supplement the family income. The weekend is open for social activities and rest. Both have their place but, of the two, rest is more essential to health.

THIS IS WHY I believe the teen-ager should be allowed to sleep late on Saturday morning unless there are better reasons why he should get up. A physical examination is in order when the youngster looks pale or complains of fatigue.

He may have a chronic sinus infection, diseased teeth or tonsils, diabetes, or a heart or kidney disorder. Low metabolism slows him down and thyroid tablets will perk him up and improve his grades. Anemia also is a possibility.

The importance of diet in this period of rapid growth cannot be overestimated. Some youngsters add six to 10 inches in height. the demand for food, particularly proteins, is tremendous. Some isa llotted for growth and the remainder for energy and the replacement of worn-out tissues. The young adult needs at least one quart of milk a day, meat, cheese, fish, eggs, vegetables, fruits, and cereals.

THE BEST tonics for the sluggish adolescent are fresh air, sunshine, good food, and rest. The only exception is when psychological factors are responsible.

Some develop an inferiority complex when they do not make good grades or live up to their parents' expectation. The same occurs when they are shunned by friends or jilted in a love affair. Others are unhappy or weighed down with fears of anxiety. A little help at the right time goes a long way to bring them back to normal.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request).

SLOW LOSER

J. S. writes: I have osteoarthritis and am overweight. I've tried dieting but cannot shed more than two or three pounds. Walking is difficult because the pain is mainly in my knee. When watching TV or reading, I'm in the habit of lying down. Could this be the reason for my failure to lose weight?

REPLY

No. The combination of inactivity and not adhering to the diet over a long period is responsible.

TENDENCY REMAINS

T. S. writes: Does allergy ever disappear as suddenly as it appeared?

REPLY

The allergic tendency remains but the manifestations, such sa hives or asthma, often disappear abruptly.

TYPHUS DEFINED

A. C. K. writes: Exactly what is typhus?

REPLY

A disease of filth, with symtoms resembling a super-flu. The organism is transmitted thru an infected louse or rat flea.

REFRIGERATED MILK

O. B. writes: Is it safe to drink milk that has been in the refrigerator fur days?

REPLY

Four-day-old milk should be safe, but it may be sour. The only way to find out is to taste or smell it.

New Officials Get Foreign Policy Tips

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk was to be the lead-off speaker today at a foreign policy briefing for about 800 editors and broadcasters from around the country.

Under rules governing the semi-annual briefing for newsmen, what the speakers say cannot be attributed to them publicly. The briefings end Friday.

FIGHT TUBERCULOSIS

Ex-Tuberculosis Victim To Lead Christmas Seal Drive

Mrs. Charles R. Banfield of Fairfax has been named 1965 Christmas Seal chairman by Dr. Joseph J. Alderson, president of the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn.

The seals campaign opens Nov. 15 and will continue through December.

"Muriel Banfield has been a volunteer worker for the TB Association for 16 years and is thoroughly familiar with the work financed by Christmas seals," Dr. Alderson said. "In addition, she really knows the importance of the work because she, herself, had tuberculosis."

Her bout with TB began 25 years ago next month. She'd had a stubborn cold, but she didn't slow down. There was her 8-year-old son, Bob, to care for and the duties of her new Parent-Teacher Assn. office. The cough she dismissed with "guess I'm heading for Arizona."

Fortunately, early detection of her disease was forced upon her by a lung hemorrhage that started while she was talking on the telephone.

"Not until I started working for the TB Association did I realize how very lucky I was to have escaped the usual hardships caused by broken families and drained resources," Mrs. Banfield says.

She was separated from her son for a year. Nearly every day he would stand across the street from our house on Mountain View Avenue and wave to me through the window," she recalls.

After the initial bed rest, Muriel went to Ross Hospital weekly for a year for a pneumothorax treatment. "They put a small hole in my back and puffed in air to collapse the infected lung. The idea was the lung would heal sooner if it was allowed to rest. It wasn't too bad," she comments gamely, "but it isn't done any more. Some of the research paid for by Christmas Seals has discovered much better treatment methods."

Another research - discredited treatment undergone by Mrs. Banfield was the "phrenic nerve crush." Through a neck incision, the phrenic nerve was bared and literally crushed with a spoon. The objective: to collapse the lung by temporarily paralyzing the diaphragm.

Mrs. Banfield believes she may have been infected with TB germs eight years before active disease developed. "If only there had been a reliable tuberculin skin test then — and I had gotten one annually, of course—I would have found out I had picked up TB germs and would have paid more attention to my health. You can bet I do now!"

Widow's Estate $2.7 Million

REDWOOD CITY (AP)—The estate of Mrs. Winifred H. Varian, widow of the co-founder of Varian Associates, has been valued at $2,771,961.

He said the estate included $1,613,845 worth of stock in the Palo Alto electronics firm which her husband, Sigurd, helped found.

He was killed in a 1961 plane crash in Mexico.

Bikes Urged To Unclog Traffic

NEW YORK (UPI)—William F. Buckley Jr., the Conservative Party candidate for mayor and editor of National Review, offered an "ultra-reactionary" solution to New York's traffic problems yesterday — bicycles.

"I suppose it is ultra-reactionary to advocate going back to the bike," he said.

BORN IN CHINA

Vittorio Luigi Jovino Misses Old Shanghai

Vittorio Luigi Jovino of 48 Trellis Drive, San Rafael, often recalls his native city, where he grew up and first learned about the shipping industry, still his first love.

But he can no longer return to Shanghai, China. The Communists have come and when they did they wiped out the business he operated. Now Jovino is senior timekeeper for Matson Navigation Co., San Francisco.

His arrival in the United States in 1960 came by a circuitous route after he left China in 1950. He and his wife, Sadie, have lived in Hong Kong, Tokyo, London and Paris. Last month he and his wife were made United States citizens in a ceremony at the U.S. District Court in San Francisco.

Jovino was a member of the third generation of his family to live in China, but the name is best explained by the fact his grandfather was the first ambassador from Naples to the court of Peking.

Jovino's father founded a thriving shipping industry, and had his son educated at Cambridge University in England. The son returned to take charge of the ships after his education was completed.

The Jovinos, although more at home in China than in Italy, have always retained their Italian nationality. This fact helped the family enter the United States under the present quotas and also helped, for a short while, stave off the effects of Chinese communism.

The Communists completed their takeover in 1949, but the Jovinos stayed another year. Then they left for Hong Kong, leaving all that they owned behind them.

"It was hard to start again, but in China they were always having a revolution every four years or so. We have no regrets," Jovino said.

Their eldest son, Anthony, 19, was born in Shanghai. The others, Brian, 15; John, 11, and Chris, 6, were born in Hong Kong.

Anthony is in the First Marine Air Wing at Iwakuni, Japan. "But he may be in Viet Nam by now," Jovino added.

Brian is a student at Terra Linda High School. The two younger boys attend Don Timoteo School, across the street from the Jovino home.

Jovino's wife, Sadie Muriel Jovino, was born in England, but the two met and married in Shanghai. When they came to the United States, Jovino's mother and two sisters were already here. They lived in San Francisco a year before coming to Marin four years ago.

The new citizen said he was eager to become involved in politics. He said he had, for many years, been interested in American politics from afar. Since he has lived in Marin he has attended meetings of political groups as an observer.

"But now I can participate fully," he said. He added that he found an apathy toward politics here that was also the situation in other countries he has known.

Other new citizens from Marin naturalized in September follow:

Fairfax—Jacque Marcel Guiraut, 261 Miranda Avenue.

Mill Valley—Mrs. Helen Heyberger, 23 Sycamore Avenue; Mrs. Kathleen Towey Pabst, 167 West Blithedale Avenue; Mrs. Marianne Stuart-Smith, 213 Meda Lane, and Istvan and Magdola Szabo, husband and wife, 901 Centro Way.

San Anselmo—Alexander Koveleff, 14, and Vladimir Koveleff, 16, sons of Alexander Ivanovitch Kovaleff, 109 San Francisco Boulevard.

San Rafael—Giuseppe Asciertо, 316 Santa Margarita Drive; Mrs. Cheng-tze Mobert, 1232 Irwin Street, Apt. 6; Hendrikus Arnoldus Mulder (name changed to Henry Arnold Muller), 205 Auburn Street, and Walter and Hedwig Francisca Pfandler, husband and wife, 108 Wimbledon Way.

Terra Linda—Stanislaw Henryk Studzinski, 795 Penny Royal Lane.

Marin Church Appeal Noble For Acceptance Of Races

A convincing "yes" vote on Proposition 14 last year nullified most of the "fair housing" laws and left to individual home owners the decision to rent or sell.

At the time, many "yes" voters, who wanted to eliminate "fair housing" laws like the Rumford Act, were quick to point out that personally, they were for fair housing.

They explained they had no intention of discriminating in the sale or rental of their homes; that they merely resented state intrusion into their right to sell or rent.

It is to this expression of fair play on an individual basis that Marin churches are now appealing.

The Marin Council on Religion and Race, supported by most of Marin's churches and synagogues, is embarking on a program to create an atmosphere of minority acceptance throughout Marin County.

Bernard T. Engel of Terra Linda, chairman of the Marin Council on Religion and Race, says his group has received assurances from almost all chuches and synagogues that they would support the program.

He hopes to contact some 20,000 Marin families, which are affiliated with some religious group, by sending them cards to sign, with the cooperation of various churches and synagogues.

The cards say in effect that the signer recognizes the right of all races to rent or buy housing in his neighborhood and that he welcomes them as neighbors.

Frank Dill of San Rafael, who is in charge of publicizing this program, emphasizes the voluntary nature of the campaign: "The mere fact that each individual in the county faces this question squarely would, in itself, be an accomplishment, whether he signs or not."

The hope, of course, is that the big majority will commit themselves on the side of personal non-discrimination in housing.

We feel the aim of this program is a noble one—to create an atmosphere of acceptance of all races.

The scope of the undertaking is also tremendous. The Marin Council on Religion and Race is supported by the Marin County Council of Churches, Roman Catholic Archdiocese of San Francisco, and the Board of Rabbis of Northern California.

In other words, the appeal will reach almost all parishioners of all denominations in Marin.

What will ultimately result from this appeal to the individual consciences of Marin citizens is something that the Council has not yet foreseen.

We hope that better relations between all human beings will be the outcome.

Whatever the result, we can see nothing to be lost and everything to gain.

We commend the Marin Council on Religion and Race on its ambitious undertaking and and hope that citizens will line up on the side of fair housing on an individual and voluntary basis.

The Crickets Of Autumn

These evenings about dusk the melancholy-sweet chirping of thousands of crickets commences to fill the rural Marin air. It continues until quite late if the night is a warm one. If it is cold, the song soon dies down and one can almost see in his mind's eye thousands of crickets dully shivering.

The cricket's song has a certain indescribable charm, a mixture of joy and sadness. It is a quiet reminder of the brevity of life. The maker of the song will soon be gone. Where and why we know not. Death's eternal mystery.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Best Man For Every State Job? No, It's Those Who Shell Out

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — There was a time in the history of the state when service to the government was an honor, rather than a job bought and paid for through political machinations.

That time, however, is long gone. The practices of the present administration in soliciting campaign funds from its top administrators indicates it isn't the best man for the job, but the best contributor.

SO FAR, nobody has been fired for failing to shell out. With the publicity attendant on the collection activities, which can't be kept secret no matter how hard the administration tries, there is no indication anyone will be released from state service if he or she fails to dip deep in the pocket-book for political favor.

Governor Brown's administration is not alone in contacting top administration officials for campaign money. It has been done for a good many years, sometimes surreptitiously, but the attitude appears to be that the public servant owes a contribution to the next campaign.

Of course, if the campaign is successful, then the administrator has more chance to keep his job for the next four years. If it isn't, then he can charge it up to profit and loss, and look for another job.

THE DUNNING practice is excused on the grounds that it's been a custom for a good many year, so why shouldn't administrators in top brackets enjoying large salaries, contribute for the purpose of buying their jobs for another four years?

Custom or not, the practice smells of cheap politics, in complete antithesis to the fundamental principles of democratic government. In the selection of a top administrator, the theory at least is that the choice is based on ability, rather than how much he can contribute to the next campaign. At least, this would be the responsibility to the people of the state, to whose service the administrator should be dedicated.

The taxpayers of California have a difinite stake in the campaign contribution activities of the Brown administration.

IN EFFECT, it is the taxpayers who are making the contribution through the salaries paid to the administrators. Of course, once the money is earned, it belongs to the administrator to do with what he chooses.

But originally, at least, it was public money to the point where every cent was contributed by the taxpayer.

THUS, IF California's top administrators are getting enough salary to contribute a couple of thousand to their boss' campaign, the question might be asked as to whether they are being paid too high salaries. A reduction, with the understanding that government employees wouldn't be asked for campaign contributions could do nothing more than benefit the taxpayers of the state.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

He Has Solution To Bridge Traffic

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Re: the commuter's dilemma:

1. A second deck on the Golden Gate Bridge would add one lane of traffic in the critical direction and leave three virtually unused lanes in the opposite direction.

2. Rapid transit won't do the job for the man who doesn't keep regular business hours. And there must be many of them, judging from the passenger-less autos one sees each day.

So where does that leave us?

For one thing, the Golden Gate Bridge is NOT the problem. The morning rush-hour bottleneck is in the Corte Madera area. In the evening, it's usually around the San Rafael viaduct.

Since a lot of money will have to be spent regardless of the course chosen, why not consider a bridge from northern San Rafael to rake off the residents of Santa Venetia and points north?

From an esthetic point of view, a second bridge would hardly be more of a blight on the skyline than the first one — that ugly dinosaur that crawls across the bay to Richmond.

With tongue-in-cheek, I offer one more solution: fill in the bay.

Engineer Project Would Wreck Creek

Editor, Independent-Journal:

How incredible that the College of Marin should base its master plan of development on the assumption that all of Marin County would agree to the destruction of Corte Madera Creek.

The various city councils are not "dragging their feet" as charged by Mrs. Deedy, but rather, digging in to resist various pressure groups that seem determined to force this ugly project upon Marin residents.

One questions the wisdom of a board that predicates its growth pattern upon the supposition that the mind of the public can be shaped to the will of the Army Corps of Engineers.

Cattlemen Oppose More Public Land

Editor, Independent-Journal:

We enclose a copy of a resolution unanimously adopted by the Humboldt County Cattlemen's Assn. . . . concerning the acquisition of lands in Humboldt, Del Norte and Mendocino counties by the National Park Service and the State Division of Beaches and Parks . . .

With over 1,250,000 acres of non tax-paying, government owned land plus 100,000 acres of state parks in public ownership, and the recreational potential of these existing holdings having at present only a minimal development, we believe that further vast expansions of public ownership is uncalled for.

Other major considerations which prompted our resolution:

1. The resultant removal of a natural resource from the economic base of the counties.

2. Negative effect on the tax base on counties with already the highest tax rates in California and the resulting effect on school districts.

3. Revenue to counties from national forest lands is only 25 per cent of that produced from private forest lands.

4. Over 85 per cent of present tourism industry occurs in the three short summer months.

5. Inevitable delay that results between the time private lands would be sequestered from private development and the time its recreation potential is adequately developed.

6. Massive land acquisition by government retards the development of recreation facilities by private land owners which would benefit the local economy far more than federal development.

7. Possibilities of restrictions placed on ownership or use of private adjacent lands.

8. Increased hunting pressures on adjacent land owners particularly on those lands removed from state parks.

9. Lack of predatory animal control measures which allow public land to become breeding grounds for predators that harass surrounding private ownerships and have proven harmful to domestic animals and forest regeneration . . .

Second Bridge Deck Not Feasible

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I listened to the interesting discussion on KTIM on the problems of the Golden Gate Bridge.

The stability of the bridge was not mentionad—the near disaster that happened on Dec. 3, 1951, when a southwesterly gale of relatively short duration caused the bridge to sway dangerously to such an extent that it was necessary to close the bridge for about five hours.

Had the gale lasted a few more hours the bridge might have suffered the same fate as the Tacoma Narrows Bridge which collapsed during a moderate gale. . . .

A survey was made of the Golden Gate Bridge shortly after the accident referred to, and considerable damage was found, necessitating repairs costing approximately $3,000,000. It is now proposed to build a second deck on the bridge at great expense which in no way will solve the traffic problem and might affect the safety of the bridge by the increase of wind resistance.

It is also proposed to remove sufficient concrete from the main deck to offset the weight of the upper deck. This will have the same effect as removing the ballast from the bottom of a ship and adding more sail — decreasing the stability. . .

There appears to be some doubt by some bridge engineers as to the advisability of making any changes. Under such circumstances, the bridge directors assume a great responsibility where lives and property are concerned. . . .

Since the population in San Francisco is decreasing and the industries are moving out, there may not be the necessity of another bridge. Contra Costa has plently of space, good rail and water facilities and industries moving in. That may help solve our traffic problems by heading the commuters east instead of south. . .

REMEMBER that ritzy magazine, Vanity Fair? Bob Sherwood, Pulitzer Prize author worked on it very briefly early in his career. When the editor of the regular feature, "What the Well-Dressed Man Will Wear" went on vacation, Sherwood filled in for him. Convinced that nobody ever read the column, Sherwood got going with "On dit that peg-topped pants and cloth-top shoes are coming back, also that the best-dressed man's waistcoat this season will glitter darkly with cut jade."

It developed that one man read the column after all, and that was its regular editor. Mr. Sherwood was fired.

BOBBY REMSEN inspected a nearly completed apartment building in Riverdale recently. "The walls are built of a new material," he reports—"Kleenex." He's also agreed to let his wife buys some new dresses in Paris when they travel there next month. She's discovered an out-of-the-way boite there, she tells him, that's something like Klein's or Robert Hall. It's run by somebody called Dior."

It Wasn't Johnson's Know-How In Congress That Passed Bills

WASHINGTON — How did he do it?

How did President Johnson reap such a harvest of liberal, high-cost social reform legislation from a single session of Congress?

The almost unanimous answer to this question is, I believe, the wrong answer.

It is almost automatic to say that Johnson's legislative skill — his intimate knowledge of the Congressional process—brought it off.

IT DIDN'T. LBJ would never have won from the Congress, the wide-ranging and unprecedented — medicare, aid to education, immigration reform, a powerful voting rights law, and a doubled appropriation for the anti-proverty program — unless something else and something far more controlling had happened first.

The real source of the president's remarkable success in Congress is not his political know-how, but his success in winning the country so fully to his side that Congressional action became relatively easy.

LEGISLATIVE know - how was incidental.

Public support was crucial and the shaping of the public concensus had to precede Congressional action.

The central political fact here is that Congress can rarely, perhaps can never, act on any matter on which there is strong division within the nation.

Congress does not resolve national controversies; it can only act after major division has been resolved within the nation and most of the controversy has been removed.

This is what happened on all of this once controversial legislative program and on which during the past year the Johnson administration won such comfortable votes from Congress.

And the developing of the public consensus behind medicare, aid to education, immigration, anti - proverty, etc., was not all the president's doing by any means. He played his own part with resource and determination. Many things came together to help him.

LONG PUBLIC DEBATE—Most of the president's measures have been before the nation for at least a decade and a half in one form or another. The public consensus was slow but firmly developed over this period of debate and refinement. LBJ's own advocacy was influential and he reshaped some of the legislation in order to remove hobbling controversy.

THE ELECTION—The Republican party's nomination of Barry Goldwater gave Johnson just what he needed to get his measures through Congress. Goldwater pushed much of the business community's support into the president's lap and the defection from Goldwater's candidacy was so great that it decimated the ranks of the Republican party in Congress.

PROSPERITY — Never has the U.S. been so prosperous so long. It keeps many businessmen sympathetic to the administration and eases the strains of deficit spending.

The legislation which the president lost at this session of Congress also shows how Congress is unwilling to pass laws in areas of deep national controversy, but will act only after the nation has made up its mind.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Secretary McNamara On The Way Out

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN
AND PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Defense Secretary McNamara is on the way out. (McNamara has denied this.—Editor.)

The controversial Pentagon head will return to private life by the end of the year.

In informing President Johnson of his intention to resign, McNamara explained this decision was largely prompted by two reasons: His feeling this was a good time to leave as the "transitional period" was over and the administration was fully established; on a number of grounds it was desirable that his successor be in office when Congress reconvenes in January.

"That will enable him to start with a fresh slate in presenting the military budget, and in handling other problems on Capitol Hill," said McNamara.

THE PRESIDENT somberly voiced heartfelt regret over losing the cabinet member. He praised him to the skies for outstandingly devoted and able service, and said he would feel free to call on McNamara if occasion required.

The latter assured the President he would respond "whenever I am summoned."

Two factors are behind McNamara's determination to quit:

FOR SOME MONTHS he has been relegated to a secondary role in formulating Viet Nam policy. He still participates in policy deliberations, but no longer plays the dominant role. That has largely been taken over by Secretary Rusk, McGeorge Bundy, special White House assistant on foreign affairs, and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

Increasingly he has been heatedly embroiled with Congress. Once highly respected and admired by congressional leaders, McNamara, in the recent session, was at stormy loggerheads with many of them and repeatedly angrily denounced—with Democrats in the van. Illustrative is the blistering attack on the Senate floor early this month by Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., head of the powerful Armed Services Preparedness Committee. Stennis bluntly charged him with misstatements and attempting to mislead Congress.

It was an open secret Stennis' blast had the approval of Senator Richard Russell, D-Ga., veteran chairman of the full Armed Services Committee, and of virtually all of its members.

THE EXTRAORDINARY denunciation jolted both McNamara and the White House.

Deputy Secretary Cyrus Vance will replace McNamara. A long-time close friend of the President, Vance served as Army Secretary under President Kennedy, and last year was shifted to the No. 2 Defense job by Johnson to prepare him to take over from McNamara.

The shelving of the judgeship appointment of Francis X. Morrissey is not the first time a Kennedy selection for the federal bench has been scotched.

Overlooked in the turbulent Morrissey fray was the refusal of the Senate Judiciary Committee to approve a federal district judge handpicked by then-Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy—now the junior senator from New York.

His choice was Wisconsin National Committeeman David Rabinovitz, who had vigorously supported Sen. John Kennedy against Sen. Hubert Humphrey in the state's superheated 1960 pre-convention primary battle.

Rabinovitz' appointment as federal judge was an out-and-out political reward by the Kennedys.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

It's A Bright New Building For Corte Madera Public Safety

Each day, as the staff of the Corte Madera police and fire departments arrive at work, they give a quick glance at the brick facade of the town's new public safety building next door and wonder if this is the day they will move.

To the unpracticed eye, the building is finished and ready for occupancy right now. Yet, each morning, the work crews are still there, ironing out last minute wrinkles. Town Manager Ronald L. Usher was told by the contractor Tuesday morning that because of a painting problem, the building probably will not be ready for a few more days.

IN THEIR PRESENT, cramped quarters at the old town hall, the police and one full-time fireman are ready, waiting to begin the confusing move into new quarters.

Cardboard boxes, filled with evidence, forms, reports and other articles collected over the years, are stacked in every space corner and closet.

ASKED WHEN THEY might start moving, police Sgt. David McIntosh just shrugs his shoulders and says:

"If you come into this office some morning and we aren't here, you had better check down at the new building."

We toured it the other day and can see why the town's public safety forces are so anxious to move. By our horseback estimate, the police and fire departments will have at least double the space there as they do in the old town hall.

THE THING ABOUT the building which really caught our eye though, was not its spaciousness. It was the shiney brass pole running from the ground floor to the upstairs living quarters which will some day sleep four full-time firemen.

So many new fire houses these days are one level buildings that we were sure the sliding pole for sleepy firemen hurrying to their trucks was a thing of the past. We were glad to see one in this building. Fire fighting could not possibly be as exciting without a pole to slide down first.

ANOTHER INTRIGUING portion of the building is the interrogation room for the police department. A small cubicle, it has room for a table, two chairs and a couple of men. We looked around for the glaring spotlight which might be shined in the suspect's eyes, but found only overhead fluorescent lighting. The room is soundproof. There is an open spot about six inches wide and two feet deep where a one way mirror will be installed. From the inside, it will be a mirror; from the outside, it will be a window into the room.

But all who can should see the building for themselves. Taste runs in different directions and everyone will have his favorite part of the building. While we liked the interrogation room, for instance, Sgt. McIntosh seemed much more enthralled with the private office he will have when the department moves into the building. There is something there for everyone.

They Supported LBJ Then, But Now They Don't—It's Confusing

The six-page accusatory note ends prayerfully: "Heaven help you, for you are a badly confused man and will never get anywhere." There is a prophetic ring to it, but, if I never reach the heights, it won't be because I haven't tried to emulate my betters. And yet, in spite of all my efforts, I remain low man on the totem pole.

The first time I was called on to speak in public, I saw a favorably inclined audience turn slowly, under my bumbling oratory, into a sea of bored faces and then into a hostile posse. Only quick thinking on my part saved me from a coat of tar-and-feathers: I fainted.

A LESS STURDY character would have given up. But I am—correction: make that was—made of sterner stuff. I remembered Demosthenes and for months walked about the yard with pebbles in my mouth, declaiming earth-shaking phrases to the air.

When finally satisfied, I sought another speaking engagement. This wasn't easy, as the story of my initial debacle had traveled far and wide. But at last a harassed friend arranged it for me to appear at a club in a hamlet which had only a country newspaper and was, therefore, unaware of my previous record.

This time, prepared and full of confidence, I rose after a generous introduction—I had written it myself—and launched into my speech. But the result was the same—except that this time I got the tar-and-feathers. And so did my friend.

MONTHS LATER I ran into my ex-friend at a party. "Tell me," I said, "what happened? It was a good speech—you read it and liked it.

"Yeah," he said bitterly, "but it sounded as though you had a mouth full of pebbles."

With that career over I turned to columning and decided to follow in the footsteps of Will Rogers, who, with no formal educational background, became a beloved commentator on the American scene. "All I know," he used to say, "is what I read in the papers."

So I make it a point to read the papers religiously and rely on them as though they were Holy Writ in composing my homilies.

OR MAYBE I read the wrong papers and, therefore, get confused. Last year, I gathered from them the impression that a right-wing extremist had illegally seized the GOP nomination by the unsavory method of winning the delegates. He was opposed by middle-of-the-road Republicans, of whom there apparently weren't enough. In a gallant effort, Gen. Henry Cabot Lodge left Saigon to shift for itself while he endeavored hopelessly to stem the Viet Cong tide in San Francisco.

But Armageddon wasn't lost. In the ensuing election, all the liberal, tolerant, fair-minded, virtuous and law-abiding citizenry (of both parties) rose to smite down the threat of anarchy. The outlaw from Arizona and his band were routed, and the constitutional process of government by law, not by men, was preserved. Everybody breathed easier, including Bobby Baker, Nkrumah and Mao.

SINCE THEN, HOWEVER, we have had a series of demonstrations on the streets and on campuses that mocked law and order. Looting and shooting have ravaged our towns—in the name of civil rights and free speech.

And now—even as our boys die daily in a jungle war we are beset with riots in which youngsters, egged on by oldsters, defy all authority and burn their draft cards. We are forewarned of a monster demonstration to be held in Washington at which some 200,000 will hold a "peace march" and demand we stop shooting back at the Viet Cong guerrillas. It would, of course, make more sense if the march were held in Hanoi.

BUT WHAT INTERESTS—and confuses—me is that the leaders in all these violent, non-peaceful demonstrations were foremost in pleading for the election of LBJ. The same professors and preachers are here: Dr. Martin Luther King, James Farmer and Bayard Rustin; authors John Hersey and Saul Bellew, playwright Arthur Miller and good old Doctor Spock, authority on babies and co-chairman of SANE. Not a Goldwater extremist in the carload.

Chamber Favors Corte Madera's Golf Links Idea

The Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce yesterday directed a letter to the county board of supervisors supporting use of 100 acres of land east of Highway 101 as a dump, later to be converted to a municipal golf course.

The proposal, supported by the town council at its last meeting, calls for filling the marshy land with refuse for seven to 10 years, then converting it to an 18-hole golf course.

The chamber also instructed President Richard G. Burns, attending a meeting of the county chamber of commerce in Tiburon Friday, to support the merging of the county chamber of commerce with the Marin County Development Assn. but seek to retain chamber control over the newly formed organization.

Marin Church Appeal Noble For Acceptance Of Races

A convincing "yes" vote on Proposition 14 last year nullified most of the "fair housing" laws and left to individual home owners the decision to rent or sell.

At the time, many "yes" voters, who wanted to eliminate "fair housing" laws like the Rumford Act, were quick to point out that personally, they were for fair housing.

They explained they had no intention of discriminating in the sale or rental of their homes; that they merely resented state intrusion into their right to sell or rent.

It is to this expression of fair play on an individual basis that Marin churches are now appealing.

The Marin Council on Religion and Race, supported by most of Marin's churches and synagogues, is embarking on a program to create an atmosphere of minority acceptance throughout Marin County.

Bernard T. Engel of Terra Linda, chairman of the Marin Council on Religion and Race, says his group has received assurances from almost all chuches and synagogues that they would support the program.

He hopes to contact some 20,000 Marin families, which are affiliated with some religious group, by sending them cards to sign, with the cooperation of various churches and synagogues.

The cards say in effect that the signer recognizes the right of all races to rent or buy housing in his neighborhood and that he welcomes them as neighbors.

Frank Dill of San Rafael, who is in charge of publicizing this program, emphasizes the voluntary nature of the campaign: "The mere fact that each individual in the county faces this question squarely would, in itself, be an accomplishment, whether he signs or not."

The hope, of course, is that the big majority will commit themselves on the side of personal non-discrimination in housing.

We feel the aim of this program is a noble one—to create an atmosphere of acceptance of all races.

The scope of the undertaking is also tremendous. The Marin Council on Religion and Race is supported by the Marin County Council of Churches, Roman Catholic Archdiocese of San Francisco, and the Board of Rabbis of Northern California.

In other words, the appeal will reach almost all parishioners of all denominations in Marin.

What will ultimately result from this appeal to the individual consciences of Marin citizens is something that the Council has not yet foreseen.

We hope that better relations between all human beings will be the outcome.

Whatever the result, we can see nothing to be lost and everything to gain.

We commend the Marin Council on Religion and Race on its ambitious undertaking and and hope that citizens will line up on the side of fair housing on an individual and voluntary basis.

The Crickets Of Autumn

These evenings about dusk the melancholy-sweet chirping of thousands of crickets commences to fill the rural Marin air. It continues until quite late if the night is a warm one. If it is cold, the song soon dies down and one can almost see in his mind's eye thousands of crickets dully shivering.

The cricket's song has a certain indescribable charm, a mixture of joy and sadness. It is a quiet reminder of the brevity of life. The maker of the song will soon be gone. Where and why we know not. Death's eternal mystery.

Best Man For Every State Job? No, It's Those Who Shell Out

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — There was a time in the history of the state when service to the government was an honor, rather than a job bought and paid for through political machinations.

That time, however, is long gone. The practices of the present administration in solicting campaign funds from its top administrators indicates it isn't the best man for the job, but the best contributor.

SO FAR, nobody has been fired for failing to shell out. With the publicity attendant on the collection activities, which can't be kept secret no matter how hard the administration tries, there is no indication anyone will be released from state service if he or she fails to dip deep in the pocket-book for political favor.

Governor Brown's administration is not alone in contacting top administration officials for campaign money. It has been done for a good many years, sometimes surreptitiously, but the attitude appears to be that the public servant owes a contribution to the next campaign.

Of course, if the campaign is successful, then the administrator has more chance to keep his job for the next four years. If it isn't, then he can charge it up to profit and loss, and look for another job.

THE DUNNING practice is excused on the grounds that it's been a custom for a good many year, so why shouldn't administrators in top brackets enjoying large salaries, contribute for the purpose of buying their jobs for another four years?

Custom or not, the practice smells of cheap politics, in complete antithesis to the fundamental principles of democratic government. In the selection of a top administrator, the theory at least is that the choice is based on ability, rather than how much he can contribute to the next campaign. At least, this would be the responsibility to the people of the state, to whose service the administrator should be dedicated.

The taxpayers of California have a difinite stake in the campaign contribution activities of the Brown administration.

IN EFFECT, it is the taxpayers who are making the contribution through the salaries paid to the administrators. Of course, once the money is earned, it belongs to the administrator to do with what he chooses.

But originally, at least, it was public money to the point where every cent was contributed by the taxpayer.

THUS, IF California's top administrators are getting enough salary to contribute a couple of thousand to their boss' campaign, the question might be asked as to whether they are being paid too high salaries. A reduction, with the understanding that government employees wouldn't be asked for campaign contributions could do nothing more than benefit the taxpayers of the state.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

He Has Solution To Bridge Traffic

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Re: the commuter's dilemma:

1. A second deck on the Golden Gate Bridge would add one lane of traffic in the critical direction and leave three virtually unused lanes in the opposite direction.

2. Rapid transit won't do the job for the man who doesn't keep regular business hours. And there must be many of them, judging from the passenger-less autos one sees each day.

So where does that leave us?

For one thing, the Golden Gate Bridge is NOT the problem. The morning rush-hour bottleneck is in the Corte Madera area. In the evening, it's usually around the San Rafael viaduct.

Since a lot of money will have to be spent regardless of the course chosen, why not consider a bridge from northern San Rafael to rake off the residents of Santa Venetia and points north?

From an esthetic point of view, a second bridge would hardly be more of a blight on the skyline than the first one — that ugly dinosaur that crawls across the bay to Richmond.

With tongue-in-cheek, I offer one more solution: fill in the bay.

Engineer Project Would Wreck Creek

Editor, Independent-Journal:

How incredible that the College of Marin should base its master plan of development on the assumption that all of Marin County would agree to the destruction of Corte Madera Creek.

The various city councils are not "dragging their feet" as charged by Mrs. Deedy, but rather, digging in to resist various pressure groups that seem determined to force this ugly project upon Marin residents.

One questions the wisdom of a board that predicates its growth pattern upon the supposition that the mind of the public can be shaped to the will of the Army Corps of Engineers.

Cattlemen Oppose More Public Land

Editor, Independent-Journal:

We enclose a copy of a resolution unanimously adopted by the Humboldt County Cattlemen's Assn. . . . concerning the acquisition of lands in Humboldt, Del Norte and Mendocino counties by the National Park Service and the State Division of Beaches and Parks . . .

With over 1,250,000 acres of non tax-paying, government owned land plus 100,000 acres of state parks in public ownership, and the recreational potential of these existing holdings having at present only a minimal development, we believe that further vast expansions of public ownership is uncalled for.

Other major considerations which prompted our resolution:

1. The resultant removal of a natural resource from the economic base of the counties.

2. Negative effect on the tax base on counties with already the highest tax rates in California and the resulting effect on school districts.

3. Revenue to counties from national forest lands is only 25 per cent of that produced from private forest lands.

4. Over 85 per cent of present tourism industry occurs in the three short summer months.

5. Inevitable delay that results between the time private lands would be sequestered from private development and the time its recreation potential is adequately developed.

6. Massive land acquisition by government retards the development of recreation facilities by private land owners which would benefit the local economy far more than federal development.

7. Possibilities of restrictions placed on ownership or use of private adjacent lands.

8. Increased hunting pressures on adjacent land owners particularly on those lands removed from state parks.

9. Lack of predatory animal control measures which allow public land to become breeding grounds for predators that harass surrounding private ownerships and have proven harmful to domestic animals and forest regeneration . . .

Conventions In San Rafael?

Second Bridge Deck Not Feasible

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I listened to the interesting discussion on KTIM on the problems of the Golden Gate Bridge.

The stability of the bridge was not mentionad—the near disaster that happened on Dec. 3, 1951, when a southwesterly gale of relatively short duration caused the bridge to sway dangerously to such an extent that it was necessary to close the bridge for about five hours.

Had the gale lasted a few more hours the bridge might have suffered the same fate as the Tacoma Narrows Bridge which collapsed during a moderate gale. . . .

A survey was made of the Golden Gate Bridge shortly after the accident referred to, and considerable damage was found, necessitating repairs costing approximately $3,000,000. It is now proposed to build a second deck on the bridge at great expense which in no way will solve the traffic problem and might affect the safety of the bridge by the increase of wind resistance.

It is also proposed to remove sufficient concrete from the main deck to offset the weight of the upper deck. This will have the same effect as removing the ballast from the bottom of a ship and adding more sail — decreasing the stability. . .

There appears to be some doubt by some bridge engineers as to the advisability of making any changes. Under such circumstances, the bridge directors assume a great responsibility where lives and property are concerned. . . .

Since the population in San Francisco is decreasing and the industries are moving out, there may not be the necessity of another bridge. Contra Costa has plently of space, good rail and water facilities and industries moving in. That may help solve our traffic problems by heading the commuters east instead of south. . .

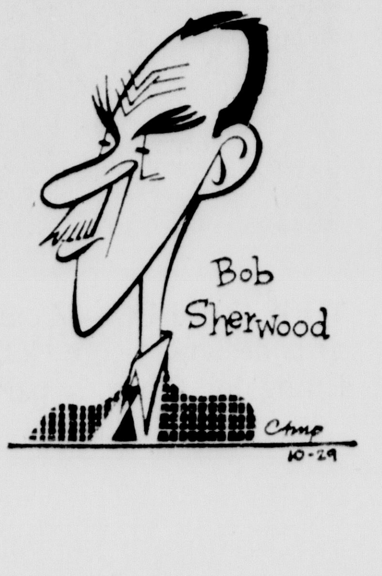
TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

REMEMBER that ritzy magazine, Vanity Fair? Bob Sherwood, Pulitzer Prize author worked on it very briefly early in his career. When the editor of the regular feature, "What the Well-Dressed Man Will Wear" went on vacation, Sherwood filled in for him.



Convinced that nobody ever read the column, Sherwood got going with "On dit that peg-topped pants and cloth-top shoes are coming back, also that the best-dressed man's waistcoat this season will glitter darkly with cut jade."

It developed that one man read the column after all, and that was its regular editor. Mr. Sherwood was fired.

BOBBY REMSEN inspected a nearly completed apartment building in Riverdale recently. "The walls are built of a new material," he reports—"Kleenex." He's also agreed to let his wife buys some new dresses in Paris when they travel there next month. She's discovered an out-of-the-way boite there, she tells him, that's something like Klein's or Robert Hall. It's run by somebody called Dior."

It Wasn't Johnson's Know-How In Congress That Passed Bills

WASHINGTON — How did he do it?

How did President Johnson reap such a harvest of liberal, high-cost social reform legislation from a single session of Congress?

The almost unanimous answer to this question is, I believe, the wrong answer.

It is almost automatic to say that Johnson's legislative skill — his intimate knowledge of the Congressional process—brought it off.

IT DIDN'T. LBJ would never have won from the Congress, the wide-ranging and unprecedented — medicare, aid to education, immigration reform, a powerful voting rights law, and a doubled appropriation for the anti-proverty program — unless something else and something far more controlling had happened first.

The real source of the president's remarkable success in Congress is not his political know-how, but his success in winning the country so fully to his side that Congressional action became relatively easy.

LEGISLATIVE know - how was incidental.

Public support was crucial and the shaping of the public concensus had to precede Congressional action.

The central political fact here is that Congress can rarely, perhaps can never, act on any matter on which there is strong division within the nation.

Congress does not resolve national controversies; it can only act after major division has been resolved within the nation and most of the controversy has been removed.

This is what happened on all of this once controversial legislative program and on which during the past year the Johnson administration won such comfortable votes from Congress.

And the developing of the public consensus behind medicare, aid to education, immigration, anti - proverty, etc., was not all the president's doing by any means. He played his own part with resource and determination. Many things came together to help him.

LONG PUBLIC DEBATE—Most of the president's measures have been before the nation for at least a decade and a half in one form or another. The public consensus was slow but firmly developed over this period of debate and refinement. LBJ's own advocacy was influential and he reshaped some of the legislation in order to remove hobbling controversy.

THE ELECTION—The Republican party's nomination of Barry Goldwater gave Johnson just what he needed to get his measures through Congress. Goldwater pushed much of the business community's support into the president's lap and the defection from Goldwater's candidacy was so great that it decimated the ranks of the Republican party in Congress.

PROSPERITY — Never has the U.S. been so prosperous so long. It keeps many businessmen sympathetic to the administration and eases the strains of deficit spending.

The legislation which the president lost at this session of Congress also shows how Congress is unwilling to pass laws in areas of deep national controversy, but will act only after the nation has made up its mind.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Secretary McNamara On The Way Out

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN
AND PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Defense Secretary McNamara is on the way out. (McNamara has denied this.—Editor.)

The controversial Pentagon head will return to private life by the end of the year.

In informing President Johnson of his intention to resign, McNamara explained this decision was largely prompted by two reasons: His feeling this was a good time to leave as the "transitional period" was over and the administration was fully established; on a number of grounds it was desirable that his successor be in office when Congress reconvenes in January.

"That will enable him to start with a fresh slate in presenting the military budget, and in handling other problems on Capitol Hill," said McNamara.

THE PRESIDENT somberly voiced heartfelt regret over losing the cabinet member. He praised him to the skies for 'outstandingly devoted and able service, and said he would feel free to call on McNamara if occasion required.

The latter assured the President he would respond "whenever I am summoned."

Two factors are behind McNamara's determination to quit:

FOR SOME MONTHS he has been relegated to a secondary role in formulating Viet Nam policy. He still participates in policy deliberations, but no longer plays the dominant role. That has largely been taken over by Secretary Rusk, McGeorge Bundy, special White House assistant on foreign affairs, and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

Increasingly he has been heatedly embroiled with Congress. Once highly respected and admired by congressional leaders, McNamara, in the recent session, was at stormy loggerheads with many of them and repeatedly angrily denounced—with Democrats in the van. Illustrative is the blistering attack on the Senate floor early this month by Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., head of the powerful Armed Services Preparedness Committee. Stennis bluntly charged him with misstatements and attempting to mislead Congress.

It was an open secret Stennis' blast had the approval of Senator Richard Russell, D-Ga., veteran chairman of the full Armed Services Committee, and of virtually all of its members.

THE EXTRAORDINARY denunciation jolted both McNam and the White House.

Deputy Secretary Cyrus Vance will replace McNamara. A long-time close friend of the President, Vance served as Army Secretary under President Kennedy, and last year was shifted to the No. 2 Defense job by Johnson to prepare him to take over from McNamara.

The shelving of the judgeship appointment of Francis X. Morrissey is not the first time a Kennedy selection for the federal bench has been scotched.

Overlooked in the turbulent Morrissey fray was the refusal of the Senate Judiciary Committee to approve a federal district judge handpicked by then-Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy—now the junior senator from New York.

His choice was Wisconsin National Committeeman David Rabinovitz, who had vigorously supported Sen. John Kennedy against Sen. Hubert Humphrey in the state's superheated 1960 pre-convention primary battle.

Rabinovitz' appointment as federal judge was an out-and-out political reward by the Kennedys.

Woman Tells Of Beating By Two Men

Mrs. Joseph De Martini, 50, of Sausalito told police she was knocked unconscious yesterday by two men who choked her, pounded her with a hammer, and slapped her face at her home at 518 Easterby Street.

They ransacked the house, then stole $31 from Mrs. De-Martini's purse in the kitchen and fled, 15 minutes before her husband returned home.

Mrs. De Martini, found unconscious by her husband on the living room floor, was treated for bruises around her throat and shoulders by her own doctor. She was not hospitalized.

She told police that at about 10:45 a.m. she answered a knock at the front door. A man asked her what time her husband would be home and she replied "about 11 a.m."

Mrs. De Martini said the man grabbed the screen door and yanked it open, motioning to another man on the street who then came up the stairs to the house.

Mrs. De Martini told officers she tried to escape through the front door and the first man slapped her on the face, then struck her on her chest.

The man's colleague picked up a hammer from the floor and handed it to the first man. He choked Mrs. De Martini with one hand and struck her on the shoulder with the hammer, she said.

De Martini, former owner of a Sausalito garbage company and who now operates a small garbage company in Tamalpais Valley, arrived home at 11 a.m. He called police and the doctor.

The men were described as Negroes, both between ages of 25 and 35.

Life Sentence In Cal Slaying

OAKLAND (AP) — Felton U. Theriot, 43, as sentenced yesterday to life imprisonment for the fatal shooting of his wife as she worked in a laboratory on the University of California's Berkeley campus last January.

He as convicted of murder by Superior Court Judge Lewis Lercars, who heard the final two weeks of the case himself after dismissing a jury that heard earlier testimony. The defense and prosecution had agreed to let Judge Lercars decide the case when Theriot's sanity became an issue.

Lercars ruled that Theriot was sane when he shot his wife, Gladys, five times in the laboratory in the Life Sciences Building on the Berkeley campus.

Complaint Dismissed For Evidence Lack

The suspect had been accused of taking the vehicle of Elizabeth Borruso in San Rafael last Aug. 23.

County Sponsors Birth Control

VENTURA (AP) — One thousand Ventura County women are expected to participate in a voluntary birth control program starting next Jan. 1.

Under the family plan services, authorized earlier by county supervisors, birth control information and materials will be available to persons on welfare, to patients of the county general hospital and the health department and to persons referred by private physicians.

First-year cost of the program, employing two nurses and a part-time doctor, will be $28,700.

Anti-Viet Group Requests Permit

OAKLAND (AP)—In preparation for a protest march Nov. 20 against United States policy in Viet Nam, an Oakland parade permit was sought yesterday by the Vietnam Day Committee.

Recent denials of parade permits to the VDC did not prevent demonstrators from attempting to march to the Oakland Army Terminal Oct. 15 and 16. Oakland police stopped them at the Berkeley-Oakland boundary.

As an answer to the VDC's scheduled march, John S. Engberg, former state commander of the Disabled American Veterans, said about 200 units of color guards and color bearers would line the route if the march is held.

Experimental Plane Flies High, Fast

EDWARDS AFB (UPI) — The X-15 was flown to an altitude of almost 45 miles yesterday by test pilot John McKay to measure noise and potential stress hazards on future space vehicles.

A horizon scanner mounted on the rear of the fuselage also was used to "closely define" the earth's horizon as the No. 3 X-15 reached a height of 237,000 feet and a speed of 3,477 miles an hour, or Mach 4.7.

The term "buccaneers" originated in Haiti where early settlers preserved their meat by smoking or drying—a process called "buccan." the pirates used this method to stock their ships for long voyages.

Drunken Driving Brings Jail Term

John George Rupprecht, 38, Petaluma, was fined $276, placed on a year's probation, and sentenced to five days in county jail yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving with a prior conviction.

He was arrested Aug. 10 by California Highway Patrol on Highway 37.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

It's A Bright New Building For Corte Madera Public Safety

Each day, as the staff of the Corte Madera police and fire departments arrive at work, they give a quick glance at the brick facade of the town's new public safety building next door and wonder if this is the day they will move.

To the unpracticed eye, the building is finished and ready for occupancy right now. Yet, each morning, the work crews are still there, ironing out last minute wrinkles. Town Manager Ronald L. Usher was told by the contractor Tuesday morning that because of a painting problem, the building probably will not be ready for a few more days.

IN THEIR PRESENT, cramped quarters at the old town hall, the police and one full-time fireman are ready, waiting to begin the confusing move into new quarters.

Cardboard boxes, filled with evidence, forms, reports and other articles collected over the years, are stacked in every space corner and closet.

ASKED WHEN THEY might start moving, police Sgt. David McIntosh just shrugs his shoulders and says:

"If you come into this office some morning and we aren't here, you had better check down at the new building."

We toured it the other day and can see why the town's public safety forces are so anxious to move. By our horseback estimate, the police and fire departments will have at least double the space there as they do in the old town hall.

THE THING ABOUT the building which really caught our eye though, was not its spaciousness. It was the shiney brass pole running from the ground floor to the upstairs living quarters which will some day sleep four full-time firemen.

So many new fire houses these days are one level buildings that we were sure the sliding pole for sleepy firemen hurrying to their trucks was a thing of the past. We were glad to see one in this building. Fire fighting could not possibly be as exciting without a pole to slide down first.

ANOTHER INTRIGUING portion of the building is the interrogation room for the police department. A small cubicle, it has room for a table, two chairs and a couple of men. We looked around for the glaring spotlight which might be shined in the suspect's eyes, but found only overhead fluorescent lighting. The room is soundproof. There is an open spot about six inches wide and two feet deep where a one way mirror will be installed. From the inside, it will be a mirror; from the outside, it will be a window into the room.

But all who can should see the building for themselves. Taste runs in different directions and everyone will have his favorite part of the building. While we liked the interrogation room, for instance, Sgt. McIntosh seemed much more enthralled with the private office he will have when the department moves into the building. There is something there for everyone.

20 YEARS AGO

San Rafael City Council passed an emergency ordinance increasing all business license fees 50 per cent, in a move designed to meet the city's budget.

Carl Rebmann, owner of "The Shadows" in San Francisco, received permission to build a restaurant on a rock promontory east of Alto and north of Tiburon Highway.

President Sergio Osmena of the Philippines announced on his arrival at Hamilton Air Force Base en route to visit President Harry Truman that the island "want to become again one of America's biggest customers."

MORRIE RYSKIND

They Supported LBJ Then, But Now They Don't—It's Confusing

The six-page accusatory note ends prayerfully: "Heaven help you, for you are a badly confused man and will never get anywhere." There is a prophetic ring to it, but, if I never reach the heights, it won't be because I haven't tried to emulate my betters. And yet, in spite of all my efforts, I remain low man on the totem pole.

The first time I was called on to speak in public, I saw a favorably inclined audience turn slowly, under my bumbling oratory, into a sea of bored faces and then into a hostile posse. Only quick thinking on my part saved me from a coat of tar-and-feathers: I fainted.

A LESS STURDY character would have given up. But I am —correction: make that was— made of sterner stuff. I remembered Demosthenes and for months walked about the yard with pebbles in my mouth, declaiming earth-shaking phrases to the air.

When finally satisfied, I sought another speaking engagement. This wasn't easy, as the story of my initial debacle had traveled far and wide. But at last a harassed friend arranged it for me to appear at a club in a hamlet which had only a country newspaper and was, therefore, unaware of my previous record.

This time, prepared and full of confidence, I rose after a generous introduction—I had written it myself—and launched into my speech. But the result was the same—except that this time I got the tar-and-feathers. And so did my friend.

MONTHS LATER I ran into my ex-friend at a party. "Tell me," I said, "what happened? It was a good speech—you read it and liked it.

"Yeah," he said bitterly, "but it sounded as though you had a mouth full of pebbles."

With that career over I turned to columning and decided to follow in the footsteps of Will Rogers, who, with no formal educational background, became a beloved commentator on the American scene. "All I know," he used to say, "is what I read in the papers."

So I make it a point to read the papers religiously and rely on them as though they were Holy Writ in composing my homilies.

OR MAYBE I read the wrong papers and, therefore, get confused. Last year, I gathered from them the impression that a right-wing extremist had illegally seized the GOP nomination by the unsavory method of winning the delegates. He was opposed by middle-of-the-road Republicans, of whom there apparently weren't enough. In a gallant effort, Gen. Henry Cabot Lodge left Saigon to shift for itself while he endeavored hopelessly to stem the Viet Cong tide in San Francisco.

But Armageddon wasn't lost. In the ensuing election, all the liberal, tolerant, fair-minded, virtuous and law-abiding citizenry (of both parties) rose to smite down the threat of anarchy. The outlaw from Arizona and his band were routed, and the constitutional process of government by law, not by men, was preserved. Everybody breathed easier, including Bobby Baker, Nkrumah and Mao.

SINCE THEN, HOWEVER, we have had a series of demonstrations on the streets and on campuses that mocked law and order. Looting and shooting have ravaged our towns—in the name of civil rights and free speech.

And now—even as our boys die daily in a jungle war we are beset with riots in which youngsters, egged on by oldsters, defy all authority and burn their draft cards. We are forewarned of a monster demonstration to be held in Washington at which some 200,000 will hold a "peace march" and demand we stop shooting back at the Viet Cong guerrillas. It would, of course, make more sense if the march were held in Hanoi.

BUT WHAT INTERESTS— and confuses—me is that the leaders in all these violent, non-peaceful demonstrations were foremost in pleading for the election of LBJ. The same professors and preachers are here: Dr. Martin Luther King, James Farmer and Bayard Rustin; authors John Hersey and Saul Bellew, playwright Arthur Miller and good old Doctor Spock, authority on babies and co-chairman of SANE. Not a Goldwater extremist in the carload.

Chamber Favors Corte Madera's Golf Links Idea

The Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce yesterday directed a letter to the county board of supervisors supporting use of 100 acres of land east of Highway 101 as a dump, later to be converted to a municipal golf course.

The proposal, supported by the town council at its last meeting, calls for filling the marshy land with refuse for seven to 10 years, then converting it to an 18-hole golf course.

The chamber also instructed President Richard G. Burns, attending a meeting of the county chamber of commerce in Tiburon Friday, to support the merging of the county chamber of commerce with the Marin County Development Assn. but seek to retain chamber control over the newly formed organization.

Last Piece Placed On Giant Memorial Arch

The "topping-out" climaxed 32 years of planning and three years of construction on the nation's tallest monument, which symbolizes America's thrust across the Western wilderness a century ago.

The gleaming stainless steel arch, the nation's tallest monument and one of its most impressive, stands on the site where the westward movement began with Lewis and Clark's exploration and later with wagons moving west.

The arch and the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial, of which it is a part, were 32 years in the making. The idea was born during the great depression in the mind of a St. Louis mayor named Bernard Dickmann.

The project served to turn St. Louis' face to the future. The whole downtown area is getting a face-lifting. Some $16 million in construction, including a new sports stadium, is under way in the shadow of the arch.

The Jefferson National Expansion Memorial, site of the arch, occupies 80 acres on the riverfront. One of the main features will be a museum of westward expansion beneath the arch. From the museum, visitors will ride in cable cars inside the legs of the arch to an enclosed observation platform at the keystone.

The arch itself is the only structure of its size and shape in the world. The architect, Eero Saarinen, who died in 1961, said it would withstand a tornado and should be there forever.

School Officers Trade Posts

Mrs. Alyce Farkas of the Reed School District and Lawrence Goldberg of the Kentfield School District traded jobs last night in election of top officers of the Marin County School Boards Assn. at College of Marin.

Mrs. Farkas moved from vice president to president, while Goldberk changed from president to vice president.

Mrs. Fay Jensen of the Fairfax School District board was elected secretary, and Mrs. Leonora Dougherty of the Novato Unified School District board was re-elected treasurer. Lawrence I. Kramer Jr., San Rafael, and Doris Harnsberger, San Anselmo, were named to the executive board.

Clock-Radio Stolen

Jack W. Shaw reported to Mill Valley police last night that, between 7:45 a.m. and 8:30 p.m., somebody entered his home at 14 Matilda Avenue and stole a $52 clock-radio and perhaps other items. Entry was through an unlocked door.

Two Boys Hurt As Truck Hits Bank And Tree

Donald and Kevin Riley, 12 and 14, of 665 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur, were treated at Marin General Hospital Tuesday night for injuries suffered when a pickup truck in which they were riding went off the Corte Madera grade.

Driver of the southbound truck, Steven L. Wood, 18, of 631-A Magnolia Avenue, said he was passing a car when the accelerator stuck.

The truck hit a bank on the right hand side of the road, bounced across the road, went over the bank and struck a tree, Corte Madera police reported.

Donald and Kevin, riding in the bed of the truck, suffered a cut scalp and mild concussion, respectively. Two other passengers, Frank Seibek, 13, of 633 Magnolia, and Walter Thomas of 631-A Magnolia, suffered minor injuries and said they would see their own doctors.

L. E. Castner is president of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District.

Donkey Solves Legal Puzzle

Ante Medic, another farmer, said the donkey belonged to him.

While a court argument went on, villagers led the donkey to a crossroads between the two farms and turned the animal loose. The donkey ambled straight to Simun's stable. The court ruled Simun the owner and ordered Ante to pay trial costs.

Woman Tells Of Beating By Two Men

Mrs. Joseph De Martini, 50, of Sausalito told police she was knocked unconscious yesterday by two men who choked her, pounded her with a hammer, and slapped her face at her home at 518 Easterby Street.

They ransacked the house, then stole $31 from Mrs. De-Martini's purse in the kitchen and fled, 15 minutes before her husband returned home.

Mrs. De Martini, found unconscious by her husband on the living room floor, was treated for bruises around her throat and shoulders by her own doctor. She was not hospitalized.

She told police that at about 10:45 a.m. she answered a knock at the front door. A man asked her what time her husband would be home and she replied "about 11 a.m."

Mrs. De Martini said the man grabbed the screen door and yanked it open, motioning to another man on the street who then came up the stairs to the house.

Mrs. De Martini told officers she tried to escape through the front door and the first man slapped her on the face, then struck her on her chest.

The man's colleague picked up a hammer from the floor and handed it to the first man. He choked Mrs. De Martini with one hand and struck her on the shoulder with the hammer, she said.

De Martini, former owner of a Sausalito garbage company and who now operates a small garbage company in Tamalpais Valley, arrived home at 11 a.m. He called police and the doctor.

The men were described as Negroes, both between ages of 25 and 35.

Life Sentence In Cal Slaying

OAKLAND (AP) — Felton U. Theriot, 43, as sentenced yesterday to life imprisonment for the fatal shooting of his wife as she worked in a laboratory on the University of California's Berkeley campus last January.

He as convicted of murder by Superior Court Judge Lewis Lercars, who heard the final two weeks of the case himself after dismissing a jury that heard earlier testimony. The defense and prosecution had agreed to let Judge Lercars decide the case when Theriot's sanity became an issue.

Lercars ruled that Theriot was sane when he shot his wife, Gladys, five times in the laboratory in the Life Sciences Building on the Berkeley campus.

County Sponsors Birth Control

VENTURA (AP) — One thousand Ventura County women are expected to participate in a voluntary birth control program starting next Jan. 1.

Under the family plan services, authorized earlier by county supervisors, birth control information and materials will be available to persons on welfare, to patients of the county general hospital and the health department and to persons referred by private physicians.

First-year cost of the program, employing two nurses and a part-time doctor, will be $28,700.

Anti-Viet Group Requests Permit

OAKLAND (AP)—In preparation for a protest march Nov. 20 against United States policy in Viet Nam, an Oakland parade permit was sought yesterday by the Vietnam Day Committee.

Recent denials of parade permits to the VDC did not prevent demonstrators from attempting to march to the Oakland Army Terminal Oct. 15 and 16. Oakland police stopped them at the Berkeley-Oakland boundary.

As an answer to the VDC's scheduled march, John S. Engberg, former state commander of the Disabled American Veterans, said about 200 units of color guards and color bearers would line the route if the march is held.

Experimental Plane Flies High, Fast

EDWARDS AFB (UPI) — The X-15 was flown to an altitude of almost 45 miles yesterday by test pilot John McKay to measure noise and potential stress hazards on future space vehicles.

A horizon scanner mounted on the rear of the fuselage also was used to "closely define" the earth's horizon as the No. 3 X-15 reached a height of 237,000 feet and a speed of 3,477 miles an hour, or Mach 4.7.

The term "buccaneers" originated in Haiti where early settlers preserved their meat by smoking or drying—a process called "buccan." the pirates used this method to stock their ships for long voyages.

Drunken Driving Brings Jail Term

John George Rupprecht, 38, Petaluma, was fined $276, placed on a year's probation, and sentenced to five days in county jail yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving with a prior conviction.

He was arrested Aug. 10 by California Highway Patrol on Highway 37.

HOW TO PLAY
WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

In A Bidding Bind, End Play Sometimes Can Save The Day

Perhaps the chief problem in the hand shown today is in the bidding.

The easiest contract is three no-trump played from the South position, but this is not easy to bid.

Opening lead — ♣ A

South would be happy to bid no-trump if North suggested it by such a bid as two hearts instead of three diamonds.

TOW TO KNOW?

Still, North has no way of knowing that no-trump is better than diamonds. North's singleton in clubs and weakness in spades are hardly assets at no-trump.

Fortunately for South, careful play enabled him to make five diamonds. The key play came at the second trick, when West led a low club.

South had to discard a spade from dummy, resisting the temptation to discard a heart.

Declarer then drew trumps and led a low heart toward dummy.

If West took the ace of hearts, South would later get a trick with the queen of hearts and reach dummy with a trump to discard the queen of spades on the king of hearts.

SEES DANGER

Seeing the danger of taking the ace of hearts, West played the nine to force out dummy's king. South thereupon got to his hand with a trump, cashed the king of clubs to discard a heart from dummy and then led the queen of hearts to force West into the lead.

If West returned a spade, South would get a free finesse. If West returned a club or a heart, dummy would ruff and South would discard the queen of spades.

If South then led a heart, West would take the ace of hearts and get out safely with another heart. West would eventually get the setting trick with the king of spades.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ 9 8 5 4 2
♥ K 8 4
♦ A J 6 4
♣ 9

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one spade.

The hand is slightly too strong for a raise to two hearts. Bid the spades and show the heart support at your next turn.

Last Piece Placed On Giant Memorial Arch

The "topping-out" climaxed 32 years of planning and three years of construction on the nation's tallest monument, which symbolizes America's thrust across the Western wilderness a century ago.

The gleaming stainless steel arch, the nation's tallest monument and one of its most impressive, stands on the site where the westward movement began with Lewis and Clark's exploration and later with wagons moving west.

The arch and the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial, of which it is a part, were 32 years in the making. The idea was born during the great depression in the mind of a St. Louis mayor named Bernard Dickmann.

The project served to turn St. Louis' face to the future. The whole downtown area is getting a face-lifting. Some $16 million in construction, including a new sports stadium, is under way in the shadow of the arch.

The Jefferson National Expansion Memorial, site of the arch, occupies 80 acres on the riverfront. One of the main features will be a museum of westward expansion beneath the arch. From the museum, visitors will ride in cable cars inside the legs of the arch to an enclosed observation platform at the keystone.

The arch itself is the only structure of its size and shape in the world. The architect, Eero Saarinen, who died in 1961, said it would withstand a tornado and should be there forever.

School Officers Trade Posts

Mrs. Alyce Farkas of the Reed School District and Lawrence Goldberg of the Kentfield School District traded jobs last night in election of top officers of the Marin County School Boards Assn. at College of Marin.

Mrs. Farkas moved from vice president to president, while Goldberk changed from president to vice president.

Mrs. Fay Jensen of the Fairfax School District board was elected secretary, and Mrs. Leonora Dougherty of the Novato Unified School District board was re-elected treasurer. Lawrence I. Kramer Jr., San Rafael, and Doris Harnsberger, San Anselmo, were named to the executive board.

Clock-Radio Stolen

Jack W. Shaw reported to Mill Valley police last night that, between 7:45 a.m. and 8:30 p.m., somebody entered his home at 14 Matilda Avenue and stole a $52 clock-radio and perhaps other items. Entry was through an unlocked door.

Two Boys Hurt As Truck Hits Bank And Tree

Donald and Kevin Riley, 12 and 14, of 665 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur, were treated at Marin General Hospital Tuesday night for injuries suffered when a pickup truck in which they were riding went off the Corte Madera grade.

Driver of the southbound truck, Steven L. Wood, 18, of 631-A Magnolia Avenue, said he was passing a car when the accelerator stuck.

The truck hit a bank on the right hand side of the road, bounced across the road, went over the bank and struck a tree, Corte Madera police reported.

Donald and Kevin, riding in the bed of the truck, suffered a cut scalp and mild concussion, respectively. Two other passengers, Frank Seibek, 13, of 633 Magnolia, and Walter Thomas of 631-A Magnolia, suffered minor injuries and said they would see their own doctors.

L. E. Castner is president of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District.

Donkey Solves Legal Puzzle

Ante Medic, another farmer, said the donkey belonged to him.

While a court argument went on, villagers led the donkey to a crossroads between the two farms and turned the animal loose. The donkey ambled straight to Simun's stable. The court ruled Simun the owner and ordered Ante to pay trial costs.

Firemen Prepare Annual Dance

Mill Valley Assn. of Volunteer Firemen will hold its 70th annual firemen's ball starting at 9 p.m., Nov. 6, at the Outdoor Art Club. The dance is to last until 2 a.m.

Dick Hart and his orchestra will play. Funds will be used to help pay for the Electron home receivers just purchased for use in volunteers' homes.

Tickets will be mailed shortly to all Mill Valley residents, Jim Vice, dance chairman, reported.

More Information Needed For U.S. Fund Distribution

Not all the information needed to distribute available federal funds to school districts under a new law was used in making up the distribution of $402,250.64 in Marin.

Dr. Daniel A. Collins of Mill Valley, a member of the State Board of Education, reported today that the list of children receiving welfare aid was used in figuring the money available.

As a result, the Sausalito School District will get only $12,128 under public law 89-10, while Kentfield school district will receive $19,455. School districts must prepare programs to aid education of children from poverty impoverished families before the allocations can be granted.

Only basis for the distribution in the county list was 1960 census figures of children in families where income is less than $2,000 a year.

The census showed that Mill Valley School District, which can receive $42,701, had 170 such families, while Sausalito School District had only 28, Collins said.

Collins further said these figures show that poverty is not largely confined to Negroes as some might have supposed. Because Negroes are isolated in the single area of Marin City, it is easy for the assumption to be made.

Adjustment in the money available to various school districts in the county may still be possible, based on the county welfare figures, Collins said. He has asked that this possibility be investigated.

Meanwhile, a better formula for the distribution should be worked up for next year, he declared.

Carson City, Nev., with a population of barely over 5,000, is the smallest capital city in the United States.

Tuberculin Test Dates Announced

Dates for the next two school tuberculin tests were announced today by the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn.

St. Raphael's School, with an enrollment of 780, will be tested on Jan. 24.

The Mill Valley School District's 3,461 pupils will be offered tests on Feb. 7.

Soon to be set are dates for testing at Our Lady of Loretto School in Novato and St. Patrick's School in Larkspur.

Since 1963 when the project was started, 7,498 school children in Marin have been tested. Two active cases of TB have been found and there have been 117 reactors — students showing by their reaction to the test that they have been infected by TB germs.

Medical and educational supplies for the testing are provided by the TB association.

HOW TO PLAY
WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

In A Bidding Bind, End Play Sometimes Can Save The Day

Perhaps the chief problem in the hand shown today is in the bidding.

The easiest contract is three no-trump played from the South position, but this is not easy to bid.

Opening lead — ♣ A

South would be happy to bid no-trump if North suggested it by such a bid as two hearts instead of three diamonds.

TOW TO KNOW?

Still, North has no way of knowing that no-trump is better than diamonds. North's singleton in clubs and weakness in spades are hardly assets at no-trump.

Fortunately for South, careful play enabled him to make five diamonds. The key play came at the second trick, when West led a low club.

South had to discard a spade from dummy, resisting the temptation to discard a heart.

Declarer then drew trumps and led a low heart toward dummy.

If West took the ace of hearts, South would later get a trick with the queen of hearts and reach dummy with a trump to discard the queen of spades on the king of hearts.

SEES DANGER

Seeing the danger of taking the ace of hearts, West played the nine to force out dummy's king. South thereupon got to his hand with a trump, cashed the king of clubs to discard a heart from dummy and then led the queen of hearts to force West into the lead.

If West returned a spade, South would get a free finesse. If West returned a club or a heart, dummy would ruff and South would discard the queen of spades.

If South then led a heart, West would take the ace of hearts and get out safely with another heart. West would eventually get the setting trick with the king of spades.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes. You hold:

♠ 9 8 5 4 2
♥ K 8 4
♦ A J 6 4
♣ 9

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one spade.

The hand is slightly too strong for a raise to two hearts. Bid the spades and show the heart support at your next turn.

Tuberculin Test Dates Announced

Dates for the next two school tuberculin tests were announced today by the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn.

St. Raphael's School, with an enrollment of 780, will be tested on Jan. 24.

The Mill Valley School District's 3,461 pupils will be offered tests on Feb. 7.

Soon to be set are dates for testing at Our Lady of Loretto School in Novato and St. Patrick's School in Larkspur.

Since 1963 when the project was started, 7,498 school children in Marin have been tested. Two active cases of TB have been found and there have been 117 reactors — students showing by their reaction to the test that they have been infected by TB germs.

Medical and educational supplies for the testing are provided by the TB association.

Youth Dance Slated

The Mill Valley Youth Council will hold a dance to music of the band, the Police, at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the city community and youth center. The dance is open to high school age members and guests only, said Les Mize, council co-director.

Date palms are ornamental.

Firemen Prepare Annual Dance

Mill Valley Assn. of Volunteer Firemen will hold its 70th annual firemen's ball starting at 9 p.m., Nov. 6, at the Outdoor Art Club. The dance is to last until 2 a.m.

Dick Hart and his orchestra will play. Funds will be used to help pay for the Electron home receivers just purchased for use in volunteers' homes.

Tickets will be mailed shortly to all Mill Valley residents, Jim Vice, dance chairman, reported.

More Information Needed For U.S. Fund Distribution

Not all the information needed to distribute available federal funds to school districts under a new law was used in making up the distribution of $402,250.64 in Marin.

Dr. Daniel A. Collins of Mill Valley, a member of the State Board of Education, reported today that the list of children receiving welfare aid was used in figuring the money available.

As a result, the Sausalito School District will get only $12,128 under public law 89-10, while Kentfield school district will receive $19,455. School districts must prepare programs to aid education of children from poverty impoverished families before the allocations can be granted.

Only basis for the distribution in the county list was 1960 census figures of children in families where income is less than $2,000 a year.

The census showed that Mill Valley School District, which can receive $42,701, had 170 such families, while Sausalito School District had only 28, Collins said.

Collins further said these figures show that poverty is not largely confined to Negroes as some might have supposed. Because Negroes are isolated in the single area of Marin City, it is easy for the assumption to be made.

Adjustment in the money available to various school districts in the county may still be possible, based on the county welfare figures, Collins said. He has asked that this possibility be investigated.

Meanwhile, a better formula for the distribution should be worked up for next year, he declared.

Carson City, Nev., with a population of barely over 5,000, is the smallest capital city in the United States.

New Czar? Frick Favors Baseball Man

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Ford Frick, who will retire as commissioner of baseball when his seven-year-term comes to an end this inter, feels confident his successor ill be elected at the winter meetings in Miami Beach in December.

"If they don't," he said today, "I'll be disappointed."

The major league owners delayed action of a new czar at their recent meeting in Chicago but empowered a four-man committee to investigate, interrogate and recommend a candidate for nomination at the winter meetings.

Asked whether he would stay on if a commissioner were not named in December, Frick said:

"I don't intend to fight a war with the owners, but I'll stay only within reason. I don't propose to be a lame duck forever, just hanging on from week to week.

"If they elect a man from within baseball, there will be no reason for me to stay around. If they go outside for a commissioner, he'll have to have a little help and I'll stay on for a little while. In that event, I'll be shooting for January of next year."

If it were up to Frick, the owners would replace him with a man from baseball.

"I'm about to retire and officially I have no voice in the choice of my successor," he said. "But all things being equal, I'd like to see them name a baseball man.

"Having been commissioner for 15 years, I know the main problems that are faced in the commissioner's office. They are mainly baseball problems and, therefore, a baseball man is better equipped to handle them.

"Another thing the owners should recognize is that it is a working job and not a show-window job. In other words, you want a man who knows baseball and will work 24 hours a day at it."

The screening committee, originally comprised of owners John Fetzer of Detroit and John Galbreath of Pittsburgh, has been doubled to include owners Phil Wrigley of the Chicago Cubs and Bob Reynolds of the California Angels.

"We will not recommend a candidate without unanimous agreement," said Fetzer. "It could be one candidate or it could be as many as four or five. The election will be done by the 20 owners."

The owners, at the Chicago meeting, established a five-man cabinet for the commissioner. The cabinet, to be selected by the new commissioner, ill include an administrator, and directors of radio-television, information, player relations and amateur baseball.

"I don't care who the next commissioner is," said Frick, "but if he doesn't take on Charley Segar, baseball's present secretary-treasurer, he's crazy. Charley knows all the answers. He's more familiar with the inner workings of the game than any man in baseball."

HORSE KILLED, JOCKEY HURT AT BAY MEADOWS

Jockey Frank Pacheco, 27, was hospitalized with severe back pains but X rays revealed no broken bones. His horse, Dark Galla, died almost instantly of an apparent broken neck.

The other jockey, Lennie Knowles, 30, escaped with some bruises. Neither rider lost consciousness when pitched to the track.

An account said the field of 10 swung into the stretch when Knowles' mount, Danalo, stumbled and fell. Dark Galla hurtled over, but crashed to the track.

Mrs. May Always Wins–Almost; So Please Forgive Our Error

Boy, the faces around here are about the color of that big ad on page 24. We came out the other day and printed the "fact" that Mrs. William May was going to defend her Mill Valley Golf Club championship this week when actually she is CHALLENGING for the title she LOST last year.

While this may seem to be an unforgiveable booboo, you'll have to forgive our staff. You see, Mrs. May has won so many golf tournaments so consistently that we have come to regard her as the Boston Celtics of local pasture pool. A sure winner if there ever was one.

VIRGINIA MAY has dominated tournaments so much that there for a while they were thinking of naming a month after her. Or a state. Her contemporaries thought it so unfair to them that they started a "Break Up Virginia May" movement, similar to the one instituted against the all-victorious Yankees of years gone by.

But Sheriff Louis Mountanos put a stop to that, saying any dismembering would have to be done to the club roster and not to the anatomy. "You cannot e-limb-inate or de-feet Mrs. May," I remember Mountanos saying. The girls are hackers, but this is going a bit too far.

SO, MRS. MAY of Woodacre went her merry, wholesome way, winning everything in sight until one day last year when Mrs. Thomas Keigwin defeated her in a stunning upset, not to mention a cute skirt, blouse and hairdo. They say traps proved Mrs. May's downfall that day, but anyone who says yes, Virginia, there is a sandy course gets 10 lashes with a wet noodle.

Getting Mrs. May's story fouled up the other day was not our first facts pas concerning Virginia. Since she never lost, we thought we'd save time by using a standing headline that said, "Mrs. William May." Then we'd just add the second line to describe the event that she'd won.

WELL, STRANGE things sometimes happen around newspaper composing rooms and there is always the danger of getting the wrong line inserted under "Mrs. William May."

TAKE YESTERDAY'S I-J, for example, and some of the following second lines that could have caused all kinds of embarrassments:

RELEASED IN IRAQ; PLANS POLISH VISIT; ANNULMENT ASKED; STILL IN LIMBO?; THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW; JIBES AGAINST STATE POLICE; A JOLT TO EDUCATORS; MARRIAGE LICENSES; STOLEN FROM HOME; TO BE DEDICATED; TO HAVE GATES, etc.

So you see we had to abandon that method of headlining Mrs. May's victories.

And please forgive our error in Tuesday's paper. It was just a habit.

FINANCIAL REPORT — The Giants must be kicking themselves especially hard today after reading the World Series cash payoffs. Each of the Dodgers received $10,297.43 and each Giant $1,856.-31, a slight difference of $8,441.12. Since the Giants finished two games behind L. A., lessee now that amounts to about $4,220.56 per game, give or take a few heartbreaks.

THREE OF THE top four cross country runners at Sonoma State College are Marin residents: Bill Ranney, Jim Lopes and Jeff Tuel. They placed second, third and fourth, respectively, in a 4.7-mile race last weekend.

SAN RAFAEL High's faculty must be in pretty good physical condition. The profs have two teams entered in this winter's San Rafael recreation basketball league.

LET A SMILE BE YOUR UMBRELLA

Toughest assignment at Marin Catholic High School must be that of cheerleaders during football season. The Wildcats haven't won a Marin Athletic League varsity grid game in about four years, yet students have maintained excellent spirit through their gridiron miseries. Above are the Marin Catholic spirit boosters who have done a great job of smiling through the storms this season. From left, Jo Diederich, Ollie Lagomarsino, Mary Ann Lento and Tim Lenehan. ALMADEN GOLF TOURNAMENT

Billy Discombooberated

By JAMES C. ANDERSON

SAN JOSE (UPI) — Ailing Billy Casper, aiming for a $100,000 year in golf, set out today to defend his title in the 72-hole $46,000 Almaden Open tournament.

Sniffing oxygen between practice rounds because of a smog-caused allergy which made breathing difficult, Casper admitted he is not as sharp as he was last week when he captured the $20,000 first prize in the Sahara Invitational at Las Vegas.

"I feel discombooberated," he said after shooting a three-over-par 75 in a pro-amateur warmup yesterday. "My balance is off, my timing is off and I just plain feel lousy."

But a sick Casper is like a sore-armed Sandy Koufax.

Casper already has won $96,771.90 this year on the PGA tour and with two tournaments yet to play he hopes to join Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Tony Lema in the front ranks of golf's leading money winners.

The leaders were little Jack McGowan of Largo, Fla., and Jerry Steelsmith of Santa Barbara, Calif., both shot six-under-par 66s on the 7,035-yard Almaden Country Club layout.

Steelsmith was a runnerup here last year with Pete Brown of Los Angeles and Casper. Casper finally won in a playoff.

Long-hitting Raymond Floyd of St. Andrews, Ill., and Miller Barber of San Antonio, Tex., finished next in the pro-amateur tuneup with 67s while Bruce Brampton of Australia, a real threat to Casper's title, posted a 68 as did Rex Baxter of Houston, Tex., and Brown.

While neither Palmer, Nicklaus nor Player entered the Almaden, the field does include Ken Venturi, the former National Open king, making a comeback after a year-long layoff because of hand injuries.

Venturi scored a two-over-par 74 yesterday but was happy with his game.

"It's comingback," he said. "I'm just on the verge of playing good."

The feature of the pro-amateur yesterday was a net zero recorded by 18-handicapper Sekul Spaich of San Jose. He holed a seven iron on the 140-yard 15th hole and with his stroke recorded a nothing.

WESTERN HOCKEY THRILLER

Seals Blow Lead, Get Tie

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Victoria Maple Leafs, determined to keep their place at the top of the Western Hockey League, woke up in the middle of the game last night to salvage a 3-3 tie with San Francisco Seals.

The Leafs let the Seals run up a 3-0 margin before catching fire to tie the game and battle through a scoreless overtime period.

In an inter-league game, the winless Los Angeles Blades were bombed 10-2 by the Pittsburgh Hornets whose Norm Beaudin scored the three-goal hat trick.

Wayne Connelly scored the only goal of the first period to put San Francisco in front. Charlie Burns made it 2-0 Seals early in the second period and Connelly's second goal at the midway point gave the Californians a comfortable lead.

Bill Shvets cut the edge just 26 seconds after Connelly's goal and John Sleaver brought the Leafs to within one goal with nearly 13 minutss gone in the final period. Milan Marcetta collected the tying tally with less than two minutes to play.

Each side got eight tries for the winning goal in the overtime, but the goalies held firm. John Henderson stopped a total of 50 shots for the Seals and Al Millar turned back 36 attempts for Victoria.

Bad News For Raiders: Wood And Cannon Hurt

OAKLAND (UPI) — Just when Dick Wood started to push Tom Flores for the Oakland Raiders starting quarterback job, he turned up lame.

Coach Al Davis said that Wood apparently bruised his knee during a key 22-yard run against Boston last Sunday. Wood came off the bench after Flores was knocked groggy and led the Raiders to victory.

Wood's injury is not considered serious, but it is expected to limit his playing time Sunday at Kansas City and also push Flores back into the starting berth.

Other bad news for Davis yesterday was that Billy Cannon, who has been starting at tight end, will be out three or four weeks with a hamstring pull.

On the more optimistic side, defensive backs Kent McCloughhan and Howie Williams, both shaken up against Boston, are expected to be fully recovered in time for Sunday's battle with the Chiefs.

Newest Shuffle Puts Card Dealer On Hot Spot

Did St Louis Boss Goof On Big Trade?

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Little-known Bob Howsam has had his troubles since becoming general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, but they are nothing compared to the spot he is on now.

Howsam replaced the popular Bing Devine in August, 1964, causing an uproar among St. Louis that became deafening when the Cardinals went on to win the pennant and World Series with Devine's players.

Then, in his first full season at the helm, the 1965 Cardinals finished seventh.

As if he didn't have enough troubles, in the last week Howsam has traded three-fourths of the infield that carried the team to the flag.

"I guess I'm really on the spot now," he said after trading first baseman Bill White, shortstop Dick Groat and catcher Bob Uecker to the Philadelphia Phillies yesterday for outfielder Alex Johnson, pitcher Art Mahaffey and catcher Pat Corrales.

"But I'm a positive thinker," said the 47-year-old Coloradan, wearing his always present smile. "I'm not trying to get rid of players. I'm trying to build a better ballclub."

Last week, he traded third baseman Ken Boyer, the league's Most Valuable Player in 1964, to the New York Mets for pitcher Al Jackson and infielder Charley Smith. Thus, almost half of the team that won the world championship is gone.

"We have added some young ballplayers to a club we expect to be fast and aggressive," he said. "If we do any more dealing, it will be with fringe players."

If Johnson, Mahaffey, Corrales, Jackson and Smith have good years in 1966, Howsam will have proved that he can meet the challenge handed him by the Cardinals and St. Louis fans. He will have won with "my team."

However, if those players fall flat, Howsam also realizes he could find himself back in Denver, where he was an insurance company executive before joining the Cardinals.

Howsam feels he has learned a great deal since taking the general manager job, a position in which he was named Minor League Baseball Executive of the Year with the Denver Bears in 1951 and 1956.

He also was one of five men who organized the American Football League and later he became president of the Denver Broncos of the AFL.

His inexperience in major league baseball led to many of his problems.

"The press was a little rough on me for a while," he said, "but I think I'm proving that I'm a good general manager for this ball club."

MARIN CAGE CLINIC GOES INTERNAT'L

The Marin County Basketball Clinic headed by College of Marin's Cal Riemcke is now internationally known.

Giving the fourth annual clinic an international flare Saturday will be presidents of national basketball federations of three countries.

From Poland will be Jan Mekulowski, from the Republic of Panama will be Frank Holness, and from Argentina will be Alberto Trama. The three basketball heads were sent to the United States to study the U.S. way of playing the game, and each will be accompanied by his interpreter.

Riemcke expects 275 persons to attend the clinic which will feature John Wooden, UCLA cage coach, and Glen Albaugh, coach at Cal State in Hayward. The clinic will be held at College of Marin, Kentfield.

Player Fires Record 62; Nicklaus 66

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) —South Africa's Gary Player shot a record-breaking 62 in the first round of the Australian Open at Adelaide's Kooyonga golf course today—then bitterly criticized himself for not breaking 60.

Player's 11-under-par 62 led by four strokes America's Jack Nicklaus, 66, with Australians Darrell Welch and John Sullivan at 67.

Player started with an eagle three and shot an amazing nine under-par for the first nine holes. He came home in 34 to equal the best known record for Open golf.

Golf writers said his 62 equalled the score of Spanish Canada Cup player, Ramond Sota, who shot 62 in the 196? French Open.

Player afterwards said "I thought I could achieve my biggest ambition and break 60 in open play. I am going to try harder tomorrow."

Nicklaus was a model of consistency, going out and home in 33's to trail by four strokes. Nicklaus' only comment was "the game is not over yet. I've still got a chance. But I've never seen anything like Gary's play today. He was terrific."

Wismer's Story: Riches To Rags

There are people who are name-droppers, there are people who are place-droppers, but Harry Wismer was a spectator-dropper.

A typical afternoon when Harry Wismer was broadcasting an Army-Navy or Notre Dame-Iowa football game would go something like this:

"And over there is J. Edgar Hoover, the great director of the FBI. Hi, Eddie! My house, next time, y'hear? Right behind him is the Queen of Roumania, Queenie, how y'been? How are the kids? Oh, oh, there goes Gen. Eisenhower, my good pal, and right behind him, Abe Schiller, of the Flamingo Hotel in Las Vegas. EVERYBODY is here today!"

SMALL DETAILS, like the truth, never got in the way of a good story when Harry was at the microphone, as he admits in his autobiography just out, "The Public Calls It Sport." Harry realized early in the game, the truth shall make you poor. He learned this serving as spotter for Graham McNamee ("It's a gorgeous blue-gold autumn afternoon with the sun shining wistfully through the magnificent shade elm trees—by the way, Notre Dame just scored on an 85-yard run by No. 23") and Bill Stern (HE'S ON THE 5, THE 4, THE 3, THE 2, THE 1,—HE SCORES! LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, I HAVE NEVER SEEN A MORE BEAUTIFUL RUN BY A HALFBACK IN MY WHOLE LIFE! FIVE WHOLE YARDS! LISTEN TO THE CROWD!")

HARRY CARRIED a larynx, an imagination and the gregariousness of a pickpocket probably as far as those one-purpose talents have ever been taken. And then he made the hustler's one mistake. He started believing in his own pitch. He went in hock to buy the snake oil himself.

He tells the whole sad story in his book, the title of which should be "How I Lost $2 Million and All My Friends in Football." Harry ended up like a blocked punt.

This football-shaped man out of Port Huron, Mich. fell in love with all the glittering propaganda of the "Golden Age of Sports" at an early age, and never outgrew it. He knew Cobb's batting average, Dempsey's record, the Four Horsemen's total yardage and Tommy Hitchcock's polo rating.

HE WANGLED an appointment for his Florida football coach, Charlie Bachman, as head coach at Michigan State through newspaper connections. This, in turn, got him the job as campus broadcaster. And that was all the leverage Harry Wismer needed.

First thing you knew, he was married to Henry Ford's niece, and Ford Motor Company's barrel-chested chief-of-staff and head-buster, Harry Bennett, was lining up more and better broadcasting contracts. And the first thing Harry Wismer knew, he was broadcasting college football for one network and the Washington Redskins' home games for another. He also ended up owning 25% of the Redskins and 25 % of the Detroit Lions. Dual ownership in the league was as illegal as clipping on the kickoff, so Harry put his Detroit shares in his father-in-law's name. The Lions in 1947 sold for the fantastic bargain of $165,000, and the first thing Harry knew, he was not just associating with millionaires, he was one.

HE FELL out with Washington Redskins' owner, George Preston Marshall (that never was very hard to do), and with his network bosses (that took a bit more concentration) and was ripe for The Great Adventure when the American Football League came along.

Harry believed in the league, $2 million worth. To hear him tell it, the coat-of-arms of the league should be a double-cross rampant on a field of two-faced characters. What the National Football League didn't do to the American Football League, its own partners did. Harry felt his back for knife-hilts every morning.

THE AFL was something the Texas Big Rich bought for their sons for Christmas one year instead of the proverbial set of trains—the New York Central. The AFL gobbled up more oil profits than a Latin-American confiscation, and sometimes seemed to consist of eight dry holes and a football. Harry Wismer's New York Titans were the deepest, dryest hole of all. Pretty soon, he was around at a new partner's, hat in hand, seeking a small loan—a million dollars. When they turned him down he was disconsolate.

IT WAS certainly not throwing good money after bad football, and they jacked Harry out of the game and into bankruptcy just before the television money truck began to back up to the front door. Harry was over a barrel, and got out of the league in one.

Harry will be back. A guy who can see J. Edgar Hoover where he ain't, describe a football game as it isn't, calling 'em as he can't see 'em, is not going to let one fumble send him back to the family haberdashery in Port Huron. Only the next time, he ought not to let the rich kids play just because they own the football.

THEY ALL GET OUR VOTE

These six gals are contesting for the title of "Miss Stretch Pants," a contest sponsored by the Marina Sea and Ski Shop in San Francisco. From left are Elaine Armstrong of Mill Valley, Judy Wahl of San Francisco, Marilyn Rafello of San Rafael, Sandy Cherniss of San Francisco, Rose Mary Hanson of Oakland and Carleen Bailey of San Anselmo. Judging, to be held Nov. 4, will be based on the girls' ability to ski, beauty, intelligence, personality, and, of course, how they look in a pair of tight fitting stretch pants.

Dark Must Answer To Lopat

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Ed Lopat, who expressed relief when fired as field manager by the Kansas City Athletics in 1964 but hung on with them in various odd jobs, was appointed executive vice president of the American League baseball club yesterday.

Lopat, 47, once a left-handed pitching ace for the New York Yankees, will be second in command only to A's owner Charles O. Finley.

"Everyone in the organization comes under my supervision," Lopat told a news conference. He said that includes Hank Peters, who had been the club's general manager, and Alvin Dark, former manager of the San Francisco Giants.

Dark and Peters will be his administrative assistants, Lopat said. When Dark was hired in August it was announced that he would be answerable only to Finley.

"Dark will work out of the front office as a liaison man and trouble shooter," Lopat explained. "He will do the same job for us that Harry Craft does for Baltimore."

World Series Loot: $10,297.43 For L.A.

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Sandy Koufax, Maury Wills and all other full-time Los Angeles Dodgers pocketed $10,297.43 for winning the 1965 World Series and the Minnesota Twins collected $6,634.36 for each losing share.

Although the total gate receipts of $2,975,041.60 set a record, the winning share was only the fourth highest since the American and National Leagues decided on a post-season championship playoff back in 1903.

The record for the most money earned by a winning player was set in 1963 when each Dodger received $12,794 in Los Angeles' four-game sweep over the New York Yankees. The 72,000 capacity at Yankee Stadium helped account for that.

In announcing the financial figures yesterday, Commissioner Ford Frick pointed out that each of the World Series participants divided their spoils in 35 shares and also dished out several cash awards.

Both the Dodgers and Twins, however, came out much richer than the participants in the 1964 World Series, when the winning St. Louis Cards got $8,622.19 each and the losing Yankees received $5,309.29 apiece.

Five teams in each league shared in the total players' pool of $885,612.21. The Chiacgo White Sox' full share for second place in the American League came to $1,873.52 as compared to the San Francisco Giants' $1,856.31. The Giants finished second in the National League.

Pittsburgh's Pirates got $1,245.91 each and Baltimore's Orioles $1,183.07 for finishing third. Fourth place full share money amounted to $627.87 for each member of the Cincinnati Reds and $618.51 for each Detroit Tiger.

The Milwaukee Braves received $263.06 and the Cleveland Indians $240.99 for finishing fifth.

First place teams divided 70 per cent of the players' pot (players share only in the first four games), 15 per cent went to the second place teams, 10 per cent to the third place teams and 5 per cent to the fourth place teams. The fifth place finishers received 2 per cent.

The official attendance figures for the seven games was 364,326, somewhat below the record of 420,784 who attended the 1959 World Series between the Dodgers and Chicago White Sox. The Dodgers' home park that year was the 92,000-seat Coliseum. Dodger Stadium seats 55,000.

Frick pointed out that the 1965 crowds swelled the all-time World Series attendance to 15,054,990. He also said that the federal, state and city admission taxes totaled $260,806 in 1965.

That figure amounted to more than the commissioner's share of $446,256.23. The Dodgers and Twins club management and the National and American Leagues each received $410,793.29 from the receipts.

Pitcher Jack Sanford, sold to the California Angels in midseason, received a two-thirds share of $1,237.54 from the Giants, who voted Warren Spahn, another pitcher, a half share of $928.15. Spahn joined the Giants in mid-July.

New Czar? Frick Favors Baseball Man

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Ford Frick, who will retire as commissioner of baseball when his seven-year-term comes to an end this inter, feels confident his successor ill be elected at the winter meetings in Miami Beach in December.

"If they don't," he said today, "I'll be disappointed."

The major league owners delayed action of a new czar at their recent meeting in Chicago but empowered a four-man committee to investigate, interrogate and recommend a candidate for nomination at the winter meetings.

Asked whether he would stay on if a commissioner were not named in December, Frick said:

"I don't intend to fight a war with the owners, but I'll stay only within reason. I don't propose to be a lame duck forever, just hanging on from week to week.

"If they elect a man from within baseball, there will be no reason for me to stay around. If they go outside for a commissioner, he'll have to have a little help and I'll stay on for a little while. In that event, I'll be shooting for January of next year."

If it were up to Frick, the owners would replace him with a man from baseball.

Independent-Journal Sports

FOURTH SECTION Thurs., Oct. 28, 1965 41

"I'm about to retire and officially I have no voice in the choice of my successor," he said. "But all things being equal, I'd like to see them name a baseball man.

"Having been commissioner for 15 years, I know the main problems that are faced in the commissioner's office. They are mainly baseball problems and, therefore, a baseball man is better equipped to handle them.

"Another thing the owners should recognize is that it is a working job and not a show-window job. In other words, you want a man who knows baseball and will work 24 hours a day at it."

The screening committee, originally comprised of owners John Fetzer of Detroit and John Galbreath of Pittsburgh, has been doubled to include owners Phil Wrigley of the Chicago Cubs and Bob Reynolds of the California Angels.

"We will not recommend a candidate without unanimous agreement," said Fetzer. "It could be one candidate or it could be as many as four or five. The election will be done by the 20 owners."

The owners, at the Chicago meeting, established a five-man cabinet for the commissioner. The cabinet, to be selected by the new commissioner, ill include an administrator, and directors of radio-television, information, player relations and amateur baseball.

"I don't care who the next commissioner is," said Frick, "but if he doesn't take on Charley Segar, baseball's present secretary-treasurer, he's crazy. Charley knows all the answers. He's more familiar with the inner workings of the game than any man in baseball."

HORSE KILLED, JOCKEY HURT AT BAY MEADOWS

Jockey Frank Pacheco, 27, was hospitalized with severe back pains but X rays revealed no broken bones. His horse, Dark Galla, died almost instantly of an apparent broken neck.

The other jockey, Lennie Knowles, 30, escaped with some bruises. Neither rider lost consciousness when pitched to the track.

An account said the field of 10 swung into the stretch when Knowles' mount, Danalo, stumbled and fell. Dark Galla hurtled over, but crashed to the track.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

Mrs. May Always Wins–Almost; So Please Forgive Our Error

Boy, the faces around here are about the color of that big ad on page 24. We came out the other day and printed the "fact" that Mrs. William May was going to defend her Mill Valley Golf Club championship this week when actually she is CHALLENGING for the title she LOST last year.

While this may seem to be an unforgiveable booboo, you'll have to forgive our staff. You see, Mrs. May has won so many golf tournaments so consistently that we have come to regard her as the Boston Celtics of local pasture pool. A sure winner if there ever was one.

VIRGINIA MAY has dominated tournaments so much that there for a while they were thinking of naming a month after her. Or a state. Her contemporaries thought it so unfair to them that they started a "Break Up Virginia May" movement, similar to the one instituted against the all-victorious Yankees of years gone by.

But Sheriff Louis Mountanos put a stop to that, saying any dismembering would have to be done to the club roster and not to the anatomy. "You cannot e-limb-inate or de-feet Mrs. May," I remember Mountanos saying. The girls are hackers, but this is going a bit too far.

SO, MRS. MAY of Woodacre went her merry, wholesome way, winning everything in sight until one day last year when Mrs. Thomas Keigwin defeated her in a stunning upset, not to mention a cute skirt, blouse and hairdo. They say traps proved Mrs. May's downfall that day, but anyone who says yes, Virginia, there is a sandy course gets 10 lashes with a wet noodle.

Getting Mrs. May's story fouled up the other day was not our first facts pas concerning Virginia. Since she never lost, we thought we'd save time by using a standing headline that said, "Mrs. William May." Then we'd just add the second line to describe the event that she'd won.

WELL, STRANGE things sometimes happen around newspaper composing rooms and there is always the danger of getting the wrong line inserted under "Mrs. William May."

TAKE YESTERDAY's I-J, for example, and some of the following second lines that could have caused all kinds of embarrassments:

RELEASED IN IRAQ; PLANS POLISH VISIT; ANNULMENT ASKED; STILL IN LIMBO?; THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW; JIBES AGAINST STATE POLICE; A JOLT TO EDUCATORS; MARRIAGE LICENSES; STOLEN FROM HOME; TO BE DEDICATED; TO HAVE GATES, etc.

So you see we had to abandon that method of headlining Mrs. May's victories.

And please forgive our error in Tuesday's paper. It was just a habit.

FINANCIAL REPORT — The Giants must be kicking themselves especially hard today after reading the World Series cash payoffs. Each of the Dodgers received $10,297.43 and each Giant $1,856.-31, a slight difference of $8,441.12. Since the Giants finished two games behind L. A., lessee now that amounts to about $4,220.56 per game, give or take a few heartbreaks.

THREE OF THE top four cross country runners at Sonoma State College are Marin residents: Bill Ranney, Jim Lopes and Jeff Tuel. They placed second, third and fourth, respectively, in a 4.7-mile race last weekend.

SAN RAFAEL High's faculty must be in pretty good physical condition. The profs have two teams entered in this winter's San Rafael recreation basketball league.

LET A SMILE BE YOUR UMBRELLA

Billy Discombooberated

By JAMES C. ANDERSON

SAN JOSE (UPI) — Ailing Billy Casper, aiming for a $100,000 year in golf, set out today to defend his title in the 72-hole $46,000 Almaden Open tournament.

Sniffing oxygen between practice rounds because of a smog-caused allergy which made breathing difficult, Casper admitted he is not as sharp as he was last week when he captured the $20,000 first prize in the Sahara Invitational at Las Vegas.

"I feel discombooberated," he said after shooting a three-over-par 75 in a pro-amateur warmup yesterday. "My balance is off, my timing is off and I just plain feel lousy."

But a sick Casper is like a sore-armed Sandy Koufax.

Casper already has won $96,771.90 this year on the PGA tour and with two tournaments yet to play he hopes to join Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Tony Lema in the front ranks of golf's leading money winners.

The leaders were little Jack McGowan of Largo, Fla., and Jerry Steelsmith of Santa Barbara, Calif., both shot six-under-par 66s on the 7,035-yard Almaden Country Club layout.

Steelsmith was a runnerup here last year with Pete Brown of Los Angeles and Casper. Casper finally won in a playoff.

Long-hitting Raymond Floyd of St. Andrews, Ill., and Miller Barber of San Antonio, Tex., finished next in the pro-amateur tuneup with 67s while Bruce Brampton of Australia, a real threat to Casper's title, posted a 68 as did Rex Baxter of Houston, Tex., and Brown.

While neither Palmer, Nicklaus nor Player entered the Almaden, the field does include Ken Venturi, the former National Open king, making a comeback after a year-long layoff because of hand injuries.

Venturi scored a two-over-par 74 yesterday but was happy with his game.

"It's comingback," he said. "I'm just on the verge of playing good."

The feature of the pro-amateur yesterday was a net zero recorded by 18-handicapper Sekul Spaich of San Jose. He holed a seven iron on the 140-yard 15th hole and with his stroke recorded a nothing.

Seals Blow Lead, Get Tie

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Victoria Maple Leafs, determined to keep their place at the top of the Western Hockey League, woke up in the middle of the game last night to salvage a 3-3 tie with San Francisco Seals.

The Leafs let the Seals run up a 3-0 margin before catching fire to tie the game and battle through a scoreless overtime period.

In an inter-league game, the winless Los Angeles Blades were bombed 10-2 by the Pittsburgh Hornets whose Norm Beaudin scored the three-goal hat trick.

Wayne Connelly scored the only goal of the first period to put San Francisco in front. Charlie Burns made it 2-0 Seals early in the second period and Connelly's second goal at the midway point gave the Californians a comfortable lead.

Bill Shvets cut the edge just 26 seconds after Connelly's goal and John Sleaver brought the Leafs to within one goal with nearly 13 minutss gone in the final period. Milan Marcetta collected the tying tally with less than two minutes to play.

Each side got eight tries for the winning goal in the overtime, but the goalies held firm. John Henderson stopped a total of 50 shots for the Seals and Al Millar turned back 36 attempts for Victoria.

Bad News For Raiders: Wood And Cannon Hurt

OAKLAND (UPI) — Just when Dick Wood started to push Tom Flores for the Oakland Raiders starting quarterback job, he turned up lame.

Coach Al Davis said that Wood apparently bruised his knee during a key 22-yard run against Boston last Sunday. Wood came off the bench after Flores was knocked groggy and led the Raiders to victory.

Wood's injury is not considered serious, but it is expected to limit his playing time Sunday at Kansas City and also push Flores back into the starting berth.

Other bad news for Davis yesterday was that Billy Cannon, who has been starting at tight end, will be out three or four weeks with a hamstring pull.

On the more optimistic side, defensive backs Kent McCloughhan and Howie Williams, both shaken up against Boston, are expected to be fully recovered in time for Sunday's battle with the Chiefs.

Did St Louis Boss Goof On Big Trade?

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Little-known Bob Howsam has had his troubles since becoming general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, but they are nothing compared to the spot he is on now.

Howsam replaced the popular Bing Devine in August, 1964, causing an uproar among St. Louis that became deafening when the Cardinals went on to win the pennant and World Series with Devine's players.

Then, in his first full season at the helm, the 1965 Cardinals finished seventh.

As if he didn't have enough troubles, in the last week Howsam has traded three-fourths of the infield that carried the team to the flag.

"I guess I'm really on the spot now," he said after trading first baseman Bill White, shortstop Dick Groat and catcher Bob Uecker to the Philadelphia Phillies yesterday for outfielder Alex Johnson, pitcher Art Mahaffey and catcher Pat Corrales.

"But I'm a positive thinker," said the 47-year-old Coloradan, wearing his always present smile. "I'm not trying to get rid of players. I'm trying to build a better ballclub."

Last week, he traded third baseman Ken Boyer, the league's Most Valuable Player in 1964, to the New York Mets for pitcher Al Jackson and infielder Charley Smith. Thus, almost half of the team that won the world championship is gone.

"We have added some young ballplayers to a club we expect to be fast and aggressive," he said. "If we do any more dealing, it will be with fringe players."

If Johnson, Mahaffey, Corrales, Jackson and Smith have good years in 1966, Howsam will have proved that he can meet the challenge handed him by the Cardinals and St. Louis fans. He will have won with "my team."

However, if those players fall flat, Howsam also realizes he could find himself back in Denver, where he was an insurance company executive before joining the Cardinals.

Howsam feels he has learned a great deal since taking the general manager job, a position in which he was named Minor League Baseball Executive of the Year with the Denver Bears in 1951 and 1956.

He also was one of five men who organized the American Football League and later he became president of the Denver Broncos of the AFL.

His inexperience in major league baseball led to many of his problems.

"The press was a little rough on me for a while," he said, "but I think I'm proving that I'm a good general manager for this ball club."

Player Fires Record 62; Nicklaus 66

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP)—South Africa's Gary Player shot a record-breaking 62 in the first round of the Australian Open at Adelaide's Kooyonga golf course today—then bitterly criticized himself for not breaking 60.

Player's 11-under-par 62 led by four strokes America's Jack Nicklaus, 66, with Australians Darrell Welch and John Sullivan at 67.

Player started with an eagle three and shot an amazing nine under-par for the first nine holes. He came home in 34 to equal the best known record for Open golf.

Golf writers said his 62 equalled the score of Spanish Canada Cup player, Ramond Sota, who shot 62 in the 1965 French Open.

Player afterwards said "I thought I could achieve my biggest ambition and break 60 in open play. I am going to try harder tomorrow."

Nicklaus was a model of consistency, going out and home in 33's to trail by four strokes. Nicklaus' only comment was "the game is not over yet. I've still got a chance. But I've never seen anything like Gary's play today. He was terrific."

STANFORD

PENN STATE

BERKELEY — Penn State has a 2-4 record, but the Nittany Lions publicity chief feels that the team's statistics are a better indication of the team's strength.

OREGON STATE

CORVALLIS, Ore. — Coach Dee Andros says that his Oregon State football team will have to be more consistent on offense if it hopes to beat Washington State in a Pacific Athletic Conference game here Saturday.

"We've got to move the ball and be more consistent," he declared. "And we've got to play good defense."

The Beavers have compiled a 3-3 record this season. The Cougars are 5-1.

OREGON DUCKS

EUGENE, Ore. — Coach Len Casanova drilled his Oregon football team in the rain yesterday as the Ducks continued to get ready for their game with Idaho here Saturday.

IDAHO POLISH

MOSCOW, Idaho — Idaho football coach Steve Musseau began polishing his offensive and defensive units yesterday as final preparations get undersy for the Vandals' game with the University of Oregon Ducks Saurday at Eugene.

USC TROJANS

LOS ANGELES — University of Southern California today planned to work on its weaknesses as shown in the Notre Dame game, stressing defense and a more varied offense.

Coach John McKay sent the Trojans through a defensive scrimmage yesterday to plug up the holes through which the Irish were able to pour. And he had quarterbacks Troy Winslow and Toby Page throwing as the Trojans worked on their passing patterns.

UCLA BRUINS

LOS ANGELES—Coach TOM Prothro ordered a brief polishing up drill today for the UCLA Bruins in their last orkout prior to departing at noon Friday for Colorado Springs, Colo., where they meet the Air Force Academy Saturday.

JIM MURRAY

Wismer's Story: Riches To Rags

There are people who are name-droppers, there are people who are place-droppers, but Harry Wismer was a spectator-dropper.

A typical afternoon when Harry Wismer was broadcasting an Army-Navy or Notre Dame-Iowa football game would go something like this:

"And over there is J. Edgar Hoover, the great director of the FBI. Hi, Eddie! My house, next time, y'hear? Right behind him is the Queen of Roumania, Queenie, how y'been? How are the kids? Oh, oh, there goes Gen. Eisenhower, my good pal, and right behind him, Abe Schiller, of the Flamingo Hotel in Las Vegas. EVERYBODY is here today!"

SMALL DETAILS, like the truth, never got in the way of a good story when Harry was at the microphone, as he admits in his autobiography just out, "The Public Calls It Sport." Harry realized early in the game, the truth shall make you poor. He learned this serving as spotter for Graham McNamee ("It's a gorgeous blue-gold autumn afternoon with the sun shining wistfully through the magnificent shade elm trees—by the way, Notre Dame just scored on an 85-yard run by No. 23") and Bill Stern (HE'S ON THE 5, THE 4, THE 3, THE 2, THE 1,—HE SCORES! LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, I HAVE NEVER SEEN A MORE BEAUTIFUL RUN BY A HALFBACK IN MY WHOLE LIFE! FIVE WHOLE YARDS! LISTEN TO THE CROWD!")

HARRY CARRIED a larynx, an imagination and the gregariousness of a pickpocket probably as far as those one-purpose talents have ever been taken. And then he made the hustler's one mistake. He started believing in his own pitch. He went in hock to buy the snake oil himself.

He tells the whole sad story in his book, the title of which should be "How I Lost $2 Million and All My Friends in Football." Harry ended up like a blocked punt.

This football-shaped man out of Port Huron, Mich. fell in love with all the glittering propaganda of the "Golden Age of Sports" at an early age, and never outgrew it. He knew Cobb's batting average, Dempsey's record, the Four Horsemen's total yardage and Tommy Hitchcock's polo rating.

HE WANGLED an appointment for his Florida football coach, Charlie Bachman, as head coach at Michigan State through newspaper connections. This, in turn, got him the job as campus broadcaster. And that was all the leverage Harry Wismer needed.

First thing you knew, he was married to Henry Ford's niece, and Ford Motor Company's barrel-chested chief-of-staff and head-buster, Harry Bennett, was lining up more and better broadcasting contracts. And the first thing Harry Wismer knew, he was broadcasting college football for one network and the Washington Redskins' home games for another. He also ended up owning 25% of the Redskins and 25 % of the Detroit Lions. Dual ownership in the league was as illegal as clipping on the kickoff, so Harry put his Detroit shares in his father-in-law's name. The Lions in 1947 sold for the fantastic bargain of $165,000, and the first thing Harry knew, he was not just associating with millionaires, he was one.

HE FELL out with Washington Redskins' owner, George Preston Marshall (that never was very hard to do), and with his network bosses (that took a bit more concentration) and was ripe for The Great Adventure when the American Football League came along.

Harry believed in the league, $2 million worth. To hear him tell it, the coat-of-arms of the league should be a double-cross rampant on a field of two-faced characters. What the National Football League didn't do to the American Football League, its own partners did. Harry felt his back for knife-hilts every morning.

THE AFL was something the Texas Big Rich bought for their sons for Christmas one year instead of the proverbial set of trains—the New York Central. The AFL gobbled up more oil profits than a Latin-American confiscation, and sometimes seemed to consist of eight dry holes and a football. Harry Wismer's New York Titans were the deepest, dryest hole of all. Pretty soon, he was around at a new partner's, hat in hand, seeking a small loan—a million dollars. When they turned him down he was disconsolate.

IT WAS certainly not throwing good money after bad football, and they jacked Harry out of the game and into bankruptcy just before the television money truck began to back up to the front door. Harry was over a barrel, and got out of the league in one.

Harry will be back. A guy who can see J. Edgar Hoover where he ain't, describe a football game as it isn't, calling 'em as he can't see 'em, is not going to let one fumble send him back to the family haberdashery in Port Huron. Only the next time, he ought not to let the rich kids play just because they own the football.

Dark Must Answer To Lopat

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Ed Lopat, who expressed relief when fired as field manager by the Kansas City Athletics in 1964 but hung on with them in various odd jobs, was appointed executive vice president of the American League baseball club yesterday.

Lopat, 47, once a left-handed pitching ace for the New York Yankees, will be second in command only to A's owner Charles O. Finley.

"Everyone in the organization comes under my supervision," Lopat told a news conference. He said that includes Hank Peters, who had been the club's general manager, and Alvin Dark, former manager of the San Francisco Giants.

Dark and Peters will be his administrative assistants, Lopat said. When Dark was hired in August it was announced that he would be answerable only to Finley.

"Dark will work out of the front office as a liaison man and trouble shooter," Lopat explained. "He will do the same job for us that Harry Craft does for Baltimore."

World Series Loot: $10,297.43 For L.A.

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Sandy Koufax, Maury Wills and all other full-time Los Angeles Dodgers pocketed $10,297.43 for winning the 1965 World Series and the Minnesota Twins collected $6,634.36 for each losing share.

Although the total gate receipts of $2,975,041.60 set a record, the winning share was only the fourth highest since the American and National Leagues decided on a post-season championship playoff back in 1903.

The record for the most money earned by a winning player was set in 1963 when each Dodger received $12,794 in Los Angeles' four-game sweep over the New York Yankees. The 72,000 capacity at Yankee Stadium helped account for that.

In announcing the financial figures yesterday, Commissioner Ford Frick pointed out that each of the World Series participants divided their spoils in 35 shares and also dished out several cash awards.

Both the Dodgers and Twins, however, came out much richer than the participants in the 1964 World Series, when the winning St. Louis Cards got $8,622.19 each and the losing Yankees received $5,309.29 apiece.

Five teams in each league shared in the total players' pool of $885,612.21. The Chiacgo White Sox' full share for second place in the American League came to $1,873.52 as compared to the San Francisco Giants' $1,856.31. The Giants finished second in the National League.

Pittsburgh's Pirates got $1,245.91 each and Baltimore's Orioles $1,183.07 for finishing third. Fourth place full share money amounted to $627.87 for each member of the Cincinnati Reds and $618.51 for each Detroit Tiger.

The Milwaukee Braves received $263.06 and the Cleveland Indians $240.99 for finishing fifth.

First place teams divided 70 per cent of the players' pot (players share only in the first four games), 15 per cent went to the second place teams, 10 per cent to the third place teams and 5 per cent to the fourth place teams. The fifth place finishers received 2 per cent.

The official attendance figures for the seven games was 364,326, somewhat below the record of 420,784 who attended the 1959 World Series between the Dodgers and Chicago White Sox. The Dodgers' home park that year was the 92,000-seat Coliseum. Dodger Stadium seats 55,000.

Frick pointed out that the 1965 crowds swelled the all-time World Series attendance to 15,054,990. He also said that the federal, state and city admission taxes totaled $260,806 in 1965.

That figure amounted to more than the commissioner's share of $446,256.23. The Dodgers and Twins club management and the National and American Leagues each received $410,793.29 from the receipts.

Pitcher Jack Sanford, sold to the California Angels in mid-season, received a two-thirds share of $1,237.54 from the Giants, who voted Warren Spahn, another pitcher, a half share of $928.15. Spahn joined the Giants in mid-July.

Old Dame Nature Plays Nasty Tricks On The Duck Hunters

STEVENS

Old Dame Nature is a contrary old gal. For weekend after weekend she sent blustery winds to discourage the local angling set. Then she gives us a balmy opening day for the shooting of waterfowl, and, as if she suddenly realized what she had done, she calls off the breezes and sends a spell of "blue-bird" weather, so balmy and serene that even the decoys refuse to move.

Considering the very productive opening day last Saturday, when there was such a quantity of targets, it is safe to predict that in the Napa marshes and the Suisun Bay areas, duck hunting will again become extremely productive. I have no data on the kills in such co-ops as were open, nor yet the Game Management regions, but in the Suisun area two reports should be an indication of what to expect at the clubs and the state controlled areas opening this Saturday.

FOR EXAMPLE: One of the first reports coming in was from the bossman of the Mel Toponce Company of San Leandro. Mel and three buddies tested the Grizzly Island area. The quartet of nimrods, Don Jones, Al Freitas, Jerry Fox and Toponce, spread out 70 decoys and had a ball when groups of two, three and more birds, mostly sprigs, came in to look the dekes over. Four limits in short order. Mel told me no dogs were needed as the surrounding land was flat and it was easy to spot a falling bird.

MEL TOPONCE, whose main hobby is hunting, suggested I pass along his prediction that the areas opening Saturday will furnish exceptional sport.

The second glowing report of duck hunting came from Frank Andronico. (Andronico is the owner of Six Point Island, which I mentioned as being for lease for the entire waterfowl season. A wonderful set-up for a small group of hunters. Right in the line of flight. It's a perfect, furnished gun club) Andronico reported the six hunters who hunted from Six Point Island limited out well before noon.

THE BAND OF dedicated striper fishermen known as the "Reel-Rod-Benders" just finished the latest "challenge" derby—last Saturday and Sunday. Looks like George Fernandez is going to be hard to top in subsequent "fish-outs." George hooked, played and boated a nice 42-pound striper off Garner Point. Second on the list was Alan Scott with a 38-pound, 3½-ounce striper. (Alan caught his lunker on a sardine head.) Harry Kellman was third with a 22½-pounder; Bob Naruo had a 21-12, Willia Naruo weighed in a 21-8, Mike Silva a 20-3, Joe Ciriello took a 17-pounder, Don Robbers a 14, Al Modena, 14 even.

SEVERAL MEMBERS of another well known fishing club, the Fishing Fools of San Lorenzo, took to the waters of the San Pablo Bay recently. Dick Payne, who reported, was out again on Sunday. This time with wife, Audrey, and daughters Denise and Darla, 9 and 11. Denise caught a nice 11½-pounder, while Darla fought mightily and brought in a cyclopean youngster of 4½ pounds. The one-eyed, badly deformed fish took a bullhead.

COAST COLLEGE GRID BRIEFS

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

CALIFORNIA

BERKELEY — Speedster Forrest Beaty may carry the ball frequently for the University of California this Saturday.

The track star has only been used on punt returns this year, but coach Ray Willsey has shifted him to second string left half behind Tom Relles this week as the Bears ready for Penn State.

Beaty has run the 220 in 20.2 and the 440 in 46.3, but has not run with the ball from scrimmage in a grid contest since he was a junior in high school.

STANFORD

PENN STATE

BERKELEY — Penn State has a 2-4 record, but the Nittany Lions publicity chief feels that the team's statistics are a better indication of the team's strength.

Jim Tarman pointed out yesterday that the team, which meets California Saturday, is 11th in the nation with an average od 342 yards per game.

WASHINGTON ST.

PULLMAN, Wash. — Defensive tackle Wayne Foster of Washington State is expected to be ready for action Saturday when the Cougars open conference play at Oregon State

Foster was injured against Indiana last week and drilled yesterday with his arm wrapped in tape.

U. of WASHINGTON

SEATTLE — Now that the University of Washington has found its passing attack, coach Jim Owens wants the Huskies to polish it up.

The new-found Husky air game brought victory to Washington over Oregon last Saturday. Yesterday, Owens worked his Huskies on passing and pass protection in preparation for Saturday's battle against Stanford.

OREGON STATE

CORVALLIS, Ore. — Coach Dee Andros says that his Oregon State football team will have to be more consistent on offense if it hopes to beat Washington State in a Pacific Athletic Conference game here Saturday.

"We've got to move the ball and be more consistent," he declared. "And we've got to play good defense."

The Beavers have compiled a 3-3 record this season. The Cougars are 5-1.

OREGON DUCKS

EUGENE, Ore. — Coach Len Casanova drilled his Oregon football team in the rain yesterday as the Ducks continued to get ready for their game with Idaho here Saturday.

Offensive guard Mark Richards and defensive specialist Cam Molter, both starters, are listed as doubtful for the contest because of injuries.

Richards was hurt last weekend and Molter has been out for two weeks.

IDAHO POLISH

MOSCOW, Idaho — Idaho football coach Steve Musseau began polishing his offensive and defensive units yesterday as final preparations get undersy for the Vandals' game with the University of Oregon Ducks Saurday at Eugene.

Offensively the Vandals worked on their outside attack. The emphasis was on drop-back passes with a short review on traps. The defense ran through a rehash of the Oregon club's offensive strategy.

SAN JOSE FOES

ALBUQUERQUE—University of New Mexico football coach Bill Weeks stressed offense in practice Wednesday making one change in the starting unit for the New Mexico-San Jose State game here Saturday.

USC TROJANS

LOS ANGELES — University of Southern California today planned to work on its weaknesses as shown in the Notre Dame game, stressing defense and a more varied offense.

Coach John McKay sent the Trojans through a defensive scrimmage yesterday to plug up the holes through which the Irish were able to pour. And he had quarterbacks Troy Winslow and Toby Page throwing as the Trojans worked on their passing patterns.

UCLA BRUINS

LOS ANGELES—Coach TOM Prothro ordered a brief polishing up drill today for the UCLA Bruins in their last orkout prior to departing at noon Friday for Colorado Springs, Colo., where they meet the Air Force Academy Saturday.

The Bruins indicated they expected an aerial attack from the Falcons as they stressed pass defense yesterday.

Ron Clarke Sets Another World Mark

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Australian distance runner Ron Clarke set world records for the 20,000 meters and one hour run at Landy Field, Geelong, Vicotria, last night.

He clocked 59 minutes 22.7 seconds to cut 5.6 seconds off the 20,000 meters record and covered 12 miles, 1006 yards, one foot, 10 inches to add 46 yards to the one-hour record.

Both old records were held by Bill Baillie of New Zealand and were set in Auckland, New Zealand, two years ago.

Clarke set a fast pace for the first six miles with quarter lap times varying between 68 and 70 seconds.

Clarke now holds seven world records, including the 5,000 meters, the 10,000 meters, six miles and three miles.

Navy Coach: A Gift For Parseghian

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Bill Elias, Navy's head football coach, has a present for Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian. But he would just as soon keep it for himself.

The possible gift is a weather-scarred horseshoe, newly-painted a bright green, which Elias intends to make a sort of trophy for the Navy-Notre Dame game Saturday at South Bend, Ind.

"I thought I'd present it to him if they win. If they don't I'll keep it," the Navy head mentor said at his weekly news conference yesterday.

Elias says — and he insists it's the truth —that the horseshoe was found on the Notre Dame field by Carl Schutte, an assistant coach at the Academy, when he scouted the Notre Dame spring game this year. Schutte decided to save it and redecorate it for Saturday's game.

The Irish, ranked No. 4 in the nation and riding the crest of a three-game winning streak, will be strong favorites to win the battle of the green horseshoe.

Something Fishy

OREGON CITY, Ore. (AP) — The new $325,000 Oregon City Municipal swimming pool will be directed by David W. Fish.

ADVENTURES IN DENTURES

San Rafael's Shone Is Top Scorer For Marin League

Rocky Shone, hard-driving San Rafael halfback, is the Marin Athletic League scoring leader so far this season, averaging a touchdown per game.

Shone, listed sixth among the league rushers, has scored 24 points with his four touchdowns in four games. His rushing average is 3.8 per carry, but when the Bulldogs need tough yardage, he usually gets the call.

Dean Lazzarini, that Drake speedster, remains on top in rushing with 363 yards gained in three league games. His average is 6.2 yards per carry. Pushing him for the lead is Novato's Dick Otis who has gained 290 yards for a 4.5 average. Otis is the defending league rushing champ.

Novato quarterback John Dolinsek is the leading passer, according to percentage of completions, connecting on 20 of 38 attempts for a total of 222 yards. Terra Linda signal caller Sid Norman has the most passing yardage, 299. Tom Corder, Novato end, is on top in receiving stats, catching 12 passes for 250 yards.

Novato leads total offensive team statistics with a 277 average, and the Hornets are tops in passing, with a 129 average. Drake has the high rushing average, 178.

Defensively, Terra Linda is tops in rushing allowed (82 average) and total yardage allowed (140 average). San Rafael has the best pass defense with a 53 average.

STEVENS

Old Dame Nature is a contrary old gal. For weekend after weekend she sent blustery winds to discourage the local angling set. Then she gives us a balmy opening day for the shooting of waterfowl, and, as if she suddenly realized what she had done, she calls off the breezes and sends a spell of "blue-bird" weather, so balmy and serene that even the decoys refuse to move.

Considering the very productive opening day last Saturday, when there was such a quantity of targets, it is safe to predict that in the Napa marshes and the Suisun Bay areas, duck hunting will again become extremely productive. I have no data on the kills in such co-ops as were open, nor yet the Game Management regions, but in the Suisun area two reports should be an indication of what to expect at the clubs and the state controlled areas opening this Saturday.

FOR EXAMPLE: One of the first reports coming in was from the bossman of the Mel Toponce Company of San Leandro. Mel and three buddies tested the Grizzly Island area. The quartet of nimrods, Don Jones, Al Freitas, Jerry Fox and Toponce, spread out 70 decoys and had a ball when groups of two, three and more birds, mostly sprigs, came in to look the dekes over. Four limits in short order. Mel told me no dogs were needed as the surrounding land was flat and it was easy to spot a falling bird.

MEL TOPONCE, whose main hobby is hunting, suggested I pass along his prediction that the areas opening Saturday will furnish exceptional sport.

The second glowing report of duck hunting came from Frank Andronico. (Andronico is the owner of Six Point Island, which I mentioned as being for lease for the entire waterfowl season. A wonderful set-up for a small group of hunters. Right in the line of flight. It's a perfect, furnished gun club) Andronico reported the six hunters who hunted from Six Point Island limited out well before noon.

THE BAND OF dedicated striper fishermen known as the "Reel-Rod-Benders" just finished the latest "challenge" derby—last Saturday and Sunday. Looks like George Fernandez is going to be hard to top in subsequent "fish-outs." George hooked, played and boated a nice 42-pound striper off Garner Point. Second on the list was Alan Scott with a 38-pound, 3½-ounce striper. (Alan caught his lunker on a sardine head.) Harry Kellman was third with a 22½-pounder; Bob Naruo had a 21-12, Willia Naruo weighed in a 21-8, Mike Silva a 20-3, Joe Ciriello took a 17-pounder, Don Robbers a 14, Al Modena, 14 even.

SEVERAL MEMBERS of another well known fishing club, the Fishing Fools of San Lorenzo, took to the waters of the San Pablo Bay recently. Dick Payne, who reported, was out again on Sunday. This time with wife, Audrey, and daughters Denise and Darla, 9 and 11. Denise caught a nice 11½-pounder, while Darla fought mightily and brought in a cyclopean youngster of 4½ pounds. The one-eyed, badly deformed fish took a bullhead.

Market Has A Loss After Active Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed with a loss today. Trading was active.

Weakness in American Telephone, triggered by news of a rate investigation by the government, upset AT&T. Some of the biggest blue chips—including General Motors and Jersey Standard—followed along to the downside.

Selling spread to many of the glamour issues in television, electronics, office equipments and aerospace.

The loss on average was mild, however, as quite a few key stocks yielded no ground.

Volume for the day was estimated at 7.3 million shares compared with 7.67 million yesterday.

Here was the picture near the close:

AT&T, the most widely held stock of all, was down about 1½ and was pacing the Big Board on volume.

General Motors sank a full point, Standard Oil (New Jersey) almost a point.

As the list backed away from two days of historic highs, many of the glamour stocks in television, electronics, office equipments and aerospace took fairly sharp losses.

Xerox dropped 4, Texas Instruments 3, Polaroid and Magnavos about 2 each, Zenith and Boeing about a point.

Eastern Airlines held a 2-point gain while losses of a point or so were shown by National Airlines and KLM Airlines.

U.S. Steel held firm. Kennecott rose about 1½.

Corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged.

A Wolf Lurks In Clothes Of Home Buyer

Women real estate brokers in Marin have been warned to beware of a customer who has an amorous glint in his eye.

Posing as a would-be purchaser, the man agrees to be shown round a house, but once inside, his mind wanders from the job in hand.

Daniel F. Deedy, manager of Marin Real Estate Board, was reluctant to talk about the warning today, describing it as "a domestic matter."

He confirmed, however, that the board issued a warning to women members about two weeks ago.

"We put them on notice to watch for this man—let's just he had amorous ideas. There have been no complaints received here since the notice was issued," he said.

Bus Revenues Up For Quarter

Net income for the first nine months of 1965 was $32,017,316, equal to $1.02 per common share outstanding.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Still More Construction Seen At Northgate Industrial Park

Activity continues at the Northgate Industrial Park. I notice that there are now five buildings completed here, one nearing completion — and the foundation for another has been started.

Among the recent comers to the park is Mogens Sundboll Van Line, which has taken 3,000 square feet on Carlos Drive. Sundboll, a native of Denmark, has been in the moving business in Marin for the past three years, but working mostly from his home in Terra Linda. He now has room for modern palletized storage—and two moving vans.

DOTTO GLASS CO., INC., now at 101 Joseph Court, San Rafael—in business about 18 months, since Roy Dotto Jr. began to work for himself, is another future Northgate Industrial Park occupant.

He has purchased a lot on Mitchell Boulevard and one of these days will put up his own building — probably with space left over to rent out to other firms.

NEW VENTURE of Mrs. Eva Gottheiner of Greenbrae is Olympus Whirlpool Bath of Marin, Sonoma and Napa. She has the exclusive retail distributorship in these three counties for a device manufactured by Sales Research Development Co. of Salt Lake City. At present she carries on the business from her home.

Olympus is a compact piece of physical therapy equipment, lightweight (24 pounds) and requires no special installation or maintenance. Just dunk it in the bathtub and get your exercise while relaxing, says Mrs. Gottheiner. Special features include a rotatable nozzle and a long-life G.E. motor.

Mrs. Lee Sherry of Fairfax is sales representative.

THERE IS NOW more construction going on in Strawberry Town and Country Village to finish up new stores than in any previous period. Almost all space is leased, I'm told, and it should be just about filled by the end of the year. After that, I guess they'll have to add another building or two at the south end of the village and increase the occupancy potential to 100.

IRWIN TARANTO of San Rafael has been appointed, manager, data processing, at the San Francisco service center of Stanford Data Processing Corp. He will be in charge of all operations, programming and systems work. Designed to assist the small to medium businessman in this type of service, Stanford Data Processing is located at 255 California Street. Another center is maintained in Stockton.

CERTIFICATES IN REAL ESTATE have recently been awarded to eight Marinites: C. E. Budar, San Rafael; Eugene J. Naber, Lucas Valley; Lance P. Moran, Kentfield; Robert R. Bergis, Belvedere; John L. Bosley, Ross; Vivienne F. Menzio, Mill Valley; Gertrude A. Picchi, Novato, and Herbert K. Stahl of Corte Madera.

MISS ANNA M. LANG of San Rafael has been approved for membership in the San Francisco chapter of the National Assn. of Accountants. She is employed as an accountant with the San Francisco legal firm of Townsend and Townsend.

NEW MANAGER of the Lee Bros. Value World store in Larkspur is William L. Allaman, recently from Los Angeles and before that, Chicago. He has been in department store work for the past 11 years and replaces Grant Walker, who recently resigned to go in business for himself in San Mateo.

OCT. 25 ISSUE of Sports Illustrated just delivered to the newsstands is already paying off for Chapman's Shoes in San Rafael. It carries an advertisement for DuPont Corfam shoes and list Chapman's along with Wanamaker in Philadelphia, Sterling Lindner in Cleveland and Sakowitz in Houston as agents.

"In such distinguished company as that I couldn't miss," said Irving Chapman. "The first day out I got four telephone orders as a direct result—one from as far away as Monterey."

Record Earnings For Western Bancorporation

Western Bancorporation's consolidated net operating earnings, after taxes, increased to a record $28,337,647 for the first nine months this year from $25,668,504 for the like 1964 period, Frank L. King, chairman of the board, has announced.

The earnings growth was accomplished after absorbing the increased costs of higher interest rates paid by the affiliated banks on their larger volume of time deposits this year, King said. The 1965 earnings are equal to $1.49 per share compared with $1.45 per share for 1964. Per share figures are based on more shares this year (19,012,002 average shares outstanding) than last year (17,683,402 average shares outstanding).

Third quarter earnings per share rose to 52 cents this year from the 50 cents reported for the third quarter last year.

Total deposits of Western Bancorporation's 24 affiliated banks amounted to $5,930,309,552 on Sept. 30, 1965, an increase of 5.2% over deposits of a year earlier. Loans and discounts less reserves totaled $3,993,340,378 at the end of the first nine months, a growth of 8.4 per cent from Sept. 30, 1964.

The first submarine, built in 1620 by Cornelus van Drebel, Dutchman in service to King James I of England, was propelled by 12 rowers during test of several hours 12-15 feet under the Thames River.

ADVENTURES IN DENTURES

San Rafael's Shone Is Top Scorer For Marin League

Novato quarterback John Dolinsek is the leading passer, according to percentage of completions, connecting on 20 of 38 attempts for a total of 222 yards. Terra Linda signal caller Sid Norman has the most passing yardage, 299. Tom Corder, Novato end, is on top in receiving stats, catching 12 passes for 250 yards.

Navy Coach: A Gift For Parseghian

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Bill Elias, Navy's head football coach, has a present for Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian. But he would just as soon keep it for himself.

The possible gift is a weather-scarred horseshoe, newly-painted a bright green, which Elias intends to make a sort of trophy for the Navy-Notre Dame game Saturday at South Bend, Ind.

"I thought I'd present it to him if they win. If they don't I'll keep it," the Navy head mentor said at his weekly news conference yesterday.

Elias says — and he insists it's the truth —that the horseshoe was found on the Notre Dame field by Carl Schutte, an assistant coach at the Academy, when he scouted the Notre Dame spring game this year. Schutte decided to save it and redecorate it for Saturday's game.

The Irish, ranked No. 4 in the nation and riding the crest of a three-game winning streak, will be strong favorites to win the battle of the green horseshoe.

Sleuthing Police, Firemen Discover 'Lost' Fairfax Girl

All police and reserve police and all firemen and volunteers in Fairfax last night joined in a massive search for a 5-year-old girl who was peacefully asleep at the home of a friend.

Ray C. Keck of 87 Scenic Road, Fairfax, reported at 6:10 p.m. his daughter, Barbara, had not been home since noon, when she was sent with a friend to Andy Peri Memorial Park to play. Barbara's mother, Edna Keck, had given the child a note that she was to be sent home at 1 p.m.

Mrs. Keck said she did not know the other girl's name or where she lived, but later in the evening said she believed she was called "Baba," and that she attended the morning kindergarten at Oak Manor School.

Firemen and police were called out to search culverts and creekbeds near the park, and the child's clothing was gathered from the distraught parents so that bloodhounds could be given a scent to follow.

Police were finally able to reach by phone kindergarten teacher Mrs. Cornelia Wyatt, who said "Baba" might be Babette Silberberg, but she could not remember the address, and it was not in the telephone directory.

A check of records revealed a Silberberg at 39 Merwin Avenue, and police went to the home, only to find a housekeeper there who could not speak English. They finally, through use of hand signs and faltering attempts at translation, got across the idea they were looking for a little girl.

She then readily showed them the child, asleep in bed with Babette.

Police said she had been unable to read the note, but that Barbara and Babette together had made her believe the note said she could stay overnight, rather than that she was to be sent home.

Market Has A Loss After Active Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed with a loss today. Trading was active.

Weakness in American Telephone, triggered by news of a rate investigation by the government, upset AT&T. Some of the biggest blue chips—including General Motors and Jersey Standard—followed along to the downside.

Selling spread to many of the glamour issues in television, electronics, office equipments and aerospace.

The loss on average was mild, however, as quite a few key stocks yielded no ground.

Volume for the day was estimated at 7.3 million shares compared with 7.67 million yesterday.

Here was the picture near the close:

AT&T, the most widely held stock of all, was down about 1½ and was pacing the Big Board on volume.

General Motors sank a full point, Standard Oil (New Jersey) almost a point.

As the list backed away from two days of historic highs, many of the glamour stocks in television, electronics, office equipments and aerospace took fairly sharp losses.

Xerox dropped 4, Texas Instruments 3, Polaroid and Magnavos about 2 each, Zenith and Boeing about a point.

Eastern Airlines held a 2-point gain while losses of a point or so were shown by National Airlines and KLM Airlines.

U.S. Steel held firm. Kennecott rose about 1½.

Corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged.

A Wolf Lurks In Clothes Of Home Buyer

Women real estate brokers in Marin have been warned to beware of a customer who has an amorous glint in his eye.

Posing as a would-be purchaser, the man agrees to be shown round a house, but once inside, his mind wanders from the job in hand.

Daniel F. Deedy, manager of Marin Real Estate Board, was reluctant to talk about the warning today, describing it as "a domestic matter."

He confirmed, however, that the board issued a warning to women members about two weeks ago.

"We put them on notice to watch for this man—let's just he had amorous ideas. There have been no complaints received here since the notice was issued," he said.

Bus Revenues Up For Quarter

CHICAGO — The Greyhound Corp. has announced increased earnings and revenues for the third quarter and first nine months of 1965.

Net income for the first nine months of 1965 was $32,017,316, equal to $1.02 per common share outstanding.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Still More Construction Seen At Northgate Industrial Park

Activity continues at the Northgate Industrial Park. I notice that there are now five buildings completed here, one nearing completion — and the foundation for another has been started.

Among the recent comers to the park is Mogens Sundboll Van Line, which has taken 3,000 square feet on Carlos Drive. Sundboll, a native of Denmark, has been in the moving business in Marin for the past three years, but working mostly from his home in Terra Linda. He now has room for modern palletized storage—and two moving vans.

DOTTO GLASS CO., INC., now at 101 Joseph Court, San Rafael—in business about 18 months, since Roy Dotto Jr. began to work for himself, is another future Northgate Industrial Park occupant.

He has purchased a lot on Mitchell Boulevard and one of these days will put up his own building — probably with space left over to rent out to other firms.

NEW VENTURE of Mrs. Eva Gottheiner of Greenbrae is Olympus Whirlpool Bath of Marin, Sonoma and Napa. She has the exclusive retail distributorship in these three counties for a device manufactured by Sales Research Development Co. of Salt Lake City. At present she carries on the business from her home.

Olympus is a compact piece of physical therapy equipment, lightweight (24 pounds) and requires no special installation or maintenance. Just dunk it in the bathtub and get your exercise while relaxing, says Mrs. Gottheiner. Special features include a rotatable nozzle and a long-life G.E. motor.

Mrs. Lee Sherry of Fairfax is sales representative.

THERE IS NOW more construction going on in Strawberry Town and Country Village to finish up new stores than in any previous period. Almost all space is leased, I'm told, and it should be just about filled by the end of the year. After that, I guess they'll have to add another building or two at the south end of the village and increase the occupancy potential to 100.

IRWIN TARANTO of San Rafael has been appointed, manager, data processing, at the San Francisco service center of Stanford Data Processing Corp. He will be in charge of all operations, programming and systems work. Designed to assist the small to medium businessman in this type of service, Stanford Data Processing is located at 255 California Street. Another center is maintained in Stockton.

CERTIFICATES IN REAL ESTATE have recently been awarded to eight Marinites: C. E. Budar, San Rafael; Eugene J. Naber, Lucas Valley; Lance P. Moran, Kentfield; Robert R. Bergis, Belvedere; John L. Bosley, Ross; Vivienne F. Menzio, Mill Valley; Gertrude A. Picchi, Novato, and Herbert K. Stahl of Corte Madera.

MISS ANNA M. LANG of San Rafael has been approved for membership in the San Francisco chapter of the National Assn. of Accountants. She is employed as an accountant with the San Francisco legal firm of Townsend and Townsend.

NEW MANAGER of the Lee Bros. Value World store in Larkspur is William L. Allaman, recently from Los Angeles and before that, Chicago. He has been in department store work for the past 11 years and replaces Grant Walker, who recently resigned to go in business for himself in San Mateo.

OCT. 25 ISSUE of Sports Illustrated just delivered to the newsstands is already paying off for Chapman's Shoes in San Rafael. It carries an advertisement for DuPont Corfam shoes and list Chapman's along with Wanamaker in Philadelphia, Sterling Lindner in Cleveland and Sakowitz in Houston as agents.

"In such distinguished company as that I couldn't miss," said Irving Chapman. "The first day out I got four telephone orders as a direct result—one from as far away as Monterey."

Record Earnings For Western Bancorporation

Western Bancorporation's consolidated net operating earnings, after taxes, increased to a record $28,337,647 for the first nine months this year from $25,668,504 for the like 1964 period, Frank L. King, chairman of the board, has announced.

The earnings growth was accomplished after absorbing the increased costs of higher interest rates paid by the affiliated banks on their larger volume of time deposits this year, King said. The 1965 earnings are equal to $1.49 per share compared with $1.45 per share for 1964. Per share figures are based on more shares this year (19,012,002 average shares outstanding) than last year (17,683,402 average shares outstanding).

Third quarter earnings per share rose to 52 cents this year from the 50 cents reported for the third quarter last year.

Total deposits of Western Bancorporation's 24 affiliated banks amounted to $5,930,309,552 on Sept. 30, 1965, an increase of 5.2% over deposits of a year earlier. Loans and discounts less reserves totaled $3,993,340,378 at the end of the first nine months, a growth of 8.4 per cent from Sept. 30, 1964.

The first submarine, built in 1620 by Cornelus van Drebel, Dutchman in service to King James I of England, was propelled by 12 rowers during test of several hours 12-15 feet under the Thames River.

East Bay Men Charged With Hired Murder

HAYWARD (UPI) — Two men were arraigned today in the alleged "gun-for-hire" slaying of a former Bridgeport, Wash., police chief whose death authorities said was engineered by his wife in order to collect $30,000 insurance money.

Mrs. Betty Prothero, 45, was arraigned yesterday for the Sept. 11 slaying of her husband, Edward, 49, who was shot down as he walked toward his trailer home.

Police said James R. Long, 28, a tree trimmer, and Joe Reynolds, 30, a cannery worker shot Prothero.

"We think she paid one of them to do the job and he got someone to help him," said Sheriff's Captain Kenneth Mitchell.

All three have denied the charges.

Prothero was Bridgeport chief in 1953 and was a former member of the Marysville police department. He was a teamster at the time of the slaying.

India Buys Radio

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India will get a 1,000-kilowatt Soviet radio transmitter under an agreement signed with the Soviet Union. It will join another 1,000 kilowatt transmitter bought from Yugoslavia which will be beamed for Indian broadcasts to Afica.

Theft Charge Against Mrs. Mays Is Dropped

PASADENA (AP) — A grand theft charge against Mrs. Marguerite Wendell Mays, former wife of San Francisco Giants' baseball ace Willie Mays, has been dismissed as an apparent case of mistaken identity.

Mrs. Mays, 35, was arraigned in Pasadena Municipal Court Monday on a charge of stealing a $4,400 diamond ring last Aug. 25 from a Pasadena jewelry store. Judge Louis T. Fletcher set her preliminary hearing for Nov. 2 and released Mrs. Mays on her own recognizance.

On Tuesday, Judge Fletcher dismissed the complaint at the request of John F. Hopkins, chief deputy of the Pasadena District Attorney's office. Hopkins, reading from a police report, told Judge Fletcher that witnesses who had identified Mrs. Mays from photographs as the woman who entered the V.D. Howes Jewelry Co. Aug. 25 are now unable to swear it was the same person. Some witnesses reportedly told police, "No, she is not the one."

Hopkins quoted Detective Lyle Fagan, who wrote the police report: "It is the opinion of the undersigned that due to lack of evidence and witnesses in this case the complaint against Mrs. Mays should be withdrawn." Hopkins asked for dismissal "in the interest of justice."

Federal Aid To Burned Ranches

Marin County farmers and ranchers whose land was damaged by this summer's extensive grass-fires may apply to the Department of Agriculture for aid in restoring the land for productive use, according to Mrs. Dorothy V. Main, manager of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office in Santa Rosa.

Deadline for filing applications is November 15.

The government will pay up to 80 per cent of the cost, Mrs. Main said, for such restoration measures as planting grass, replacing fences, installing water troughs and storage tanks, and planting trees.

An Opportunity Truants Miss

BOSTON (AP) —School kids in Massachusetts didn't know it, but for the past month they lived in a truant's paradise.

In a new law passed Sept. 26, there was no provision requiring children of any age to attend school.

But Gov. John A. Volpe ended that situation when he signed special legislation restoring the mandatory school attendance for children between 7 and 16.

City Rec Center Move Study On

San Rafael City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen said today he hopes to submit a report to the city council Monday on his efforts to find a new home for the city recreation center, which must leave its quarters at Fourth Street and Union Avenue by Nov. 19.

Andersen said he is now concentrating on one building, but has not yet reached an agreement with its owners. He declined to specify the location.

"We want to do nothing to disrupt the (senior citizen) program if we can," he said.

Andersen said he foresaw no danger that program will be unable to find a new home before the deadline arrives.

Sleuthing Police, Firemen Discover 'Lost' Fairfax Girl

All police and reserve police and all firemen and volunteers in Fairfax last night joined in a massive search for a 5-year-old girl who was peacefully asleep at the home of a friend.

Ray C. Keck of 87 Scenic Road, Fairfax, reported at 6:10 p.m. his daughter, Barbara, had not been home since noon, when she was sent with a friend to Andy Peri Memorial Park to play. Barbara's mother, Edna Keck, had given the child a note that she was to be sent home at 1 p.m.

Mrs. Keck said she did not know the other girl's name or where she lived, but later in the evening said she believed she was called "Baba," and that she attended the morning kindergarten at Oak Manor School.

Firemen and police were called out to search culverts and creekbeds near the park, and the child's clothing was gathered from the distraught parents so that bloodhounds could be given a scent to follow.

Police were finally able to reach by phone kindergarten teacher Mrs. Cornelia Wyatt, who said "Baba" might be Babette Silberberg, but she could not remember the address, and it was not in the telephone directory.

A check of records revealed a Silberberg at 39 Merwin Avenue, and police went to the home, only to find a housekeeper there who could not speak English. They finally, through use of hand signs and faltering attempts at translation, got across the idea they were looking for a little girl.

She then readily showed them the child, asleep in bed with Babette.

Police said she had been unable to read the note, but that Barbara and Babette together had made her believe the note said she could stay overnight, rather than that she was to be sent home.

East Bay Men Charged With Hired Murder

HAYWARD (UPI) — Two men were arraigned today in the alleged "gun-for-hire" slaying of a former Bridgeport, Wash., police chief whose death authorities said was engineered by his wife in order to collect $30,000 insurance money.

Mrs. Betty Prothero, 45, was arraigned yesterday for the Sept. 11 slaying of her husband, Edward, 49, who was shot down as he walked toward his trailer home.

Police said James R. Long, 28, a tree trimmer, and Joe Reynolds, 30, a cannery worker shot Prothero.

"We think she paid one of them to do the job and he got someone to help him," said Sheriff's Captain Kenneth Mitchell.

All three have denied the charges.

Prothero was Bridgeport chief in 1953 and was a former member of the Marysville police department. He was a teamster at the time of the slaying.

Theft Charge Against Mrs. Mays Is Dropped

PASADENA (AP) — A grand theft charge against Mrs. Marguerite Wendell Mays, former wife of San Francisco Giants' baseball ace Willie Mays, has been dismissed as an apparent case of mistaken identity.

Mrs. Mays, 35, was arraigned in Pasadena Municipal Court Monday on a charge of stealing a $4,400 diamond ring last Aug. 25 from a Pasadena jewelry store. Judge Louis T. Fletcher set her preliminary hearing for Nov. 2 and released Mrs. Mays on her own recognizance.

On Tuesday, Judge Fletcher dismissed the complaint at the request of John F. Hopkins, chief deputy of the Pasadena District Attorney's office. Hopkins, reading from a police report, told Judge Fletcher that witnesses who had identified Mrs. Mays from photographs as the woman who entered the V.D. Howes Jewelry Co. Aug. 25 are now unable to swear it was the same person. Some witnesses reportedly told police, "No, she is not the one."

Hopkins quoted Detective Lyle Fagan, who wrote the police report: "It is the opinion of the undersigned that due to lack of evidence and witnesses in this case the complaint against Mrs. Mays should be withdrawn." Hopkins asked for dismissal "in the interest of justice."

Federal Aid To Burned Ranches

Marin County farmers and ranchers whose land was damaged by this summer's extensive grass-fires may apply to the Department of Agriculture for aid in restoring the land for productive use, according to Mrs. Dorothy V. Main, manager of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office in Santa Rosa.

Deadline for filing applications is November 15.

The government will pay up to 80 per cent of the cost, Mrs. Main said, for such restoration measures as planting grass, replacing fences, installing water troughs and storage tanks, and planting trees.

An Opportunity Truants Miss

BOSTON (AP) —School kids in Massachusetts didn't know it, but for the past month they lived in a truant's paradise.

In a new law passed Sept. 26, there was no provision requiring children of any age to attend school.

But Gov. John A. Volpe ended that situation when he signed special legislation restoring the mandatory school attendance for children between 7 and 16.

City Rec Center Move Study On

San Rafael City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen said today he hopes to submit a report to the city council Monday on his efforts to find a new home for the city recreation center, which must leave its quarters at Fourth Street and Union Avenue by Nov. 19.

Andersen said he is now concentrating on one building, but has not yet reached an agreement with its owners. He declined to specify the location.

"We want to do nothing to disrupt the (senior citizen) program if we can," he said.

Andersen said he foresaw no danger that program will be unable to find a new home before the deadline arrives.

Black Point Widow's Body Found After Blaze In Home

VIEW FATAL FIRE—Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley and Chief George J. Cavallero of Novato Fire Department inspect charred ruins of home in which Mrs. Margaret Shea was burned to death at Black Point last night, seeking clue to cause of the blaze.
(Independent-Journal photo)

2 Other Houses Damaged

Mrs. Margaret Shea, 65, died in a fire that destroyed her frame home at 45 Manzanita Avenue, Black Point, at 9:30 p.m. yesterday.

Firemen found her body slumped across the bed in what had been her bedroom at the rear of the house.

Novato Fire Chief George J. Cavallero estimated the loss at $15,000 for the house itself and $4,000 for its contents.

The blaze burned the house to the ground, burned a hole in the roof of Mrs. Bess Parker's home at 55 Manzanita Avenue, and scorched paint at 39 Manzanita Avenue home of Mr. and Mrs. John Crowley.

FIREMAN HURT

Mrs. Parker's home was ignited by overhead electrical wires which melted due to the main fire, Cavallero said.

Fireman John Church, 33, suffered second and third degree burns on his left hand while putting out the fire from the falling wires. He was taken to Novato General Hospital, where he fas reported in good condition today.

Cavallero said he had not yet determined the cause of the fire. Neighbors who reported the blaze said it began in the bedroom. The entire house was in flames when firemen arrived.

Witnesses said the house "went up like a matchbox."

LUCKILY, NO WIND

Aware of low water pressure in Black Point, Cavallero sent the department's tank trucks along with the firefighting equipment. Had there been a high wind, he said, the blaze could easily have spread to all houses on top of the hill on Manzanita Drive.

Mrs. Shea was a native of Ireland, according to Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley.

She was a registered nurse and at one time operated a store and gas station at Black Point. A widow, she lived alone.

The coroner's office said there may also be other survivors, but their names were not known today.

YOUTHFUL FIRE FIGHTERS—These and many other local youths faced flames and smoke for several hours yesterday in efforts to contain a raging grass fire which, whipped by powerful winds, blackened 150 acres in Sleepy Hollow and San Rafael. Firemen reported that the youths, though often helpful, got in their way and had to led from the area. Fire, first reported at 3:40 p.m. yesterday, was still smoldering today.

Smog Change Scuttled By Revelation

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate Transportation Committee today drastically revised an administration - backed auto smog bill after a lawmaker said Gov. Brown's son-in-law represented a firm sponsoring the legislation.

The committee's action came at a special re-hearing called by Sen. Vernon Sturgeon, R-Paso Robles, who said he learned of the bill's background only the night before.

Sturgeon said he carried the bill at the request of Gov. Brown, who was acting on the request of the American Machine and Foundry Co. of Los Angeles.

Sturgeon said Joseph I. Kelly, the husband of Brown's daughter Cynthia, is legal representative for AMF.

The measure would have clarified the auto smog measure passed earlier this year by deleting a provision requiring that two smog control devices be approved by the state before they can be required on used cars.

Kenneth Ross, lobbyist for AMF, told the committee the

Union Discrimination Charged By Church

St. Andrew Presbyterian Church of Marin City yesterday asked the U.S. Justice Department to take legal action against building trades unions for racial discrimination on the church's new building.

The telegram to Washington asked for quick action under the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

"The church has tried to implement the non-discrimination clause in the construction contract, but the discriminatory nature of several key labor unions have made this impossible," said the telegram signed by the minister, Rev. Don Schilling, and by Rev. Wesley C. Baker of the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael.

The church is now under construction in Marin City. The congregation has been meeting for several years in the Marin City lounge.

"Of approximately 4,000 Bay Area plumbers, there are no Negro journeymen," the telegram went on. "The Electrical Workers local and other unions are little better. We urge the Justice Department to initiate

Pickets Pelted With Eggs, Fresh Fruit At Newspaper

Five pickets were pelted with fresh fruit and eggs last night in front of the Marin Guide office on Caledonia Street, Sausalito, in aftermath to a bomb-throwing about 20 hours earlier.

Jittery employees called the Sausalito Fire Department in fear of another bombing.

The pickets, patrolling for the International Typographical Union and Mailers Union, were pelted about 8:40 p.m. They were splattered but unharmed, police said.

Sausalito police nabbed two juveniles, said Chief Kenneth H. Huck, but were unable to establish whether they had thrown the groceries.

Car tampering and a fist fight at the Tamalpais Valley building where the Marin Guide and its companion publications were prepared for distribution Tuesday night were also disclosed today, as picketing continued there and at the Sausalito office.

The bomb was thrown early yesterday into a mailing room at 200 Shoreline Highway, Tamalpais Valley, where Johnson had moved his operations temporarily.

The bomb, identified today by sheriff's inspector Bowen Bridges as "almost certainly a military-type, colored smoke grenade," started a fire causing $4,000 damage to the office and contents. No one was injured.

Harry H. Johnson, publisher, made a citizen's arrest of Douglas Ajdee Smith, 45, of San Jose, Mailers Union president. He was charged with trespassing and was to be arraigned today in Marin Municipal Court.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said today no further charge had been filed against Smith but investigation was continuing.

Bridges said the grenade, about the size of a beer can,

Ross Council Joins Flood Control Pact

The Town of Ross opened the gate last night for participation by upstream Ross Valley cities in maintenance of the Corte Madera Creek flood control project.

The Ross Town Council voted 4-0 in favor of a joint powers agreement with the Marin County Flood Control District which would commit its town to paying its share of the maintenance up to a maximum of five cents on the tax rate. Councilman William P. McAndrews was absent.

A scattering of applause from the 10 Ross residents in the audience greeted the vote. (See also stories on page 8.)

"I'm very proud of the Town of Ross," said County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, the man responsible for splitting the flood control project into two phases to remove upstream cities' objections to a concrete channel.

San Anselmo and Fairfax must yet join the agreement to unfreeze two and a quarter million dollars of federal money for the Army Corps of Engineers to build the flood channel. Corte Madera and Larkspur have agreed to join a flood control zone, committing them more fully, since the project will be constructed through the twin cities, ending at the Ross town line.

The Ross action, moved by Councilman Jordan L. Martinelli Jr., included a proviso that an acceptable joint powers agreement be presented. County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney did

Wind-Whipped Fire Perils Sleepy Hollow, Terra Linda

Driving winds estimated at more than 45 miles per hour spread flames over 150 acres of grazing land in Sleepy Hollow and northwestern San Rafael yesterday and nearly engulfed one home.

The grass and brush fire was believed caused by two elementary school boys who were seen running from the scene when the blaze was first reported, said Richard E. McLaren, assistant San Anselmo fire chief.

"The wind was terrible. It made the fire extremely hard to catch," said McLaren. "The wind kept changing, forcing us to fight the fire from all directions. Often it would throw hot embers 200 yards ahead of the fire, starting new ones."

The fire was first reported at 3:40 p.m. It burned within 10 feet of eight homes on Van Tassel Court in Sleepy Hollow.

"We put four units on that side of the fire immediately to protect the homes," said McLaren.

No damage resulted from the fire beyond the charring of the huge expanse of hillsides with many trees seriously injured by the flames and smoke, he reported.

Dozens of youths fought the blaze with old rugs, shirts, home garden tools and burlap bags, but firemen found them a nuisance as well as a help. Sheriff's deputies were frequently called on to get the youngsters out of the way, said McLaren.

Smoke from the fire made it difficult to breathe in the area and many youths, coughing violently, had to be led to fresh air.

Fire was fought by six units with 16 men from San Anselmo Fire Department, four units and 13 men from the San Rafael Fire Department, and five units and a bulldozed from the Marin County Fire Department.

Fairfax Hunts For Firebug; Three Calls In 15 Minutes

Fairfax police today were investigating three grass fires believed deliberately set within 15 minutes last night.

A possible link between the three fires and a series of deliberately set fires west of Fairfax earlier this month is being pursued, said Fire Chief Charles M. Thornton.

The first fire was reported at 11:15 p.m. yesterday. The fire, which burned 100 square feet of grass, was behind the Jolly Market in the 2100 block of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

"We thought it had been set as soon as we got there," said Capt. Robert Cortelyou of the Fairfax Fire Department.

"There just wasn't any way that a person could have started it accidentally. No one should have been back there at all."

While firemen were fighting the first blaze, flames were reported at Scenic and Holly Roads. This fire, at the roadside, was in heavy brush. It burned another 100 square feet before firemen stopped it.

Only minutes after the second fire was reported, word came from Fairfax police who were patrolling the area in search of the incendiarist that a third fire was going, high on Scenic Road near Redwood Road. This also burned about 100 square feet.

"That one was in a really bad spot. If we hadn't reached that right away we could have really had some trouble. I'm certain that all three were set, maybe by someone who was driving around, tossing out match boxes with a lit cigarette inside," said Captain Cortelyou.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Admirals Quit; Huff Rumored

NEW YORK (AP) — The chief and deputy chief of the Navy's Bureau of Ships have submitted their resignations.

The Navy said last night in Washington that the two rear admirals—William A. Brockett, 51, and Charles A. Curtze, 54—had requested immediate retirement for personal reasons.

Brockett

No action has been taken yet on the requests by Brockett, chief of the Bureau of Ships; and Curtze, his assistant. Both men, now assigned to the Pentagon, assumed their present posts in April 1963.

The Bureau of Ships is one of the most powerful divisions of the Navy. It is responsible for shipbuilding and ship maintenance, with an annual budget of $2 billion.

Curtze

The New York Times said that from close associates of the two officers it was learned that the resignations, in effect, constituted a protest against the present management of the Pentagon by the office of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Castro Changes Exodus Rules

KEY WEST, Fla. (UPI)—The Cuban government announced today the hazardous small boat exodus to freedom across the choppy Florida Straits will end tonight at midnight.

The announcement apparently paved the way for an orderly airlift of Cubans dissatisfied with Fidel Castro's Communist regime.

The planes would land in Florida and most of the refugees would be resettled in other areas of the United States.

The official government announcement from Havana said that the refugee flow would be halted at midnight, but added that all boats docked at the embarkation ports of Camarioca and Vardero would be allowed to leave with their human cargo.

Havana Radio announced last night that there were "about 200 boats" anchored at the small north coastal Cuban villages waiting to leave.

The explosion, three hours after the main was ruptured by a ditch-digging machine yesterday, injured six Southern California Gas Co. employees from Indio and Albert Scott, volunteer fire chief for the Palm Desert State Division of Forestry fire station.

Flames burned for about two hours before the flow of gas was shut off in the main, about 50 feet from business buildings.

Pope Pronounces Sweeping Decrees Of Vatican Council

Anti-Semitism's End, Curia's Overhaul Officially Declared

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI and the bishops of the Vatican Ecumenical Council proclaimed five decrees today. They included promises of a drastic overhaul of the government of the Roman Catholic Church and a new and friendlier approach to Jews and other non-Christians.

By almost unanimous votes the council gave final approval to the decrees, which brought to 10 the total number issued since the council first met in 1962. Six more remain to be enacted.

Pope Paul told the council assembled in St. Peter's that the decrees raised no question of changing the basic nature of the Church or reducing it to the level of secular culture.

"The question is rather to render the Church more capable of developing its mission of good in the renewed conditions of human society," the Pope said. "The Church is thinking, the Church is speaking, the Church is growing, the Church is building itself up."

He said the decrees created new obligations for Catholics and added that he hoped the consequences "would be salutary for souls and for the life of the Church of tomorrow."

The Pope said he hoped non-Catholic Christians would "wish to contemplate" the new decrees as a manifestation of his Church's "renovated faith."

He said he hoped for similar contemplation from non-Christians, especially Jews, whom he described as people "certainly not of reprobation or distrust, but of respect, love and hope."

By their action in the public council meeting, the Pope and his bishops wrote a new chapter in the 2,000-year chronicle of their Church. They moved to modernize the structure of church government that has grown up since the Inquisition.

The decrees were proclaimed on the seventh anniversary of the election of Pope John XXIII, who brought the council into being. And the Pope and the bishops promulgated as many council decrees as were approved in the first three sessions of the assembly that John convened.

One decree, titled "On The Relation of The Church to Non-Christian Religions," declares that the Jewish people as a whole "cannot be charged" with the crucifixion of Christ. Ordering a new course in Catholic relations with other non-Christians, it alludes to the Christian-Moslem wars of the Crusades and "urges all to forget the past."

The longest decree, a 10,000-word document titled "Concerning The Pastoral Office of Bishops in The Church," endorses a synod or senate of bishops to advise the Pope and urges a reorganization of the predominantly conservative Vatican Curia — the central administration of the Church — to make it more representative of the entire Church.

A third decree, "On Christian Education," suggests that parochial schools be included in any subsidies given to education by the state. It also goes into general principles of education, proposing among other things that children be given a "positive and prudent" sex education.

The other two decrees deal with the modernization of priestly training in seminaries and of life in religious orders.

Wtih their promulgation the decrees were made public for the first time since the council started work on them. However, most of the essentials had become known during the lengthy council sessions of debate and voting.

The decree's guidelines for reform of the Vatican Curia had been awaited with particular interest.

As expected, the decree calls for a more international representation in the Curia, which has been largely Italian. But it had a surprise, saying that diocesan bishops — those living outside Rome — should also "be chosen as members" of Curia departments.

Phone Rates Probe Blasted By Industry

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission has ordered an investigation of telephone rates — an action blasted by the board chairman of AT&T as totally unwarranted and unnecessary.

The investigation, announced yesterday by the FCC, will cover almost all the services offered by the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

The regulatory agency said one of its objectives is to see if it should prescribe maximum charges to the public.

AT&T Board Chairman Frederick R. Kappel fired back in a statement issued in New York: "The action taken today by the FCC is totally unwarranted and unnecessary, and in the final analysis the telephone-using public will be the loser."

The commission ordered the investigation — it said it will set a date later for hearings in Washington — after studying an AT&T report on costs and earnings.

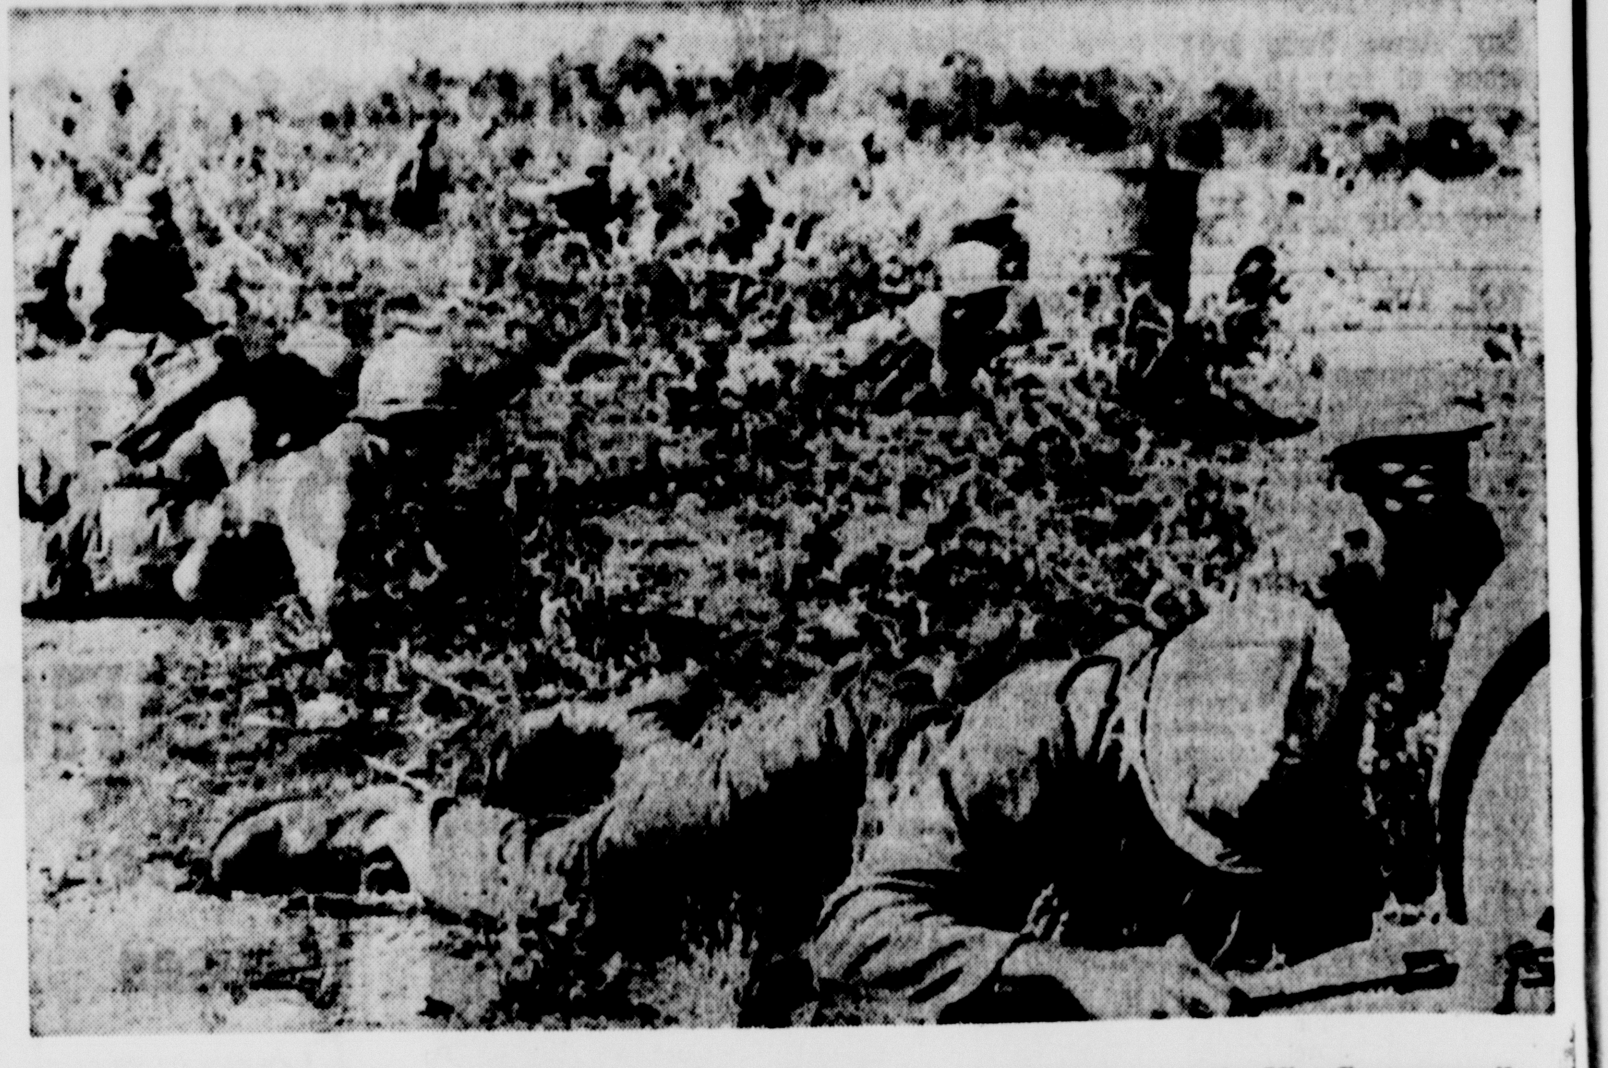
Among other things the investigation will determine, the FCC said, is if Bell System's charges are just and reasonable under the Communications Act.

Terror Laid To Indonesian Reds

JAKARTA (UPI) — Communist terrorists have killed nearly 200 persons in central and eastern Java since the abortive Oct. 1 coup, the Indonesian Army said today.

A "state of war" was proclaimed in a wide area of Java and curfews were imposed on two of the islands biggest cities —Semarang and Surakarta.

A communique released by the army information center charged Communist terrorists with mounting armed attacks on innocent civilians and carrying out a reign of murder, arson, kidnaping and robbery.



TROOPS UNDER FIRE — Men of the "Flying Horsemen" 1st Cavalry hug the ground today in a denuded field outside the beleaguered South Vietnamese fortified village of Plei Me, in an advance designed to clear out the Viet Cong guerrillas and North Vietnamese who have held the post under siege for more than a week. The airlifted troops cracked the Reds' attack yesterday, and are busy mopping up. (UPI Radiophoto)

Demo Blasts N.Y. Mayor Foe's Tactics

NEW YORK (UPI) — Democrat Abraham D. Beame, faced by the greatest Republican challenge since Fiorello LaGuardia became mayor of this Democratic stronghold, charged today that his opponent, Rep. John V. Lindsay, has resorted to gutter politics.

"My Republican opponent has managed to drag himself from the penthouses of Park Avenue right into the gutter," Beame said as the campaign entered the final stages for Tuesday's election.

He said every time someone shows up Lindsay "for his total ignorance, he covers up by a personal attack."

Lindsay, who represents Manhattan's "silk stocking" district in Congress has been leading Beame in one newspaper poll—the Daily News — some time and today the poll reported him widening his lead. Beame was ahead in another newspaper — The Herald Tribune — but, again, Lindsay was closing.

Beame's latest cause of concern was the fact that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey came to town Tuesday night to give his support — but without word of endorsement from President Johnson. The White House has not explained Johnson's silence.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today orbited another unmanned satellite in its Cosmos space exploration series, the Soviet news agency Tass reported. Tass said the satellite, Cosmos 94, carries scientific instruments for the space exploration program announced in March, 1962.

Viet Suicide Squads Damage U.S. Planes

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (UPI)—U. S. Marine patrols moved out today in pursuit of Viet Cong units who did an estimated $10 million damage to U. S. planes in simultaneous suicide attacks on two American installations.

The Communists, who destroyed or damaged 47 U. S. aircraft in the midnight attacks, were stopped before reaching their primary target, the main airbase at Da Nang, it was disclosed.

Maj. Gen. Lewis Walt, commander of U. S. Marine forces in Viet Nam, said at a news conference the guerrillas were spotted and chased by alert leatherneck units and heavy artillery before reaching the center of the Da Nang complex.

It also was disclosed today that more than 600 Viet Cong were known dead in three other campaigns.

A spokesman said 382 rebels were confirmed killed in the past 16 days by Vietnamese troops guarding the rice harvest in Phu Yen province, 230 miles northeast of Saigon.

Thirty-seven Viet Cong were killed Wednesday by American paratroopers of the 101st Airborne Division in "sniper valley," 270 miles northeast of the rapital.

Bodies of at least 201 guerrillas were found around the Plei Me U. S. Special Forces outpost in the central highlands, where an eight day siege was broken this week.

The Communist commando teams succeeded today in assaults at the Marble Mountain air facility east of Da Nang, 385 miles northeast of Saigon, and the Chu Lai air strip roughly 50 miles south of the main base.

They wrecked planes costing $2.5 million each and helicopters ranging in price from $200,000 to $250,000 apiece.

"This was a suicide attack," Walt told the news conference.

At Marble Mountain, authorities counted the burned out hulks of 18 destroyed HU-1B turbojet and H-34 helicopters. Twenty-two other H-34 and H-37s were found damaged.

At Chu Lai, a jet base, two A4 Skyhawk bombers were destroyed and five others damaged.

Walt said a squad of 12 Marines ambushed a Viet Cong uni estimated at 100 men about two miles south of the main base at Da Nang. Although vastly outnumbered, the Marines killed 15 of the surprised Viet Cong with bayonets and forced the others to withdraw. The squad had "light" casualties, a U. S. spokesman said.

LBJ Getting Set To Greet Top Visitors

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, though still leading the quiet life o a convalescent, has begun earnest talks about possible American visits by foreign leaders during the next couple of months.

Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk conferred Wednesday about the scheduling of visits by foreign dignitaries, either at the LBJ Ranch near here or in Washington.

Johnson aides, while speaking about visits, mentioned only one — the plan for a trip to the United States by West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard. There has been speculation Erhard might come in November.

Joseph Laitin, assistant press secretary, said he did not know whether the Johnson-Rusk discussion also embraced the forthcoming visit of Britain's Princess Margaret or possible trips to this country by President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan and Premier Lal Bahadur Shastri of India.

Although Princess Margaret and her husband, Lord Snowden, are scheduled to be entertained at the White House on Nov. 17, there has been some talk that Johnson might meet with the royal couple at the ranch instead.

Suburban Women Told Home Life Best, But Has Shortcomings

One hundred twenty-five suburban women and a dozen of their husbands gathered at the Marin County Civic Center last night to hear what suburban life is like and what it should be.

They heard that a woman should be happy in her home, a "whole person" with a non-specialized education, or that she should have interests or a job outside the home.

It was the second of a series of forums on "Home in Suburbia—Pandora's Box?" this one entitled "The B.A. in the Kitchen."

Rev. George Hedley, professor emeritus at Mills College, put forth his opinion that women should feel fulfilled in the home.

"Where did this notion arise about the function in the kitchen being less important than the function in the office?" Hedley asked.

"The business of education is to create a total person," Hedley said. He said he did not approve of wives working unless there was "extreme economic necessity."

But he was enthusiastic about wives' efforts to study art, politics, religion and other subjects while remaining housewives.

The other discussion leader, Mrs. Walter Daley of Millbrae, who writes a column for the San Francisco Chronicle, said the layout of suburban communities contributed to the isolation and boredom of wives and mothers.

She said she favored each suburban area having a recreation center for adults and children, where the adults could work on projects or just talk.

She noted that women often are isolated from adult conversation and become only "yellow cabs," trying to get the family from school to library, and to the shop and food stores which are too widely separated.

Other watchwords for the evening were enrich, togetherness, whole person, fulfillment, better person, satisfactory role, significant.

One woman in the audience suggested that women should, by law, give time in the form of service to less privileged children, school or welfare-type work needing them.

Another woman said she had her hands full with her household and said she resented being referred to as "just a housewife." She won the loudest applause of the evening.

The discussion was moderated by Jack Danielson, psychologist for the Dixie School District.

The next program will be Nov. 3, "Marriage on the Rocks." The discussions are sponsored by the Young Women's Christian Assn.; Marin Assn. for Mental Health; Family Service League; and Planned Parenthood, Inc.

Wilson Busy In Rhodesian Talks

SALISBURY, Thodesia (UPI)—British Prime Minister Harold Wilson held another round of talks with prominent Rhodesians oday in search of some way to stave off a unilateral declaration of independence by the white-ruled African colony.

Wilson met first with the Rhodesian Council of African Chiefs, a group which supports the government of Prime Minister Ian Smith.

Wilson had appointments later ith the Christian Council and the Constitutional Council. The Christian group represents most Rhodesian churches. The Constitutional Council is a watchdog committee of leading Rhodesians set up to advise on the legality of legislation affecting citizens' rights.

Chamber To Meet

The Marin County Chamber of Commerce will meet at noon tomorrow at the Dock restaurant, Aiburon, to discuss revision of bylaws.

'Joy Riding' Brings Sentence

William Rex Neale Jr., 19, aboard the Ranger moored at Hunters Point in San Francisco, was sentenced to 10 days in Marin County jail yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on his guilty plea to an amended complaint charging joy riding.

Neale originally was charged with felony car theft in an alleged spree of taking three vehicles last Thursday night.

He was specifically charged with taking the station wagon of Mrs. Robert W. Davidson, 316 Ross Drive, Tamalpais Valley.

Moving Day Set For Fire Alarm

If a fire alarm is sounded in Corte Madera Monday, the town's volunteer firemen will be called, not by the familiar fire horn, but by the air raid warning siren, Fire Chief Frank L. Nelson has announced.

Gamewell Corp., manufacturers of the air compression fire horn, will be moving the horn from Town Hall to the new Public Safety Building.

Nelson said the horn will be out of service all day Monday, beginning at 8 a.m.

Special Meeting On Building Chief

A special meeting of the Fairfax City Council to "take action on the future status of the building inspection function," has been called for 5:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Fairfax Women's Club.

The post of building inspector will become vacant when Rolfe M. Ockenden leaves. Ockendon recently announced his resignation effective in mid-November.

Arctic Atom Shot Due As Russ Ships Snoop

AMCHITKA ISLAND, Alaska (UPI)—Project Long Shot, delayed 24 hours by a fierce Aleutian storm, was expected to be detonated on schedule today at the bottom of a 2,300-foot hole on this barren, "L-shaped" island.

The blast was delayed twice yesterday then finally postponed just 20 minutes before the shot was to have gone off.

Purpose of the blast is to determine the difference between underground nuclear tests and natural earthquakes. It will be recorded at 211 seismic stations around the world.

The 80-kiloton nuclear device was scheduled to be detonated at 11 a.m. Alaska Standard Time (2 p.m. PDT), unless the Arctic Willawaw which raged through the Aleutians for two days should kick up again.

About three dozen Russian fishing vessels and two whale factory ships were reported working in the area yesterday, but it was not known if they were equiped with sensitive devices to monitor the blast.

Quake-conscience Alaska has been assured the blast, packing about four times the energy of either the Hiroshima or Nagasaki bombs which brought World War II to a close, will produce only slight surface motion.

Klan Probers Listen While The Fifth Keeps Flowing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Committee on un-American Activities today found the Grand Dragon of the Ku Klux Klan in South Carolina just as reluctant to answer questions as his colleagues from North Carolina and Virginia.

Robert E. Scoggin, 43, Spartanburg, S.C., told the committee his name and acknowledged that he had been subpoenaed to appear. Thereafter, he invoked the Fifth Amendment's protection against possible self-incrimination and refused to give testimony.

It was the same pattern followed by every top official of the United Klans of America, Inc. called by the committee since the inquiry began.

Scoggin, a lean, nattily dressed man, was identified as a plumbling and electrical contractor born in Polks County, N.C.

He as called to testify after the committee received information about a South Carolina "underground" team of Klansmen trained in the use of weapons and explosives.

The "underground" Klan group was first mentioned yesterday during questioning of Furman B. Williams, a 30-year-old Klansman from Gaffney, S.C.

Donald T. Appell, chief investigator for the committee said the secret group was believed to consist of less than 20 Klansmen. It was not know whether it has carried out any raids, Appell said.

Williams invoked the Fifth Amendment to each question he was asked. Committee Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., later said he had instructed Appell to pursue the matter further.

Rules To Be Set In Poverty War

Members of Marin's war on poverty advisory committee agreed last night that a set of by-laws must be drawn up before effective action can be taken.

Named to the by-laws committee were Mrs. Verna Bynum, Florence Scott, Arthur Brown and Walter Bremond, the county's community relations director.

Thomas Cutler, field representative for the office of economic opportunity in San Francisco, told the Marin group that priorities for programs must be established and the committee must be able to say "no" to some programs when funds are limited.

ROSS

not have a draft ready last night, but outlined what would be contained. He said he had discussed it with Town Atty. Robert W. Elliott and there were no legal problems.

The Ross council met in special session on the flood control matter, Mayor Frederick S. Allen saying he called the meeting because "I don't want to see the Town of Ross lose this money for the other towns."

More important than that, said City Engineer Philip B. Lygren, would be loss of what appears the only chance "to perform projects that would begin to do anything about flood control in the Ross Valley." He said there are "staggering obstacles to doing flood control by local taxation."

The joint powers agreement, as outlined by Maloney, will commit the upstream towns to pay their pro-rate cost of maintenance of the downstream project, based on assessed valuation, up to a maximum of a five-cent tax rate.

As to the second phase of the Army Corps of Engineers' proposed project — which brought outcries from Ross, San Anselmo and Fairfax residents at the idea of a concrete ditch through their towns—"you would be in the same position vis a vis the second part as you are right now," said Maloney. In other words, it would not be included in the project.

Cost of maintaining the downstream project is expected to add only 1.7 cents to the tax rate, said County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost.

County areas in the project will be included in the flood control zone. Kettenhofen said he hoped to work out a way for Sleepy Hollow to participate at the same rate as the upstream cities.

The joint powers agreement was brought up as a "last hope" after city opposition threatened to scuttle the project. Maloney said it would meet the requirements of the Corps of Engineers for local guarantee of the maintenance.

LBJ Reveals Double Gemini Flight Scheme

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson announced today the United States will try to put two spaceships into orbit at the same time, probably in January, so they can attempt to rendezvous and fly in formation.

Since each craft would have a two-man crew, this would put four American astronauts into space simultaneously.

The purpose of the dual flights would be to make up some of the time lost last week when failure of an Atlas-Agena rocket forced postponement of the Gemini 6 flight.

If all goes well, the two American spaceships would fly in formation as close to each other as possible—"a matter of feet," according to press secretary Bill D. Moyers.

The Soviet Union in 1963 put two manned spaceships into orbit simultaneously but, according to American estimates, they were separated by at least three miles.

PAPER

may have started the fire from spewing embers but is not a flame-bearing device.

Two employees reported yesterday to sheriff's deputies that their automobiles were tampered with late Tuesday night or early yesterday while they worked to help get out the papers at the Shoreline Highway building.

Mrs. Elliot Snyder of 120 Bulkley Avenue, Sausalito, said that at 1 a.m. yesterday, when she finished folding papers, she found her car's gasoline line and vacuum line had been removed.

Mary Haggett of 70 Rancho Road, Mill Valley, told deputies that air was let out of two tires on her Volkswagen.

Yesterday morning there was an explosion in a Marin Guide pickup truck when driver John Edward McElroy of Gate Five, Sausalito, started it in Lytton Square, Mill Valley. A garage mechanic on investigation told police the truck had been "hot wired."

Peter F. Stickney, 24, of 7 Perry Walk, San Rafael, and Willis A. McConnell of 612 Galerita Way, Santa Venetia, told sheriff's deputies that while they were picketing Tuesday before the Shoreline office, a Marin Guide truck narrowly missed hitting them.

Stickney said the driver leaped out and yanked a camera off Stickney's neck, breaking the strap. They scuffled, then the driver went into the building.

The Marin Guide has five companion publications which are distributed in various parts of the county. There are the Pelican to Tiburon and Bolinas; Ross Valley Times, Ross Valley; Sausalito News, Sausalito; Mill Valley News, Mill Valley, and Guide-Times, Corte Madera and Larkspur.

Planners Hold Informal Talks

Because they lacked a quorum, Corte Madera Park and Recreation commissioners could not hold a legal meeting last night, instead, those present held some informal discussions.

Three members discussed and informally approved landscaping plans for the remodeled town hall. They asked the town's public works department for an estimate of the cost of canvas windbreaks for the town park tennis courts.

They also informally approved plans to string Christmas tree lighting on the town hall and the new public safety building and to install a railing for steps at Menke Park near the post office.

George P. Scott, head of the Building Trades Council of Marin County, discounted the charges:

"Our records show that minority races, including the colored, are given the same opportunity to apply for unions. We've had quite a few applicants but they couldn't pass the test," Scott said.

"That's the crux of the problem," said J. Merton Muzzy, director of finance for the Northern California Presbytery, in San Francisco, who is responsible for enforcing the contract.

"That's why they can't vote in the south, too," he said. "They can't pass the test. We believe the tests are used in a very discriminatory way."

"We welcome the charges," declared Scott, "because all the locals have been told by the internationals that they must comply with the law." He said no violations had been called to the attention of the council.

As to whether there are Negroes in the plumbers and electrical workers unions, Scott said it would be a violation of the law to keep records by race.

Muzzi said the contractor for St. Andrews Church, Charles J. Hendrickson of San Rafael, "has tried valiantly to assist us" but has been stymied by the unions.

"The union representatives generally haven't bothered to show up at the meetings we have tried to have," Muzzi charged.

Under the Civil Rights Act, the problem must first be turned over to the State Fair Employment Practices Commission for investigation and then, if the charges are true, for negotiations to end the discrimination. If that fails, the federal government can take over with a similar procedure.

The U.S. attorney general, however, can file a suit in federal court immediately if he feels the case is serious enough to merit such action.

Firm Is Low Bidder For College Work

Watkin and Sibbald Associates, Inc., of San Anselmo yesterday submitted the lowest of six bids to build outdoor physical education facilities at Sonoma State College, Rohnert Park.

The firm's bid was $229,563, according to the state Office of Architecture and Construction. The work will be the second phase of a project and will involve a football field, running track and sprinkler system.

measure would have given the company "a practical monopoly" in the production of smog control devices for used cars.

The committee approved amendments to the measure that would re-instate the two-device requirement.

Ross told the committee, requested by Sturgeon to re-consider the bill, that there is a section remaining in the law that still requires two devices.

He said AMF was unwilling to continue production of its device unless this requirement were completely eliminated. He said the firm was afraid it might be open to lawsuits unless the law was clarified.

Ross also told the committee that if the two-device requirement were lifted, American Machine and Foundry "would have a practical monopoly" on producing smog control devices for used cars.

That's because only one other firm has been engaged in producing such devices, Ross said, and it recently withdrew from competition.

It is estimated the monopoly could mean $400 million to $650 million in business for AMF.

Stanford Safe Jurors Out

The jury in the Sally Stanford burglary trial went into its second day of deliberation today in San Francisco.

The seven-man, five-woman jury went to a hotel early today after deliberating 14 hours, starting at 10:20 a.m. yesterday.

At that time, jury foreman Warren F. Foley told Superior Court Judge Harry J. Neubarth the jurors were "pretty tired; we've been working hard."

Foley declined to answer when Judge Neubarth asked how the jury stood in any vote it might have taken thus far.

Earlier, when the jurors went to dinner, Foley said they stood "nothing to nothing."

Five men are accused of trying to burglarize the red brick mansion of Mrs. Marsha Owen (Sally Stanford), Sausalito restaurant owner and one-time San Francisco madam, last April 6.

Two defendants, Salvatore Polani, 44, and Patrick Buckman, 27, are San Francisco police officers. The others—Winston Major, 51, Wesley Gant, 56, and Louis Romero, 28 — all have prison records.

Major and Gant are safecrackers, while Romero is a three-time loser. He has been convicted for burglary, robbery and narcotics.

Sausalito Police Raid Alleged Call Girl Nest

Sausalito police halted an alleged high-priced call girl operation yesterday when they arrested two women in a daylight raid on a plush bayview apartment at 77 Bulkley Avenue.

Donna Lee Donaleche, 24, of San Francisco, a shapely blonde who gave her occupation as unemployed cocktail waitress, was charged with soliciting or engaging in prostitution and conspiracy to commit prostitution.

Barbara Ellen Benson, 40, of 77 Bulkley Avenue, Apt. 19, was charged with procuring a female for prostitution, keeping or residing in a house of prostitution, and conspiracy.

Sausalito police had the apartment under investigation for about two or three months after receiving a tip, Lt. Ted Zink reported.

They moved in yesterday after an undercoverman, Sgt. Perry J. Haley of Novato police, posing as a business representative of a Chicago firm, made the necessary arrangements.

Haley entered the apartment at about 1:40 p.m. and "about a half hour to 45 minutes later, Miss Donaleche arrived, Zink said.

After Hale yand Miss Donaleche entered the bedroom, Haley signaled Zin and Sgt. John Higgins of Sausalito police, who were in the next apartment. They forced the front door open and entered.

Prices for girls ranged from $100 upward and "the madam gets half" Zink said.

Zink said from 15 to 20 girls from throughout the Bay Area have been seen coming and going at the apartment while it was under investigation. "One month we watched every day," he said.

He described Mrs. Benson's apartment as a modern two-bedroom apartment with a view of the bay. He said Mrs. Benson rented the apartment two years ago.

Mrs. Benson was released under $2,750 bail and Miss Donaleche, under $1,650 bail. Both are scheduled to appear for arraignment in Marin Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

FOURTH HIGH SCHOOL FOR DISTRICT—This is architect Ralph B. Priestley's conception of how San Geronimo Valley High School will look when completed. Initial phase of the school, fourth for Tamalpais High School District, is to be financed from proceeds of bond issue that will be before voters Nov. 16—provided the issue receives the necessary two-thirds favorable vote.

TAMALPAIS DISTRICT

Bond Passage To Mean New San Geronimo High

(Third of Four Articles)

But voter approval on Nov. 16 of the Tamalpais High School District bond issue will mean that by September, 1967, some 600 to 700 students will move into a new school on the site, just north of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at the foot of White's Hill in the San Geronimo Valley.

They will come from Fairfax, Nicasio and from the valley itself, thereby relieving the strain on Drake High School facilities, and from Stinson Beach and Bolinas.

What they will find is an artfully scaled down version of architect Ralph Priestley's original valley high school—a version that is nonetheless not only a "complete" school, but one that even has certain advantages over the original.

The first design approved by the trustees had been geared to the district's ambitious master plan, a plan carrying a price tag of $13,000,000. Included was a valley high school that would accommodate 1,500.

When pending unification moves made such a long-range plan impractical, trustees turned to an alternative design for the valley facility.

The revised blueprints did four things:

1. They broke up the large academic building which had been the center of the original plan and introduced a number of smaller units, some of which could be built now, some later.

2. They provided for a full program of courses from the outset.

3. They retained from the original 1,500-student complex those items most costly to build piecemeal: the physical education plant, a theater, administrative space.

4. They emphasized a first-stage school that still looked like a completed school, a lesson in the aesthetics of stairstep construction learned at Redwood.

As it worked out, the change in plans brought a bonus. The smaller buildings will be more economical per square foot than the original plan's large academic central structure. In addition, variations in levels, roof design and materials possible with the multibuilding approach mean a more imaginative, pleasing layout.

Space in the school's first stage will be broken up into some two dozen classrooms, another 10 labs and workshops, two teaching and nine practice rooms for the music department, a library, and various rooms for communications and audio-visual programs.

The physical education plant will include boys' and girls' gymnasiums, a diving pool and a racing pool, a football field and track, plus volleyball, basketball, tennis and handball courts.

A cost breakdown of the $3,-050,000 estimate shows $425,000 earmarked for rough and finished site development, $128,000 for utilities, $2,262,000 in building costs, and $235,000 for equipment.

Sheltering hills, watching cows and untouched shade trees are unappraised in value. They, too, are a bonus.

Man 'Critical' After Cliff Fall

Aubrey Olson, son-in-law of Marin County Undersheriff Eugene L. Meyer, still unconscious and in critical condition from a 250-foot fall Saturday, was transferred yesterday from Marshall Hospital in Placerville to Sutter Memorial Hospital, Sacramento.

X-rays there revealed that in addition to a skull fracture, Olson also had all but two of his ribs broken in the fall down a cliff on a fishing excursion. One of the broken ribs punctured a lung.

Olson formerly was a postman in Tiburon, leaving the job three months ago.

Monk Testifies Actor Shot Wife

INDIO (AP)—Despite strenuous objections by the defense, a Buddhist monk has testified in Superior Court that former actor Tom Neal told him he had shot his estranged wife Gail Neal.

The monk, Robert Balzer, who owns a restaurant at Idyllwild, was a reluctant witness. Before testifying he asked the judge if Neal's statements to him shouldn't be considered confidential in view of the fact that he, Balzer, is a monk. But the court directed him to testify.

Balzer, called as a prosecution witness, testified that Neal came to him last April 1 and told him his wife was dead. The witness added that Neal said to him: "'I shot her. She was napping."

Doctors Told Not To Judge Morality Of Sexual Acts

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—There is no such thing as a "good" or "bad" sex act in nature, according to Dr. E.M. Marsh, of Mill Valley, a gynecologist from San Francisco.

In a speech yesterday at the 17th annual meeting of the California Academy of General Practice at the Statler - Hilton Hotel, Marsh said there are several valid ways of looking at sex, including those of the lawyer, scientist, theologian and sociologist.

Marsh advised doctors to use the scientific and biological view that no sexual activity is "unnatural" if they desire to do their patients the most good.

"The theologian makes a moral judgment based on the traditional Judeo-Christian code of behavior," Marsh said.

"The sociologist asks what's best for the greatest number, and the lawyer asks what's legal. The physician should make no judgment apart from that that has to do with the physical and mental health of his paitent," he added.

For doctors to be able to do this, he said, they should be unable to be shocked and upset emotionally by the confidences of their patients. Unfortunately, however, few doctors are this well insulated, he said.

"Doctors are as poorly educated about sex and as much in the dark as other people," Marsh said. "Still, they are the ones most often asked for advice about it.

"They can help their patients if they look at sexual matters from the biologist's point of view and not from the theologian's, lawyer's or sociologist's."

Woman Bruised In Car Crash

A Corte Madera woman suffered a bruised right elbow at 10 p.m. yesterday in a truck-auto collision on Highway 101, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said a car driven by Sam Gazzano, 62, of 332 Willow Avenue, Corte Madera, began to stall halfway up the Alto Hill and was hit from behind by a truck-trailer driven by Daniel Motta, 42, of Gilroy.

Gazzano's wife, Maria, 59, was treated at Marin General Hospital. Gazzano and Motto were unhurt.

Eva I. Goetschius, 58, of 55 Canal Street, San Rafael, was injured at 4:30 p.m. yesterday when her car was struck in the rear by another on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Greenbrae, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Miss Goetschius, eastbound, was stopped for a red light at La Cuesta Drive when her car was hit by one driven by Frederico R. Borrego, 60, of 294 Scenic Road, Fairfax, the patrol said. Miss Goetschius complained of neck pains and was to see her own doctor.

Woman Is Given Oxygen, Then Goes To Hospital

Betty Louise Baxter of Mill Valley was treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday, then transferred to Napa State Hospital after what she said was a suicide attempt at her home at 14 Gomez Way, Apt. 2. The hospital reported her in "good condition."

Police were called to Miss Baxter's Tam Terrace apartment by the apartment manager at 4:15 p.m. On arrival they found her sitting in he car in the carport, smoking a cigarette.

The car had been backed into the parking stall and a garden hose had been taped to the exhaust pipe with masking tape and the other end inserted into the car window. She told police she intended to commit suicide.

Civic Affairs Group Backs Study Of Deck

Marin Council for Civic Affairs directors last night endorsed study of a second deck on the Golden Gate Bridge and —with some reservations—the Marincello master plan.

The vote on the latter was split 6-4.

The bridge deck resolution carries a provision that two other concurrent studies should be undertaken: bridge approach widening, and the possible addition of rapid transit on the bridge.

The Marincello resolution approves the principle of a planned community, variety of housing types, cluster housing and the 3.5-units-per-acre density limitation. However, it asks county supervisors to require more detailed planning before any work begins.

Voting for the Marincello resolution were Robert McCreadie, N. Robert Heyer, Milen Dempster, Mrs. Ida Geary, Edward J. Neumeier and Mrs. Jerry Warenback. Opposing were Mrs. Aline McClain, Mrs. Muriel Apenzeller, Mary Henry and Mrs. Ezilda Lucheta. Chairman Naphtali H. Knox and Mrs. Margaret Azevedo abstained.

The council has 25 directors, but only 12 were present.

Woman Suffers Cuts, Bruises In Crash

Ernestine M. Sultan, 43, of San Francisco suffered a bruised and cut left leg at 11:50 a.m. yesterday in an auto crash on Highway 101 near Sausalito, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Miss Sultan was northbound 150 feet north of the Bridgeway on-ramp at about 60 miles per hour when she braked to avoid hitting a car stopped in front of her and crashed into the center divider. She was to see her own physician.

Dixie Board Turns Down City Charter

Trustees of Dixie School District last night unanimously agreed that a unified Dixie-San Rafael School District should operate under the general state law governing school districts and not under the San Rafael city charter.

The present San Rafael high and elementary districts are under city charter provisions at variance in some details from general state school district laws.

Trustees did not reach a decision on whether the board for the proposed district should have five or seven members.

The recommendation against the charter will go to the Marin County Committee on School District Organization.

Both school boards will meet for further discussion of unification at Miller Creek School next Thursday evening.

Dixie School District trustees last night also:

1. Agreed that shorter school days during parent conference periods should continue, despite complaints from some parents of children in lower grades.

2. Agreed that eighth grade classes are too large to continue joint graduation programs. There will be two programs next June, at Vallecito and Miller Creek schools.

3. Rejected the recommendation of Supt. Dennie B. Willis that he be permitted to employ sons and daughters of district employees.

4. Asked Willis to prepare a program showing how $11,370 could be used by the district in educating children from impoverished families. The money is available under new public law 89-10.

5. Hired Mrs. Loretta Lawson at $5,000 a year to teach a combination third and fourth grade class in Lucas Valley School.

Th City of Fairfax is working on a joint powers agreement with the Marin County Flood Control District to provide its share of maintenanec of the downstream Corte Madera Creek flood control project, City Administrator David J. Sumbardo said today.

The joint powers agreement is to be presented to the San Anselmo City Council at its Nov. 9 meeting.

Fairfax councilmen indicated willingness to enter into such an agreement during discussion at their latest meeting, Sumbardo said, with the provisio that the maximum tax rate would be five cents per $100 assessed valuation.

The council directed Sumbardo to work out the agreement with County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, the city administrator said today.

San Anselmo councilmen expressed interest in the joint powers agreement but put off discussion until Nov. 9 to find out what the agreement would contain.

All three of the upstream cities must enter into an agreement to assure maintenance of the flood control project, according to Maloney.

Camp Fire Girls Given Chance To Grow, Find Many Friends

By KIM TUCKER

The watchword of the Camp Fire Girls is "Wohelo." This word is coined from the first two letters of the words work, health, and love. It is around this watchword that all programs of Camp Fire Girls revolve.

In Marin more than 2,700 girls from ages seven through high school participate in Camp Fire Girls programs.

When a young girl becomes a Blue Bird, she enters an exciting world of fun and friendships. The Blue Bird program stimulates creative play built around family and community life. During the past year Marin Blue Birds took trips to Audubon Canyon Ranch in Bolinas and to Stanford and Palo Alto.

When a girl reaches the age of 12 she may belong to Junior Hi Camp Fire Girls. This group enjoys cookouts and overnight get-togethers, courses in flower arrangements, sewing and other homemaking projects, and teaching games to children. During this past year Marin Junior Hi Camp Fire Girls enjoyed the facilities of Forest Farms Camp at Forest Knolls for their cookout and camping experiences.

The Camp Fire Girls program centers around seven divisions, called the seven crafts. They are home, creative arts, outdoors, frontiers of physical science, business, sports and games, and citizenship.

A girl electing to devote her Camp Fire fun to those activities concerning Homemaking would receive experiences in cooking, meal planning, entertaining guests, table setting, marketing and menus, and caring for children.

If her key interests are in the outdoors, she would participate in hiking, camping, outdoor cooking and nature lore.

In creative arts, the Camp Fire Girl has an opportunity to express her creative talents and perhaps find a few she didn't know she had. She can learn to work with wood block design, weave, write songs or plays, help plan costumes for a play, pageant or fashion show, or draw and paint.

The frontiers craft opens new vistas in learning for the Camp Fire Girl who is curious to learn about things that are a part of her everyday life. This may include a tour of an airport, broadcasting station, newspaper, or other community industry or activity. She may learn how to wire a doll's house for light, and endless other fascinating and interesting fields.

If a girl elects to learn about business, she may serve as a cashier at Camp Fire Girls sales and activities, plan a budget for a vacation trip, help in the Camp Fire Girls office, and read books on vocations and careers.

Sports and games always provide action, fun, skill and friendly competition for the Camp Fire Girl. They participate in all forms of sports including swimming, boating, canoeing, archery, and volleyball.

In citizenship craft, the Camp Fire Girl learns how to get along with others, and is made aware of the laws of her country and community. She participates in exhibits and pageants showing Camp Fire activities, plans programs depicting the history and customs of all nations, and cares for children while mothers attend PTA and other community meetings.

For their efforts in Camp Fire activities, the girls receive awards in the form of honor bears which lead to the four ranks: trail seeker, wood gatherer, fire maker, and torch bearer.

When a girl reaches the age of 14 she is eligible to join the Horizon Club. The objectives for this group are designed to mold women from girls, and offer numerous opportunities for them to participate in community services and events. Horizon Club members visit local and state government facilities, volunteer as hospital aides, help in libraries, nursery schools or younger Camp Fire Girls groups. Here in Marin they also help in the Camp Fire Girl office performing various clerical duties.

Whatever a girl's interest might be, she can find group enjoyment and broadening of her knowledge and talents through Camp Fire Girls programs, supported by the United Bay Area Crusade, of which it is a member agency.

Superintendent Of Mails Named

Norris G. Martin has been promoted to the new position of superintendent of mails at the Belvedere-Tiburon Post Office, postmaster Theodore J. Lehmann has announced.

Martin, a native of Oregon, has been in the postal service on the Tiburon Peninsula since 1963 when he retired from the Army. He and his wife and three sons reside at 75 Harriet Way, Tiburon.

Flood Control Unit Called A Necessity

Urgent need for co-operation of all Ross Valley cities in the proposed Corte Madera Creek flood control project was emphasized by four speakers today on Radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board."

A dramatic history of flooding in the Corte Madera Creek basin was described by George P. Reilly, chief of the engineering dision of Army Engineers' district office in San Francisco.

"On six occasions in the past 23 years, flood damages in excess of $50,000 have hit the basin," he said. "Twice the damages have approached $300,000. And because of rapid development in the area, the frequency of flooding and the extent of flood damages will grow greater if protective measures are not provided."

Average annual total of flood damage in the valley over the next half century is estimated at $400,000, said Reilly.

He emphasized that all flood control study and planning was done on the request of local people. Work on the project will begin in the spring, if maintenance is guaranteed by the county and cities, he said.

County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, champion of the flood control project, described difficulties in activating a project which depends on several city and county governing bodies.

"The mayors and councils of all cities involved have been very loyal to their local interests," said Kettenhofen.

"It would be a tremendous step forward for the county if we could make use of the federal funds available to us for this project. The county would lose greatly if the project were selfishly turned down by one city," said Larkspur Mayor Neil R. Brixon.

"Though the city of Larkspur does not stand to gain as much as other cities along the creek, we didn't want to have it on our conscience that the entire project was lost."

Future development at the College of Marin is threatened if the flood control project is rejected, asserted Dr. James W. Duke, director of planning and research for the college.

"To date, more than four million dollars has been expended or committed on the Kentfield campus toward accomplishment of our district plan of development. All of these funds have been expended with the same assumption in mind that adequate flood protection would be provided in the future," he said.

The program, conducted by Kitty Oppenheimer, will be rebroadcast from a recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

African-Asian Meeting Opens

ALGIERS (AP)—Delegations from more than 30 countries assembled in Algiers today for the opening of the African-Asian foreign ministers conference.

The conference will decide whether to go ahead with the African-Asian summit meeting scheduled Nov. 5, despite a boycott threat by Red China and its friends.

An expected majority for seating a Russian delegation was one of the reasons for the Chinese boycott threat.

Dr. Paul A. Steinman is president of the Marin County Society for Crippled Children and Adults and Peggy Russo is executive director.

Driver Injured After Car Rolls

Lorin Arthur Kleist, 38, complained of an injured right shoulder after his car rolled off China Camp Road and into San Pablo Bay at 9 p.m. Tuesday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Kleist said he had just left the China Camp store and was driving up the hill when his brakes failed.

Kleist, of 716 E Street, San Rafael, spent the night at China Camp and reported the accident yesterday. He was under observation at San Rafael General Hospital today.

Rocket Gun Comes Under State Laws

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A new gun that fires tiny self-propelled rockets was placed under state firearm controls today by Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch.

Lynch said the gun, called the "gyro jet rocket," fires little missiles which resemble .45 caliber bullets and which burn solid rocket fuel propellant.

The weapon, Lynch said, is manufactured and sold by a Northern California firm and is basically a rocket launcher.

On the basis of court rulings, Lynch said, the gun falls under the state's firearm regulations. In a letter to its manufacturer, he said that the gun is classified as a concealable weapon and subject to California's registration laws.

Goldstein Still Critical

Publicist Peter L. Goldstein, 31, of 26 Carlson Court, San Anselmo, remained unconscious and in critical condition in the intensive care unit of Marin General Hospital today, where he has been since an auto accident on the Waldo Grade Oct. 19. (Goldstein had moved from 65 Alder Avenue, previously reported as his address.)

Growths In Children Found In A-Test Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is investigating the meaning of preliminary evidence of unexplained wart-like formations in thyroid glands of young people in two towns within 500 miles of the Nevada nuclear test site.

Main objective of the probe, commsisioned by the U.S. Public Health Service, is to determine whether there is any link between this preliminary evidence of thyroid abnormalities and the nuclear failout from past tests in the atmosphere in the Nevada site.

A report issued yesterday by the agency said recent preliminary physical examinations of 2,000 youngsters in St. George, Utah—which holds the nation's record for exposure to radioactive fallout from Nevada atmospheric tests—had disclosed tentative evidence that 70 of them had thyroid nodules, or small lumps. The town is about 200 miles from the test site.

And there was similar evidence in 25 of 1,400 youngsters examined at Safford, Ariz., a community generally considered to be about average for the country from the standpoint of radiation exposure from the tests. Safford is several hundred miles farther away from the test area.

Surgeon Gen. William Stewart cautioned, in a statement accompanying the report, that it's not yet possible to assess the medical significance of the findings.

For example, he explained, such nodules of the thyroid—if proved to exist—could be associated with a number of thyroid conditions, ranging from non-toxic goiter to malignant or benign, non-cancerous tumors.

Also, he said, such nodules can arise from natural causes, and are distinguished from radiation of any type.

Harvester Need Down In Valley

FRESNO (AP) — Employment of hired farm workers in the dropped to an estimated 83,000 this week, compared with 88,000 last week.

W. N. Weaver, state farm labor field supervisor, says the decline is normal as crop harvests are completed.

Workers are needed in Madera, Tulare and Kings counties for olives and grapes. The shortage is not serious.

GOP Women Open Convention

Mrs. Logan Goodnight of Long Beach, president, said "there have been a lot of changes in California politics, especially Republican politics, but I think the federation has remained a strong constructive force.

"At this particular time in statewide politics, both parties are having a great deal of difficulty resolving the differences within their parties, but internal bickering can't help anyone."

PRO-JOHNSON RALLY—Students at University of Pittsburgh wave posters belittling draft opponets and anti-Viet Nam policy factions that have demonstrated elsewhere across the nation. Educators at most colleges and universities say anti-administration factions are small percentage of total student bodies. (UPI Telephoto)

Educators Say Anti-Draft Factions A Tiny Minority

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Viet Nam protest movements on U.S. college campuses involve only a small hard core of dissenters, top officials of 85 colleges and universities told The Associated Press today.

Put into perspective, members of the protest organizations — anti- Viet Nam and antidraft — represent only a minute fraction of the total number of students on each campus.

In some cases the number is fewer than 25 among enrollments of 12,000 and more.

An Associated Pres poll of college officials from coast to coast showed a large number of schools having no organized dissent at all to U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

And the antidraft movement involves even fewer students.

"The rank and file of American college students are pretty conservative," said Dr. Hurst R. Anderson, president of American University in Washington, D.C.

"Some like to shock their conservative parents by going home and saying things like 'I've turned Socialist'," he said. "They are sincere about it, but maybe the sincerity is pretty thin."

Noting that 500 students among the 7,500 at Texas Western College at El Paso paraded in support of U.S. policy, the president, Dr. Joseph Ray, said: "We think our students show that good citizenship is not new to a college campus. Their responsible voices can be heard above the bawling of a few social dissents."

Rec, Parks Commissioner Supports Priority System

Lothar Salin of San Rafael, only member of the county parks and recreation commission who dissented from its vote asking immediate application for state funds for Stafford Lake Park, said today he regarded county supervisors' turndown of the proposal as a mandate to the commission.

"We've got to get down to work and develop priorities," he declared.

Salin, on the short end of a 5-1 vote when the commission recommended the application, had urged that applications be held up until a full priority list on park needs can be drawn up.

Commissioner Elizabeth Banning Davies resigned in anger after the board's action Tuesday. Acting director Walter Horchler asked that he be relieved of the temporary assignment. He will return to his job in the planning department at the end of next week.

Chairman Gibbs H. Lawson of the parks and recreation commission said today, he believes that the supervisors would have come to the same conclusion as the commission "if they had all the advantage of the study we had done. I always thought it was our job to sift the wheat from the chaff, but apparently that is not what is wanted."

Lawson said he would know Monday if his doctor will order him to resign from the commission. He has a serious heart condition.

Commissioner Melton Ferris said today that the commission must take greater pains in making the board aware of what work and study has been done. "This is our responsibility," Ferris said. He has concluded that supervisors did not have all the information needed Tuesday.

Commissioners Adele J. Alpers and Aline McClain could not be reached for comment. Commissioner Peter Gottheiner was absent from the commission meeting when the vote on Stafford Lake was taken.

Suspect In Ex-Marinite's Slaying Is Due In Court

Wilbur D. Lovill, 34, of Los Angeles was ordered yesterday to appear in Los Angeles Superior Court on Nov. 9 for setting of trial date in the alleged murder of former San Rafael resident Tim Riley, 19.

Riley, whose family moved to Alameda a year ago, was slain Oct. 17 while two police officers were nearby in response to a report of a neighborhood shooting. The officers said they found .22-caliber shells at an apartment house and were searching for a weapon when more shots rang out.

Next, they said, Riley staggered out of an apartment and collapsed in front of them. He died hours later.

Lovell, the apartment house manager, was charged with murder. He made no statement at yesterday's hearing.

Police said they found him standing in a hallway with a .30-caliber rifle after they saw Riley fall. The shooting apparently followed a landlord-tenant dispute.

Lawyers' Fees Request Denied

YUBA CITY (AP)—The Sutter County Board of Supervisors turned down a request yesterday to pay fees to lawyers retained by employees of the County Welfare Dept.

The department is currently being investigated by the grand jury. A group of welfare workers had asked the $500 retainer be paid by the county to protect their legal rights.

The grand jury study began last weekend and has continued in closed-door meetings. The jury is scheduled to meet again to decide whether to continue the investigation.

Critical Condition

Abigail Rowland, 75, of 5495 Redwood Highway, Novato, was still in critical condition today at Marin General Hospital where she was admitted Saturday after choking on a piece of meat at Marin Joe's Restaurant, Corte Madera.

Hospital Patient Hanged In Accident

PORTERVILLE (AP) — A Shafter boy—who was a patient at Porterville State Hospital — accidentally hanged himself. The Tulare County coroner's office reports Elvin Gifford, 16, climbed on top of a cabinet in a dayroom at the hospital Wednesday. In getting down, his nightgown hooked on a hinge and he fell. The gown tangled around his neck and he suffocated.

Children Get Ready For Halloween

Marin will virtually turn into a pumpkin this weekend in celebration of Halloween.

Children of varying sizes will roam the streets wearing scary masks and weird costumes and visiting neighbors in search of treats.

Halloween, the eve of All Hallows Day, officially falls on Sunday (Oct. 31), but residents should be ready for visits from the ghosts and goblins Saturday as well.

Aside from their costumes, you can recognize them by their slogan, "trick or treat."

The American custom of "trick or treat" possibly springs from Ireland, where peasants go from house to house on Halloween, collecting money, butter, breadcakes, cheese and eggs for a feast.

In Europe, Halloween is also known as Nutcrack Night and Snapapple Night.

Scotland is a great stronghold of Halloween legend. Scottish children were the first to carve jack o'lanterns, but they used large turnips instead of pumpkins.

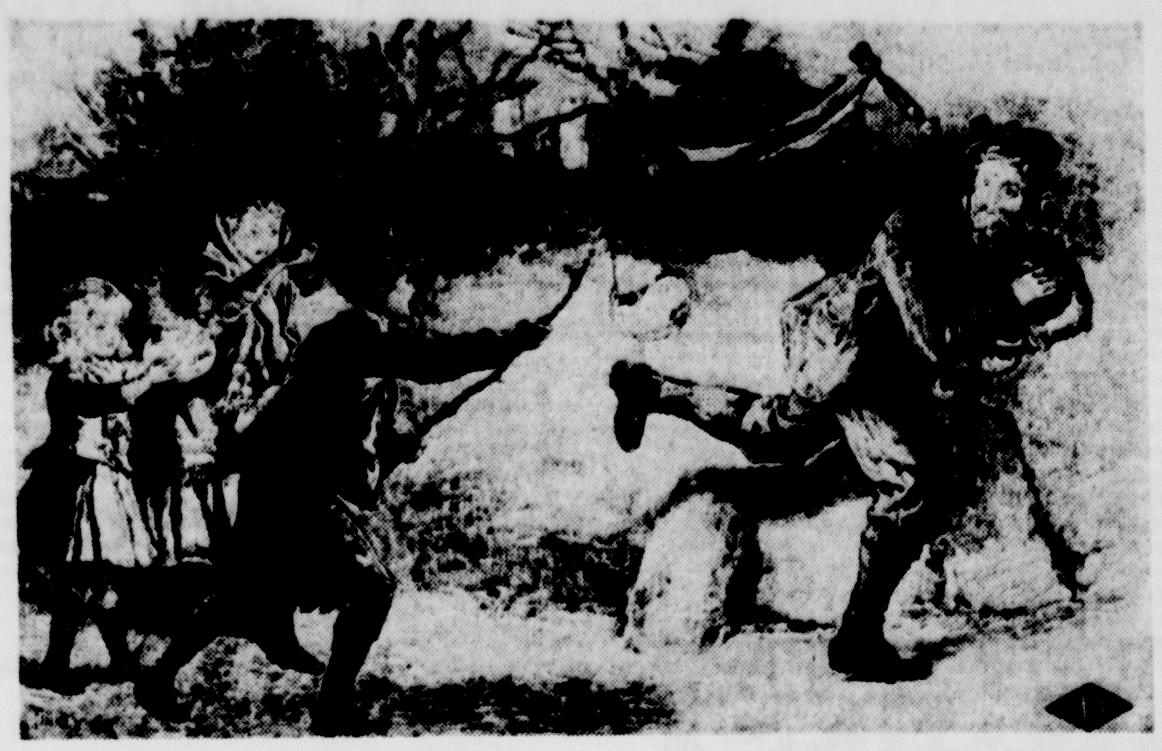
The Scots once believed that women who had sold their souls to the devil changed into witches on Halloween and flew up their chimneys on broomsticks attended by black cats.

The witches, black cats, ghosts and pumpkin jack o'lanterns which have become a part of the Halloween tradition in the United States will prevail in Marin, along with the more modern horror masks.

There also is a Halloween custom for adults: That of a special meal for Halloween, which originated in Ireland and Scotland.

The main dish of Colcannon, made up of mashed potatoes and turnips with chopped onions, is placed in a deep bowl, and hidden in it is a gold ring.

According to custom, the one who gets the portion containing the ring is certain to be married within a year. If he is already married, the ring simply means good luck.



TURNIP JACK O'LANTERNS—An ancient Halloween custom, the carrying of jack o'lanterns, started in Scotland, when children carved turnips to create lanterns and waved them, as shown, to the consternation of the bagpipe player.

Children's Dancing Classes In Novato

Dance classes under sponsorship of the Novato branch of the Pacific Dance Guild will start this week at the San Marin Recreation Center, according to Mrs. Harry Magill, president.

Mrs. Hannah Nunn of the Dick Ford dance studio of Mill Valley will be teacher. Classes will start at 2:15 p.m., Friday with a pre-school dance class. Kindergartens will go from 3 to 3:45 p.m., and first and second grades after 3:45 p.m.

Medicare Talk Set

Dr. Carl E. Anderson, chairman of the California Medical Assn. council, will speak on the effect of Medicare on the individual physician when the Marin County Medical Society meets next Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Meadow Club above Fairfax.

Too Much Rain, Too Little Water

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The city of Beirut, which depends on rainfall for its drinking water, ran dry last weekend — because it rained too hard.

Officials said pounding thunderstorms that hit Lebano Saturday night drove tons of mud and debris down a river toward the city pumping station, choking some of the pipes.

Mill Valley Planners Back Dias Ranch Cluster Idea

Mill Valley planning commissioners concluded at a Tuesday night meeting the proposed Dias Ranch community development on Throckmorton Ridge is "imaginative and desirable" in concept.

Commissioners recommended to the county planning commission that the county staff review the 1955 community master plan relative to densities, and sanitary facilities, since more requests for such large developments may be upcoming.

The commission also recommended that a school site be considered in the area, that pedestrian and riding trails be kept open to the public, and that narrow roads to serve the area's interior be considered. It suggested that open areas have proper legal protection to insure preservation.

The commission recommended to city council that the concept of a roadway system presented by William S. Allen for a planned unit development in Blithedale Canyon be approved. Ingress and egress one-way roads would meet in a "Y" in the proposed park area and become a two-way road system serving the 10 lower lots.

Mrs. Paul Beerlings of 38 Marguerite Avenue presented a petition bearing 56 signatures asking that the proposed road from West Blithedale Avenue not be approved but that access be from Manzanita Place.

Air Force Film Set

An Air Force film entitled "Crossover," will be shown to the San Rafael Rotary Club at 12:15 p.m. Monday at Dominie's Harbor Restaurant. The film is about the Air Force flying team, the Thunderbirds, who are scheduled to appear in Marin skies on Veterans Day, Nov. 11.

Tennis Clubs Can't Tie Up The Courts

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission ruled last night that one tennis court at Albert Park should be left open for the public when tennis clubs are using the courts.

The ruling came after Joseph D. Rodota, director of parks and recreation, reported he had received some complaints about the courts "being tied up by organized groups."

Commissioners agreed that both organized groups and individual players are entitled to use the facilities, but that all four courts shouldn't be alloted to the groups.

Rodota said the organized groups will use the courts from 9 a.m. to noon, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, during the winter.

There are no reservations for groups during the summer when the recreation program is under way, he said.

"I'd never vote to tie up all the courts," said Commissioner Charles L. Tacchi.

A small contingent of women tennis players representing the Marin Women's Tennis Club and Marinwood Tennis Club contended they would relinquish the courts to individuals under the public tennis court rules.

This would mean the individuals would have to wait a set or two. Commissioners would not agree to this arrangement.

Commissioners viewed a preliminary plan for a five-acre neighborhood park at the end of De LeGuerra Road, which included a tennis court, intermediate, tot and multi-purpose play areas, a picnic area along a creek, a turf area and hiking trails.

After viewing the plan they decided to have a special meeting on it at 8 p.m. Nov. 17 at Santa Margarita School, so residents can comment on the proposed layout.

The San Rafael Parks, Rec Commission Also:

1. At the request of Mayor C. Paul Bettini, changed the commission's regular meeting date from the last Wednesday of each month to the first Wednesday, starting Dec. 1, to avoid conflict with the meeting date of the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen. The conflict prevents councilmen from attending commission sessions.
2. Requested Rodota to arrange a joint meeting with the city council sometime before the end of the year to discuss possible new methods of financing acquisition of park land.
3. Received a report from Rodota that vandalism at parks and playgrounds has been reduced since his report of Sept. 30 that it was increasing.
4. Agreed to study priorities for development with a view toward determining when the commission could push for boat launching facilities or an acquatic park.

The government of San Rafael consists of a mayor, city council, city manager.

Mother Leaves, Baby Drowns

Officials said the boy's mother, Sharon Kuntz, left the baby in the bathtub briefly and when she returned, he was unconscious.

Firemen worked over the baby for 45 minutes, but failed to revive him.

Brazil Is Calm After Leader Grabs Power

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Brazil was reported calm today and most political leaders were silent after President Humberto Castello Branco dealt himself dictatorial powers.

Some 200 students demonstrated briefly in Rio de Janeiro, but no other unrest was reported after Castello Branco issued the sweeping new law yesterday.

The decree overriding parts of the constitution came after an all-night debate in which Congress balked at approving the administration's proposed constitutional amendment increasing the scope of federal intervention in Brazil's 22 states.

The decree included these provisions:

The abolition of all existing political parties;

Presidential power to declare a state of siege for up to 180 days;

Federal power to intervene in the states;

Presidential power to oust federal and local legislators and authority to suspend political rights of any citizen for 10 years.

New Quarters Recommended For San Rafael Recreation

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission last night recommended temporary quarters for the city recreation center which is about to be ousted from its present location for a new supermarket.

Commissioners recommended that the former Pacific Gas and Electric Co. office building at Second and Brooks Streets be used as a temporary center. Its recommendation will be presented at the city council meeting Monday.

The present center at the American Legion Hall, 37 Union Street, must be vacated by Nov. 19. Arden-Mayfair Inc. of Los Angeles has purchased the property for a supermarket.

The firm has offered to give the building to the city at no cost if the city will pay the cost of moving it. However, cost of moving the structure to city-owned property at Fourth and Union Streets has been estimated at $45,000.

Rodota said that even if the building were moved, the recreation programs conducted at the center, including the senior citizen program, would be disrupted for several months.

The former PG&E building has 15,000 square feet of floor space including meeting rooms, office space, a large hall and rest rooms, he said. "It only needs a kitchen," said Rodota.

Rodota said he believed the building is owned by "a group of doctors." The possibility of renting the building on a month-to-month basis appears promising, he said.

Rodota suggested that commissioners in their long-range planning consider construction of a recreation center at Albert Field to serve the "general San Rafael area."

An additional building of the same size eventually will be needed in the Terra Linda area, possibly at the proposed Freitas Park to serve the Terra Linda-Lucas Valley portions of the city, he said.

Lights Out Savings May Cut Tax Bill

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Nelson Perry says he plans to save $365 a month by turning off half of his hallway lights—468 of them.

Perry is federal buildings manager here. The lights line the corridors of the U.S. Courthouse.

Tiger Hunts And Safari Shared By Mill Valleyans In Dacca

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Some of the kind of exciting events one usually reads about only in books by professional travelers, in the National Geographic or stories of movie stars like Shirley MacLaine actually happened to the Leonard Downings.

They and their children, David, 12, and Patsy, 10, recently returned to Mill Valley after living in Dacca, East Pakistan, since September, 1960.

These experiences included tiger hunts for Leonard—a safari in the Himalayas for the whole family, highlighted by staying at a Maharajah's elephant training camp — and for Ruth, being the only Western woman on the Moslem campus of Dacca University, where she was studying for a master's degree in Islamic History and Culture.

SHE WAS ALSO an assistant administrator for the Peace Corps, whose first office in East Pakistan during its inception was in her home.

The family went to East Pakistan when Mr. Downing was sent there by the International Engineering Co. of San Francisco to work as a consulting engineer on the master plan for the East Pakistan Water and Power Development Authority.

STILL IN the midst of unpacking household items and art objects, Ruth Downing relaxed briefly over a cup of Darjeeling tea to tell some of her experiences in this part of the world where violence has erupted between East Pakistan and India over Kashmir.

"This is really not a new problem," she maintained. "Border fights have been going on constantly for years so that one gets used to them.

"We happen to be very sympathetic toward Pakistan because we feel Kashmir should be able to decide which country it wants to join. At the time of the partition, each of the princely states was given the opportunity to join either Pakistan or India, but Kashmir has never had this opportunity.

"THE MOST rewarding part of our five-year stay was becoming an integral part of another culture," she said. "Leonard became quite proficient in speaking Bengali, and the children and I learned enough to get along. Patsy attended a British school and David went to a Dacca American school. They had no difficulty this fall in going on into their respective fifth and sixth grades at Alto School.

"East Pakistan has an area about the size of Oregon with a population of 1,000 each square mile; yet we walked nearly everywhere on our trips because there are practically no roads. We must have walked hundreds of miles on all of our trips.

"Some of these trips were very exciting.

"LEONARD ENJOYED hunting the Royal Bengal tiger on three safaris, two of them into the very dense marshy jungle on the Bay of Bengal, "The Saunderbans." The jungle is so dense there that there are not many people, only temporary camps made by the wood cutters.

"We went with him on the safari into the north of India into Assam on the border between Bhutan and India in the foothills of the Himalayas.

"A mile from our forest bungalow the Maharajah of Gauripur (Assam, India) had his elephant training camp where he had 28 captured elephants and was training them.

"We were able to watch all the steps in this fascinating work and even went with the Maharajah into Bhutan on an elephant keddah or roundup.

"In the area in which the Maharajah hunted were natural salt licks, where the wild animals came, so that we were able to see many of them. In the evening the 14 hunters (mahouts) sat on tree platforms (machans) to wait for a herd of elephants. When this happened, they would drive them into a previously constructed stockade.

"THE CHILDREN and I spent three days and nights in this remote camp enjoying nature walks conducted by the Maharajah. When the men had any leisure time, they made bamboo baskets and mats for sale. They made all of our eating utensils of bamboo.

"Another very interesting experience for me," she went on," was a walking trek into the Chittagong Hill tract, oddly enough, a place I had always wanted to visit. We spent six days going from village to village in this beautiful primitive area, eating and sleeping in the bamboo homes on stilts of these people who have a very primitive culture that hasn't changed in 1,000 years.

"I was the first Western woman in this area. We were able to go everywhere because the chief or Rajah of Banderban, the capital of the area, was a friend—a highly educated and cultured man.

"At one village dancing girls and a band were brought out. The band consisted of about 40 musicians, each with a different-sized instrument made from bamboo poles and gourds. The result was simply beautiful and sounded like a pipe organ. They

Crane, Gerald Stratford, Lionel T. Barneson, Alfred Spalding, George D. Hart, John D. Leland, Frederick Bardo, Donald Bolthouse, William Henry Barry, Jr., Stanley Daniloff, Floyd R. Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Ruddock and Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Underhill of Belvedere have also made reservations for the luncheon.

A COSTUME PARTY for 100 couples is planned for Saturday night by Loch Lomond Yacht Club members. After sampling such ghoulish delicacies as pickled owl legs and fried bat wings, washed down with a wicked witches' brew, the party-goers will enjoy a Halloween feast prepared under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Munson, chairmen of the event.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD Edward Chapman of Ignacio welcomed a new son on Tuesday at Novato General Hospital. The little boy will be named John Edward Chapman. He has a five year old sister, Sherrie, and is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Chapman, of San Rafael and the great-grandson of Edward Chapman of San Francisco and the late Mrs. Chapman.

THREE BELVEDERE BOYS, Bill Anixter, Gurdon Leete, and Ted Herrman, supplied the entertainment at a dinner for the Orthopedically Handicapped children of Marindale School last Saturday at the Terra Linda High School. Billed as "The Aces" Bill and Gurdon are partners in a magic act and Ted a puppeteer. Over 100 attended the dinner party which was the first social event in two years for the school.

Mill Valleyans Describe Five-Year Stay In Dacca

played very sophisticated rhythms, and the girls danced to this music. This was one of the most enjoyable and lovely recitals I have ever witnessed."

She continued, "Another trip the whole family took was into a Bengal village of 6,000, the home of a man who was a servant in our home. We were treated like royalty everywhere. The mayor came out to greet us, a holiday was declared for everyone, and there was a council meeting in our honor. It was the queen bit for me," she laughed.

RUTH DOWNING went on to describe some of her experiences as the only Western woman on the Moslem campus of Dacca University.

She holds an AB degree in liberal arts from the University of Washington but had always been interested in archaeology, as her husband was too.

She attended the University for eight months, working toward a master's degree in Islamic History and Culture but did not complete it because she became so involved in the Peace Corps. No one else completed work that year either, she said, because students were striking so much.

"I was the only Western woman on the campus," she said, "which has very few women anyway because so many of them are in Purdah (veiled) and secluded. It is possible for them to enroll at the University, however, and take degrees through a tutorial system and examinations. The few women who are on the campus take no part in campus activities and there are no boy-girl relationships."

Ruth found her association with the Peace Corps very satisfying.

"We became involved with the Peace Corps in its formative period in East Pakistan," she said. "We started out on a volunteer basis and after a short time I found myself on the administrative staff organizing the office and helping volunteers settle into their jobs. The first office was in our home.

"IT WAS a marvelous experience. It was wonderful to see the first group of volunteers—29 of them—eager and so willing to do a job. This group was trained by the Experiment in International Living in Putney, Vermont, and it also administered the project in East Pakistan.

"We arranged for each volunteer to spend his first three weeks in a Pakistani home. What a wonderful introduction it was to the culture and an opportunity for the volunteer to make friends.

"WE FELT that the volunteers and the staff did a remarkable job, and most of our Bengali friends felt the Corps was most effective and helpful to their country. We made many good friends in the village and on higher government levels by our Peace Corps activities."

Gifted Children Need Special Help

By DAVID NYDICK
(UPI) Education Specialist

Children with unusually high academic ability often need special attention in order to fully develop their talents. Although much recent attention has been directed toward the disadvantaged students, it is always important to provide proper programs for children with all levels of ability and background.

Gifted children may present some difficult problems. Since they learn very quickly and are extremely curious, they might become bored or restless. At home, they may be spoiled and hard to understand. In school, teachers may find that they are becoming careless and developing undesirable behavior.

SCHOOLS HAVE developed a variety of programs for these children. The approach ranges from advancing the child's grade level skipping to arranging special classes either full or part time. Sometimes schools attempt to work with such students in the regular classroom and to challenge them with extra assignments. Regardless of the school's approach, parents should be prepared to supply a home environment which is interesting and encouraging. Careful attention should be given to the child's social development.

It is natural for you, as parents, to take pride in your child's ability and achievements.

Hot Dogs Safest Meat For Picnics

Taking fried chicken and potato salad on a picnic may be an old American tradition but the California Medical Assn. recommends hot dogs instead.

The CMA warns that food poisoning germs of the staphylococcic type may be present in such starchy goodies as cream pies and custards. Eggs, poultry and potato salads, not properly refrigerated, may be infested with salmonella, another germ associated with food poisoning.

The health authorities are quick to point out that the equally traditional hot dog is the safest meat for picnics. Its casing tends to "discourage" bacteria.

'Holey Furs' A Fun Idea

Holey furs is designer Jacques Kaplan's idea of fun, fun, fun at a price that may not seem as laughable to husbands paying for them.

Holes the size of port holes turn mink and persian lamb coats and dresses into something that looks like the victim of cannon target practice.

The holes can be filled up with something else. "You can fill the holes with marabou or ostrich and be part bird, part beast," Kaplan says.

A nude body stocking may be worn under them for shock effect, or the see-throughs may be plugged up with other furs, creating a three-dimensional effect.

Survey Reports Laundry Troubles

Can nearly two thousand women be wrong?

No, according to a recently concluded survey sponsored by United States Steel. In hour-long talks with 2,000 homemakers, 95 per cent said they were satisfied with their present washers and dryers, and 53 per cent rated them superior or above average. Sixty per cent, however, confessed they worry about overloading and said they would welcome a device to eliminate guesswork.

The survey, conducted by Market Facts, Inc., sought homemakers' ideas to improve laundry appliances. It produced these suggestions:

An appliance that will both wash and dry clean;

Anything that will reduce ironing, the single most hated chore among homemakers interviewed;

Remote controls in kitchen for appliances located in basement;

Built-in unit to store washday aids;

Automatic timer to start washer or dryer at pre-set time.

The ladies, 90 per cent of whom characterized laundering as a breeze, indicated a willingness to pay more for washers and dryers that would last longer, get clothes cleaner. Increased reliability and improved functional design emerged as the features they sought most in laundry appliances.

CRIME REPORT

Burglar's Chance Of Escape Is Better

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON
(Fourth in a Series)

There's little chance of getting away with murder in California, but the burglar or thief has about four chances out of five to escape undetected.

His chances may be even better in Marin.

Statewide, only 27.6 per cent of the actual felony crimes reported were cleared last year, according to a table in the State Bureau of Criminal Statistics' "Crime in California."

However, 83.9 per cent of wilful homicide cases were cleared. At the other end of the scale were grand theft, with only 20.3 per cent cleared; burglary, with only 22.5 per cent, and auto theft, with only 26.6 per cent.

"In most instances," commented the report, "there is no problem in identifying individuals involved in wilful homicide, aggravated assault, or forcible rape because the identity of the offender is usually known. These crimes, therefore, have much higher (clearance) rates than such offenses as burglary and theft where perpetrators are seldom seen."

Statewide, the number of arrests on felony charges last year was 28.4 per cent of the number of felony complaints. (The difference between this and the 27.6 per cent cleared by the arrests arises from acquittals in court, and release after arrest for lack of evidence or other reason.)

In Marin County, however, the number of felony arrests was only 18 per cent of the total of felony crimes reported —350 compared to 1,940.

The chance of the criminal's going undetected apparently improved last year over the year before, as Marin had a 32.5 per cent increase in felony reports but only an 8.6 per cent increase in adult felony arrests.

Of 350 such arrests in the county (314 men and 36 women), the sheriff's office made 103. San Rafael police made 96; Sausalito police, 34; Novato, 32; Mill Valley and San Anselmo, 21 each; Fairfax, 16; Corte Madera and Larkspur, 10 each; Belvedere, seven. Ross police made no felony arrest during the year.

Of the 103 arrested by the sheriff's office, only two were released without any sort of complaint being filed, and felony complaints were filed against 79. Novato police, however, released six of the 32 arrested, and Belvedere police freed three of the seven arrested. San Rafael police released five of 96; Fairfax and Mill Valley each released one.

Of the 155 actually charged with felonies in the county, 86 per cent were convicted. This compared with a statewide conviction rate of 85.4 per cent.

Juries acquitted nine defendants; judges acquitted two in trials without juries. Twelve cases were dismissed by motion of the district attorney after being certified for trial. Of the 141 convicted, 123 pleaded guilty and 18 were found guilty by juries.

Of those convicted, 43.3 per cent got probation (somewhat under the statewide figure of 50.8 per cent); 27.7 per cent were certified to the State Department of Corrections for fixing of sentences by the Adult Authority; 22.7 per cent were given jail sentences (in most cases, on guilty pleas to charges reduced from felonies to misdemeanors). In this last category, Marin's percentage was well above the statewide percentage of 15.8.

A census of county jails was taken by the state on Sept. 24, 1964. It found 52 prisoners in the Marin County Jail that day.

Of these, 34 had been sentenced and were serving out their time, while 18 were awaiting trial or sentencing.

Some of those 18 may have had a long wait. Another statistical table in "Crime in California" shows that the median time elapsing between first plea and final plea or trial in Marin courts last year was 57 days—or 12 days more than the statewide median. Some had to wait as long as 155 days.

The minimum elapsed time in disposition of felony cases in Marin is shown as about 19 days, which is about the same as the average time in neighboring Sonoma County. The maximum of 155 days was exceeded only by San Mateo County, where the maximum ran to 175 days although the median was a little shorter than in Marin.

(Next: Some explanations for the drop in juvenile arrests while Marin's crime was on the increase.)

Coin Auto Wash Permit Faces Hub Scrutiny

The San Anselmo Planning Commission, meeting Monday at 8 p.m. in the council chambers, will review the use permit of Western Associates to operate a coin-operated car wash at 508 Red Hill Avenue near the Hub intersection.

The car wash now operates 24 hours a day and the city has received complaints from the owners and tenants of an apartment building at 600 Red Hill Avenue about noise late at night.

During the Oct. 11 meeting of the San Anselmo City Council, Mayor Woodrow V. Capurro and Councilman Arthur W. Smith both said they have been disturbed by the noise.

Use permit for the car wash expires in January.

Gnoss Presses Ahead On Airport At Novato

Marin County Supervisor William A. Gnoss said today he will continue to press for expansion of the county airport at Novato despite plans revealed Tuesday for a private airport on the Burdell Ranch on the Marin-Sonoma line.

Gnoss said he wants assurance there will be a good airport for the county. The private proposal should be investigated further, he declared.

"It could have a bearing on the future expansion of the present airport," he said. But he thinks the private proposal is in too preliminary a stage to draw any conclusions now.

Application for federal money to expand the present airport is currently held up by a lease that gives Harry O. Tollefson exclusive right to facilities there. The county is trying to terminate the lease.

Children made the White House Christmas of 1835 unforgettable. Six young relatives of Andrew Jackson were told by the President that Santa Claus never had visited him when he was a boy. The children insisted that he hang up his stocking on Christmas Eve. The next morning, Jackson's secretary found him in tears over the corncob pipe, tobacco and trinkets the youngsters had stuffed into his stocking.

The Air Force's famous Thunderbirds will perform at an air show on Nov. 10 to commemorate Veterans Day at Hamilton Air Force Base.

The base will be opened to the public at noon on Nov. 11 for stationary aircraft displays. The Thunderbirds are scheduled to start their performance at 1:30 p.m.

During their 12-year history, the Thunderbirds have performed before more than 60 million people in 45 counties. The team was scheduled to perform at Hamilton two years ago, but the show was canceled when one of the planes crashed on the Hamilton runway.

Buzzing Cargo

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A truck went out of control on a mountainous curve and overturned near suburban Goodlettsville over the weekend. Out swarmed the cargo — thousands of honey bees. The unidentified driver donned protective headgear, lured bees back into their hives.

Educators Blamed For Unrest At Cal

FRESNO (AP) — Chancellor Roger Heyns of the University of California's Berkeley campus says some student unrest is due in part to failings of educators.

"The unrest I have encountered is directly traceable to their dissatisfaction with the education being offered," he told 600 delegates at yesterday's session of the fall conference of the California Junior College Assn.

Heyns told a news conference he is not afraid of a legislative investigation of his campus.

House Speaker Jesse Unruh has said the legislature may probe the campus partly because it is used as a staging area for anti-Viet Nam War and civil disobedience demonstrations.

Unruh says the university administration must find a way to halt use of the campus as a gathering point for these marches and demonstrations.

Heyns said he agreed with Unruh that the emphasis be placed on university administration action. He predicted the legislature would move in if the university failed to find a solution.

Medicare Delayed By Counties Lobby

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A temporary snag in the Brown administration medicare bill slowed the legislature's adjournment drive today.

Lawmakers, in special session since Sept. 20, said they wanted to go home. But the intricacies of reaching agreement on the medical aid plan threatened to extend the session to tomorrow, Saturday or maybe even later.

The powerful County Supervisors Assn. demanded revisions to give more money to the counties in the broad program of providing free medical care to some 1.1 million Californians.

The Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee took the suggestions under submission.

After Governmental Efficiency, the bill faces a hearing in the Finance Committee and a vote on the Senate floor before it goes to Gov. Brown's desk. The Assembly already has passed it.

To administration pleas for haste in enacting the bill, Sen. J. Eugene McAteer, D - San Francisco, replied yesterday "I don't see there's that urgency."

He said "maybe we'd be better off to lose" the some $6 million in federal medicare funds allocated to California "than do it under the gun'.'

At issue is a section of the new medicare law providing help to impoverished people and those on welfare. It does not affect the more well - known section of the act providing health care to people over 65 under social security.

The county supervisors pressed for an amendment that will permit them to keep an increasing amount of federal health funds in the future.

Now, they have to return to the state 90 per cent of the federal medicare funds they receive. Under the amendment, they could eventually keep 75 per cent.

The committee adopted several amendments, all with the approval of the bill's author, Assemblyman Jack T. Casey, D-Bakersfield.

One reduced state contributions to the plan if the federal funds ever are reduced.

Another pledged broadening of the program next year will come only "if necessary" — a concession to Republicans. Previously, the bill flatly promised to expand the plan in 1966.

If the bill becomes law, some 900,000 welfare recipients and 200,000 other poor people would become eligible for a broad range of free medical care, starting next April.

Worker Continues In Poor Condition

Walker, of 3 Boulevard Terrace, Novato, was helping put shingles on a roof at 36 Greenside Way when he and John J. Boque fell 24 feet. Boque, of Santa Rosa, was less seriously hurt.

Whitman Shrine

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) —The State Conservation Department has named the Whitman-Stafford farmhouse at Laurel Springs a shrine to the poet Walt Whitman. The house was built in 1790 and was the temporary home of Whitman 80 years later when he was recovering from a severe illness.

Grand Jury To Study Vets' Building Funds

Marin County Grand Jury yesterday agreed to investigate several complaints by war veterans that money from a special tax levy is not being directed toward its proper goal—a veterans' memorial building at the Civic Center.

George R. Scott, jury foreman, said County Administrator Alan Bruce will be asked to appear before his panel at its regular Nov. 10 meeting to explain the status of the funds and plans.

The investigation would include a proposal that the memorial building would be combined with a Civic Center auditorium, rather than as an originally planned separate building.

Scott also said the jury's welfare and hospitals committee reported a dissatisfaction with the recent safety approval by the state fire marshal of Larkspur Convalescent Hospital, 234 Hawthorne Avenue.

He said the committee feels the old wooden building is still unsafe, despite having complied with changes ordered by the fire marshal. Scott said he will ask the marshal to discuss the matter.

A planned questioning session by the panel of members or former members of Gallinas Village Community Service District board over charges of board irregularities was continued yesterday until the Nov. 10 session.

Scott said at that time all five current directors will be requested or subpoenaed to appear. He said the delay was because yesterday's meeting was inconvenient for at least one board member, and he wanted to make certain the jury wished to investigate the matter as an entire body.

Teacher Injured In Two-Car Bridge Crash

A teacher at Our Lady of Mount Carmel School, Mill Valley, and a passenger in her car were injured in a two-car crash at the north end of the Golden Gate Bridge at 8 a.m. yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Mrs. Catherine A. Curran, 29, of San Francisco, was driving to work when her car skidded on wet pavement 200 feet south of the end of the bridge and crossed into the southbound lane, hitting a car driven by Motter L. Fuller, 24, of 767 Diablo Avenue, Novato, the patrol said.

Mrs. Curran and her passenger, Barbara Nearly of San Francisco, suffered bruises and were to see their own physicians. Fuller was unhurt.

Councilmen, Mayors Vote Deck Delay

The Marin County Council of Mayors and Councilmen last night voted 5-to-2 to ask Golden Gate Bridge District directors to delay action on a second deck for the bridge.

The cities of Belvedere, Corte Madera, Fairfax, Mill Valley and Tiburon voted to send the letter to the bridge directors. San Anselmo and Larkspur voted no.

San Rafael passed its vote. Two Novato councilmen present differed, so Novato also passed. Ross and Sausalito had no councilmen at the meeting.

Mill Valley Mayor Michael Wornum suggested the letter, which urges the directors not to proceed with the second deck plan until completion of an $850,000 study by the Division of Bay Toll Crossings on all proposals to relieve trans-bay traffic.

In the letter, sent to bridge directors today, the mayors and councilmen also urged that emphasis be placed on restudy of the Bridge's ability to carry rapid transit vehicles.

The bridge directors meet tomorrow to vote on the second deck.

County Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, a vocal opponent of the second deck, attended last night's meeting and urged that the letter be sent.

Also at last night's meeting, a revision of the council's bylaws was introduced to clarify the fact that each city has only one vote in the organization.

Flying Priests Back Grape Picker Strike

DELANO (UPI)—Two Catholic priests took to the air yesterday to plead with grape pickers to join a seven-week strike for higher wages and improved working conditions.

"Join the strike," the priests told the workers over a loudspeaker on their light plane. "Respect the picket lines. Don't be a strikebreaker."

Father Keith Kenny of Our Lady of Guadelupe Church in Sacramento and Father Arnold Meagher of the Holy Rosary Church in Woodland flew over the strike area twice. One flight lasted about 90 minutes and the second, near the end of the picking day, lasted only 15 minutes.

With Father Kenny piloting his plane, the priests, accompanied by Ceasar Chavez, head of the striking National Farm Workers Assn., flew over 15 or 20 of the ranches in northern Kern County and southern Tulare County.

They said some of ths grape pickers waved at them as they talked over the loudspeaker but they were unable to tell if any workers left the fields because of the flight.

A Kern County deputy sheriff met the priests when they returned from their first flight. He took their names and questioned them about the flight but took no other action.

Clausen Raps LBJ Stand On Rivers Funds

HEALDSBURG (AP) — Rep. Don Clausen, R., Crescent City, charged today that President Johnson has dealt "the second blow this year to flood recovery efforts in Northern California."

Clausen told a luncheon audience that an intent expressed yesterday by Johnson while signing the rivers and harbors act blocks plans for the $4 million lower Klamath River flood control project, including relocation of the destroyed town of Klamath.

Clausen noted that Johnson openly regarded one section as unconstitutionally restricting the President's powers. This section would permit projects costing less than $10 million to be authorized immediately by a single resolution of the House and Senate public works committees. Previously, these had to be authorized by Congress and held for inclusion in an omnibus public works bill.

Clausen quoted Johnson as saying during the signing that the President will direct the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to ignore the provision and that Johnson would seek its repeal next year.

"I would question the propriety and legality of the President ordering a department of the government to ignore a provision of law," Clausen said.

"It had been my intention to seek authorization of the Klamath River project under this provision."

Clausen said Johnson previously dealt a blow to Northern California flood recovery efforts by vetoing a Pacific Northwest flood relief act as containing language restricting the executive branch.

Soldier Pushes For Transfer To Viet Nam

WORMS, Germany (AP) — U.S. Army Pvt. Robert J. Palmeri today ended a two-day hunger strike aimed at speeding his transfer to Viet Nam.

Palmeri, 22, of Queens, N.Y., ended his fast because he felt it might affect his performance of duty.

"And this was the last thing I wanted to happen," the Army draftee told 7th Army authorities in Heidelberg.

Palmeri put in an official request for transfer to Viet Nam shortly after arriving here a month ago. He is assigned to the 34th Transportation Battalion as a truck driver.

Feeling that the Army paperwork moves too slowly to suit him, the 6-foot, 205-pounder told his squad leader at Tuesday's morning formation that he was going on a hunger strike to speed things up.

Arrest Of Woman Linked To Riots

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Investigators for the district attorney's office say the arrest of a woman barber and the manner of arresting a drunken driving suspect apparently ignited the wild rioting in South Los Angeles last August.

The investigators, in a report asked by Mayor Samuel W. Yorty, said yesterday, however, that the California Highway Patrol was not guilty of any criminal behavior in making the arrests.

Yorty had asked for an investigation into allegations of misconduct in connection with the arrest of Marquette, Ronald and Mrs. Rena Frye on Aug. 11, the day the rioting erupted.

District Attorney's investigators reported witnesses told them the arrest of Joyce Ann Gaines, 20, was the real cause of the week-long rioting. They said:

"Miss Gaines at the time of her arrest had on a barber's smock, which caused many of the assembly to assume her to be pregnant. We believe the crowd had already magnified the event of the alleged kicking of Marquette Frye and was angry.

"Following the arrest of Miss Gaines, law enforcement and civilian vehicles passing through this area were stoned.

"It is our conclusion the arrest of Miss Gaines, combined with the alleged kicking incident, triggered the major disturbance that occurred that evening in the area."

Highway Patrol Officer Harry J. Taylor said that after Frye was placed in a patrol car, Frye tried to get out. "I pushed him back into the vehicle and slammed the door," Taylor said, adding that he pushed Frye back in with his knees.

The report said Taylor did not use excessive force on Frye, who had been stopped for drunken driving.

Space Officials Decide Against Gemini Speedup

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The 14-day Gemini 7 flight has been delayed until at least Dec. 8 by a decision not to use the Gemini 6 booster for the launching.

When the Gemini 6 rendezvous flight was postponed Monday because of failure of the Agena target rocket to achieve orbit, space agency officials said they would move ahead to Gemini 7, using the same rocket.

This would have required replacing the Gemini 6 spacecraft with the Gemini 7 capsule. It would have permitted advancing the Gemini 7 flight from its original Dec. 8 date to about Dec. 2 because the Titan 2 had been thoroughly checked on the launch paid.

An analysis of engine capability of the Gemini 6 rocket showed the power of the second stage might be marginal for lifting the heavier Gemini 7 spacecraft into the desired orbit.

So it was decided yesterday to switch rockets, putting the flight back on its original timetable.

Chamber Appoints Committee For Nominations

President Charles J. Francis of the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce yesterday appointed a nominating committee of five to select candidates for new directors for 1966-67. Five directors are to be elected from at least 10 candidates Nov. 24.

The committee is made up of Jerry D. Carver, William A. Hamilton, S. J. Weil, Donald P. Geddes and John Finn III.

Francis also appointed a committee of three, E. M. Mills, Peter Maraccini and Walter Brown, to study the plan of transit operation for Marin County.

The board endorsed the $5,750,000 Tamalpais High School District bond issue to be voted on Nov. 16.

Typographical Error Clouds Coroner Story

There wasn't any testimony at a coroner's inquest Tuesday indicating that a blow from a fist caused the brain clot which resulted in the death of Mrs. Lillian E. Fonk, 52-year-old manager of the Fireside Motel in Manzanita, Oct. 14.

Due to a typographical error the Independent-Journal erroneously reported yesterday there was "no doubt" that the blow was caused by a fist. The sentence should have read "there was doubt."

Arrest Of Woman Linked To Riots

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Investigators for the district attorney's office say the arrest of a woman barber and the manner of arresting a drunken driving suspect apparently ignited the wild rioting in South Los Angeles last August.

The investigators, in a report asked by Mayor Samuel W. Yorty, said yesterday, however, that the California Highway Patrol was not guilty of any criminal behavior in making the arrests.

Yorty had asked for an investigation into allegations of misconduct in connection with the arrest of Marquette, Ronald and Mrs. Rena Frye on Aug. 11, the day the rioting erupted.

District Attorney's investigaors reported witnesses told them the arrest of Joyce Ann Gaines, 20, was the real cause of the week-long rioting. They said:

"Miss Gaines at the time of her arrest had on a barber's smock, which caused many of the assembly to assume her to be pregnant. We believe the crowd had already magnified the event of the alleged kicking of Marquette Frye and was angry.

"Following the arrest of Miss Gaines, law enforcement and civilian vehicles passing through this area were stoned.

"It is our conclusion the arrest of Miss Gaines, combined with the alleged kicking incident, triggered the major disturbance that occurred that evening in the area."

Highway Patrol Officer Harry J. Taylor said that after Frye was placed in a patrol car, Frye tried to get out. "I pushed him back into the vehicle and slammed the door," Taylor said, adding that he pushed Frye back in with his knees.

The report said Taylor did not use excessive force on Frye, who had been stopped for drunken driving.

Space Officials Decide Against Gemini Speedup

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The 14-day Gemini 7 flight has been delayed until at least Dec. 8 by a decision not to use the Gemini 6 booster for the launching.

When the Gemini 6 rendezvous flight was postponed Monday because of failure of the Agena target rocket to achieve orbit, space agency officials said they would move ahead to Gemini 7, using the same rocket.

This would have required replacing the Gemini 6 spacecraft with the Gemini 7 capsule. It would have permitted advancing the Gemini 7 flight from its original Dec. 8 date to about Dec. 2 because the Titan 2 had been thoroughly checked on the launch paid.

An analysis of engine capability of the Gemini 6 rocket showed the power of the second stage might be marginal for lifting the heavier Gemini 7 spacecraft into the desired orbit.

So it was decided yesterday to switch rockets, putting the flight back on its original timetable.

Chamber Appoints Committee For Nominations

President Charles J. Francis of the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce yesterday appointed a nominating committee of five to select candidates for new directors for 1966-67. Five directors are to be elected from at least 10 candidates Nov. 24.

The committee is made up of Jerry D. Carver, William A. Hamilton, S. J. Weil, Donald P. Geddes and John Finn III.

Francis also appointed a committee of three, E. M. Mills, Peter Maraccini and Walter Brown, to study the plan of transit operation for Marin County.

The board endorsed the $5,750,000 Tamalpais High School District bond issue to be voted on Nov. 16.

Typographical Error Clouds Coroner Story

There wasn't any testimony at a coroner's inquest Tuesday indicating that a blow from a fist caused the brain clot which resulted in the death of Mrs. Lillian E. Fonk, 52-year-old manager of the Fireside Motel in Manzanita, Oct. 14.

Due to a typographical error the Independent-Journal erroneously reported yesterday there was "no doubt" that the blow was caused by a fist. The sentence should have read "there was doubt."

To stores and school so very near.

A Chapman Hill Special, there's no time to snooze.

Corte Madera

$45,000

If you like old-fashioned grace and space and want to ease the burden with rental income, or if you're interested in a well-located, partly developed income piece, here is an unusual property in Corte Madera, which combines a lovely, 50-year-old brown shingle home and lower apartment in a well-landscaped setting with space for four or five more units — convenient to stores and commute in the fast-growing area near the Corte Madera park. The house, built when loft and space, full concrete basements and solid construction were "musts," has had only six cherishing owners, all improvement-minded.

Entry is by gate, garden walk, and full veranda porch. Interior has unique parquet floors, hall-type living-dining room with fireplace, sleeping and kitchen wings on either side, three bedrooms—master size — and two baths. There is a large upstairs open studio and storage space. On the ground floor, besides the separate living quarters, are a tandem two-car garage, and ample work and storage areas. Grounds include a rear parking area, plus a circular used brick patio and children's play-yard. Elms and populars, redwood fencing and hedges set off the property from adjacent multiples — a private world of garden walks, fruit trees and shrubs, potting and tool sheds, and even a dog run. Raze it for pools and progress or leave it as is and love it; this outdoor space fits any approach. Flexible terms to qualified buyer.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Teen-Ager Needs Protections Of Plentiful Food And Sleep

VAN DELLEN

The teen-ager leads an active life but does not have a boundless store of energy. Wise parents recognize these limitations and lay down the law when signs of fatigue appear. This means more rest at the expense of the young person's social activities.

Most high school students have a busy schedule. They carry a heavy academic program and are active in numerous extra-curricular affairs including athletics and band. Homework keeps them occupied at night and some work to supplement the family income. The weekend is open for social activities and rest. Both have their place but, of the two, rest is more essential to health.

THIS IS WHY I believe the teen-ager should be allowed to sleep late on Saturday morning unless there are better reasons why he should get up. A physical examination is in order when the youngster looks pale or complains of fatigue.

He may have a chronic sinus infection, diseased teeth or tonsils, diabetes, or a heart or kidney disorder. Low metabolism slows him down and thyroid tablets will perk him up and improve his grades. Anemia also is a possibility.

The importance of diet in this period of rapid growth cannot be overestimated. Some youngsters add six to 10 inches in height. the demand for food, particularly proteins, is tremendous. Some isa llotted for growth and the remainder for energy and the replacement of worn-out tissues. The young adult needs at least one quart of milk a day, meat, cheese, fish, eggs, vegetables, fruits, and cereals.

THE BEST tonics for the sluggish adolescent are fresh air, sunshine, good food, and rest. The only exception is when psychological factors are responsible.

Some develop an inferiority complex when they do not make good grades or live up to their parents' expectation. The same occurs when they are shunned by friends or jilted in a love affair. Others are unhappy or weighed down with fears of anxiety. A little help at the right time goes a long way to bring them back to normal.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request).

SLOW LOSER

J. S. writes: I have osteoarthritis and am overweight. I've tried dieting but cannot shed more than two or three pounds. Walking is difficult because the pain is mainly in my knee. When watching TV or reading, I'm in the habit of lying down. Could this be the reason for my failure to lose weight?

REPLY

No. The combination of inactivity and not adhering to the diet over a long period is responsible.

TENDENCY REMAINS

T. S. writes: Does allergy ever disappear as suddenly as it appeared?

REPLY

The allergic tendency remains but the manifestations, such sa hives or asthma, often disappear abruptly.

TYPHUS DEFINED

A. C. K. writes: Exactly what is typhus?

REPLY

A disease of filth, with symtoms resembling a super-flu. The organism is transmitted thru an infected louse or rat flea.

REFRIGERATED MILK

O. B. writes: Is it safe to drink milk that has been in the refrigerator fur days?

REPLY

Four-day-old milk should be safe, but it may be sour. The only way to find out is to taste or smell it.

New Officials Get Foreign Policy Tips

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk was to be the lead-off speaker today at a foreign policy briefing for about 800 editors and broadcasters from around the country.

Under rules governing the semi-annual briefing for newsmen, what the speakers say cannot be attributed to them publicly. The briefings end Friday.

Ex-Tuberculosis Victim To Lead Christmas Seal Drive

Mrs. Charles R. Banfield of Fairfax has been named 1965 Christmas Seal chairman by Dr. Joseph J. Alderson, president of the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn.

The seals campaign opens Nov. 15 and will continue through December.

"Muriel Banfield has been a volunteer worker for the TB Association for 16 years and is thoroughly familiar with the work financed by Christmas seals," Dr. Alderson said. "In addition, she really knows the importance of the work because she, herself, had tuberculosis."

Her bout with TB began 25 years ago next month. She'd had a stubborn cold, but she didn't slow down. There was her 8-year-old son, Bob, to care for and the duties of her new Parent-Teacher Assn. office. The cough she dismissed with "guess I'm heading for Arizona."

Fortunately, early detection of her disease was forced upon her by a lung hemorrhage that started while she was talking on the telephone.

"Not until I started working for the TB Association did I realize how very lucky I was to have escaped the usual hardships caused by broken families and drained resources," Mrs. Banfield says.

She was separated from her son for a year. Nearly every day he would stand across the street from our house on Mountain View Avenue and wave to me through the window," she recalls.

After the initial bed rest, Muriel went to Ross Hospital weekly for a year for a pneumothorax treatment. "They put a small hole in my back and puffed in air to collapse the infected lung. The idea was the lung would heal sooner if it was allowed to rest. It wasn't too bad," she comments gamely, "but it isn't done any more. Some of the research paid for by Christmas Seals has discovered much better treatment methods."

Another research-discredited treatment undergone by Mrs. Banfield was the "phrenic nerve crush." Through a neck incision, the phrenic nerve was bared and literally crushed with a spoon. The objective: to collapse the lung by temporarily paralyzing the diaphragm.

Mrs. Banfield believes she may have been infected with TB germs eight years before active disease developed. "If only there had been a reliable tuberculin skin test then — and I had gotten one annually, of course—I would have found out I had picked up TB germs and would have paid more attention to my health. You can bet I do now!"

Widow's Estate $2.7 Million

REDWOOD CITY (AP)—The estate of Mrs. Winifred H. Varian, widow of the co-founder of Varian Associates, has been valued at $2,771,961.

He said the estate included $1,613,845 worth of stock in the Palo Alto electronics firm which her husband, Sigurd, helped found.

He was killed in a 1961 plane crash in Mexico.

Bikes Urged To Unclog Traffic

NEW YORK (UPI)—William F. Buckley Jr., the Conservative Party candidate for mayor and editor of National Review, offered an "ultra-reactionary" solution to New York's traffic problems yesterday — bicycles.

"I suppose it is ultra-reactionary to advocate going back to the bike," he said.

BORN IN CHINA

Vittorio Luigi Jovino Misses Old Shanghai

Vittorio Luigi Jovino of 48 Trellis Drive, San Rafael, often recalls his native city, where he grew up and first learned about the shipping industry, still his first love.

But he can no longer return to Shanghai, China. The Communists have come and when they did they wiped out the business he operated. Now Jovino is senior timekeeper for Matson Navigation Co., San Francisco.

His arrival in the United States in 1960 came by a circuitous route after he left China in 1950. He and his wife, Sadie, have lived in Hong Kong, Tokyo, London and Paris. Last month he and his wife were made United States citizens in a ceremony at the U.S. District Court in San Francisco.

Jovino was a member of the third generation of his family to live in China, but the name is best explained by the fact his grandfather was the first ambassador from Naples to the court of Peking.

Jovino's father founded a thriving shipping industry, and had his son educated at Cambridge University in England. The son returned to take charge of the ships after his education was completed.

The Jovinos, although more at home in China than in Italy, have always retained their Italian nationality. This fact helped the family enter the United States under the present quotas and also helped, for a short while, stave off the effects of Chinese communism.

The Communists completed their takeover in 1949, but the Jovinos stayed another year. Then they left for Hong Kong, leaving all that they owned behind them.

"It was hard to start again, but in China they were always having a revolution every four years or so. We have no regrets," Jovino said.

Their eldest son, Anthony, 19, was born in Shanghai. The others, Brian, 15; John, 11, and Chris, 6, were born in Hong Kong.

Anthony is in the First Marine Air Wing at Iwakuni, Japan. "But he may be in Viet Nam by now," Jovino added.

Brian is a student at Terra Linda High School. The two younger boys attend Don Timoteo School, across the street from the Jovino home.

Jovino's wife, Sadie Muriel Jovino, was born in England, but the two met and married in Shanghai. When they came to the United States, Jovino's mother and two sisters were already here. They lived in San Francisco a year before coming to Marin four years ago.

The new citizen said he was eager to become involved in politics. He said he had, for many years, been interested in American politics from afar. Since he has lived in Marin he has attended meetings of political groups as an observer.

"But now I can participate fully," he said. He added that he found an apathy toward politics here that was also the situation in other countries he has known.

Other new citizens from Marin naturalized in September follow:

Fairfax—Jacque Marcel Guiraut, 261 Miranda Avenue.

The Wonderful World Of Animals

HELLO, UP THERE—Second grade pupils at Saxvik School in Bismark, N.D., have produced a whole menagerie of animals made of cardboard. Included in the make-believe zoo was this glamorous caterpillar, being given the eyeball treatment by Jonathon Stone, son of Rev. and Mrs. Willard Stone of Bismark. (AP Wirephoto)

EASY-GOING CUB—Hercules, a 6-months-old male lion newly purchased by the Evansville, Ind., zoo, is so tame he pays no attention to the flock of peafowl only a few feet away. His calmness is natural; he grew up in the children's zoo in Brookfield, Ill.

BASKET CASE—Howard Sautter, Abington, Pa., service station operator who feuded for months with city fathers over their efforts to banish his pet lion, Leo, had been grieving since last June when Leo died. Then, earlier this month, someone left a 2-month-old cub—literally a foundling—on Sautter's doorstep. The lion-lover vows he'll keep it. (AP Wirephoto)

GRIDDER'S PAL — The Chicago Bears' sensational rookie halfback Gale Sayers holds his Chihuahua, Tiny, like a football and tells the dog all about a recent game in which Sayers led the Bears to a 45 to 37 victory over the Minnesota Vikings in Chicago Oct. 16. (UPI Telephoto)

CANINE CUPID — Multimillionaire heiress Mamie Reynolds (left) met professional dog handler Joe Gregory (right) at a show, when she performed the ceremony of awarding a trophy to a winning dog he was showing. Romance bloomed, and the couple wed secretly in Juarez, Mexico last month. Now, they're sharing a cottage with 25 dogs, including Champion Gem's Amethyst von Warlock (center) in Louisville, Ky. MOTHER SETS RECORDS—Holder of the world's crown for hippo motherhood, if not for beauty, is Maren, the 42-year-old star of Copenhagen's zoo. Already boasting a record total of 17 offspring, Maren recently went herself one better with Number 18—a boy, shown nestling alongside her in their watery living room. (AP Wirephoto)

Marin Church Appeal Noble For Acceptance Of Races

A convincing "yes" vote on Proposition 14 last year nullified most of the "fair housing" laws and left to individual home owners the decision to rent or sell.

At the time, many "yes" voters, who wanted to eliminate "fair housing" laws like the Rumford Act, were quick to point out that personally, they were for fair housing.

They explained they had no intention of discriminating in the sale or rental of their homes; that they merely resented state intrusion into their right to sell or rent.

It is to this expression of fair play on an individual basis that Marin churches are now appealing.

The Marin Council on Religion and Race, supported by most of Marin's churches and synagogues, is embarking on a program to create an atmosphere of minority acceptance throughout Marin County.

Bernard T. Engel of Terra Linda, chairman of the Marin Council on Religion and Race, says his group has received assurances from almost all chuches and synagogues that they would support the program.

He hopes to contact some 20,000 Marin families, which are affiliated with some religious group, by sending them cards to sign, with the cooperation of various churches and synagogues.

The cards say in effect that the signer recognizes the right of all races to rent or buy housing in his neighborhood and that he welcomes them as neighbors.

Frank Dill of San Rafael, who is in charge of publicizing this program, emphasizes the voluntary nature of the campaign: "The mere fact that each individual in the county faces this question squarely would, in itself, be an accomplishment, whether he signs or not."

The hope, of course, is that the big majority will commit themselves on the side of personal non-discrimination in housing.

We feel the aim of this program is a noble one—to create an atmosphere of acceptance of all races.

The scope of the undertaking is also tremendous. The Marin Council on Religion and Race is supported by the Marin County Council of Churches, Roman Catholic Archdiocese of San Francisco, and the Board of Rabbis of Northern California.

In other words, the appeal will reach almost all parishioners of all denominations in Marin.

What will ultimately result from this appeal to the individual consciences of Marin citizens is something that the Council has not yet foreseen.

We hope that better relations between all human beings will be the outcome.

Whatever the result, we can see nothing to be lost and everything to gain.

We commend the Marin Council on Religion and Race on its ambitious undertaking and and hope that citizens will line up on the side of fair housing on an individual and voluntary basis.

The Crickets Of Autumn

These evenings about dusk the melancholy-sweet chirping of thousands of crickets commences to fill the rural Marin air. It continues until quite late if the night is a warm one. If it is cold, the song soon dies down and one can almost see in his mind's eye thousands of crickets dully shivering.

The cricket's song has a certain indescribable charm, a mixture of joy and sadness. It is a quiet reminder of the brevity of life. The maker of the song will soon be gone. Where and why we know not. Death's eternal mystery.

Best Man For Every State Job? No, It's Those Who Shell Out

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — There was a time in the history of the state when service to the government was an honor, rather than a job bought and paid for through political machinations.

That time, however, is long gone. The practices of the present administration in soliciting campaign funds from its top administrators indicates it isn't the best man for the job, but the best contributor.

SO FAR, nobody has been fired for failing to shell out. With the publicity attendant on the collection activities, which can't be kept secret no matter how hard the administration tries, there is no indication anyone will be released from state service if he or she fails to dip deep in the pocket-book for political favor.

Governor Brown's administration is not alone in contacting top administration officials for campaign money. It has been done for a good many years, sometimes surreptitiously, but the attitude appears to be that the public servant owes a contribution to the next campaign.

Of course, if the campaign is successful, then the administrator has more chance to keep his job for the next four years. If it isn't, then he can charge it up to profit and loss, and look for another job.

THE DUNNING practice is excused on the grounds that it's been a custom for a good many year, so why shouldn't administrators in top brackets enjoying large salaries, contribute for the purpose of buying their jobs for another four years?

Custom or not, the practice smells of cheap politics, in complete antithesis to the fundamental principles of democratic government. In the selection of a top administrator, the theory at least is that the choice is based on ability, rather than how much he can contribute to the next campaign. At least, this would be the responsibility to the people of the state, to whose service the administrator should be dedicated.

The taxpayers of California have a difinite stake in the campaign contribution activities of the Brown administration.

IN EFFECT, it is the taxpayers who are making the contribution through the salaries paid to the administrators. Of course, once the money is earned, it belongs to the administrator to do with what he chooses.

But originally, at least, it was public money to the point where every cent was contributed by the taxpayer.

THUS, IF California's top administrators are getting enough salary to contribute a couple of thousand to their boss' campaign, the question might be asked as to whether they are being paid too high salaries. A reduction, with the understanding that government employees wouldn't be asked for campaign contributions could do nothing more than benefit the taxpayers of the state.

He Has Solution To Bridge Traffic

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Re: the commuter's dilemma:

1. A second deck on the Golden Gate Bridge would add one lane of traffic in the critical direction and leave three virtually unused lanes in the opposite direction.

2. Rapid transit won't do the job for the man who doesn't keep regular business hours. And there must be many of them, judging from the passenger-less autos one sees each day.

So where does that leave us?

For one thing, the Golden Gate Bridge is NOT the problem. The morning rush-hour bottleneck is in the Corte Madera area. In the evening, it's usually around the San Rafael viaduct.

Since a lot of money will have to be spent regardless of the course chosen, why not consider a bridge from northern San Rafael to rake off the residents of Santa Venetia and points north?

From an esthetic point of view, a second bridge would hardly be more of a blight on the skyline than the first one — that ugly dinosaur that crawls across the bay to Richmond.

With tongue-in-cheek, I offer one more solution: fill in the bay.

Engineer Project Would Wreck Creek

Editor, Independent-Journal:

How incredible that the College of Marin should base its master plan of development on the assumption that all of Marin County would agree to the destruction of Corte Madera Creek.

The various city councils are not "dragging their feet" as charged by Mrs. Deedy, but rather, digging in to resist various pressure groups that seem determined to force this ugly project upon Marin residents.

One questions the wisdom of a board that predicates its growth pattern upon the supposition that the mind of the public can be shaped to the will of the Army Corps of Engineers.

Cattlemen Oppose More Public Land

Editor, Independent-Journal:

We enclose a copy of a resolution unanimously adopted by the Humboldt County Cattlemen's Assn. . . . concerning the acquisition of lands in Humboldt, Del Norte and Mendocino counties by the National Park Service and the State Division of Beaches and Parks . . .

With over 1,250,000 acres of non tax-paying, government owned land plus 100,000 acres of state parks in public ownership, and the recreational potential of these existing holdings having at present only a minimal development, we believe that further vast expansions of public ownership is uncalled for.

Other major considerations which prompted our resolution:

1. The resultant removal of a natural resource from the economic base of the counties.

2. Negative effect on the tax base on counties with already the highest tax rates in California and the resulting effect on school districts.

3. Revenue to counties from national forest lands is only 25 per cent of that produced from private forest lands.

4. Over 85 per cent of present tourism industry occurs in the three short summer months.

5. Inevitable delay that results between the time private lands would be sequestered from private development and the time its recreation potential is adequately developed.

6. Massive land acquisition by government retards the development of recreation facilities by private land owners which would benefit the local economy far more than federal development.

7. Possibilities of restrictions placed on ownership or use of private adjacent lands.

8. Increased hunting pressures on adjacent land owners particularly on those lands removed from state parks.

9. Lack of predatory animal control measures which allow public land to become breeding grounds for predators that harass surrounding private ownerships and have proven harmful to domestic animals and forest regeneration . . .

Second Bridge Deck Not Feasible

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I listened to the interesting discussion on KTIM on the problems of the Golden Gate Bridge.

The stability of the bridge was not mentionad—the near disaster that happened on Dec. 3, 1951, when a southwesterly gale of relatively short duration caused the bridge to sway dangerously to such an extent that it was necessary to close the bridge for about five hours.

Had the gale lasted a few more hours the bridge might have suffered the same fate as the Tacoma Narrows Bridge which collapsed during a moderate gale. . . .

A survey was made of the Golden Gate Bridge shortly after the accident referred to, and considerable damage was found, necessitating repairs costing approximately $3,000,000. It is now proposed to build a second deck on the bridge at great expense which in no way will solve the traffic problem and might affect the safety of the bridge by the increase of wind resistance.

It is also proposed to remove sufficient concrete from the main deck to offset the weight of the upper deck. This will have the same effect as removing the ballast from the bottom of a ship and adding more sail — decreasing the stability. . .

There appears to be some doubt by some bridge engineers as to the advisability of making any changes. Under such circumstances, the bridge directors assume a great responsibility where lives and property are concerned. . .

Since the population in San Francisco is decreasing and the industries are moving out, there may not be the necessity of another bridge. Contra Costa has plenty of space, good rail and water facilities and industries moving in. That may help solve our traffic problems by heading the commuters east instead of south. . .

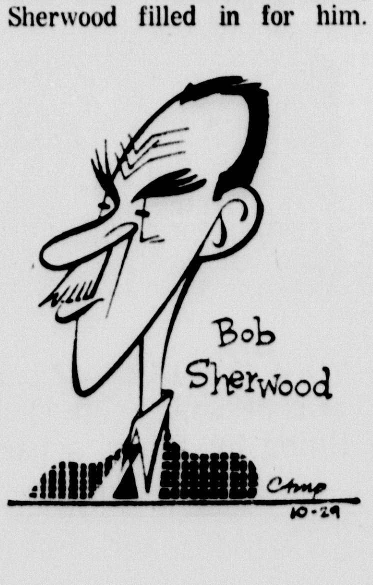
REMEMBER that ritzy magazine, Vanity Fair? Bob Sherwood, Pulitzer Prize author worked on it very briefly early in his career. When the editor of the regular feature, "What the Well-Dressed Man Will Wear" went on vacation, Sherwood filled in for him.



Convinced that nobody ever read the column, Sherwood got going with "On dit that peg-topped pants and cloth-top shoes are coming back, also that the best-dressed man's waistcoat this season will glitter darkly with cut jade."

It developed that one man read the column after all, and that was its regular editor. Mr. Sherwood was fired.

BOBBY REMSEN inspected a nearly completed apartment building in Riverdale recently. "The walls are built of a new material," he reports—"Kleenex." He's also agreed to let his wife buys some new dresses in Paris when they travel there next month. She's discovered an out-of-the-way boite there, she tells him, that's something like Klein's or Robert Hall. It's run by somebody called Dior."

It Wasn't Johnson's Know-How In Congress That Passed Bills

WASHINGTON — How did he do it?

How did President Johnson reap such a harvest of liberal, high-cost social reform legislation from a single session of Congress?

The almost unanimous answer to this question is, I believe, the wrong answer.

It is almost automatic to say that Johnson's legislative skill — his intimate knowledge of the Congressional process—brought it off.

IT DIDN'T. LBJ would never have won from the Congress, the wide-ranging and unprecedented — medicare, aid to education, immigration reform, a powerful voting rights law, and a doubled appropriation for the anti-proverty program — unless something else and something far more controlling had happened first.

The real source of the president's remarkable success in Congress is not his political know-how, but his success in winning the country so fully to his side that Congressional action became relatively easy.

LEGISLATIVE know - how was incidental.

Public support was crucial and the shaping of the public concensus had to precede Congressional action.

The central political fact here is that Congress can rarely, perhaps can never, act on any matter on which there is strong division within the nation.

Congress does not resolve national controversies; it can only act after major division has been resolved within the nation and most of the controversy has been removed.

This is what happened on all of this once controversial legislative program and on which during the past year the Johnson administration won such comfortable votes from Congress.

And the developing of the public consensus behind medicare, aid to education, immigration, anti - proverty, etc., was not all the president's doing by any means. He played his own part with resource and determination. Many things came together to help him.

LONG PUBLIC DEBATE—Most of the president's measures have been before the nation for at least a decade and a half in one form or another. The public consensus was slow but firmly developed over this period of debate and refinement. LBJ's own advocacy was influential and he reshaped some of the legislation in order to remove hobbling controversy.

THE ELECTION—The Republican party's nomination of Barry Goldwater gave Johnson just what he needed to get his measures through Congress. Goldwater pushed much of the business community's support into the president's lap and the defection from Goldwater's candidacy was so great that it decimated the ranks of the Republican party in Congress.

PROSPERITY — Never has the U.S. been so prosperous so long. It keeps many businessmen sympathetic to the administration and eases the strains of deficit spending.

The legislation which the president lost at this session of Congress also shows how Congress is unwilling to pass laws in areas of deep national controversy, but will act only after the nation has made up its mind.

Secretary McNamara On The Way Out

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN
AND PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Defense Secretary McNamara is on the way out. (McNamara has denied this.—Editor.)

The controversial Pentagon head will return to private life by the end of the year.

In informing President Johnson of his intention to resign, McNamara explained this decision was largely prompted by two reasons: His feeling this was a good time to leave as the "transitional period" was over and the administration was fully established; on a number of grounds it was desirable that his successor be in office when Congress reconvenes in January.

"That will enable him to start with a fresh slate in presenting the military budget, and in handling other problems on Capitol Hill," said McNamara.

THE PRESIDENT somberly voiced heartfelt regret over losing the cabinet member. He praised him to the skies for 'outstandingly devoted and able service, and said he would feel free to call on McNamara if occasion required.

The latter assured the President he would respond "whenever I am summoned."

Two factors are behind McNamara's determination to quit:

FOR SOME MONTHS he has been relegated to a secondary role in formulating Viet Nam policy. He still participates in policy deliberations, but no longer plays the dominant role. That has largely been taken over by Secretary Rusk, McGeorge Bundy, special White House assistant on foreign affairs, and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

Increasingly he has been heatedly embroiled with Congress. Once highly respected and admired by congressional leaders, McNamara, in the recent session, was at stormy loggerheads with many of them and repeatedly angrily denounced—with Democrats in the van. Illustrative is the blistering attack on the Senate floor early this month by Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., head of the powerful Armed Services Preparedness Committee. Stennis bluntly charged him with misstatements and attempting to mislead Congress.

It was an open secret Stennis' blast had the approval of Senator Richard Russell, D-Ga., veteran chairman of the full Armed Services Committee, and of virtually all of its members.

THE EXTRAORDINARY denunciation jolted both McNam- and the White House.

Deputy Secretary Cyrus Vance will replace McNamara. A long-time close friend of the President, Vance served as Army Secretary under President Kennedy, and last year was shifted to the No. 2 Defense job by Johnson to prepare him to take over from McNamara.

The shelving of the judgeship appointment of Francis X. Morrissey is not the first time a Kennedy selection for the federal bench has been scotched.

Overlooked in the turbulent Morrissey fray was the refusal of the Senate Judiciary Committee to approve a federal district judge handpicked by then-Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy—now the junior senator from New York.

His choice was Wisconsin National Committeeman David Rabinovitz, who had vigorously supported Sen. John Kennedy against Sen. Hubert Humphrey in the state's superheated 1960 pre-convention primary battle.

Rabinovitz' appointment as federal judge was an out-and-out political reward by the Kennedys.

It's A Bright New Building For Corte Madera Public Safety

Each day, as the staff of the Corte Madera police and fire departments arrive at work, they give a quick glance at the brick facade of the town's new public safety building next door and wonder if this is the day they will move.

To the unpracticed eye, the building is finished and ready for occupancy right now. Yet, each morning, the work crews are still there, ironing out last minute wrinkles. Town Manager Ronald L. Usher was told by the contractor Tuesday morning that because of a painting problem, the building probably will not be ready for a few more days.

IN THEIR PRESENT, cramped quarters at the old town hall, the police and one full-time fireman are ready, waiting to begin the confusing move into new quarters.

Cardboard boxes, filled with evidence, forms, reports and other articles collected over the years, are stacked in every space corner and closet.

ASKED WHEN THEY might start moving, police Sgt. David McIntosh just shrugs his shoulders and says:

"If you come into this office some morning and we aren't here, you had better check down at the new building."

We toured it the other day and can see why the town's public safety forces are so anxious to move. By our horseback estimate, the police and fire departments will have at least double the space there as they do in the old town hall.

THE THING ABOUT the building which really caught our eye though, was not its spaciousness. It was the shiney brass pole running from the ground floor to the upstairs living quarters which will some day sleep four full-time firemen.

So many new fire houses these days are one level buildings that we were sure the sliding pole for sleepy firemen hurrying to their trucks was a thing of the past. We were glad to see one in this building. Fire fighting could not possibly be as exciting without a pole to slide down first.

ANOTHER INTRIGUING portion of the building is the interrogation room for the police department. A small cubicle, it has room for a table, two chairs and a couple of men. We looked around for the glaring spotlight which might be shined in the suspect's eyes, but found only overhead fluorescent lighting. The room is soundproof. There is an open spot about six inches wide and two feet deep where a one way mirror will be installed. From the inside, it will be a mirror; from the outside, it will be a window into the room.

But all who can should see the building for themselves. Taste runs in different directions and everyone will have his favorite part of the building. While we liked the interrogation room, for instance, Sgt. McIntosh seemed much more enthralled with the private office he will have when the department moves into the building. There is something there for everyone.

They Supported LBJ Then, But Now They Don't—It's Confusing

The six-page accusatory note ends prayerfully: "Heaven help you, for you are a badly confused man and will never get anywhere." There is a prophetic ring to it, but, if I never reach the heights, it won't be because I haven't tried to emulate my betters. And yet, in spite of all my efforts, I remain low man on the totem pole.

The first time I was called on to speak in public, I saw a favorably inclined audience turn slowly, under my bumbling oratory, into a sea of bored faces and then into a hostile posse. Only quick thinking on my part saved me from a coat of tar-and-feathers: I fainted.

A LESS STURDY character would have given up. But I am—correction: make that was—made of sterner stuff. I remembered Demosthenes and for months walked about the yard with pebbles in my mouth, declaiming earth-shaking phrases to the air.

When finally satisfied, I sought another speaking engagement. This wasn't easy, as the story of my initial debacle had traveled far and wide. But at last a harassed friend arranged it for me to appear at a club in a hamlet which had only a country newspaper and was, therefore, unaware of my previous record.

This time, prepared and full of confidence, I rose after a generous introduction—I had written it myself—and launched into my speech. But the result was the same—except that this time I got the tar-and-feathers. And so did my friend.

MONTHS LATER I ran into my ex-friend at a party. "Tell me," I said, "what happened? It was a good speech—you read it and liked it.

"Yeah," he said bitterly, "but it sounded as though you had a mouth full of pebbles."

With that career over I turned to columning and decided to follow in the footsteps of Will Rogers, who, with no formal educational background, became a beloved commentator on the American scene. "All I know," he used to say, "is what I read in the papers."

So I make it a point to read the papers religiously and rely on them as though they were Holy Writ in composing my homilies.

OR MAYBE I read the wrong papers and, therefore, get confused. Last year, I gathered from them the impression that a right-wing extremist had illegally seized the GOP nomination by the unsavory method of winning the delegates. He was opposed by middle-of-the-road Republicans, of whom there apparently weren't enough. In a gallant effort, Gen. Henry Cabot Lodge left Saigon to shift for itself while he endeavored hopelessly to stem the Viet Cong tide in San Francisco.

But Armageddon wasn't lost. In the ensuing election, all the liberal, tolerant, fair-minded, virtuous and law-abiding citizenry (of both parties) rose to smite down the threat of anarchy. The outlaw from Arizona and his band were routed, and the constitutional process of government by law, not by men, was preserved. Everybody breathed easier, including Bobby Baker, Nkrumah and Mao.

SINCE THEN, HOWEVER, we have had a series of demonstrations on the streets and on campuses that mocked law and order. Looting and shooting have ravaged our towns—in the name of civil rights and free speech.

And now—even as our boys die daily in a jungle war we are beset with riots in which youngsters, egged on by oldsters, defy all authority and burn their draft cards. We are forewarned of a monster demonstration to be held in Washington at which some 200,000 will hold a "peace march" and demand we stop shooting back at the Viet Cong guerrillas. It would, of course, make more sense if the march were held in Hanoi.

BUT WHAT INTERESTS—and confuses—me is that the leaders in all these violent, non-peaceful demonstrations were foremost in pleading for the election of LBJ. The same professors and preachers are here: Dr. Martin Luther King, James Farmer and Bayard Rustin; authors John Hersey and Saul Bellew, playwright Arthur Miller and good old Doctor Spock, authority on babies and co-chairman of SANE. Not a Goldwater extremist in the carload.

Chamber Favors Corte Madera's Golf Links Idea

The Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce yesterday directed a letter to the county board of supervisors supporting use of 100 acres of land east of Highway 101 as a dump, later to be converted to a municipal golf course.

The proposal, supported by the town council at its last meeting, calls for filling the marshy land with refuse for seven to 10 years, then converting it to an 18-hole golf course.

The chamber also instructed President Richard G. Burns, attending a meeting of the county chamber of commerce in Tiburon Friday, to support the merging of the county chamber of commerce with the Marin County Development Assn. but seek to retain chamber control over the newly formed organization.

Woman Tells Of Beating By Two Men

Mrs. Joseph De Martini, 50, of Sausalito told police she was knocked unconscious yesterday by two men who choked her, pounded her with a hammer, and slapped her face at her home at 518 Easterby Street.

They ransacked the house, then stole $31 from Mrs. De-Martini's purse in the kitchen and fled, 15 minutes before her husband returned home.

Mrs. De Martini, found unconscious by her husband on the living room floor, was treated for bruises around her throat and shoulders by her own doctor. She was not hospitalized.

She told police that at about 10:45 a.m. she answered a knock at the front door. A man asked her what time her husband would be home and she replied "about 11 a.m."

Mrs. De Martini said the man grabbed the screen door and yanked it open, motioning to another man on the street who then came up the stairs to the house.

Mrs. De Martini told officers she tried to escape through the front door and the first man slapped her on the face, then struck her on her chest.

The man's colleague picked up a hammer from the floor and handed it to the first man. He choked Mrs. De Martini with one hand and struck her on the shoulder with the hammer, she said.

De Martini, former owner of a Sausalito garbage company and who now operates a small garbage company in Tamalpais Valley, arrived home at 11 a.m. He called police and the doctor.

The men were described as Negroes, both between ages of 25 and 35.

Life Sentence In Cal Slaying

OAKLAND (AP) — Felton U. Theriot, 43, as sentenced yesterday to life imprisonment for the fatal shooting of his wife as she worked in a laboratory on the University of California's Berkeley campus last January.

He as convicted of murder by Superior Court Judge Lewis Lercars, who heard the final two weeks of the case himself after dismissing a jury that heard earlier testimony. The defense and prosecution had agreed to let Judge Lercars decide the case when Theriot's sanity became an issue.

Lercars ruled that Theriot was sane when he shot his wife, Gladys, five times in the laboratory in the Life Sciences Building on the Berkeley campus.

County Sponsors Birth Control

VENTURA (AP) — One thousand Ventura County women are expected to participate in a voluntary birth control program starting next Jan. 1.

Under the family plan services, authorized earlier by county supervisors, birth control information and materials will be available to persons on welfare, to patients of the county general hospital and the health department and to persons referred by private physicians.

First-year cost of the program, employing two nurses and a part-time doctor, will be $28,-700.

Anti-Viet Group Requests Permit

OAKLAND (AP)—In preparation for a protest march Nov. 20 against United States policy in Viet Nam, an Oakland parade permit was sought yesterday by the Vietnam Day Committee.

Recent denials of parade permits to the VDC did not prevent demonstrators from attempting to march to the Oakland Army Terminal Oct. 15 and 16. Oakland police stopped them at the Berkeley-Oakland boundary.

As an answer to the VDC's scheduled march, John S. Engberg, former state commander of the Disabled American Veterans, said about 200 units of color guards and color bearers would line the route if the march is held.

Experimental Plane Flies High, Fast

EDWARDS AFB (UPI) — The X-15 was flown to an altitude of almost 45 miles yesterday by test pilot John McKay to measure noise and potential stress hazards on future space vehicles.

A horizon scanner mounted on the rear of the fuselage also was used to "closely define" the earth's horizon as the No. 3 X-15 reached a height of 237,000 feet and a speed of 3,477 miles an hour, or Mach 4.7.

Drunken Driving Brings Jail Term

Last Piece Placed On Giant Memorial Arch

The "topping-out" climaxed 32 years of planning and three years of construction on the nation's tallest monument, which symbolizes America's thrust across the Western wilderness a century ago.

The gleaming stainless steel arch, the nation's tallest monument and one of its most impressive, stands on the site where the westward movement began with Lewis and Clark's exploration and later with wagons moving west.

The arch and the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial, of which it is a part, were 32 years in the making. The idea was born during the great depression in the mind of a St. Louis mayor named Bernard Dickmann.

The project served to turn St. Louis' face to the future. The whole downtown area is getting a face-lifting. Some $16 million in construction, including a new sports stadium, is under way in the shadow of the arch.

The Jefferson National Expansion Memorial, site of the arch, occupies 80 acres on the riverfront. One of the main features will be a museum of westward expansion beneath the arch. From the museum, visitors will ride in cable cars inside the legs of the arch to an enclosed observation platform at the keystone.

The arch itself is the only structure of its size and shape in the world. The architect, Eero Saarinen, who died in 1961, said it would withstand a tornado and should be there forever.

School Officers Trade Posts

Mrs. Alyce Farkas of the Reed School District and Lawrence Goldberg of the Kentfield School District traded jobs last night in election of top officers of the Marin County School Boards Assn. at College of Marin.

Mrs. Farkas moved from vice president to president, while Goldberk changed from president to vice president.

Mrs. Fay Jensen of the Fairfax School District board was elected secretary, and Mrs. Leonora Dougherty of the Novato Unified School District board was re-elected treasurer. Lawrence I. Kramer Jr., San Rafael, and Doris Harnsberger, San Anselmo, were named to the executive board.

Clock-Radio Stolen

Jack W. Shaw reported to Mill Valley police last night that, between 7:45 a.m. and 8:30 p.m., somebody entered his home at 14 Matilda Avenue and stole a $52 clock-radio and perhaps other items. Entry was through an unlocked door.

Two Boys Hurt As Truck Hits Bank And Tree

Donald and Kevin Riley, 12 and 14, of 665 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur, were treated at Marin General Hospital Tuesday night for injuries suffered when a pickup truck in which they were riding went off the Corte Madera grade.

Driver of the southbound truck, Steven L. Wood, 18, of 631-A Magnolia Avenue, said he was passing a car when the accelerator stuck.

The truck hit a bank on the right hand side of the road, bounced across the road, went over the bank and struck a tree, Corte Madera police reported.

Donald and Kevin, riding in the bed of the truck, suffered a cut scalp and mild concussion, respectively. Two other passengers, Frank Seibek, 13, of 633 Magnolia, and Walter Thomas of 631-A Magnolia, suffered minor injuries and said they would see their own doctors.

L. E. Castner is president of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District.

Donkey Solves Legal Puzzle

Ante Medic, another farmer, said the donkey belonged to him.

While a court argument went on, villagers led the donkey to a crossroads between the two farms and turned the animal loose. The donkey ambled straight to Simun's stable. The court ruled Simun the owner and ordered Ante to pay trial costs.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

In A Bidding Bind, End Play Sometimes Can Save The Day

Perhaps the chief problem in the hand shown today is in the bidding.

The easiest contract is three no-trump played from the South position, but this is not easy to bid.

Opening lead — ♣ A

South would be happy to bid no-trump if North suggested it by such a bid as two hearts instead of three diamonds.

TOW TO KNOW?

Still, North has no way of knowing that no-trump is better than diamonds. North's singleton in clubs and weakness in spades are hardly assets at no-trump.

Fortunately for South, careful play enabled him to make five diamonds. The key play came at the second trick, when West led a low club.

South had to discard a spade from dummy, resisting the temptation to discard a heart.

Declarer then drew trumps and led a low heart toward dummy.

If West took the ace of hearts, South would later get a trick with the queen of hearts and reach dummy with a trump to discard the queen of spades on the king of hearts.

SEES DANGER

Seeing the danger of taking the ace of hearts, West played the nine to force out dummy's king. South thereupon got to his hand with a trump, cashed the king of clubs to discard a heart from dummy and then led the queen of hearts to force West into the lead.

If West returned a spade, South would get a free finesse. If West returned a club or a heart, dummy would ruff and South would discard the queen of spades.

South would lose his game if he discarded a heart at the second trick.

If South then led a heart, West would take the ace of hearts and get out safely with another heart. West would eventually get the setting trick with the king of spades.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ 9 8 5 4 2
♥ K 8 4
♦ A J 6 4
♣ 9

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one spade.

The hand is slightly too strong for a raise to two hearts. Bid the spades and show the heart support at your next turn.

Tuberculin Test Dates Announced

Dates for the next two school tuberculin tests were announced today by the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn.

St. Raphael's School, with an enrollment of 780, will be tested on Jan. 24.

The Mill Valley School District's 3,461 pupils will be offered tests on Feb. 7.

Soon to be set are dates for testing at Our Lady of Loretto School in Novato and St. Patrick's School in Larkspur.

Since 1963 when the project was started, 7,498 school children in Marin have been tested. Two active cases of TB have been found and there have been 117 reactors — students showing by their reaction to the test that they have been infected by TB germs.

Medical and educational supplies for the testing are provided by the TB association.

Youth Dance Slated

The Mill Valley Youth Council will hold a dance to music of the band, the Police, at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the city community and youth center. The dance is open to high school age members and guests only, said Les Mize, council co-director.

Date palms are ornamental.

Firemen Prepare Annual Dance

Mill Valley Assn. of Volunteer Firemen will hold its 70th annual firemen's ball starting at 9 p.m., Nov. 6, at the Outdoor Art Club. The dance is to last until 2 a.m.

Dick Hart and his orchestra will play. Funds will be used to help pay for the Electron home receivers just purchased for use in volunteers' homes.

Tickets will be mailed shortly to all Mill Valley residents, Jim Vice, dance chairman, reported.

More Information Needed For U.S. Fund Distribution

Not all the information needed to distribute available federal funds to school districts under a new law was used in making up the distribution of $402,250.64 in Marin.

Dr. Daniel A. Collins of Mill Valley, a member of the State Board of Education, reported today that the list of children receiving welfare aid was used in figuring the money available.

As a result, the Sausalito School District will get only $12,128 under public law 89-10, while Kentfield school district will receive $19,455. School districts must prepare programs to aid education of children from poverty impoverished families before the allocations can be granted.

Only basis for the distribution in the county list was 1960 census figures of children in families where income is less than $2,000 a year.

The census showed that Mill Valley School District, which can receive $42,701, had 170 such families, while Sausalito School District had only 28, Collins said.

Collins further said these figures show that poverty is not largely confined to Negroes as some might have supposed. Because Negroes are isolated in the single area of Marin City, it is easy for the assumption to be made.

Adjustment in the money available to various school districts in the county may still be possible, based on the county welfare figures, Collins said. He has asked that this possibility be investigated.

Meanwhile, a better formula for the distribution should be worked up for next year, he declared.

Carson City, Nev., with a population of barely over 5,000, is the smallest capital city in the United States.

New Czar? Frick Favors Baseball Man

Independent-Journal Sports
FOURTH SECTION Thurs., Oct. 28, 1965 41

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Ford Frick, who will retire as commissioner of baseball when his seven-year-term comes to an end this inter, feels confident his successor ill be elected at the winter meetings in Miami Beach in December.

"If they don't," he said today, "I'll be disappointed."

The major league owners delayed action of a new czar at their recent meeting in Chicago but empowered a four-man committee to investigate, interrogate and recommend a candidate for nomination at the winter meetings.

Asked whether he would stay on if a commissioner were not named in December, Frick said:

"I don't intend to fight a war with the owners, but I'll stay only within reason. I don't propose to be a lame duck forever, just hanging on from week to week.

"If they elect a man from within baseball, there will be no reason for me to stay around. If they go outside for a commissioner, he'll have to have a little help and I'll stay on for a little while. In that event, I'll be shooting for January of next year."

If it were up to Frick, the owners would replace him with a man from baseball.

"I'm about to retire and officially I have no voice in the choice of my successor," he said. "But all things being equal, I'd like to see them name a baseball man.

"Having been commissioner for 15 years, I know the main problems that are faced in the commissioner's office. They are mainly baseball problems and, therefore, a baseball man is better equipped to handle them.

"Another thing the owners should recognize is that it is a working job and not a show-window job. In other words, you want a man who knows baseball and will work 24 hours a day at it."

The screening committee, originally comprised of owners John Fetzer of Detroit and John Galbreath of Pittsburgh, has been doubled to include owners Phil Wrigley of the Chicago Cubs and Bob Reynolds of the California Angels.

"We will not recommend a candidate without unanimous agreement," said Fetzer. "It could be one candidate or it could be as many as four or five. The election will be done by the 20 owners."

The owners, at the Chicago meeting, established a five-man cabinet for the commissioner. The cabinet, to be selected by the new commissioner, ill include an administrator, and directors of radio-television, information, player relations and amateur baseball.

"I don't care who the next commissioner is," said Frick, "but if he doesn't take on Charley Segar, baseball's present secretary-treasurer, he's crazy. Charley knows all the answers. He's more familiar with the inner workings of the game than any man in baseball."

HORSE KILLED, JOCKEY HURT AT BAY MEADOWS

Jockey Frank Pacheco, 27, was hospitalized with severe back pains but X rays revealed no broken bones. His horse, Dark Galla, died almost instantly of an apparent broken neck.

The other jockey, Lennie Knowles, 30, escaped with some bruises. Neither rider lost consciousness when pitched to the track.

An account said the field of 10 swung into the stretch when Knowles' mount, Danalo, stumbled and fell. Dark Galla hurtled over, but crashed to the track.

Mrs. May Always Wins—Almost; So Please Forgive Our Error

Boy, the faces around here are about the color of that big ad on page 24. We came out the other day and printed the "fact" that Mrs. William May was going to defend her Mill Valley Golf Club championship this week when actually she is CHALLENGING for the title she LOST last year.

While this may seem to be an unforgiveable booboo, you'll have to forgive our staff. You see, Mrs. May has won so many golf tournaments so consistently that we have come to regard her as the Boston Celtics of local pasture pool. A sure winner if there ever was one.

VIRGINIA MAY has dominated tournaments so much that there for a while they were thinking of naming a month after her. Or a state. Her contemporaries thought it so unfair to them that they started a "Break Up Virginia May" movement, similar to the one instituted against the all-victorious Yankees of years gone by.

But Sheriff Louis Mountanos put a stop to that, saying any dismembering would have to be done to the club roster and not to the anatomy. "You cannot e-limb-inate or de-feet Mrs. May," I remember Mountanos saying. The girls are hackers, but this is going a bit too far.

SO, MRS. MAY of Woodacre went her merry, wholesome way, winning everything in sight until one day last year when Mrs. Thomas Keigwin defeated her in a stunning upset, not to mention a cute skirt, blouse and hairdo. They say traps proved Mrs. May's downfall that day, but anyone who says yes, Virginia, there is a sandy course gets 10 lashes with a wet noodle.

Getting Mrs. May's story fouled up the other day was not our first facts pas concerning Virginia. Since she never lost, we thought we'd save time by using a standing headline that said, "Mrs. William May." Then we'd just add the second line to describe the event that she'd won.

WELL, STRANGE things sometimes happen around newspaper composing rooms and there is always the danger of getting the wrong line inserted under "Mrs. William May."

TAKE YESTERDAY's I-J, for example, and some of the following second lines that could have caused all kinds of embarrassments:

RELEASED IN IRAQ; PLANS POLISH VISIT; ANNULMENT ASKED; STILL IN LIMBO?; THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW; JIBES AGAINST STATE POLICE; A JOLT TO EDUCATORS; MARRIAGE LICENSES; STOLEN FROM HOME; TO BE DEDICATED; TO HAVE GATES, etc.

So you see we had to abandon that method of headlining Mrs. May's victories.

And please forgive our error in Tuesday's paper. It was just a habit.

SANTA ROSA High School grid coach Len Read, brother of College of Marin mentor Dick Read, leads the North Bay League in daughters. His wife, Alleen, presented Len with his fifth baby girl last Saturday.

FINANCIAL REPORT — The Giants must be kicking themselves especially hard today after reading the World Series cash payoffs. Each of the Dodgers received $10,297.43 and each Giant $1,856.31, a slight difference of $8,441.12. Since the Giants finished two games behind L. A., lessee now that amounts to about $4,220.56 per game, give or take a few heartbreaks.

THREE OF THE top four cross country runners at Sonoma State College are Marin residents: Bill Ranney, Jim Lopes and Jeff Tuel. They placed second, third and fourth, respectively, in a 4.7-mile race last weekend.

SAN RAFAEL High's faculty must be in pretty good physical condition. The profs have two teams entered in this winter's San Rafael recreation basketball league.

LET A SMILE BE YOUR UMBRELLA

Toughest assignment at Marin Catholic High School must be that of cheerleaders during football season. The Wildcats haven't won a Marin Athletic League varsity grid game in about four years, yet students have maintained excellent spirit through their gridiron miseries. Above are the Marin Catholic spirit boosters who have done a great job of smiling through the storms this season. From left, Jo Diederich, Ollie Lagomarsino, Mary Ann Lento and Tim Lenehan. ALMADEN GOLF TOURNAMENT

Billy Discombooberated

By JAMES C. ANDERSON

SAN JOSE (UPI) — Ailing Billy Casper, aiming for a $100,000 year in golf, set out today to defend his title in the 72-hole $46,000 Almaden Open tournament.

Sniffing oxygen between practice rounds because of a smog-caused allergy which made breathing difficult, Casper admitted he is not as sharp as he was last week when he captured the $20,000 first prize in the Sahara Invitational at Las Vegas.

"I feel discombooberated," he said after shooting a three-over-par 75 in a pro-amateur warmup yesterday. "My balance is off, my timing is off and I just plain feel lousy."

But a sick Casper is like a sore-armed Sandy Koufax.

Casper already has won $96,771.90 this year on the PGA tour and with two tournaments yet to play he hopes to join Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Tony Lema in the front ranks of golf's leading money winners.

The leaders were little Jack McGowan of Largo, Fla., and Jerry Steelsmith of Santa Barbara, Calif., both shot six-under-par 66s on the 7,035-yard Almaden Country Club layout.

Steelsmith was a runnerup here last year with Pete Brown of Los Angeles and Casper. Casper finally won in a playoff.

Long-hitting Raymond Floyd of St. Andrews, Ill., and Miller Barber of San Antonio, Tex., finished next in the pro-amateur tuneup with 67s while Bruce Brampton of Australia, a real threat to Casper's title, posted a 68 as did Rex Baxter of Houston, Tex., and Brown.

While neither Palmer, Nicklaus nor Player entered the Almaden, the field does include Ken Venturi, the former National Open king, making a comeback after a year-long layoff because of hand injuries.

Venturi scored a two-over-par 74 yesterday but was happy with his game.

"It's comingback," he said. "I'm just on the verge of playing good."

The feature of the pro-amateur yesterday was a net zero recorded by 18-handicapper Sekul Spaich of San Jose. He holed a seven iron on the 140-yard 15th hole and with his stroke recorded a nothing.

WESTERN HOCKEY THRILLER

Seals Blow Lead, Get Tie

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Victoria Maple Leafs, determined to keep their place at the top of the Western Hockey League, woke up in the middle of the game last night to salvage a 3-3 tie with San Francisco Seals.

The Leafs let the Seals run up a 3-0 margin before catching fire to tie the game and battle through a scoreless overtime period.

In an inter-league game, the winless Los Angeles Blades were bombed 10-2 by the Pittsburgh Hornets whose Norm Beaudin scored the three-goal hat trick.

Wayne Connelly scored the only goal of the first period to put San Francisco in front. Charlie Burns made it 2-0 Seals early in the second period and Connelly's second goal at the midway point gave the Californians a comfortable lead.

Bill Shvets cut the edge just 26 seconds after Connelly's goal and John Sleaver brought the Leafs to within one goal with nearly 13 minutss gone in the final period. Milan Marcetta collected the tying tally with less than two minutes to play.

Each side got eight tries for the winning goal in the overtime, but the goalies held firm. John Henderson stopped a total of 50 shots for the Seals and Al Millar turned back 36 attempts for Victoria.

Bad News For Raiders: Wood And Cannon Hurt

OAKLAND (UPI) — Just when Dick Wood started to push Tom Flores for the Oakland Raiders starting quarterback job, he turned up lame.

Coach Al Davis said that Wood apparently bruised his knee during a key 22-yard run against Boston last Sunday. Wood came off the bench after Flores was knocked groggy and led the Raiders to victory.

Wood's injury is not considered serious, but it is expected to limit his playing time Sunday at Kansas City and also push Flores back into the starting berth.

Other bad news for Davis yesterday was that Billy Cannon, who has been starting at tight end, will be out three or four weeks with a hamstring pull.

On the more optimistic side, defensive backs Kent McCloughhan and Howie Williams, both shaken up against Boston, are expected to be fully recovered in time for Sunday's battle with the Chiefs.

Did St Louis Boss Goof On Big Trade?

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Little-known Bob Howsam has had his troubles since becoming general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, but they are nothing compared to the spot he is on now.

Howsam replaced the popular Bing Devine in August, 1964, causing an uproar among St. Louis that became deafening when the Cardinals went on to win the pennant and World Series with Devine's players.

Then, in his first full season at the helm, the 1965 Cardinals finished seventh.

As if he didn't have enough troubles, in the last week Howsam has traded three-fourths of the infield that carried the team to the flag.

"I guess I'm really on the spot now," he said after trading first baseman Bill White, shortstop Dick Groat and catcher Bob Uecker to the Philadelphia Phillies yesterday for outfielder Alex Johnson, pitcher Art Mahaffey and catcher Pat Corrales.

"But I'm a positive thinker," said the 47-year-old Coloradan, wearing his always present smile. "I'm not trying to get rid of players. I'm trying to build a better ballclub."

Last week, he traded third baseman Ken Boyer, the league's Most Valuable Player in 1964, to the New York Mets for pitcher Al Jackson and infielder Charley Smith. Thus, almost half of the team that won the world championship is gone.

"We have added some young ballplayers to a club we expect to be fast and aggressive," he said. "If we do any more dealing, it will be with fringe players."

If Johnson, Mahaffey, Corrales, Jackson and Smith have good years in 1966, Howsam will have proved that he can meet the challenge handed him by the Cardinals and St. Louis fans. He will have won with "my team."

However, if those players fall flat, Howsam also realizes he could find himself back in Denver, where he was an insurance company executive before joining the Cardinals.

Howsam feels he has learned a great deal since taking the general manager job, a position in which he was named Minor League Baseball Executive of the Year with the Denver Bears in 1951 and 1956.

He also was one of five men who organized the American Football League and later he became president of the Denver Broncos of the AFL.

His inexperience in major league baseball led to many of his problems.

"The press was a little rough on me for a while," he said, "but I think I'm proving that I'm a good general manager for this ball club."

Player Fires Record 62; Nicklaus 66

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP)—South Africa's Gary Player shot a record-breaking 62 in the first round of the Australian Open at Adelaide's Kooyonga golf course today—then bitterly criticized himself for not breaking 60.

Player's 11-under-par 62 led by four strokes America's Jack Nicklaus, 66, with Australians Darrell Welch and John Sullivan at 67.

Player started with an eagle three and shot an amazing nine under-par for the first nine holes. He came home in 34 to equal the best known record for Open golf.

Golf writers said his 62 equalled the score of Spanish Canada Cup player, Ramond Sota, who shot 62 in the 1965 French Open.

Player afterwards said "I thought I could achieve my biggest ambition and break 60 in open play. I am going to try harder tomorrow."

Nicklaus was a model of consistency, going out and home in 33's to trail by four strokes. Nicklaus' only comment was "the game is not over yet. I've still got a chance. But I've never seen anything like Gary's play today. He was terrific."

JIM MURRAY

Wismer's Story: Riches To Rags

There are people who are name-droppers, there are people who are place-droppers, but Harry Wismer was a spectator-dropper.

A typical afternoon when Harry Wismer was broadcasting an Army-Navy or Notre Dame-Iowa football game would go something like this:

"And over there is J. Edgar Hoover, the great director of the FBI. Hi, Eddie! My house, next time, y'hear? Right behind him is the Queen of Roumania. Queenie, how y'been? How are the kids? Oh, oh, there goes Gen. Eisenhower, my good pal, and right behind him, Abe Schiller, of the Flamingo Hotel in Las Vegas. EVERYBODY is here today!"

SMALL DETAILS, like the truth, never got in the way of a good story when Harry was at the microphone, as he admits in his autobiography just out, "The Public Calls It Sport." Harry realized early in the game, the truth shall make you poor. He learned this serving as spotter for Graham McNamee ("It's a gorgeous blue-gold autumn afternoon with the sun shining wistfully through the magnificent shade elm trees—by the way, Notre Dame just scored on an 85-yard run by No. 23") and Bill Stern (HE'S ON THE 5, THE 4, THE 3, THE 2, THE 1.—HE SCORES! LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, I HAVE NEVER SEEN A MORE BEAUTIFUL RUN BY A HALFBACK IN MY WHOLE LIFE! FIVE WHOLE YARDS! LISTEN TO THE CROWD!")

HARRY CARRIED a larynx, an imagination and the gregariousness of a pickpocket probably as far as those one-purpose talents have ever been taken. And then he made the hustler's one mistake. He started believing in his own pitch. He went in hock to buy the snake oil himself.

He tells the whole sad story in his book, the title of which should be "How I Lost $2 Million and All My Friends in Football." Harry ended up like a blocked punt.

This football-shaped man out of Port Huron, Mich. fell in love with all the glittering propaganda of the "Golden Age of Sports" at an early age, and never outgrew it. He knew Cobb's batting average, Dempsey's record, the Four Horsemen's total yardage and Tommy Hitchcock's polo rating.

HE WANGLED an appointment for his Florida football coach, Charlie Bachman, as head coach at Michigan State through newspaper connections. This, in turn, got him the job as campus broadcaster. And that was all the leverage Harry Wismer needed.

First thing you knew, he was married to Henry Ford's niece, and Ford Motor Company's barrel-chested chief-of-staff and head-buster, Harry Bennett, was lining up more and better broadcasting contracts. And the first thing Harry Wismer knew, he was broadcasting college football for one network and the Washington Redskins' home games for another. He also ended up owning 25% of the Redskins and 25 % of the Detroit Lions. Dual ownership in the league was as illegal as clipping on the kickoff, so Harry put his Detroit shares in his father-in-law's name. The Lions in 1947 sold for the fantastic bargain of $165,000, and the first thing Harry knew, he was not just associating with millionaires, he was one.

HE FELL out with Washington Redskins' owner, George Preston Marshall (that never was very hard to do), and with his network bosses (that took a bit more concentration) and was ripe for The Great Adventure when the American Football League came along.

Harry believed in the league, $2 million worth. To hear him tell it, the coat-of-arms of the league should be a double-cross rampant on a field of two-faced characters. What the National Football League didn't do to the American Football League, its own partners did. Harry felt his back for knife-hilts every morning.

THE AFL was something the Texas Big Rich bought for their sons for Christmas one year instead of the proverbial set of trains—the New York Central. The AFL gobbled up more oil profits than a Latin-American confiscation, and sometimes seemed to consist of eight dry holes and a football. Harry Wismer's New York Titans were the deepest, dryest hole of all. Pretty soon, he was around at a new partner's, hat in hand, seeking a small loan—a million dollars. When they turned him down he was disconsolate.

IT WAS certainly not throwing good money after bad football, and they jacked Harry out of the game and into bankruptcy just before the television money truck began to back up to the front door. Harry was over a barrel, and got out of the league in one.

Harry will be back. A guy who can see J. Edgar Hoover where he ain't, describe a football game as it isn't, calling 'em as he can't see 'em, is not going to let one fumble send him back to the family haberdashery in Port Huron. Only the next time, he ought not to let the rich kids play just because they own the football.

Dark Must Answer To Lopat

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Ed Lopat, who expressed relief when fired as field manager by the Kansas City Athletics in 1964 but hung on with them in various odd jobs, was appointed executive vice president of the American League baseball club yesterday.

Lopat, 47, once a left-handed pitching ace for the New York Yankees, will be second in command only to A's owner Charles O. Finley.

"Everyone in the organization comes under my supervision," Lopat told a news conference. He said that includes Hank Peters, who had been the club's general manager, and Alvin Dark, former manager of the San Francisco Giants.

Dark and Peters will be his administrative assistants, Lopat said. When Dark was hired in August it was announced that he would be answerable only to Finley.

"Dark will work out of the front office as a liaison man and trouble shooter," Lopat explained. "He will do the same job for us that Harry Craft does for Baltimore."

World Series Loot: $10,297.43 For L.A.

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Sandy Koufax, Maury Wills and all other full-time Los Angeles Dodgers pocketed $10,297.43 for winning the 1965 World Series and the Minnesota Twins collected $6,634.36 for each losing share.

Although the total gate receipts of $2,975,041.60 set a record, the winning share was only the fourth highest since the American and National Leagues decided on a post-season championship playoff back in 1903.

The record for the most money earned by a winning player was set in 1963 when each Dodger received $12,794 in Los Angeles' four-game sweep over the New York Yankees. The 72,000 capacity at Yankee Stadium helped account for that.

In announcing the financial figures yesterday, Commissioner Ford Frick pointed out that each of the World Series participants divided their spoils in 35 shares and also dished out several cash awards.

Both the Dodgers and Twins, however, came out much richer than the participants in the 1964 World Series, when the winning St. Louis Cards got $8,622.19 each and the losing Yankees received $5,309.29 apiece.

Five teams in each league shared in the total players' pool of $885,612.21. The Chiacgo White Sox' full share for second place in the American League came to $1,873.52 as compared to the San Francisco Giants' $1,856.31. The Giants finished second in the National League.

Pittsburgh's Pirates got $1,245.91 each and Baltimore's Orioles $1,183.07 for finishing third. Fourth place full share money amounted to $627.87 for each member of the Cincinnati Reds and $618.51 for each Detroit Tiger.

The Milwaukee Braves received $263.06 and the Cleveland Indians $240.99 for finishing fifth.

First place teams divided 70 per cent of the players' pot (players share only in the first four games), 15 per cent went to the second place teams, 10 per cent to the third place teams and 5 per cent to the fourth place teams. The fifth place finishers received 2 per cent.

The official attendance figures for the seven games was 364,326, somewhat below the record of 420,784 who attended the 1959 World Series between the Dodgers and Chicago White Sox. The Dodgers' home park that year was the 92,000-seat Coliseum. Dodger Stadium seats 55,000.

Frick pointed out that the 1965 crowds swelled the all-time World Series attendance to 15,054,990. He also said that the federal, state and city admission taxes totaled $260,806 in 1965.

That figure amounted to more than the commissioner's share of $446,256.23. The Dodgers and Twins club management and the National and American Leagues each received $410,793.29 from the receipts.

Pitcher Jack Sanford, sold to the California Angels in midseason, received a two-thirds share of $1,237.54 from the Giants, who voted Warren Spahn, another pitcher, a half share of $928.15. Spahn joined the Giants in mid-July.

Cal Bears Speed Up The Offense; Injured Injun Ready For Huskies

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

CALIFORNIA

BERKELEY — Speedster Forrest Beaty may carry the ball frequently for the University of California this Saturday.

The track star has only been used on punt returns this year, but coach Ray Willsey has shifted him to second string left half behind Tom Relles this week as the Bears ready for Penn State.

Beaty has run the 220 in 20.2 and the 440 in 46.3, but has not run with the ball from scrimmage in a grid contest since he was a junior in high school.

STANFORD

PENN STATE

BERKELEY — Penn State has a 2-4 record, but the Nittany Lions publicity chief feels that the team's statistics are a better indication of the team's strength.

Jim Tarman pointed out yesterday that the team, which meets California Saturday, is 11th in the nation with an average od 342 yards per game.

WASHINGTON ST.

PULLMAN, Wash. — Defensive tackle Wayne Foster of Washington State is expected to be ready for action Saturday when the Cougars open conference play at Oregon State

Foster was injured against Indiana last week and drilled yesterday with his arm wrapped in tape.

U. of WASHINGTON

SEATTLE — Now that the University of Washington has found its passing attack, coach Jim Owens wants the Huskies to polish it up.

The new-found Husky air game brought victory to Washington over Oregon last Saturday. Yesterday, Owens worked his Huskies on passing and pass protection in preparation for Saturday's battle against Stanford.

OREGON STATE

CORVALLIS, Ore. — Coach Dee Andros says that his Oregon State football team will have to be more consistent on offense if it hopes to beat Washington State in a Pacific Athletic Conference game here Saturday.

"We've got to move the ball and be more consistent," he declared. "And we've got to play good defense."

The Beavers have compiled a 3-3 record this season. The Cougars are 5-1.

OREGON DUCKS

EUGENE, Ore. — Coach Len Casanova drilled his Oregon football team in the rain yesterday as the Ducks continued to get ready for their game with Idaho here Saturday.

Offensive guard Mark Richards and defensive specialist Cam Molter, both starters, are listed as doubtful for the contest because of injuries.

Richards was hurt last weekend and Molter has been out for two weeks.

IDAHO POLISH

MOSCOW, Idaho — Idaho football coach Steve Musseau began polishing his offensive and defensive units yesterday as final preparations get undersy for the Vandals' game with the University of Oregon Ducks Saurday at Eugene.

Offensively the Vandals worked on their outside attack. The emphasis was on drop-back passes with a short review on traps. The defense ran through a rehash of the Oregon club's offensive strategy.

SAN JOSE FOES

ALBUQUERQUE—University of New Mexico football coach Bill Weeks stressed offense in practice Wednesday making one change in the starting unit for the New Mexico-San Jose State game here Saturday.

USC TROJANS

LOS ANGELES — University of Southern California today planned to work on its weaknesses as shown in the Notre Dame game, stressing defense and a more varied offense.

Coach John McKay sent the Trojans through a defensive scrimmage yesterday to plug up the holes through which the Irish were able to pour. And he had quarterbacks Troy Winslow and Toby Page throwing as the Trojans worked on their passing patterns.

UCLA BRUINS

LOS ANGELES—Coach TOM Prothro ordered a brief polishing up drill today for the UCLA Bruins in their last orkout prior to departing at noon Friday for Colorado Springs, Colo., where they meet the Air Force Academy Saturday.

The Bruins indicated they expected an aerial attack from the Falcons as they stressed pass defense yesterday.

Ron Clarke Sets Another World Mark

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Australian distance runner Ron Clarke set world records for the 20,000 meters and one hour run at Landy Field, Geelong, Vicotria, last night.

He clocked 59 minutes 22.7 seconds to cut 5.6 seconds off the 20,000 meters record and covered 12 miles, 1006 yards, one foot, 10 inches to add 46 yards to the one-hour record.

Both old records were held by Bill Baillie of New Zealand and were set in Auckland, New Zealand, two years ago.

Clarke set a fast pace for the first six miles with quarter lap times varying between 68 and 70 seconds.

Clarke now holds seven world records, including the 5,000 meters, the 10,000 meters, six miles and three miles.

STEVENS

Old Dame Nature is a contrary old gal. For weekend after weekend she sent blustery winds to discourage the local angling set. Then she gives us a balmy opening day for the shooting of waterfowl, and, as if she suddenly realized what she had done, she calls off the breezes and sends a spell of "blue-bird" weather, so balmy and serene that even the decoys refuse to move.

Considering the very productive opening day last Saturday, when there was such a quantity of targets, it is safe to predict that in the Napa marshes and the Suisun Bay areas, duck hunting will again become extremely productive. I have no data on the kills in such co-ops as were open, nor yet the Game Management regions, but in the Suisun area two reports should be an indication of what to expect at the clubs and the state controlled areas opening this Saturday.

FOR EXAMPLE: One of the first reports coming in was from the bossman of the Mel Toponce Company of San Leandro. Mel and three buddies tested the Grizzly Island area. The quartet of nimrods, Don Jones, Al Freitas, Jerry Fox and Toponce, spread out 70 decoys and had a ball when groups of two, three and more birds, mostly sprigs, came in to look the dekes over. Four limits in short order. Mel told me no dogs were needed as the surrounding land was flat and it was easy to spot a falling bird.

MEL TOPONCE, whose main hobby is hunting, suggested I pass along his prediction that the areas opening Saturday will furnish exceptional sport.

The second glowing report of duck hunting came from Frank Andronico. (Andronico is the owner of Six Point Island, which I mentioned as being for lease for the entire waterfowl season. A wonderful set-up for a small group of hunters. Right in the line of flight. It's a perfect, furnished gun club) Andronico reported the six hunters who hunted from Six Point Island limited out well before noon.

THE BAND OF dedicated striper fishermen known as the "Reel-Rod-Benders" just finished the latest "challenge" derby—last Saturday and Sunday. Looks like George Fernandez is going to be hard to top in subsequent "fish-outs." George hooked, played and boated a nice 42-pound striper off Garner Point. Second on the list was Alan Scott with a 38-pound, 3½-ounce striper. (Alan caught his lunker on a sardine head.) Harry Kellman was third with a 22½-pounder; Bob Naruo had a 21-12, Willia Naruo weighed in a 21-8, Mike Silva a 20-3, Joe Ciriello took a 17-pounder, Don Robbers a 14, Al Modena, 14 even.

SEVERAL MEMBERS of another well known fishing club, the Fishing Fools of San Lorenzo, took to the waters of the San Pablo Bay recently. Dick Payne, who reported, was out again on Sunday. This time with wife, Audrey, and daughters Denise and Darla, 9 and 11. Denise caught a nice 11½-pounder, while Darla fought mightily and brought in a cyclopean youngster of 4½ pounds. The one-eyed, badly deformed fish took a bullhead.

ADVENTURES IN DENTURES

Professional football players can sometimes outdo a Halloween pumpkin's mouth, as evidenced here. Showing off their missing choppers are three members of the Cleveland Browns, (from left) tackle Dick Schafrath, end Paul Wiggin and defensive back Bobby Franklin. The Browns will meet the Minnesota Vikings next Sunday. (UPI Telephoto)

San Rafael's Shone Is Top Scorer For Marin League

Rocky Shone, hard-driving San Rafael halfback, is the Marin Athletic League scoring leader so far this season, averaging a touchdown per game.

Shone, listed sixth among the league rushers, has scored 24 points with his four touchdowns in four games. His rushing average is 3.8 per carry, but when the Bulldogs need tough yardage, he usually gets the call.

Dean Lazzarini, that Drake speedster, remains on top in rushing with 363 yards gained in three league games. His average is 6.2 yards per carry. Pushing him for the lead is Novato's Dick Otis who has gained 290 yards for a 4.5 average. Otis is the defending league rushing champ.

Novato quarterback John Dolinsek is the leading passer, according to percentage of completions, connecting on 20 of 38 attempts for a total of 222 yards. Terra Linda signal caller Sid Norman has the most passing yardage, 299. Tom Corder, Novato end, is on top in receiving stats, catching 12 passes for 250 yards.

Novato leads total offensive team statistics with a 277 average, and the Hornets are tops in passing, with a 129 average. Drake has the high rushing average, 178.

Defensively, Terra Linda is tops in rushing allowed (82 average) and total yardage allowed (140 average). San Rafael has the best pass defense with a 53 average.

Navy Coach: A Gift For Parseghian

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Bill Elias, Navy's head football coach, has a present for Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian. But he would just as soon keep it for himself.

The possible gift is a weather-scarred horseshoe, newly-painted a bright green, which Elias intends to make a sort of trophy for the Navy-Notre Dame game Saturday at South Bend, Ind.

"I thought I'd present it to him if they win. If they don't I'll keep it," the Navy head mentor said at his weekly news conference yesterday.

Elias says — and he insists it's the truth —that the horseshoe was found on the Notre Dame field by Carl Schutte, an assistant coach at the Academy, when he scouted the Notre Dame spring game this year. Schutte decided to save it and redecorate it for Saturday's game.

The Irish, ranked No. 4 in the nation and riding the crest of a three-game winning streak, will be strong favorites to win the battle of the green horseshoe.

Market Has A Loss After Active Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed with a loss today. Trading was active.

Weakness in American Telephone, triggered by news of a rate investigation by the government, upset AT&T. Some of the biggest blue chips—including General Motors and Jersey Standard—followed along to the downside.

Selling spread to many of the glamour issues in television, electronics, office equipments and aerospace.

The loss on average was mild, however, as quite a few key stocks yielded no ground.

Volume for the day was estimated at 7.3 million shares compared with 7.67 million yesterday.

Here was the picture near the close:

AT&T, the most widely held stock of all, was down about 1½ and was pacing the Big Board on volume.

General Motors sank a full point, Standard Oil (New Jersey) almost a point.

As the list backed away from two days of historic highs, many of the glamour stocks in television, electronics, office equipments and aerospace took fairly sharp losses.

Xerox dropped 4, Texas Instruments 3, Polaroid and Magnavos about 2 each, Zenith and Boeing about a point.

Eastern Airlines held a 2-point gain while losses of a point or so were shown by National Airlines and KLM Airlines.

U.S. Steel held firm. Kennecott rose about 1½.

Prices turned generally lower on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged.

A Wolf Lurks In Clothes Of Home Buyer

Women real estate brokers in Marin have been warned to beware of a customer who has an amorous glint in his eye.

Posing as a would-be purchaser, the man agrees to be shown round a house, but once inside, his mind wanders from the job in hand.

Daniel F. Deedy, manager of Marin Real Estate Board, was reluctant to talk about the warning today, describing it as "a domestic matter."

He confirmed, however, that the board issued a warning to women members about two weeks ago.

"We put them on notice to watch for this man—let's just he had amorous ideas. There have been no complaints received here since the notice was issued," he said.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Still More Construction Seen At Northgate Industrial Park

Activity continues at the Northgate Industrial Park. I notice that there are now five buildings completed here, one nearing completion — and the foundation for another has been started.

Among the recent comers to the park is Mogens Sundboll Van Line, which has taken 3,000 square feet on Carlos Drive. Sundboll, a native of Denmark, has been in the moving business in Marin for the past three years, but working mostly from his home in Terra Linda. He now has room for modern palletized storage—and two moving vans.

DOTTO GLASS CO., INC., now at 101 Joseph Court, San Rafael—in business about 18 months, since Roy Dotto Jr. began to work for himself, is another future Northgate Industrial Park occupant.

He has purchased a lot on Mitchell Boulevard and one of these days will put up his own building — probably with space left over to rent out to other firms.

NEW VENTURE of Mrs. Eva Gottheiner of Greenbrae is Olympus Whirlpool Bath of Marin, Sonoma and Napa. She has the exclusive retail distributorship in these three counties for a device manufactured by Sales Research Development Co. of Salt Lake City. At present she carries on the business from her home.

Olympus is a compact piece of physical therapy equipment, lightweight (24 pounds) and requires no special installation or maintenance. Just dunk it in the bathtub and get your exercise while relaxing, says Mrs. Gottheiner. Special features include a rotatable nozzle and a long-life G.E. motor.

Mrs. Lee Sherry of Fairfax is sales representative.

THERE IS NOW more construction going on in Strawberry Town and Country Village to finish up new stores than in any previous period. Almost all space is leased, I'm told, and it should be just about filled by the end of the year. After that, I guess they'll have to add another building or two at the south end of the village and increase the occupancy potential to 100.

IRWIN TARANTO of San Rafael has been appointed, manager, data processing, at the San Francisco service center of Stanford Data Processing Corp. He will be in charge of all operations, programming and systems work. Designed to assist the small to medium businessman in this type of service, Stanford Data Processing is located at 255 California Street. Another center is maintained in Stockton.

CERTIFICATES IN REAL ESTATE have recently been awarded to eight Marinites: C. E. Budar, San Rafael; Eugene J. Naber, Lucas Valley; Lance P. Moran, Kentfield; Robert R. Bergis, Belvedere; John L. Bosley, Ross; Vivienne F. Menzio, Mill Valley; Gertrude A. Picchi, Novato, and Herbert K. Stahl of Corte Madera.

MISS ANNA M. LANG of San Rafael has been approved for membership in the San Francisco chapter of the National Assn. of Accountants. She is employed as an accountant with the San Francisco legal firm of Townsend and Townsend.

NEW MANAGER of the Lee Bros. Value World store in Larkspur is William L. Allaman, recently from Los Angeles and before that, Chicago. He has been in department store work for the past 11 years and replaces Grant Walker, who recently resigned to go in business for himself in San Mateo.

OCT. 25 ISSUE of Sports Illustrated just delivered to the newsstands is already paying off for Chapman's Shoes in San Rafael. It carries an advertisement for DuPont Corfam shoes and list Chapman's along with Wanamaker in Philadelphia, Sterling Lindner in Cleveland and Sakowitz in Houston as agents.

"In such distinguished company as that I couldn't miss," said Irving Chapman. "The first day out I got four telephone orders as a direct result—one from as far away as Monterey."

Record Earnings For Western Bancorporation

Western Bancorporation's consolidated net operating earnings, after taxes, increased to a record $28,337,647 for the first nine months this year from $25,668,504 for the like 1964 period, Frank L. King, chairman of the board, has announced.

The earnings growth was accomplished after absorbing the increased costs of higher interest rates paid by the affiliated banks on their larger volume of time deposits this year, King said. The 1965 earnings are equal to $1.49 per share compared with $1.45 per share for 1964. Per share figures are based on more shares this year (19,012,002 average shares outstanding) than last year (17,683,402 average shares outstanding).

Third quarter earnings per share rose to 52 cents this year from the 50 cents reported for the third quarter last year.

Total deposits of Western Bancorporation's 24 affiliated banks amounted to $5,930,309,552 on Sept. 30, 1965, an increase of 5.2% over deposits of a year earlier. Loans and discounts less reserves totaled $3,993,340,378 at the end of the first nine months, a growth of 8.4 per cent from Sept. 30, 1964.

Consolidated net earnings totaled $24,306,647 compared with $23,583,716 for the first three quarters of 1964.

The first submarine, built in 1620 by Cornelus van Drebel, Dutchman in service to King James I of England, was propelled by 12 rowers during test of several hours 12-15 feet under the Thames River.

Sleuthing Police, Firemen Discover 'Lost' Fairfax Girl

All police and reserve police and all firemen and volunteers in Fairfax last night joined in a massive search for a 5-year-old girl who was peacefully asleep at the home of a friend.

Ray C. Keck of 87 Scenic Road, Fairfax, reported at 6:10 p.m. his daughter, Barbara, had not been home since noon, when she was sent with a friend to Andy Peri Memorial Park to play. Barbara's mother, Edna Keck, had given the child a note that she was to be sent home at 1 p.m.

Mrs. Keck said she did not know the other girl's name or where she lived, but later in the evening said she believed she was called "Baba," and that she attended the morning kindergarten at Oak Manor School.

Firemen and police were called out to search culverts and creekbeds near the park, and the child's clothing was gathered from the distraught parents so that bloodhounds could be given a scent to follow.

Police were finally able to reach by phone kindergarten teacher Mrs. Cornelia Wyatt, who said "Baba" might be Babette Silberberg, but she could not remember the address, and it was not in the telephone directory.

A check of records revealed a Silberberg at 39 Merwin Avenue, and police went to the home, only to find a housekeeper there who could not speak English. They finally, through use of hand signs and faltering attempts at translation, got across the idea they were looking for a little girl.

She then readily showed them the child, asleep in bed with Babette.

Police said she had been unable to read the note, but that Barbara and Babette together had made her believe the note said she could stay overnight, rather than that she was to be sent home.

East Bay Men Charged With Hired Murder

HAYWARD (UPI) — Two men were arraigned today in the alleged "gun-for-hire" slaying of a former Bridgeport, Wash., police chief whose death authorities said was engineered by his wife in order to collect $30,000 insurance money.

Mrs. Betty Prothero, 45, was arraigned yesterday for the Sept. 11 slaying of her husband, Edward, 49, who was shot down as he walked toward his trailer home.

Police said James R. Long, 28, a tree trimmer, and Joe Reynolds, 30, a cannery worker shot Prothero.

"We think she paid one of them to do the job and he got someone to help him," said Sheriff's Captain Kenneth Mitchell.

All three have denied the charges.

Prothero was Bridgeport chief in 1953 and was a former member of the Marysville police department. He was a teamster at the time of the slaying.

Theft Charge Against Mrs. Mays Is Dropped

PASADENA (AP) — A grand theft charge against Mrs. Marguerite Wendell Mays, former wife of San Francisco Giants' baseball ace Willie Mays, has been dismissed as an apparent case of mistaken identity.

Mrs. Mays, 35, was arraigned in Pasadena Municipal Court Monday on a charge of stealing a $4,400 diamond ring last Aug. 25 from a Pasadena jewelry store. Judge Louis T. Fletcher set her preliminary hearing for Nov. 2 and released Mrs. Mays on her own recognizance.

On Tuesday, Judge Fletcher dismissed the complaint at the request of John F. Hopkins, chief deputy of the Pasadena District Attorney's office. Hopkins, reading from a police report, told Judge Fletcher that witnesses who had identified Mrs. Mays from photographs as the woman who entered the V.D. Howes Jewelry Co. Aug. 25 are now unable to swear it was the same person. Some witnesses reportedly told police, "No, she is not the one."

Hopkins quoted Detective Lyle Fagan, who wrote the police report: "It is the opinion of the undersigned that due to lack of evidence and witnesses in this case the complaint against Mrs. Mays should be withdrawn." Hopkins asked for dismissal "in the interest of justice."

Federal Aid To Burned Ranches

Marin County farmers and ranchers whose land was damaged by this summer's extensive grass-fires may apply to the Department of Agriculture for aid in restoring the land for productive use, according to Mrs. Dorothy V. Main, manager of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office in Santa Rosa.

Deadline for filing applications is November 15.

The government will pay up to 80 per cent of the cost, Mrs. Main said, for such restoration measures as planting grass, replacing fences, installing water troughs and storage tanks, and planting trees.

An Opportunity Truants Miss

BOSTON (AP) —School kids in Massachusetts didn't know it, but for the past month they lived in a truant's paradise.

In a new law passed Sept. 26, there was no provision requiring children of any age to attend school.

But Gov. John A. Volpe ended that situation when he signed special legislation restoring the mandatory school attendance for children between 7 and 16.

City Rec Center Move Study On

San Rafael City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen said today he hopes to submit a report to the city council Monday on his efforts to find a new home for the city recreation center, which must leave its quarters at Fourth Street and Union Avenue by Nov. 19.

Andersen said he is now concentrating on one building, but has not yet reached an agreement with its owners. He declined to specify the location.

"We want to do nothing to disrupt the (senior citizen) program if we can," he said.

Andersen said he foresaw no danger that program will be unable to find a new home before the deadline arrives.
